PRESIDENT'S REPORT.

To His Excellency, CHARLES B. AYCOCK,
Governor of North Carolina.

SIR:—The Board of Directors of the North Carolina School for the Deaf and Dumb have the honor to submit this their seventh biennial report.

Your Excellency, no doubt, is aware that the law of which this school is an expression, was placed on the statute books less than fourteen years ago. The Legislature of 1891 realizing that the best results in the training of the deaf could not be attained in the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb and the Blind at Raleigh, for obvious reasons, passed a law to establish a separate school for the deaf, and promptly accepted the generous offer of the city of Morganton, of site and money. That body proceeded to select as its Board of Directors, M. L. Reed, of Buncombe; N. B. Broughton, of Wake; M. H. Holt, of Guilford; R. A. Grier, of Mecklenburg; B. F. Aycock, of Wayne; S. McD. Tate, of Burke, and J. J. Long, of Columbus. This Board met and organized in April, 1891, electing Hon. M. L. Reed President, and M. L. Reed, N. B. Broughton and S. McD. Tate as Executive Committee.

The site for the school, one of the most beautiful in the State, was selected, plans were adopted, and buildings begun during the next year. The record of the progress of the school since its opening in October, 1894, is an open book, and we need not trace its successive and successful struggles.

To each member of this Board, and their successors, Dr. P. L. Murphy appointed to succeed S. McD. Tate, resigned; V. V. Richardson, of Columbus, to succeed J. J. Long; A. C.

Miller, to succeed B. F. Aycock, resigned; Samuel Huffman and A. J. Dula, appointed by the Legislature of 1895; Isaac Roberts and Dr. M. F. Morphew, appointed by the Governor in 1901, to succeed A. J. Dula and J. H. Hoffman; Jacob C. Seagle, to succeed V. V. Richardson, deceased, 1902; Frank Thompson in 1903, to succeed M. L. Reed, resigned, having been elected Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners of Buncombe County, and W. C. Dowd in 1904, to succeed Isaac Roberts, deceased, is due the wise planning, faithful execution and unparalleled success of the North Carolina School for the Deaf and Dumb. But to none is more credit due than to Hon. M. L. Reed, who was President of the Board from the first, until his resignation in 1903, and who brought to the position rare executive ability, and a devotion to the school's welfare which was an inspiration to all connected with it. Of the original Board but two remain, M. H. Holt and N. B. Broughton. The whole purpose and effort of the Board has been directed as a unit along two well-defined lines:

1. By careful study and examination of the various methods of instructing the deaf in this and other countries, to adopt what seemed best to develop the mind to give the most comprehensive grasp of language, science and mathematics, and to break down nature's barriers between them and their hearing brothers and sisters as far as possible, so that their association may become easy and intelligible.

2. By means of instruction in industrial lines—in printing, carpentry and its allied trades, agriculture, shoe-making, dress-making, cooking and other occupations, to fit these pupils to go out into life as independent, intelligent citizens, to add to the State's wealth and development.

To develop the school along these lines, has not been an easy task. It meant buildings, equipments and teachers. The buildings are among the best for their size in this country. They are up-to-date in every particular, well-lighted, well-heated, well-ventilated, commodious, splendid in architecture and arrangement. The equipments as carried out are first-class, but all needs along this line have not yet been supplied. In teachers we congratulate ourselves. We have managed to secure and retain some of the best and foremost teachers of the deaf in America. All these things cost money, and while the State has done well by the school in view of the other demands on the treasury, owing to the increased cost of living we have been handicapped in fully carrying out in a practical way the ideals of the Board. But we have "builded better than we knew," for all over this country and in Europe this school is spoken of as "one of the most progressive in America," and "one of the best in the world."

We have been very fortunate in having at the head of this Institution from its founding, Superintendent E. McK. Goodwin, wise, conservative, progressive, economical, capable, himself an excellent instructor of the deaf. His vigilance and devotion to the best interests of the deaf, his high and progressive ideals, have been large factors in the organization and development of this school.

We are proud of the splendid showing which is made by our farm. It is not only a source of revenue, but furnishes an extraordinary opportunity for deaf boys to become familiar with improved methods of farming, both as observers and helpers.

In the arduous work which has been ours for over thirteen years as a Board, we desire to thank every State and county official and citizens generally of the State, for kind words of sympathy, of appreciation, and for their cordial support and help in this work; also the press of the State for its kindly notices of our school, and their unstinted words of praise so generously bestowed. This universal sympathy, co-operation and appreciation has converted this arduous task into a labor of love. Owing to the increased cost of living, and increase in attendance, we earnestly and cordially ask an additional annual appropriation of $5,000 for maintenance, and a special appropriation of $5,000 for improvements and appliances.

Respectfully submitted,

A. C. MILLER,
President Board of Directors.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the Honorable Board of Directors of the North Carolina School for the Deaf and Dumb:

GENTLEMEN:—Under statutory requirements, and by your order, I have the honor to submit this my Seventh Biennial Report of the North Carolina School for the Deaf and Dumb.

From an examination of this report, including the several reports from subordinate officers, the condition of the school and character of its work may be judged.

From our financial report it will be seen that we have lived within our appropriation, not because we did not need much more, and could have used more to a very great advantage to the school, but because it was law, and under your direction we did without such things as we did not have the money to buy, and indeed many things such as other institutions enjoyed. We have striven to throw every safeguard around the school in its entirety, and we believe the object for which the school was created and established has been successfully promoted.

During the biennial period just closing, we have had under our instruction 317 children. This may seem a large number, when compared with the number that was in the school ten years ago, yet there are a large number, who are eligible, not in school, and who are growing up in the most deplorable ignorance. Many of these have been offered admission and a large number of them would be in school if their parents only knew of the school and the character of its work. Many good citizens of the State have no conception of the school, and what is done for the deaf. Like all specialties, there must be enlightenment, and we earnestly ask the co-operation of every good citizen in the State, to help us make known, especially to parents of deaf children, the school and the character of the work it is doing. The success of our school, at least in reaching all the class, who are entitled to its privileges, depends to a large extent, upon the co-operation we have from physicians, ministers, legislators, teachers and others coming in close contact with the people.

The deaf child is dependent upon the school for every phase of his life and growth, for unlike his hearing brother or sister, who gathers knowledge from contact with others, he must have it given to him by a teacher specially qualified until he has at least a primary education. The deaf child is shut up, unable to ask questions, or tell his thoughts, until he comes under the training of a teacher, who studies his condition and peculiar needs.

NOT AN ASYLUM.

The primary object of the establishment of the institution was the education of the deaf and dumb, and if we fall short of that one object then the school is a failure.

The course of study covers the branches required by law in our public schools, and this is about what is done in the leading schools of similar character in America to-day.

We have prepared several young men for college, who entered on good standing, and ranked among the best students in Gallaudet College from the leading schools of the country.

At the close of the session of 1903 certificates of graduation were granted to Odie W. Underhill and Andrew C. Miller. The Board of Directors also granted certificates to all pupils who had completed the course of study since the school opened, as follows:

Matthew T. Jenkins, 1895; Robert S. Taylor, 1896; Hugh Miller, 1898; Robert C. Miller, 1899, and William H. Chambers, 1899; Maggie LeGrande and James M. Robertson, 1902.

METHODS OF INSTRUCTION.

We have endeavored to keep abreast of the best schools in the art of instruction, and we belong to the class of schools known in the profession as "Combined System" Schools, because we use the two methods, adopting the one best suited to the individual cases. Both departments cover the same course of study, but those in the oral department are taught speech and by speech, and the ones taught manually acquire written language only. It is estimated that more than ninety per cent. of the deaf being taught to-day are in the combined system schools.

From the following report of Mrs. Anna C. Hurd, Chief Instructor of the Oral Department, you may see a more detailed account of the work done in the oral department:

MRS. HURD'S REPORT.

To E. McK. GOODWIN, Superintendent North Carolina School for the Deaf and Dumb:

DEAR SIR:—There are present in the Oral Department of the School one hundred and twenty-eight pupils, forming twelve classes, taught by twelve teachers under my direction and supervision. Of this number seventy-five are totally and congenitally deaf, twenty-one have a slight degree of hearing, varying from merely perception of sound to the ability, in some cases, to distinguish a few words; eight became totally deaf under the age of three years; five became totally deaf between the ages of six and twelve years, and nineteen are semi-deaf and semi-mute.

Since my last report to you, December 1, 1902, twenty-one pupils present at that date have left school. Three of these pupils, while not regarded as graduates, had been with us the usual number of years and were not re-admitted. Nine of the others were either semi-deaf, or had become deaf after acquiring some education, and had received all the benefit from our school that it was thought practicable. One of these is now pursuing a higher course of study in a school for hearing children. In several instances, pupils of this kind while with us, acquired ability to read speech, which will be of value to them. One of the whole number mentioned moved from the state; one was sent home owing to eye trouble; two grown pupils were kept at home to work, and six small children have been detained for one reason and another.

Probably these will re-enter during the next year or two to find that they have lost their grade and will be discouraged and handicapped. Parents make a grave mistake in allowing trifling obstacles to prevent a child continuing in school after once entering, and a child should not be withheld from entering beyond the age of eight or ten years.

During the past two years, we have transferred four pupils to the Manual Department, and this year twenty-five out of twenty-nine new pupils admitted to the school, have been placed under oral instruction. Two beginning classes have been formed. One, composed of the youngest pupils, will receive systematic kindergarten work, preparatory to and in connection with the development of voice and speech, under Miss Carpenter, a trained kindergarten teacher, who came to us this year from the Michigan State School. The other, a class of twelve pupils, constitutes our regular first grade, taught by Miss Ball, a teacher of ability and experience, who comes to us from the Detroit Day Schools.

We have two other teachers, who are with us this year for the first time. Miss Haupt comes after several years successful experience in the Kentucky and Colorado Schools, broadened by travel in Germany, and visits to the schools of that country, and Miss Cooper, from the Kentucky School and trained at the Pennsylvania School, Mt. Airy, Philadelphia.

These ladies take the places of Miss F. Bell, who was appointed last year on the resignation of Miss Fleming, who married; of Miss King, who left us to go to the Pennsylvania School, of Miss Flagg, who went to Hartford, and the one additional teacher required by the large number of new pupils admitted to the department. Miss Stinson, who taught here for several years before going west, returns as a substitute for Miss Jones, who was detained at home, temporarily. The department is thoroughly organized and the classes are well graded. The grades and teachers are as follows:

PRIMARY CLASSES.

Kindergarten, 13 pupils, Miss Carpenter; First Grade, 12 pupils, Miss Ball; Second Grade, 11 pupils, Miss Stinson; Third Grade, 10 pupils, Miss M. Haynes.

INTERMEDIATE CLASSES.

Special B, 10 pupils, Miss R. Tillinghast; Special C, 12 pupils, Miss Thompson; Fourth Grade, 10 pupils, Miss Cooper; Fifth Grade, 10 pupils, Miss McDaniel.

ADVANCED CLASSES.

Special, 10 pupils; Sixth Grade, 10 pupils; Eighth Grade, 10 pupils; Tenth Grade, 10 pupils; rotating to Mr. Hurd, Miss Welsh, Mr. Mumford, Miss Haupt.

The term "Special" applies to classes, the members of which cannot take the work in any regular grade and much individual work must be done in such cases.

The Primary Classes are taught Speech, Speech-Reading, and Language, oral and written.

The Intermediate Classes continue and enlarge this work, together with number work, Arithmetic, Nature Lessons, and Reading.

The advanced classes study the branches taught in our common schools, namely: Language and Composition, Information Lessons, Grammar, Arithmetic, United States History, English History, Geography, Physical Geography, Physiology, Experiments in Natural Philosophy, and Reading.

Recitations in all these branches are conducted orally—the pupils speaking and reading the speech of the teacher and of one another.

I want to call your attention to the good results from reading by our pupils. We have been careful to select books of interest, though written in a simple style, and you have provided us generously with material of this kind. Each teacher above the third grade devotes a portion of the time in school to the reading of these books with the class, arousing interest and giving help over the difficulties in English Construction.

There is nothing that we can do for our deaf boys and girls that will afford them more pleasure and profit than to give them the love and appreciation of good literature. Tastes and habits formed now will continue through life. It is sad to see adult deaf care little or nothing for good reading and depend for their knowledge of life and events upon gossip.

The plan inaugurated two years ago of rotating classes in the advanced grades is continued. The advantages for it, then, have been proven by trial.

An outline of work prepared by myself is followed in all the grades.

When one notes the increase in numbers and the progress of pupils taught by the oral method all over the country in schools for the deaf, we are glad that we, in North Carolina, are not distanced in this respect.

There can be no question by the careful student of this subject, but that we are pursuing the right course to educate all deaf children possible through this method. This is the test to be applied: Can we educate advantageously? Not can we give perfect speech and ability to read perfectly the speech of others, but can we give that which is sufficient for the education of the child to be carried on profitably by this method? We can, and do, as results show with two-thirds of the deaf pupils who enter this school.

What can we do to improve the speech and speech-reading of our deaf pupils? Give them every opportunity to practice, using their speech and to read speech at home and in school. This is the great need of the oral pupils—opportunity and encouragement to use speech outside of the school-room.

The advice and assistance of a specialist of the throat, eye, and ear, is a need, the importance of which seems not to be appreciated fully, and I would call your attention again to this matter. Schools far behind us in many points of equipment have supplied this want. Frequently a slight operation and treatment would render our efforts to develop voice and speech more successful, and the eyesight of all deaf children should be carefully guarded.

I had the pleasure and benefit from attending the Ninth Congress of Superintendents and Principals held in St. Louis, October 17-20. Representatives from nearly every State in the United States and several from abroad were present and a variety of subjects of interest to educators of the deaf were discussed.

Professor Holt, of our Board of Directors, was also present a portion of the time and reminded the members of the Congress of the Convention of Instructors of the Deaf to meet with us in Morganton next summer. His brief address was received enthusiastically and all superintendents present promised good delegations from the schools over which they have charge.

I made a short visit, on my return from St. Louis, at the Illinois School for the Deaf at Jacksonville, Ill., the largest school for the deaf in the United States, where I was entertained courteously and shown the work of the school by Superintendent Gillette, and the principal, Miss Morse. Visits of this sort are of great value to teachers, giving them new ideas and enabling them to keep in touch with all progressive movements in the education of the deaf. In the Illinois School a large percentage of the pupils are under oral instruction, about two-thirds of the whole number.

In closing my report for this eighth year, I have had charge of the Oral Department, I wish to express my appreciation of the co-operation of the teachers who have been associated with me and of their enthusiastic and efficient work.

To you, our Superintendent, and to the members of the Board of Directors of the school, I am very grateful for constant support during these years that we have been building up the oral work, and it is a great satisfaction to show the results from this work, that we now have, especially from our oldest pupils, who have received all of their education in this department.

Very respectfully,

ANNA C. HURD,

November 30, 1904.

We have learned from experience that there is no more important work in a school for the deaf than the work of the primary classes, and in order to do this most effectively in the manual department, by your authority four years ago, I put Mrs. L. A. Winston in charge of the primary classes as Supervising Teacher, and the work done under her direction has proven the wisdom and necessity for close supervision, in order to get the best results. The work accomplished in these classes bears out our expectation. Mrs. Winston has under her direction, at present, four primary classes, taught by Miss Carrie Haynes, Miss Olivia Grimes, Mr. Robert Miller and Mr. J. C. Miller in order respectively.

MRS. WINSTON'S REPORT.

To E. McK. GOODWIN, Superintendent North Carolina School for the Deaf and Dumb:

DEAR SIR:—Since my report to you two years ago, November 30, 1902, as Supervising Teacher of the Primary Manual Department, I have been elected Lady Principal of the school, in which office I have served only a little more than two months. Whereupon I beg leave to submit to you the following: The duties assigned me by yourself and the Executive Board were as follows:

1. Social head of the household.
2. General oversight of young ladies in "loco parentis."
3. Suggest and help plan diversion for teachers and advanced classes of the deaf.
4. Meet visitors in absence of the Superintendent and have general care of them when entertained in the Institution.
5. Be official to the administration building in the absence of the Superintendent.
6. Preside at teachers' table.
7. Supervise in a general way the teaching of four or five manual classes.

With your advice and most cordial assistance, I have endeavored to perform the requirements laid down as stated above.

The work is more arduous than is possible for a casual observer to understand. It is a position, without precedent in our school's history, yet none the less important. In taking up these duties at the opening of the present school term, I spent the greater part of each morning in the school-room regrading and getting the work underway. I have prepared and placed in the hands of each teacher a copy of an outline of work, which each class is to pursue under my supervision during the present year. My object is that the classes shall be so systematically taught that one shall be an even, well-graded step to another. There has been but little change, if any, in the method of work from that of last year, and the year before.

Two years ago I organized the entire Primary Manual Department into a calisthenic class using our beautiful assembly hall as a gymnasium. Being accessible to the school-rooms, it was easy, without loss of time, to bring in the entire department, which now numbers sixty-three, for a drill not exceeding twenty minutes. This exercise is given every other day, alternating with the drawing period.

I have persisted in these exercises for I have observed that, aside from the physical help obtained, when a pupil becomes observing and accurate in his gymnastics, he likewise becomes so in other lines of work. I have recently introduced into this exercise three new features, namely: The wand, or poles, the rings, and a breathing exercise.

In pursuance of my new duties, I have planned a series of entertainments for the pupils. These in no way conflict with the monthly "play nights," which you planned years ago, and which are such a delight to the pupils of all grades. I find that to invite the entire school of two hundred and forty pupils to a party would be an "unwieldy" thing to handle when the object is to impress the pupil with certain social features of the outside world. I therefore planned to give them a birthday party every two months. The invitations to be confined to those whose birthdays occurred during these months, embracing one of the vacation months, thus each pupil would have a birthday party during the school term. The first of the series occurred the evening of November 12th.

My new position has brought me in touch with almost every part of the domestic department. The wear and tear of ten years' use has rendered the renewal of some things about the building important. Some work in the way of alteration, repair and the utilization of what we have, has been done.

It is a well-known fact that after a child has reached a certain age, thorough intellectual instruction is often exceedingly difficult. There has always been in our school just such a class, whose parents owing to indifference or ignorance, have not allowed them to enter at the proper age. Therefore, with your permission, I would submit for yours and the honorable Board's consideration that such class of pupils be allowed more time in the industrial department. It has always been your policy to have a graded plan of instruction in the industrial as well as in the intellectual department of the school, hence the benefit to such pupils.

I desire to express my sincere appreciation to you and to the household, who have rendered me effective and cordial assistance and made it possible for me to do what I have done.

I am very respectfully,

L. A. WINSTON.

November 30, 1904.

The remaining classes in the Manual Department are taught by Mr. O. A. Betts, having language and composition; Mr. H. McP. Hofsteater, geography and history, and Mr. D. R. Tillinghast, arithmetic, rotating for the periods of the several studies. Many of the leading schools have adopted this method and it meets with cordial approval, after fair trials.

DEPARTMENT OF FREEHAND DRAWING.

It is our purpose to give every child who enters the school lessons in freehand drawing, not for the purpose of making artists, but for the sake of mental training. Every experienced teacher will testify to the educative value of freehand drawing properly pursued. Most schools for the deaf of to-day have such department. You will find a more detailed account of the work done in the department in the accompanying report of Mrs. S. F. Betts, teacher of freehand drawing.

MRS. BETTS' REPORT.

To E. McK. GOODWIN, Superintendent North Carolina School for the Deaf and Dumb.

DEAR SIR:—We now have 152 pupils taking Freehand Drawing, which includes every class in the intermediate and primary departments, except one of the first grade.

The periods of drawing are arranged to alternate with the oral and manual departments every other day. This gives each pupil from ten to twelve lessons of thirty minutes each every month.

In addition to drawing from objects and nature, I use Krusi's and Prang's Practical drawing courses as supplements, which I find very suitable for our class of work.

Our pupils are interested in their work, and are making very satisfactory progress.

Drawing is being more and more appreciated in educational work, and I regard it of the greatest benefit to all; physically, in training the hand and eye; intellectually, in compelling correct observation; and aesthetically in the appreciation and production of beautiful forms.

I believe every child, and especially those who are deaf, should be given an opportunity to learn to draw.

Respectfully,

MRS. SUDIE F. BETTS.

INDUSTRIAL TRAINING.

Within the last two decades the subject of manual and technical training has received a liberal share of professional thought from educators, even by those not engaged in the branch at all, but who study it purely from a psychological standpoint. It is often the case that a boy or girl, who is backward in general development may be awakened in one of the industrial departments, and often, thus awakened, does much better in the school proper. Manual training not only stimulates, but it cultivates perception, and the power of imitation, and develops the constructive ability in a boy, which would otherwise be dormant.

Our effort has been more in the line of trades teaching than technical training, because many of our pupils are not prepared to deal with theory, but learn to do by doing, and seeing it done. The work in the various industrial departments, not only serves in an educative way, but the change becomes rest to them, thereby preparing for better study and mental growth.

We have four industrial departments for the boys: woodwork, both carpentry and shop work; shoe-making, printing and type-setting, and farming and gardening, with its concomitant branches, that every good farmer must know. The deaf are handicapped in many occupations, but the trades taught in this school are well adapted to the deaf. Education is not to be calculated in dollars and cents only, but we must needs look at it from the standpoint of a bread winner, and give such training as will enable them to earn an honorable living. It is gratifying to the management to note that many of our pupils go out from school into positions which would have never been open to them except for the special training they received here, and employers generally speak well of their faithfulness.

INDUSTRIES FOR THE GIRLS.

The conditions that confront girls in the industrial world are much more circumscribed than for their brothers, and this holds good in cases of the deaf, especially, for very few places are open to the deaf girl.

We teach them sewing and dress-making, cutting and fitting, and practical and economic cooking, and general domestic work—compensating for what is lost by not being under the careful mother in the preparation for domestic duties.

COOKING CLASS.

We think there is no more important industrial training than in this department, for whether the girl has to cook or not, every woman, regardless of how cultured she may be, or indeed regardless of how little culture she may have, should know something of cooking.

At the close of last session Miss Sallie Hart, our former teacher of cooking, resigned to be married. To fill this vacancy, by your authority, I tendered the place to Miss Agnes S. Hunsicker, a graduate of Drexel Institute, of Philadelphia, who comes well recommended.

A class of eight or ten girls go to the school kitchen six days in the week, and cook such articles of food as are put on the bill of fare by the matron for that day. We do not teach the science of kitchen chemistry, for the girls are not sufficiently advanced to take it, but we do endeavor to teach the practical part of the art of cooking, having in view wholesome food and an economic use of materials furnished.

SEWING DEPARTMENT.

Every girl, rich or poor, should learn to sew, and indeed to make any garment that her station would enable her to wear, even though she had no intention of earning a living with her needle. It is the aim of our teacher to prepare every girl in this department to make any garment worn by her sex, neatly and economically, in keeping with the prevailing style and fashion.

At the close of last session Miss Laura Baucom resigned to be married, and Miss Ida Bell, of Charlotte, was elected to fill the vacancy. She came to us well recommended and has entered upon her duties in a way that bespeaks success.

WOOD-WORKING FOR BOYS.

More than a year ago Mr. Charles F. Brown resigned his position as teacher of wood-working to take position in a private manufacturing establishment, and Mr. Marion J. Green, a graduate of the Agricultural and Mechanical College, who came well recommended, was elected to fill the vacancy. This, like all the other industrial departments, has a two-fold object, that of training as well as giving a trade. Many of our boys from this department are prepared to take paying positions as mechanics.

SHOE-MAKING.

There is a demand for good shoe-makers in every community, and the deaf man can fill this place quite as well as his hearing brother. Many of our boys are taught to do creditable work at this trade.

FARMING AND GARDENING.

In September, 1903, Mr. F. T. Meacham, who had been in charge of the farm for nearly five years, resigned to accept the superintendency of the new State Experiment Farm at Statesville. During these years our farm was greatly improved and abundant crops made, and our herd of Berkshire hogs was improved until they now compare favorably with the best herds in the State.

Mr. Oscar E. McBrayer was elected to succeed Mr.

Meacham, and entered upon his work with industry, good judgment, and has made fine crops.

It has been my earnest desire to educate boys for the farm rather than to educate them away from the farm. Many look upon farming as a branch of industry that any one can engage in, and have thus lowered the dignity of this honorable calling. The deaf should be encouraged to stay on the farm. It is the best of all occupations for the average deaf man, especially in an agricultural State, where perhaps seventy-five per cent. of the boys come from the farm, for he can pursue his work with as little contact with the world as he could in any trade, and by industry and frugality make an independent living. We endeavor to teach the practical part of agriculture. We do not attempt the course given in agricultural colleges, but we give our students an opportunity to see the operations on a well-regulated farm. We raise excellent crops on our farm, and though a few years ago most of our land was worn out it produces as much per acre as the best farms in the county.

Besides producing a bountiful supply of fresh vegetables and small fruits, we gathered two thousand and seven hundred quarts of strawberries, about fourteen hundred quarts of which were preserved for use during the session of school. We harvest good crops of fine cultivated hay, which enables us to keep a good herd of dairy cows, from which we get a liberal supply of good, fresh milk. We harvested thirteen hundred and fifty bushels of corn, after cutting a hundred and seventeen tons of ensilage. Our sweet potato crop produced about seven hundred bushels, and we harvested three hundred and seventy-five bushels of Irish potatoes.

PRINTING AND TYPESETTING.

Printing and typesetting are taught, and while we do not value the trade for the possibilities in it to aid in making a living, but for the training it gives we regard it only as an aid to school work. We teach printing, do the printing of the school, publish the DEAF CAROLINIAN, our school paper, which comes out weekly, and is sent to the homes of most of the children.

First Lessons in Speech, by Mrs. Hurd, published by the school, and printed by the boys, is being used in most of the leading schools on the continent. We will realize enough from sales to pay for its publication, and have the use of it in our own school.

BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS.

The buildings, while not at all elaborate, are comfortable and convenient, with steam-heat and electric light, with our own water-works furnishing pure, fresh water in abundance. We need some repairs, for the service of a school building is severe. We are not crowded, but if all should come who have applied we could not accommodate them. If our population increases in the next decade as it has in the last, with the material wealth the State has gained, it will be only a matter of time when the demands will necessitate considerable enlargement or the establishment of a school elsewhere.

ATTENDANCE.

We have enrolled the present session 241 pupils, and during the biennial period we have had under instruction 317 children, names of whom appear in this report. Yet there are, in all probability, at least a hundred and fifty who are strictly eligible not in school.

A COMPULSORY ATTENDANCE LAW NEEDED.

If it is the duty of the State to provide for the education of the deaf, it certainly has the right to require the attendance upon some school, for if the deaf are not educated they often become charges upon the county for life. But when educated they invariably become self-supporting.

HEALTH OF THE SCHOOL.

We have occasion to be thankful for the continued good health of the entire membership of our large household. There has been no necessity for opening the infirmary for the girls for a period of about three years, and only one severe case of illness among the boys. Last spring we had an epidemic of measles, and though we had a hundred and seventeen cases there was not a complicated case and no serious results following. I respectfully refer you to the report of Dr. George H. Moran, attending physician:

DR. MORAN'S REPORT.

E. McK. GOODWIN, ESQ., Superintendent School for the Deaf and Dumb.

SIR:—I have the honor to say that since my report, dated November 30, 1902, the health of the school under your charge has been good. There have been very few cases of serious illness, and no deaths. During the prevalence of measles last year, we had one hundred and seventeen cases. Owing to the fact that my directions regarding treatment were faithfully carried out, and the very careful nursing the children received, there were none of the sequela which so frequently follows this disease, and all made good recoveries.

There have been three cases of rheumatism, two of bronchitis, one of typhoid pneumonia, two of diarrhœa, three cases of fractured clavicle, one of radius, and some minor injuries, sprains, and cuts. Each year we have vaccinated new pupils, and have re-vaccinated all others who did not present satisfactory evidence of protection from small-pox. I have visited the school 240 times, and from time to time have inspected the buildings. I have invariably found them in good sanitary condition.

I desire to express to you my sincere thanks for your cordial support, in all my efforts for the good of the sick, and to preserve the health of the well, and also my appreciation of the assistance of those whose duty it is to nurse and care for the helpless.

Very respectfully yours,

GEO. H. MORAN, M. D.,
Physician to the School.

PROVISION FOR THE FEEBLE-MINDED NEEDED.

We have many applications for children who are mentally deficient, either imbecile or idiotic, and not deaf. The law prohibits admission of this class, indeed, the doors of every institution in the State are closed against them. The State has provided liberally for the other classes—the insane, the deaf and dumb, the blind, old soldiers, and inebriates, as her means would permit, but has never listened to the cry of this class—one of the most unfortunate of them all, and a class that has not contributed to their affliction. Does not the State owe it to this class to provide for them a custodial home, where they could be protected, at least, and many of them educated in the primary sense, and the condition of all ameliorated. Many ask if it will pay. No, not in dollars and cents, but human souls cannot be estimated that way. It is the duty of a Christian Commonwealth to take care of the afflicted ones, and humanity pleads for the class for which the State so far has made no provision. There are such schools or homes in nearly all of the States, and it is a charity that belongs to the State.

KELLY LIBRARY.

This library, established by the generosity and wisdom of John Kelly, who died half a century ago, contains nearly two thousand volumes. While many of these books are not well adapted for the deaf, yet, as a reference library, it is of great value to them. We have purchased about two hundred volumes of supplemental reading books, which are used to great advantage in cultivating the habit of reading.

READING-ROOMS.

We have provided reading-rooms for both the girls and the boys, and they serve the school in a most effective way. The rooms are open to the boys and girls respectively. In these rooms are placed many of the leading newspapers of the State, which are generously donated, and a number of the leading magazines, all of which are a source of pleasure and great educational value, and withal go a long way toward cultivating the habit of reading.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

Every well-regulated school should have its literary societies, for it fills a place that is filled by no other means. It cultivates an ease of expression with the student that can be acquired in no other way at school. If rightly conducted it requires considerable reading and study, and this proves to be of untold aid to the student. The Kelly Literary Society of this school meets regularly and has served a good purpose. They choose their own officers, but there is always an officer of the school with them, both to aid and to see that there is proper decorum.

RELIGIOUS AND MORAL TRAINING.

Principles of religion and morality must be instilled in the minds of the children, or in manhood and womanhood the lack of such training will be evident and their character distorted. Our school endeavors to take the place of a Christian home, and to teach the principles of morality and religion. Every child is taught to study and reverence the Bible, a copy of which every child has, after he has learned to read sufficiently to understand it.

Every Sunday we have chapel exercises for all the children, conducted by the Superintendent and the gentlemen teachers. The pupils of the oral department assemble in the chapel every Sunday morning for religious exercises, conducted orally by Messrs. Hurd and Mumford. We have Sunday-school, the children being taught by their respective teachers. In the advanced classes we use the International Lesson Helps.

We occasionally have ministers of the various denominations preach in our chapel. A large number of our children have professed faith in Christ and have joined the denomination to which their parents belong.

OUR CORPS OF TEACHERS.

No school could be a success without a competent, faithful corps of teachers, and the success of no school depends more fully upon the efficiency of its teachers than a school for the deaf. We have a corps of twenty-two regular teachers in the school proper, including the chief instructors and teachers of drawing, every one having had special training or liberal experience. Since my report two years ago the following changes in the corps have been made. In June, 1903, Miss Martha Bell, who had been with us three years, resigned to go to the Mt. Airy School of Philadelphia. In mid-session a year ago Miss Nannie Fleming, who had taught here nine years, resigned to be married, and Miss Frances Bell, formerly of the Florida school, was appointed to fill the vacancy. At the close of last session Miss Sibelle King and Miss Frances Bell resigned to go to the Mt. Airy School, and Miss Helen Flagg resigned to go to the Hartford School. These places were filled by the appointment of Miss Hermine Haupt, a teacher of successful experience, formerly of the Colorado School, and Miss Jessie Ball and Miss Lula Carpenter, both of whom had special training and experience, the one coming from the Detroit Day School, and the other from the Michigan School for the Deaf, and Miss Lucile Cooper, of Kentucky, who had received special training in the Mt. Airy School. Mrs. O. T. Hofsteater resigned and Mr. Robert C. Miller, one of our graduates, and a full graduate of Gallaudet College, was elected to fill the vacancy, and has entered upon his duties with earnestness. The day has come when all of the leading schools require special training before a teacher can claim recognition, and this demand has elevated the standard of work done very materially in all of the schools. It is expensive to train teachers, and it is usually done at the expense of the deaf child. But we are not so much annoyed in the profession to-day as we were even five years ago by a class of teachers whose only claim was that they needed a place where they could earn a living.

We have a corps of teachers that any State might be proud of.

PRIMARY HANDICRAFT.

I have always attached great value to proper industrial training, and upon my recommendation you instructed me to employ a teacher of primary handicraft, to take up manual training of boys from ten to fourteen years of age. After diligent search, I engaged the services of Miss Annie Jarrell, who graduated at the Normal School of the University of Georgia, who was to begin the work at the opening of the present session. But owing to unavoidable circumstances Miss Jarrell failed to come and asked to be released from the engagement. I am now endeavoring to secure the services of a competent teacher of this department. It will fill a long-felt need in our school and doubtless be of great value to the advanced industrial department.

AMERICAN CONVENTION.

The American Convention of Instructors of the Deaf is the leading organization of the profession, embracing both branches—the manual and the oral teachers. This convention, in session at Buffalo, N. Y., in 1900, unanimously accepted an invitation from our Board of Directors to meet at this school at its next regular session, which would have taken place during the past summer but for the World's Fair at St. Louis, for a large number of the profession asked the postponement until 1905. We expect a very large attendance, delegates coming from every quarter of the United States, and a number of foreign countries will be represented. It is an honor to any school and State to have this distinguished organization to meet upon its invitation, and North Carolina duly appreciates this honor, especially when other States extended a similar invitation. The convention will be held during the next summer vacation.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

Two years ago we asked for an increase of $7,500 annually to meet the increase of attendance and the increased cost of living, together with a special appropriation of $2,500 for improvement of grounds and roads. For the first time in our history did the Legislature fail to grant every dollar we asked, for our records had been so economical and conservative that our requests were always regarded reasonable and just. We again ask for a special appropriation of $5,000 for better equipment of machinery and appliances, improvement of grounds and roadways, and $5,000 additional annual appropriation for maintenance. This amount will keep us within the limit of the lowest per capita cost of any State institution of similar character, obtaining anything like similar results.

APPOINTMENT OF LADY PRINCIPAL.

Upon your instructions the Superintendent has moved out of the main building into the old residence that was being renovated at the time of my last report. This change made it necessary that there should be a head in the Superintendent's absence, and it was but natural that both the Superintendent and Board should turn to Mrs. L. A. Winston to fill the responsible place, and upon his nomination the Board unanimously elected her Lady Principal. She had spent more than twelve years teaching the deaf, is thoroughly acquainted with every phase of institution life, a knowledge of which peculiar needs can be acquired only by careful study and long experience. All of these qualifications make her eminently capable for the duties of the new position. Being a teacher of successful experience and a lady of liberal culture and fine Christian character, those acquainted with her join most cordially in commending the management of the school for their wise selection.

She has entered upon her new duties with the same zeal and earnestness that has always marked her work, and the same devotion which she has shown in teaching the deaf may confidently be expected of her in the carrying out of the arduous duties required of her.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.

The various railroads have continued their courteous and generous concessions of reduced rates to our pupils, and teachers and officers traveling in charge of them. This concession enables many to enjoy the privilege of the school who would otherwise be unable to do so.

We gratefully acknowledge the donation of many newspapers of the State, among them a number of the leading dailies.

Mr. William Wade, of Oakmont, Pa., has given books and made donations, which kind remembrance is duly appreciated.

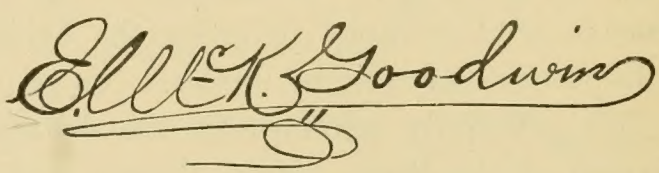
The Volta Bureau has furnished from time to time valuable professional literature, which could be procured from no other source, and we are justly indebted for the same.

To ministers of the various denominations, who have from time to time preached for us, we extend our cordial thanks.



To the State Superintendent, Hon. J. Y. Joyner, State Board of Public Charities, the State Board of Health, many County Superintendents, teachers, ministers, physicians and legislators who have manifested cordial interest in our work, all of which materially aid our efforts in the welfare of the deaf, and to all of these we express grateful thanks.

We are most grateful to Drs. Stokes and Whitehead, of Salisbury, for service rendered gratis in a difficult surgical operation upon Walter McCormick, a deaf boy, who was entirely relieved of a serious trouble and who is to-day strong and in vigorous health.

To the teachers, officers and employees of the school, who have labored faithfully to help me promote the object for which the school was created, I wish especially to express my sincere gratitude.

In conclusion, I want to thank the Board of Directors for their courteous consideration of me, and their untiring devotion shown in the welfare of the school, for by their hearty co-operation and kind support, my arduous duties have been made much lighter.

Respectfully submitted,

Supt. of the N. C. School for the Deaf and Dumb.

REPORT OF BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

DIX HILL,

RALEIGH, N. C., December 14, 1904.

To His Excellency, GOVERNOR C. B. AYCOCK,

Raleigh, N. C.

DEAR SIR:—We herewith submit the report of Dr. James McKee, Superintendent of the institution which you have placed in our charge, and beg to call your attention to what we regard as urgent needs of this institution:

|---|---|
| 1. An annual appropriation for 1905 | $ 75,000.00 |
| For 1906 | 75,000.00 |
| 2. For Engineering Department, which includes three boilers, etc | 17,500.00 |
| 3. Carpenter's house and equipments and dormitories for employees and laundry | 8,500.00 |
| 4. For the purchase of land and erecting buildings for the increased accommodation of outside insane | 90,000.00 |
| 5. Painting houses and repairs | 3,500.00 |
| 6. For fencing | 1,000.00 |
| 7. For reflooring portions of the house | 1,800.00 |
| 8. Water rent for 1905 | 1,500.00 |
| Water rent for 1906 | 1,500.00 |
| 9. Annual payment for lights for 1905 | 1,500.00 |
| Annual payment for lights for 1906 | 1,500.00 |
| 10. For outstanding indebtedness | 1,835.45 |
| | $280,135.45 |

While every best endeavor was made to avoid a deficit in accordance with law, we have been compelled to make a deficit on account of the condemning of the electric wiring in the house. To protect the property and patients against fire, connection was made with the Raleigh Gas and Electric Company at a cost of $1,000.

The joint committee of the two institutions rendered its report, which so forcibly commended itself in detail as to the data obtained from the outside insane that it was unanimously adopted and commended to your especial attention and through you to the Legislature.

Very respectfully submitted for the Board of Directors,

JOHN D. BIGGS,
Chairman.

REPORT OF THE JOINT COMMITTEE.

To the Boards of Directors of the State Hospitals at Morganton and Raleigh:

The undersigned committee, appointed by your respective bodies, beg leave to report the following:

We believe a certain and well-defined policy should be adopted by the State either to provide adequately for its insane citizens or decline to do so in unqualified terms. If the latter policy is followed, the authorities of the different counties, knowing they cannot depend on the State, will provide for their insane the best they can, and the insane will have some care that is now denied to many. Under the present plan the counties wait for the State to build and the State does not and thus the insane are left uncared for.

There is no need to discuss the humane or economical side of the question, for we assume that all are agreed that the public should undertake to provide amply for all the insane, especially those whose friends and relatives are unable to care for them.

It is well known that North Carolina has not erected enough buildings to house all its white insane, but it is not certain how many are in their homes, in jails and alms-houses or roaming the country at large.

The United States Census for 1900 does not enumerate the insane except those in State and Private Hospitals, and the census of 1890 was so notoriously and glaringly inaccurate in the enumeration of the insane that not the slightest credence is given it. The numerations of previous years are out of date and may be as worthless as that of 1890, but a study of the census of 1880 is interesting; the white population was 867,242, the insane 1,591, one insane person to every 545 of inhabitants; the negro insane was one to every 1,215. (Negroes under the foregoing should have room for 520; the whites room for 2,181. The negroes have room for 500; the whites room for 1,400. There are 20 negro insane on the outside to 700 white). We, therefore, must rely on the carefully prepared statistics of other countries and States. In more thickly populated countries there are slightly more than three insane persons to every 1,000 of population. Probably insanity is not so prevalent amongst our citizens, but we believe that two to 1,000 of white people in North Carolina are insane. The large number of applications on file in the offices of the two hospitals for white insane and the many letters of inquiries would seem to prove this number to be correct, but to be well within limits we will base our calculations on one insane person to 600 of white inhabitants.

North Carolina by the census of 1900 had 1,263,603 white inhabitants; 779,049 in the Western Hospital District and 484,554 in the Eastern. On the basis of one insane person to 600 inhabitants we had in the State in 1900, 2,106 insane; 1,298 in the Western District and 808 in the Eastern. The Western District increased in population during the decade 1890-1900, 148,269, or 14,827 per annum. The Eastern District 66,143, or 6,614 per annum. At the same ratio the population in the Western District for the past five years has increased 74,133, the insane 123; in the Eastern the increase of population for five years has been 33,070, the insane 55. If these estimates are correct there are in the Western District 1,421 insane persons, in the Eastern 863, or a total of 2,284 in the State. The Morganton Hospital has in round numbers beds for 1,000 patients, the one in Raleigh beds for 400. These estimates show the need for an increase of 421 beds at Morganton and 463 Raleigh, and also that in the Western District there is one patient cared for to every 853 inhabitants, and in the Eastern one to every 1,294. It appears from the foregoing that the Eastern District needs room for more. To equalize the two districts there should be at Morganton 129 patients from the East. The yearly increase of the white insane in North Carolina is about 36.

In accordance with the agreement of the two boards, 70 women were received from the East. On 22d of October there were 77 patients in the Hospital at Morganton from the East and 16 in the Raleigh Hospital from the West. It is plain that sending patients so far is expensive, and, everything else being equal, the Raleigh Hospital needs enlargement more than the one at Morganton.

It is our opinion that in consideration of the large number of insane outside the walls of the Hospitals, who are in need, and the difficulty and expense of providing for so many at once, that dotards, paralytics, idiots, imbeciles and epileptics for the present be excluded or accommodations prepared for them in other places.

Employment is the best remedy for insanity and farming is the best and most remunerative form of labor. It is estimated there should be an acre of land to every patient under treatment. The Hospital at Raleigh has felt greatly the need for land and this need cannot but grow greater as time goes on. We respectfully urge that this matter cannot be too strongly insisted on to the Legislature by your respective boards. Sufficiency of land is the one great means of reducing the cost of maintenance; it is not only a curative measure, but an economical one.

It is absolutely necessary to make more room for the insane at Raleigh. The cost for their maintenance will be materially decreased by the purchase of more land and a cheaper water supply. They now pay two thousand dollars per annum for water and for the rent of land, which represents the interest on a capital of forty thousand dollars at five per cent.

We again ask that attention be drawn to the large amount of tuberculosis in our midst, which we are helpless to combat with our insufficient accommodation for the tuberculous patients.

There is a great demand on the resources of the State for every purpose and these resources are limited. We for this reason recommend that at present you ask for accommodation for the insane on a basis of one bed in the Hospital for every 750 of population. This would require about one hundred and fifty more beds at Morganton and three hundred and fifty at Raleigh. This makes no allowance for the yearly increase, and will not, in our judgment, supply the demand, but by excluding the classes we think under the circumstances should be excluded, it may care for the curable, violent and troublesome cases. The beds at Morganton should be limited to men, because of the excess of accommodation for women, 600 to 400 men; the beds at Raleigh to be divided equally between the sexes.

The colonization of patients at Morganton has proved so efficient we recommend this be tried at Raleigh and increased at Morganton. If this be done more land will also be needed at Morganton. For obvious reasons it is better to have land joining the present holdings, but this is not essential; land more than three or four miles away can be utilized.

We respectfully call your attention to an effort that may be made to change the State's Prison into a hospital for the insane. We believe this would be harmful to the State's best interests, and we know it is not and cannot be made suitable for the innocent insane. The laws governing hospitals and the general subject of insanity could be amended in some particulars with advantage.

If the Legislature of 1905 should determine to provide to any large extent for the insane it would be the part of wisdom to appoint a competent commission to examine this great question in all its aspects before large amounts of money be spent. The best thought of this and all other countries should be studied and the wisest course adopted. There is a disposition to break away from the old plan of large, expensive structures to smaller, simpler, cheaper, and we believe, more efficient ones.

We feel we have a great State, and we are proud of it. We cannot but earnestly hope that this subject of caring for its insane so long neglected may be systematically taken up and treated in a business-like way. If, after discussion, the General Assembly believes the State cannot afford to erect any more buildings, then it should so declare. If, on the other hand, it thinks our people can further and adequately provide for them, then this should be dealt with in a plain, business-like way.

Respectfully submitted,

J. P. SAWYER,
I. I. DAVIS,
A. A. SHUFORD,

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT.

John D. Biggs, Esq., President, and Gentlemen of the Board of Directors of the State Hospital at Raleigh:

I have the honor to submit, by custom and law, the biennial report of the State Hospital at Raleigh for the two years ending November 30, 1904. To this report will be found annexed the Steward's, and the accompanying tables of receipts and expenditures, the reports of the Engineer, Carpenter, Gardener, Stock and Dairyman and Matron, all of which will inform you of the operations of the respective departments for this biennial period. At the beginning of this biennial period, December 1, 1902, there were in this Hospital, patients—164 males; 233 females; total, 399. The number of male patients admitted during this period was 180; females 148; total, 328. The total number under treatment during the bienneum, 725; number of deaths, 32 males; 25 females; total 57. Number discharged as restored, 113 males; 63 females; total, 173. The per cent. of restorations based on admissions was, males, 67; females, 42; average per cent. of restorations, 54; remaining in the Hospital December 1, 1904, 178 males; 202 females; total, 480. Seventy-two were declined for the following reasons: for want of room, being blind, forfeiting beds, being paralytics, epileptics, imbeciles and idiots. The number of deaths has been 57; of them 4 were over 70 years, 5 over 60, 11 over 50 years, 17 over 40 years, 14 over 30, 5 over 20 years, and 1 under 20 years. Only one patient died of an acute disease, that was pneumonia. Tuberculosis comes in as usual as the cause of the greatest number of deaths. And just here it is well enough to suggest the necessity of providing isolation, disinfection and treatment for these cases. Cheaply constructed houses, or, what is better, tents, should be provided for them that their time might be spent in the open air, and during sleeping hours get as much oxygen in their lungs as possible. When these cottages or tents shall have become so infected as to be unfit for use they can be burned, and the loss will be small. A great many cases of recurrent mania have been discharged that will return.

While the mortality is greater than in the preceding two years, yet we should and do feel grateful that no unusual sickness or acute disease has prevailed on Dix Hill among the inhabitants.

We have had no accidents, but have been unfortunate in losing 168 head of hogs by cholera. The infection was probably brought in by a hog purchased, yet the hog pasture has been in constant use for forty-five years, and cholera has invaded it before. The herd is being replaced by purchases, which have been an unexpected draught upon the maintenance appropriation.

AMUSEMENTS AND DIVERSIONS OF PATIENTS.

The patients, nurses and male attendants assemble twice a week and enjoy dancing to the strains of sweet music. All of them thoroughly enjoy the music, and the effect is so apparent that music should be credited as one of the most potential remedies for the insane. Services are held every Sunday morning in the Chapel by Dr. T. N. Ivey, the Chaplain. The better class of patients appreciate these services. They are fond of the Chaplain, and look forward with great anticipation to his regular and prompt attendance.

TRAINING SCHOOL.

The training school has been a success. The nurses are trained in the Hospital to bestow upon the patients that careful nursing for the advancement of their comfort and the promotion of their recovery. To keep their physical lives up to the highest possible sanitary condition by proper feeding, and by strict observance of regular habits in eating, sleeping, bathing and taking outdoor exercise is to be found the "royal road to recovery." The class appreciates this, and is working diligently and interestingly along these lines for the accomplishment of that purpose.

WORK ACCOMPLISHED DURING THE PAST TWO YEARS.

Very few improvements have been added to the Hospital, as only one appropriation was made for any, and that was $5,000 for the special purpose of furnishing to the Hospital a purer and more wholesome water supply and all necessary connections and equipments thereto. The right of way, with all the necessary deeds, was obtained from the guardian of Frances Fuller Thompson through her plantation. The main pipe of the Wake Water Company was tapped, connection made and 2,800 feet of 8-inch iron pipe was laid and made to connect with pipes at the Hospital. The pressure was so great under this new service that the old corroded pipes throughout the Hospital had to be replaced with 1,100 feet of new pipe. Several new lavatories have been put in and 90 feet of drain pipes, and a great many old, worn-out basin cocks have been replaced by new and better ones.

The water supply, for the first time in years, is pure and adequate, though it comes at a cost of $1,500 per year. A new 150-horse-power boiler was purchased and placed in a position west of the great stack, and protected by a frame building shut in and covered by corrugated iron. The cost of the building, breeching, masonry, house and connections by new pipes was $3,082.60. The condemning of the old boilers by the boiler inspector made it necessary to make this purchase. The special Examining Committee in their report to the Legislature of 1903 recommended an appropriation of $3,000 for the purpose of buying boilers. This boiler has relieved us materially, as it gives the old boilers rest, they being about burned out and not fit for persistent use. The Engineer, Carpenter and Tinner have been constantly employed in repairing. The building, having been in constant use for forty-six years, requires persistent watchfulness to meet the dilapidation that comes with time. The Engineer has been very busy and careful in looking after the old, worn-out and inadequate boilers that have been in constant use for thirteen years, and but for his thorough knowledge of his business, his untiring energy and deep interest in the care of these unfortunate people, we were likely to have been without heat any time during the winter. Three new 150-horse-power boilers are urgently needed to take the place of the old, worn-out and condemned boilers. There is too great an area of building surface to heat for the boiler capacity, and if additional buildings, as asked for, are granted the purchase of them will be most important.

I desire to call your attention to the ice plant, and reiterate what was recommended in the report of 1902. I stated that the ice plant is not at all equal to the needs of the Hospital, nor the cold storage, and for economy and convenience should be removed. If the proposition recommended for the construction of a new house is granted the cold storage and ice plant could be placed in that. The pipes in the cold storage and brine tank are badly corroded, and are leaking. During the persistently hot weather last summer we were obliged to buy ice to supplement our ice for use in the Hospital. It is necessary to have a 3,000-gallon brine tank. The one at present in use was bought second-hand six years ago, and was not properly constructed. The Engineer's Report will give you in detail the needs in that portion of his department. See Engineer's Report annexed.

The Carpenter's Report annexed hereto will show that since his connection with the Hospital he has been very busy doing repair work.

GARDENER'S REPORT.

This officer's report will disclose the work done in his department and the urgent need of a greater acreage of land. Eighty acres adjoining this tract have been rented for $300 per year, with the privilege of five years. It has been the greatest help to us. It furnished a house for the Gardener, out-houses for farm hands, additional stable room and pasture land for mules and calves. Quite a number of fowls were raised there. The estimated value of crops harvested is $1,237, rent deducted leaves $937 worth of corn, potatoes, pease and ensilage on hand. The Hospital ought to have one acre of land for every patient. I would most earnestly suggest the recommendation of an appropriation of $10,000 to purchase land. It gives me pleasure to endorse the suggestions contained in the report.

PLANS FOR INCREASED ACCOMMODATIONS FOR PATIENTS.

In the last biennial report attention was called to the necessity of providing for the outside insane. The report called for an addition both to the male and female wings, running in a westerly direction 172 feet and three stories high of the same architecture as the old building, giving 132 more rooms, these wings being contiguous to the heating plant, thereby economizing in attaching the heating pipes.

The Executive Committee of this State Hospital met at the State Hospital at Morganton and agreed to admit patients to the empty beds in both Hospitals, regardless of residence, but legal by transfer. The Committee from this Hospital fully inspected the Hospital at Morganton and its workings, and were very much pleased with the colony plan recently adopted by the management of that Hospital. They inspected one building fully completed and filled with patients, with all the cooking apparatus and heating apparatus installed. They were impressed with the neatness of the system and of the house, yard, barns, piggeries and poultry yard. The patients were contented and evidently intent upon making a success of what they supposed to be their own belongings. This is the history of all colony plans that are being tried in Europe and America, and I suggest that the plan be tried here, provided we can get the additional acreage of land to justify us in so doing. These houses can be built at a small cost, and could be built while building the wing to the female department of our present building, thereby enabling us to complete this building much more promptly and at a less cost. If this should be granted, there would be no necessity of adding at present the other wing to the male department. The Committee adjourned to meet in Raleigh at the Hospital, November 22, which they did, and formulated a report which will be presented to your body for your deliberation and action. I commend it to you as a plain statement of data, though approximate, but the best to be obtained, as worthy of adoption. I suggest you order its publication in the published report.

FINANCES.

I respectfully call your attention to the attached report of the Steward. You will observe that the expenditures are in excess of receipts. This could not be avoided without detriment to the property and patients committed to our care. The repair account is unusually large; the cost of living high and uncertain; the water account, payable in money monthly from the maintenance fund; the imperative necessity of changing our system of lighting the premises and houses, using both gas and electricity at a cost of $243 per month, with an old, worn-out gas plant, making gas from rosin at a cost of $2.60 per barrel, and overtaxing a dynamo put in for 200 lights and made to carry 300; the condemning of the wiring by an expert inspector of the South Eastern Tariff Association compelled us to connect with the Standard Gas and Electric Company of Raleigh. This company supplies us with gas at a cost of $1.25 per thousand feet, and will cost $1,800 per annum. The cost of rewiring the house was estimated at $2,000. The cost of the dynamos to be run in duplicate would cost $6,300. This could not be obtained for the want of funds. The lights are brilliant and satisfactory both as to service and cost. The cost of connecting and purchasing lamps is $1,000.

On July 15 Mr. W. R. Crawford, Jr., resigned as Steward, to accept a position as general agent of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company. His long, efficient and faithful services have been appreciated by this and preceding administrations. He was succeeded by Mr. Hardesty, whose familiarity with the work has enabled us to run things on smoothly.

The members of the Medical Staff are entitled to and deserve much praise for time and skillful energy given to the work.

It is a matter of pleasure to recall the endorsement of our actions and instances of courtesy and kindness shown us by the members of the Board and the faithfulness and loyalty of the employees.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES MCKEE,
Superintendent.

ENGINEERING DEPARTMENT.

DR. JAMES MCKEE, Superintendent,
State Hospital, Dix Hill.

SIR:—I herewith present you the report of this department. It includes the care of the boilers, steam heating, laundry machinery, ice and refrigeration, lights and plumbing. I found three old, well-worn 60-horse-power boilers doing and had been doing the work for half again as much power as they should have been required to do; however, by close attention they were made to do the service required. If any accident had occurred through one of them there would have been a disturbance in the regular routine of service in the heating, laundry and light service. They are situated in an old, nearly dilapidated house, on the ground floor, under rooms intended to be occupied by servants and the laundry. A portion of the ground floor has been taken for an ice plant and cold storage, depriving the lower rooms of as much space as was necessary for their use. A measurement of the building showed there was 1,500,000 square feet of space to heat, that required 21,500 feet of radiating surface and that required 2,678 feet of boiler service. It takes a 150-horse-power boiler to furnish power to run the machinery of the Hospital safely. You will observe that the three 60-horse-power boilers have been overworked at an enormous cost of fuel. Two 150-horse-power boilers can with safety furnish 3,800 feet of heating surface. A new boiler, 150-horse-power, has been purchased and placed under a temporary house, properly connected by its breeching with the great stack. All the necessary pipes were attached at a cost of $2,356.60. We found it absolutely necessary to remove on account of corrosion and replace 3,880 feet of steam-pipes at a cost of $329.81, piping and valves at a cost of $396.20, aggregating a cost for boiler and piping purposes of $3,082.61.

LAUNDRY.

The laundry, under the same roof as the boiler-house, should be in a separate building, and on the first floor, as there is danger of fire in all laundries where large heaters are used, and especially where insane people work. The laundry is too crowded and needs enlarging. The drying-room is not half large enough, for they cannot dry the clothes in wet weather. I have done a good deal of work in the laundry; have renewed shafting and boxes on two tubs, made a new top for one other, put on one new set of gear, a wheel on one other, renewed five small belts and one main driving belt. I recommend the erection of a two-story building, the second floor of which to be used as rooms for employees, as asked for two years ago. We need to expend $3,000 in the laundry.

WATER SUPPLY.

The water supply was condemned some time ago. We had to discontinue use of same and connect with the Wake Water Company. The Legislature appropriated $5,000 for the special purpose of furnishing water to the institution. We put in 2,800 feet of 8-inch cast-iron pipe, eight valves and a large water meter for furnishing the supply. Most all the pipes through the Hospital were old and rotten and could not stand the city water pressure. We had to renew over 3,000 feet of water pipes at a cost of $600, put in a good many new self-closing cocks, had to renew pipes in the bath-rooms, had to replace old, worn-out bath-tubs with new ones, had to put in new dish-sinks, had to replace old, worn-out wash-bowls with new ones. I have been continually employed in keeping up repairs of pipes through which the city water had to flow, as the old ones were so badly corroded that they had to be constantly watched and replaced.

LIGHTS.

Neither the gas nor the electric plant is large enough to light the Hospital. Rosin gas is too expensive to use at a cost of $2.60 per barrel, as it takes one barrel of rosin and three-fourths of a cord of wood, and time for one man; the wear and tear of the works makes the cost of gas five dollars per night and the electric light three dollars per night. The electric light wiring is very old and the insulation rotten. All the wiring throughout the Hospital has been overloaded and is really unsafe, the building being wired for 200 lights, and 300 lights having been added to this. An inspector from the South-eastern Tariff Association condemned all the wiring. An inspection of the wiring was made at your request, and the estimate of the cost cannot be put down at less than $2,000; new engine and dynamo in duplicate, $6,300. My predecessor two years ago, as noted in his report, asked for an appropriation to renew the wiring and put in new electrical machinery. Acting under instructions from you, I superintended the connection made with the Standard Gas and Electric Company, and beg to report that $1,000 will cover the expense of piping and gas fixtures and meter for connection with the Hospital. We put in 2,500 feet of 4-inch cast-iron pipes from the Hospital to Saunders street to the connection with the gas company's main; 1,500 feet of new gas pipes had to be placed in the Hospital where there was no gas, at a cost of $150. The burners had to be changed and a good many gas fixtures put in; 1,400 feet of old cast-iron water pipes that had been used with the old water connection was taken up and used for part of the gas main. I feel persuaded that it will take $1,800 appropriation per annum to pay for the lights. In reply to your question, I will state that we can place eleven or twelve arc lights on the outside of the building and barns and run them with the present engine and dynamo.

ICE PLANT.

The ice plant and cold storage is under the same roof as the boilers and laundry. Neither the ice plant nor the cold storage has ever been large enough for the Hospital's use, for want of space. It is necessary to increase the size of the ice plant and cold storage, and to do so it will be necessary to place them in a new house. That could be done under the suggested building for the boiler. The pipe coils are about rusted from long usage. The brine-tank is rusty and leaks very badly and cannot be run another season. We are barely making one-half enough ice for use in the Hospital. If this should be continued it will be necessary to have a 3,000-gallon brine-tank. The new cold storage was asked for in a previous report. The last estimated cost for ice plant and cold storage was $5,000. This present second-hand one was purchased for $3,500 six years ago.

ROOFS.

A great deal of work has been done upon the roofing of the various houses for the Hospital. They have been watched constantly to prevent leaks. The gutters have been kept in repair, sometimes replacing sections of the gutters with new tin. There have been put up a good many new conductor pipes. The roof on the engineer's house leaks badly, and, notwithstanding the constant repair that has been done upon it, it still continues to leak. I respectfully ask that you place a new roof upon the building. The Hospital roof needs a coat of paint, and should be done next spring.

Respectfully submitted,

GARDENER'S DEPARTMENT.

DR. JAMES MCKEE, Superintendent,
State Hospital, Dix Hill.

DEAR SIR:—Herewith I submit the biennial report of the operations of the farm, garden and dairy. The farm and garden contain 175 acres. The acreage is entirely too small for the use of the institution. More land has been asked for repeatedly since my connection with the Hospital, and it is absolutely necessary to have land sufficient to make feed for the stock. This year the institution rented 80 acres of land at a cost of $300. The estimated products of this 80 acres is $1,237. We also had the benefit of a good dwelling-house, stables and some outhouses, which came in very conveniently, as we needed the room. We need, in addition to open land, some woodland, especially pine forests, so that we may get the benefit of the straw that falls from the trees to be used for storing the potatoes and bedding for the stock.

We had an epidemic of cholera among the swine herd and lost almost the entire herd. The old swine pasture contains five acres and has been continually in use for fifty-four years, and the cause of the cholera can be attributed, I think, to the congested condition of the pasture. A wire fence around the north, east and south sides of the plantation would be of great benefit and would keep off loafers and thieves, by whom we are continually annoyed.

Large columns at the main entrance, with iron gates, and a lodge cottage, would not only be very beneficial, but would add very much to the looks of the premises.

The dairy department is deficient in its milk supply, the daily average being fifty-five gallons; and to supply the patients we should have one hundred gallons daily. The herd is being brought back to the standard gradually since we lost most of them by tuberculosis three years ago. The barns and out-houses are very much in need of paint. I respectfully suggest that comfortable rooms be provided for dairy and farm employees, as the ones they are in are very dilapidated.

Very respectfully,

JAMES ADAMS,

DR. JAMES MCKEE, Superintendent,
State Hospital, Dix Hill.

DEAR SIR:—Since my appointment as carpenter I have been constantly employed in keeping the building in repair, which I found to be very much out of repair, something constantly having to be done. I have made coffins, repaired locks, clocks, tables and other furniture; also farm wagons, plows and other farming implements; have constructed a frame house to be used for boiler 30 by 60 feet, covering same with corrugated iron; have put a high fence around the poultry-yard, 50 by 125 by 12 feet high; put barbed-wire fence around cow pasture, and "Page" woven-wire fence around hog pasture; replaced an old, worn-out, dilapidated porch in the rear end of the congregate dining-room; replaced old steps with new ones in front of female annex; placed metal ceiling in three bath-rooms and in three water-closets, and painted same; have kept the barns, carriage-house and stables up by repairing. In the male annex I have placed metal ceilings in three water-closets and one bath-room, and painted same, and in the bath-rooms of the eighth and ninth wards I have put down new concrete floors. I have had some of my help constantly employed in scraping and re-applying muresco to the walls in the wards and administration building, and have fitted up a room for the house-keeper over the kitchen, and made new wheel-barrows for use.

Very respectfully,

T. A. HOLLIDAY,
Carpenter.

The valleys and porch roof at the Steward's cottage should be painted as soon as spring opens up. About 150 feet of 4-inch conductor pipe should go on the main building; 150 feet of 6-inch pipe for underground drainage should go in at the male annex to save the foundations of the building; 125 feet of tin gutter 28 inches wide should go in the porch at the male annex. One balcony floor should be tinned at the male annex. It is necessary that this should be done to preserve the roof and the buildings.

LAUNDRY DEPARTMENT.

DR. JAMES MCKEE, Superintendent,
State Hospital, Dix Hill.

SIR:—I herewith respectfully submit a report of the Laundry Department for the fiscal year ending November 30, 1903, and for the year ending 1904.

Much of the work is done by tne female patients, who, as a rule, improve very much in strength, though tne work is not, of course, up to the standard of a first-class laundry.

All goods turned out of the laundry are clean and reasonably nicely ironed by such help as is used. One has to be ever watchful, and I hope the work of the department has been done in a satisfactory manner. All of which is respectfully submitted.

If you will allow me I will respectfully suggest that the laundry be enlarged, that we have an increase of two machines, washer and extractor, the room enlarged and the elevator remodeled, all of which will add considerably to the work in this department.

Respectfully submitted,
(MISS) N. K. BENSON,

REPORT OF BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

MORGANTON, N. C., December 20, 1904.

His Excellency, CHARLES B. AYCOCK,

Governor of North Carolina.

SIR:—I submit to you herewith, as required by law, a report of the operations of this institution for the biennial period November 30, 1902, December 1, 1904, transmitting with it the reports of the Superintendent and of subordinate officers for the same period, together with one by a joint committee of this Board and that of the Hospital at Raleigh. These reports are so complete that it is not necessary that this one should deal with details. For these reference is made to those accompanying it.

Your Excellency will gather that there were in the Hospital on the 1st instant, 1,002 patients, which is very nearly its capacity. Early in 1903 a new building with beds for 230 female patients was completed, but has not been fully occupied until recently, for the reason that the support fund was not equal to the maintenance of the population for which there was room, and the Board of Directors are forbidden by law to incur debt, and the further reason that it was deemed wise to exercise great discretion in the admission of patients. Had these been received as fast as application was made, the institution would have been filled many months ago, largely with a class of cases which the law does not contemplate as proper subjects for hospital treatment, and to the exclusion of classes which may be cared for and treated with the expectation of benefit to themselves and the public. These patients have been admitted with deliberation and under a system of careful selection, with a view of taking the most recent and most hopeful cases first. Under this plan the Hospital has reached the end of the biennial period with no debt and no surplus and without having had to call upon your Excellency for funds from the State Treasury promised in case of necessity. You are aware, sir, that when room was made here a number of female patients were received from the Eastern District in order to relieve the distressing condition at the Hospital at Raleigh; and in this connection special attention is directed to the interesting report herewith of the joint committee, above referred to, of the two institutions, which met on the 22d of November to confer upon matters common to both and of concern to the insane of all the State. The report of this committee has been adopted unanimously by the Boards of Directors of both the institutions.

Your Excellency will be impressed by the disproportion in the number of male and female patients in this institution, the greater part of the recent enlargement here having been for the benefit of the latter. This Hospital has adopted the "colony" system, which is to say the erection of inexpensive detached buildings for men who are quiet and not dangerous. In about a month another of such buildings will have been completed, and then a total of seventy-five men will be cared for at the "colony." This plan has been successful here; the patients who are assigned to the "colony," which is about a mile from the main building, being healthier and happier than before. Accommodations are needed here for 150 men of this district who should be here, but for whom there is no room. This enumeration takes no account of the senile insane, of epileptics, paralytics, inebriates, idiots or imbeciles. To provide beds for the 150 men under consideration, an appropriation of $50,000 will be needed. In addition, $6,000 is needed for new boilers and $5,000 for an amusement hall; the chapel, in which divine services are held on the Sabbath and to which the patients resort for their amusement during the week, having been pronounced unsafe. The number of patients for the next two years will be not less than 1,025, and $148,625 will be required for their maintenance.

With regard to the expense of the care and treatment of patients here, and the conduct of the Hospital, attention is invited to the fact that the per capita cost for 1903, with an average population of 850, was $146.84 per annum, or 40 cents per day; for 1904, with an average population of 916, $144.04 per annum, or 39½ cents a day. It is to be understood that these figures include food, shelter, clothing, medical treatment, heating, medicines, nursing, salaries and every other expense whatsoever. The lesser per capita for 1904 than 1903 was due to the larger number of patients. To the extent that is practicable the patients are worked on the farm and in the garden—this, of course, with reference to their own inclinations in the matter and to what is regarded as best for their mental and physical health. The products of the farm, garden and dairy for the two years are estimated to have been worth $21,000, and the cost of production $5,000 to $8,000. It is not pretended that these figures are exact, but they are approximately accurate.

It is a pleasure to again have opportunity to pay tribute to the whole-hearted zeal and high efficiency of the Superintendent, Dr. P. L. Murphy, the assistant physicians and the subordinate officers. The Board of Directors has discharged its duties in accordance with the best lights given it, and with an eye single to the welfare of the unhappy class which peoples these wards, and to the best interests of the State. Of all its acts and of all the record of each officer of the institution, it invites the most rigid scrutiny.

Respectfully submitted for the Board,

J. P. CALDWELL,
President.

REPORT OF JOINT COMMITTEE.

To the Boards of Directors of the Hospitals at Morganton and Raleigh:

The undersigned committee, appointed by your respective bodies, beg leave to report the following:

We believe a certain and well-defined policy should be adopted by the State either to provide adequately for its insane citizens or decline to do so in unqualified terms. If the latter policy is followed, the authorities of the different counties, knowing they cannot depend on the State, will provide for their insane the best they can, and the insane will have some care that is now denied to many. Under the present plan the counties wait for the State to build, and the State does not, and thus the insane are left uncared for.

There is no need to discuss the humane or economical side of the question, for we assume that all are agreed that the public should undertake to provide amply for all the insane, especially those whose friends and relatives are unable to care for them.

It is well known that North Carolina has not erected enough buildings to house all its white insane, but it is not certain how many are in their homes, in jails and almshouses or roaming the county at large.

The United States Census for 1900 does not enumerate the insane, except those in State and private hospitals, and the Census of 1890 was so notoriously and glaringly inaccurate in the enumeration of the insane that not the slightest credence is given it. The enumerations of previous years are out of date and may be as worthless as that of 1890, but a study of the Census of 1880 is interesting. The white population was 867,242; the insane, 1,591—one insane person to every 545 of inhabitants. The negro insane was one to every 1,215. (Negroes under the foregoing should have room for 520; the whites room for 2,181. The negroes have room for 500; the whites room for 1,400. There are 20 negro insane on the outside, to 700 white.) We therefore must rely on the carefully prepared statistics of other countries and States. In more thickly populated countries there are slightly more than three insane persons to every 1,000 of population. Probably insanity is not so prevalent amongst our citizens, but we believe that two to 1,000 of white people in North Carolina are insane. The large number of applicants on file in the offices of the two Hospitals for white insane and the many letters of inquiries would seem to prove this number to be correct, but to be well within limits we will base our calculations on one insane person to 600 of white inhabitants.

North Carolina, by the Census of 1900, had 1,263,603 white inhabitants; 779,049 in the Western Hospital district and 484,554 in the Eastern. On the basis of one insane person to 600 inhabitants, we had in the State in 1900 2,106 insane; 1,298 in the Western district and 808 in the Eastern. The Western district increased in population during the decade 1890-1900 148,269, or 14,827 per annum. The Eastern district, 66,143, or 6,614 per annum. At the same ratio the population in the Western district for the past five years has increased 74,135, the insane 123; in the Eastern the increase of population for five years has been 33,070, the insane 55. If these estimates are correct, there are in the Western district 1,421 insane persons, in the Eastern 863, or a total of 2,284 in the State. The Morganton Hospital has in round numbers beds for 1,000 patients; the one in Raleigh beds for 400. These estimates show the need for an increase of 421 beds at Morganton and 463 at Raleigh; and also that in the Western district there is one patient cared for to every 853 inhabitants, and in the Eastern one to every 1,294. It appears from the foregoing the Eastern district needs room for more. To equalize the two districts, there should be at Morganton 129 patients from the east. The yearly increase of the white insane in North Carolina is about thirty-six.

In accordance with the agreement of the two Boards, 33 women were received from the east. On the 22d of November there were 67 patients in the Hospital at Morganton from the east, and . . in the Raleigh Hospital from the west. It is plain that sending patients so far is expensive, and, everything else being equal, the Raleigh Hospital needs enlargement more than the one at Morganton.

It is our opinion that, in consideration of the large number of insane outside the walls of the Hospitals who are in need, and the difficulty and expense of providing for so many at once, that dotards, paralytics, idiots, imbeciles and epileptics, for the present, be excluded or accommodations prepared for them in other places.

Employment is the best remedy for insanity, and farming is the best and most remunerative form of labor. It is estimated there should be an acre of land to every patient under treatment. The Hospital at Raleigh has felt greatly the need for land, and this need cannot but grow greater as time goes on. We respectfully urge that this matter cannot be too strongly insisted on to the Legislature by your respective Boards. Sufficiency of land is the one great means of reducing the cost of maintenance; it is not only a curative measure, but an economical one.

It is absolutely necessary to make more room for the insane at Raleigh. The cost for their maintenance will be materially decreased by the purchase of more land and a cheaper water supply. They now pay two thousand dollars per annum for water and for the rent of land, which represents the interest on a capital of forty thousand dollars at five per cent.

We again ask that attention be drawn to the large amount of tuberculosis in our midst, which we are helpless to combat with our insufficient accommodation for the tuberculous patients.

There is a great demand on the resources of the State for every purpose, and these resources are limited. We, for this reason, recommend that at present you ask for accommodation for the insane on a basis of one bed in the Hospital for every 750 of population. This would require about one hundred and fifty more beds at Morganton and three hundred and fifty at Raleigh. This makes no allowances for the yearly increase, and will not, in our judgment, supply the demand; but by excluding the classes we think, under the circumstances, should be excluded, it may care for the curable, violent and troublesome cases. The beds at Morganton should be limited to men, because of the excess of accommodation for women, 600 to 400 men; the beds at Raleigh to be divided equally between the sexes.

The colonization of patients at Morganton has proved so efficient, we recommend this be tried at Raleigh and increased at Morganton. If this be done more land will also be needed at Morganton. For obvious reasons, it is better to have land joining the present holdings, but this is not essential. Land more than three or four miles away can be utilized.

We respectfully call your attention to an effort that may be made to change the State's Prison into a hospital for the insane. We believe this would be harmful to the State's best interest, and we know it is not and cannot be made suitable for the innocent insane. The laws governing hospitals and the general subject of insanity could be amended in some particulars with advantage.

If the Legislature of 1905 should determine to provide to any large extent for the insane, it would be the part of wisdom to appoint a competent commission to examine this great question in all its aspects before large amounts of money be spent. The best thought of this and all other countries should be studied and the wisest course adopted. There is a disposition to break away from the old plan of large, expensive structures to smaller, simpler, cheaper and, we believe, more efficient ones.

We feel we have a great State, and we are proud of it. We cannot but earnestly hope that this subject of caring for its insane, so long neglected, may be systematically taken up and treated in a business-like way. If, after discussion, the General Assembly believes the State cannot afford to erect any more buildings, then it should so declare. If, on the other hand, it thinks our people can further and adequately provide for them, then this should be dealt with in a plain, business-like way.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT.

To the Board of Directors of the State Hospital at Morganton:

GENTLEMEN:—The usual tabulated statistical information for the biennial period November 30, 1902, December 1, 1904, is appended. An analysis of the tables shows the number of patients admitted to have been 172 men, 361 women; total, 533; that the whole number under treatment was 514 men, 782 women; total, 1,296; that the discharges and deaths were 126 men, 168 women; total, 294, leaving in the Hospital December 1, 1904, 387 men, 615 women, a total of 1,002 patients; that the per cent. of recoveries is below the average of this Hospital, and that the death rate is also lower; that 6 per cent. of the admissions were over sixty years of age, and that nearly one-half were chronic cases.

Other interesting data might be obtained from these tables, but those mentioned will be enough for present purposes.

In March, 1903, the building for women known as the "Harper Building," with beds for 230 patients, was ready for occupancy. The Legislature having failed to appropriate enough money to care for that number of patients, you ordered that only one-half of it be used.

The "colony" for men was occupied in June, 1903. The building was intended to accommodate 30 patients, but by moving to the "colony" grounds an old unused billiard room and the erection of an inexpensive cottage for the man in charge, room for 20 additional beds was made. These additions did not cost exceeding $500.

The demand for hospital care of the insane grew so great in both the Eastern and Western Hospital Districts that an appeal was made to the Governor in February, 1904, for sufficient means to support as many patients as there were beds. He prompetly assured the Board that money for this purpose would be supplied from the State Treasury. Arrangements were immediately made with the Board of Directors and Superintendent of the Hospital at Raleigh to fill the beds from the two Districts, irrespective of geographical lines. All of the beds are practically taken, so that again only the curable and very troublesome patients can be admitted as beds are vacated by discharges.

A small brick building for 25 men is in course of construction at the "Colony." This will be ready for patients about the middle of January, 1905. This will make accommodations for 75 working male patients, as many as should be there, indeed, more, if the farm colony idea is carried out. This addition makes the capacity of the Hospital 1,040—425 men and 615 women.

A committee composed of three members from each of the Boards of the Hospitals at Morganton and Raleigh met at the latter Hospital on November 22d and prepared a report for the Boards. This report fully sets forth the number and condition of the white insane of North Carolina. The committee's recommendations were carefully and conservatively made, but as this report is before you and no doubt will be a part of your report to the Governor no further mention will be made of it.

Your attention is again called to the growing demand by the people of Western North Carolina to have dotards cared for by the Hospital. Under the present circumstances this should not be done, and yet, notwithstanding the care exercised by your Executive Committee a large number of these old people were received during the past two years.

The pressure brought to bear on the members of the committee to receive insane patients can only be known to them. It is the most perplexing duty they have to perform. They do the best they can, but they cannot always know the best because of the meagre information they have before them. The careless manner of preparing commitment papers and histories by the physicians and Clerks of the Superior Courts adds greatly to the perplexity of the Executive Committee and the anxiety of the Hospital physicians. In many instances the recorded histories as required by law to accompany the commitment papers are not only meagre, but misleading and incorrect, showing gross carelessness and oftentimes ignorance. An examination of the table showing the alleged causes of insanity of those admitted will convince any one of the correctness of these statements. The persons who accompany patients frequently know nothing of them. This, with the incomplete and insufficient data in the papers, deprives the physician of valuable information, to the detriment of the patient.

The boilers put in over twenty years ago are greatly deteriorated by age and use—so much so that we are informed by the boiler insurance company that the company cannot assume the risks longer than next summer. The boilers should be replaced by more economical ones, even if they were safe, for we are told by competent steam engineers that $2,500 to $3,000 worth of fuel is wasted yearly in maintaining them. Due regard to safety and economy demand an early installation of new and better boilers; it is, in fact, a necessity. The cost will be about $6,000.

The room intended for a chapel, which had been used for years for an amusement hall, was abandoned for this purpose because it had become unsafe. An amusement hall is therefore required. This will cost about $5,000.

The per capita cost of maintenance for the past year was something less than the year before, owing, no doubt, to the larger number of patients and not to lessened cost of supplies. The per capita expense for the year 1904 was $145.

The number of patients that will be cared for next year will be not less than 1,025. This number will require for support $148,625 a year.

The usual reports of the Steward, Matron, Farmer, etc., are presented. They contain more or less valuable information. The Steward's books are so kept that any item of expense can be easily ascertained, and also the cost of every department of the Hospital.

Respectfully submitted,

P. L. MURPHY,

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL.

GOLDSBORO, N. C., December 8, 1904.

To His Excellency, CHARLES B. AYCOCK, Governor:

As chairman of the Board of Directors of the State Hospital at Goldsboro, I again respectfully submit our report for your consideration. The report of Dr. J. F. Miller has been carefully considered and approved by your Board of Directors, and it is gratifying to us, and doubtless to yourself and to the public at large, to note his efficient and economic management of this large State charity. I especially call your attention to the fact that a first-class cold-storage and ice factory has been installed the past year without an appropriation by the State, but from money made by the industrial enterprises of the Hospital.

Your attention is also respectfully invited to the recommendation of the Superintendent for an annual appropriation of $60,000 for maintenance and repairs, and $40,000 as a special appropriation for a building and its furnishings for female patients, for an eighty-horse-power boiler and for an extension of a spur of the North Carolina Railroad from our coal-bins to our boiler-house, being a distance of a little less than a half-mile. This Hospital also needs a small appropriation of about $2,500 for a building and its furnishings to care for tuberculous male patients. We sincerely hope your Excellency will approve these several recommendations, and that the approaching Legislature will fully appreciate the necessity for the same.

All of which is most respectfully submitted by

Your obedient servant,

ELISHA PORTER,
Chairman.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

GOLDSBORO, N. C., December 8, 1904.

Gentlemen of the Board of Directors:

In the providence of God we are permitted to meet here to consider the affairs of this Hospital, and it is my pleasure and also duty to inform you of its present condition and all things appertaining thereto which you as its guardians should know. This report is for the biennial period dating from November 30, 1902, to November 30, 1904, and includes, of course, the report I made to you in December, 1903. At the beginning of this biennial period there were on the rolls of this Hospital 481 patients—198 males and 283 females. During that period we have received 273 patients—113 males and 160 females. Total under treatment, 754. Daily average population, 521 35-100. Discharged during 1903-'04, 225 patients; as recovered, 89; as improved, 9; as unimproved, 1. Died, 120. Remaining December 1, 1904, 529—220 males and 309 females. Percentage of cures on admission, 32 95-100; percentage of deaths on number treated, 9 51-100.

I regret that the professional work of the past two years in its results has not been altogether so satisfactory as usual, and yet the medical staff of the Hospital has never been more faithful and conscientious in the discharge of duty, and probably never so laborious in consequence of increased amount of sickness during a portion of the period embraced by this report, especially during an epidemic of a malignant form of dysentery which swept through our Hospital during the months of April and May, 1903.

Tuberculosis continues to do its deadly work, and has claimed for its victims about twenty-eight per cent. of those who have died during the period. I will state for your information that the epidemic of dysentery was confined to our female population, and hence we judged that the cause was inside the building, but we knew not how nor where, unless it was on the walls of the building; so we proceeded to remove all the accumulated whitewash on the walls of rooms and corridors throughout every building occupied by females. This was almost a Herculean task, and the walls afterwards were treated to a coat of whitewash and bichloride of mercury.

I am glad to state that we have had no epidemic during the past twelve months, and, with the exception of tuberculosis, the health of the Hospital has been good. In consequence of the character of our population, we cannot reasonably hope for a favorable comparison with results of hospitals for the white people, yet our mortality is much less than what obtains in most Southern hospitals among a population of like character as ours. Hoffman, who has spent years in laborious research and has written a book on the negro race, presents a wealth of statistics, nowhere else to be found, demonstrating the fact that under every condition the Caucasian is a stronger race than the negro, more resisting to the encroachments of disease and less yielding to its destructive influences; and hence, under like conditions, the mortality everywhere is much greater among the colored than the white population. These tests have been made both in civil and military life, in cities and armies of many countries.

The Legislature of 1899 appropriated $50,000 for enlargement of this Hospital, but unfortunately the Treasury was so depleted by other demands that the Hospital received but $20,000 of the amount appropriated. The building erected with this money was intended for the accommodation of male patients, but we have been compelled to place female patients on the second floor of this building. Believing that the Legislature of 1901 would make provision for supplying this Hospital with the remaining $30,000 due, we began receiving every worthy patient who applied for admission, and we soon filled the new building with a hundred and fifty admissions for the year, since which time our wards have been crowded, and a large number of worthy applicants have been refused for want of room.

An impression has been made on the minds of some people of intelligence that the State of North Carolina is doing more in the way of caring for the negro insane than the whites. This is a great mistake. The negro population, approximately, is one-third of the white population, and yet the State has expended for buildings and other equipments for the care of her colored insane but little more than one-sixth as much as for the care of the white insane. If, with this comparatively small appropriation, there is proportionately a larger number of colored insane cared for, it shows on the part of the Board of Directors for the colored a wise and economical business management rather than large appropriations by the State. Our buildings are inexpensive, but neat, substantial and well adapted for the purposes of their construction.

In this connection I will remark that the State of Virginia has a colored population about the same as North Carolina, and is now caring for more than twice as many as can be cared for in the State Hospital at Goldsboro. In view of the number of applications that have come to this office and that have been rejected the past two years for want of room, I am sure that if we had accommodations we could readily add to our population one hundred patients within the next twelve months. Such provision ought to be made, and I indulge the hope that it will be made by the incoming Legislature.

IMPROVEMENTS AND REPAIRS.

At our meeting in April, 1903, it was determined to change the closets on that part of the female wards where it was impossible to properly ventilate them, these being three in number—one on each of the three stories of the building. This change gives us five additional beds and largely repays the money expended in constructing the closets. For years we have been asking the Legislature for an appropriation to erect separate buildings as a means of dissociating our tubercular cases from other patients. So far as our females are concerned, we have solved this problem for the present at a cost of about $350 by connecting the northwestern end of Vance Hall to the small brick building, the second story of which has been heretofore occupied as a sleeping apartment for a number of outside employees. The connection is made by means of an iron bridge, which serves also as a solarium for the class of patients who occupy this small building, which is fitted also with closet and bath-room and properly heated. It will accommodate five or six patients, and is a neat, well-ventilated little home for this class of patients. Our carriage and buggy house for years has been a mere makeshift, and it was deemed wise to reconstruct and enlarge so as to make it capable of accommodating all of our vehicles.

During the past year, by and with the consent of our Executive Committee, a tenement-house was erected and is situated on the public road opposite our Hospital building. You will also observe, doubtless with approving eyes, our reconstructed front steps and walk, a change which has long been needed, and adds much to the appearance of the State's property and also contributes to the comfort of all who visit the Hospital.

Two of our iron smoke-stacks became disabled during the storm of September, and the third one would doubtless in the near future become disabled by long use, and, realizing the necessity of a more permanent stack, by conferring with the Executive Committee it was determined to be a proper and wise thing to erect a brick stack sufficiently commodious for present and future needs. This improvement cost $1,128. All the common labor was furnished by the Hospital.

Our kitchen was built when there were less than an hundred patients in the Hospital, and it was a matter of necessity to enlarge the building, but upon examination the walls were ascertained to be but nine inches thick; so your Executive Committee, with the advice of the architect, deemed it best to remove the building and build de novo, using the brick of the old building in reconstructing. You will observe that we have a building 97 feet long, 30 feet wide and three stories high, with stone steps and slate roof. We have also thoroughly equipped the kitchen with what additional furniture was necessary. The first floor of this building is used as a kitchen and also a bakery and a small intervening room for storing wood. The second story is for an associate dining-room, and a room cut off as a store-room for female patients. The third story has a large room which will serve as an assembly-room, and has also a room cut off to be used as a store-room for males. I hope you will inspect this building very closely, believing you will find it very substantially built and well adapted for its several purposes.

The State made no special appropriation for any of these improvements, but they represent the economy and good business management of your administration, which should find an expression of appreciation from the tax-payers of the State.

This completes the short recital of improvements for the past two years, with the exception of a thousand and one minor repairs in the engineer's department and by our carpenter.

At our last December meeting it was my pleasure to inform you that this Hospital had on hand funds sufficient to erect a cold-storage plant, and also machinery to manufacture ice quite sufficient for the use of this Hospital for years to come. According to law, this fund not being contributed by the State, was entirely subject to your commands, and you had a right to use it for whatever purpose your judgment deemed best for the institution. Having failed, after repeated efforts, to secure an appropriation from the Legislature for a cold-storage and ice plant for this Hospital, and believing that future efforts would meet with a like failure, and believing further that such a plant was a necessity for an institution like this, you will remember that I recommended and advised your honorable body to use this special fund for the purpose above indicated. This money was the accumulation of the savings of several years in the manufacture of brick and in trucking by our Hospital force, and did not represent the gross but net proceeds of brick-yard and farm, and the amount was $3,511.76. I will state that the cold-storage plant and ice factory have been duly installed, and works to our satisfaction. We believe it to be first-class in every respect, and cost $3,500. Thus, you will observe that without a special appropriation, nor by savings of money appropriated by the Legislature for any purpose, you have a $3,500 cold-storage and ice plant installed in the institution over which you are the Directors.

For a more detailed statement of the cost of the several improvements the past two years I respectfully refer you to the report of our Steward.

SUBORDINATE OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES.

In consequence of advancing years and feeble health, our Matron for twenty years or more, Mrs. E. J. A. Smith, retired from the service of this institution, which she had so long and faithfully served.

Legislative enactments pertaining to the government of hospitals for the insane, at the session of 1899, made the retention of the office of Matron contingent upon the wishes of the Board of Directors, and in pursuance of this law, at our last December meeting it was ordered that the office of Matron be abolished for the time at least and the duties thereof be performed by a housekeeper and storekeeper jointly. Mrs. Victoria Bryan, our former seamstress, was made housekeeper, and she performs all the in-door duties of our former Matron, together with daily visits to the wards, male and female. Miss Mollie Kennedy, our former chief laundress, was appointed storekeeper, and she performs all the outside duties heretofore performed by the Matron, including daily visits to the dining-rooms of the patients.

By consent of the Executive Committee, each of these employees receive $17.50 per month. Miss Martha Newell, who has long served as assistant seamstress, was made seamstress, at a salary of $15 per month, without board, and our former female supervisor was made her assistant.

While these changes required one additional employee, there is no additional expense to the Hospital, and the changes result in more efficient and satisfactory service.

During the past two years, and especially during the past year, we have had a great many changes in our Hospital force, and your Superintendent has had some difficulty in securing desirable employees in their stead. The successful management of an hospital for the insane largely depends upon the efficiency of employees who are concerned in their care, and when several such resign in close succession the worry and embarrassment of the Superintendent may be imagined. Such has been the conditions here during the past year. The present demands for labor are so great, and wages having advanced, there comes to this office but few applications for ward service, especially from females. In other years my file was kept full of applications, but now there is not one on file from a female. With a knowledge of wages that obtain in nearly all the hospitals of this country, I will state for your information that the wage schedule in this Hospital is the lowest in most respects of any in this country, and I respectfully ask your careful consideration of this question.

FUTURE NEEDS OF THE HOSPITAL.

As already intimated, we need a building for the accommodation of 140 female patients, which will cost, by a very conservative estimate, $35,000, besides about $3,000 for furniture.

Between thirty and forty females are now accommodated in one of our male buildings, and about twenty are accommodated in a room over our boiler-house. There is on file in this office a large number of applications for admission, but who cannot be admitted for want of room. At least sixty of this number ought to be admitted at once. You will thus see from these statements how imperative and urgent are our needs for more room.

In view of the above facts, and of the further fact that the Legislature four years ago recognized the necessity of giving to this Hospital $30,000 for the erection of a building for the accommodation of female patients, I respectfully submit it is scarcely conceivable that the amount now asked for will be withheld. The plans and drawings for this building have been prepared by our engineer and architect, Mr. W. J. Matthews, and are offered for your examination and, if needs be, correction. We need an eighty-horse-power boiler, which, in position and set for use, will cost about $1,200. I again renew my request for a building with proper equipments for tuberculous male patients, which will cost about $2,500. For many years we have needed a spur from the North Carolina Railroad, opposite this Hospital, to our boiler-house, a distance of half a mile. The ground has been surveyed by a competent civil engineer, and his estimate of cost, exclusive of common labor furnished by the Hospital, will be $3,000. We will need sixty thousand dollars for maintenance and repairs of the Hospital for the year 1905; and if our new building for females is to be erected and prepared for occupancy the present fiscal year, we will need $65,000 for maintenance and repairs for the year 1906.

I respectfully submit for your consideration the statement that these estimates are very conservative, and that our requests are most reasonable.

I again take pleasure in acknowledging the loyalty and intelligent helpfulness of my assistant physicians and all others who have assisted in the care and management of our humble and unfortunate population, and to commend to you the faithfulness and punctuality of our Executive Committee.

Respectfully submitted,

J. F. MILLER,
Superintendent.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT.

Honorable Board of Directors of the State's Prison:

eg to submit to you herewith my report of the financial hysical condition of the State's Prison for the year and also the reports of the Warden and the Prison Phy- for the same period.

our financial statement we have not enumerated any of farm produce that will not be converted into cash. ve omitted from the list three thousand barrels of corn e use of the farm during the year 1905; and we have id more than a sufficiency of forage for the entire year. ve not enumerated as an asset any article that will be ned or used in the operation or conduct of the prison. edit has been included that is not absolutely solvent. At entral Prison we have on hand more than two hundred f coal and fifteen hundred cords of wood—the latter for our brickyard during the coming season; but neither se has been counted as an asset. A year ago we valued tton on hand at thirteen cents per pound; in our present ate we have valued it at 6½ cents. Corn is to-day more than fifty cents per bushel, but we have thought o make that valuation. Our cotton seed have been sold teen dollars per ton, but not delivered. Our brick have old also, but not delivered. It will be observed that we on hand to-day in cash, State bonds, solvent credits, cash and surplus farm produce to the sum of $132,867.75. resent management received from their predecessors in after the payment of all existing claims, the net sum of 38.65, which being deducted from the amount on hand $111,329.10, which represents our net earnings over expenditures during the past four years. Every item debtedness of which we have any knowledge, includi December bills, has been paid, and there are absolut liabilities. We have received no appropriation fro State.

In 1899 the State issued $110,000 of four (4) per debt bonds for "the purpose of paying off the indebtedn the State of North Carolina arising out of the conduc management of the State's Prison," and at the same issued sixty thousand dollars ($60,000) of four (4) per

Under a proviso of the law authorizing the issue, the S

the 6th of December just passed we purchased farm of the face value of $1,500, paying therefor the su $1,567.50; so that we now have on hand $60,000 of Carolina four (4) per cent. bonds, the annual interest which exactly offsets the amount of interest charged b
State against the prison. Had we not purchased these b $62,992.50 of the prison earnings would have remaine in the treasury and the interest charged against the p would have accrued just the same.

These bonds are now on deposit for safe-keeping i Citizens' National Bank, and are certainly a very satisfa investment of prison earnings, which may be needed b institution before their maturity.

The prison and its various branches are in good ph condition. During the past four years there has been no epidemic, no riot, no great disorder of any kind among the inmates. Individual cases of misbehavior and disobedience requiring correction have, of course, occurred; but, generally speaking, the prisoners have behaved exceptionally well and have rendered respectful and willing obedience to those in authority over them. This gratifying result has been achieved, I think, not only by the strict discipline that has at all times been maintained, but largely also by the kind and considerate treatment uniformly bestowed upon all who were deserving.

To the hospital equipment we have added two wards for tuberculous subjects, one for the whites and one for the colored, and these subjects are now kept entirely separate from other patients. Additional plumbing has been done and the sanitary condition improved.

The State farm has yielded another abundant harvest. The prisoners' quarters at both camps were repaired last summer. At Camp No. 1 a stone and cement floor was substituted for the wooden one. The outer buildings upon the farm are now all in good repair. The residence of the Prison Physician at the farm was totally destroyed in the spring fire. The insurance of $500 was promptly paid and a larger and more comfortable house has been erected upon the same site. A new stock barn has been built at Camp No. 2, and additional barn room and shelters at Camp No. 1. The stock upon the farm is in excellent condition. Twenty-four mules and two horses were purchased in the early spring and added to the drove, while thirteen others were culled therefrom and sold at auction upon the Norfolk market.

On January 1, 1901, the population of the prison was 860; at this date, January 1, 1905, it is 658, showing a decrease within four years of 202. The county chain-gang system, undoubtedly, is responsible for this decrease in population. If the present policy of the State is continued, the population of the prison, within a very short time, will consist mainly of two classes, the larger being the feeble or non-producing class, the other long-term, desperate criminals. With a constantly diminishing number of wage-earners, the problem of self-support is yearly becoming more difficult. The public expectation is that the prison shall not be a burden upon the tax-payers of the State, and in an earnest endeavor to meet this expectation we have found it necessary to place upon contract work and upon the State farm all classes of convicts that were able to do manual labor. We have not hesitated to send beyond the prison limits men who were serving life sentences and sentences for a long term of years. In consequence of this several notorious prisoners, taking the most desperate chances, have made their escape and are still at large, notwithstanding the vigilance of prison officials and of municipal and county officers. I do not believe this policy ought to be continued, and yet I am sensible of the fact that it must be, unless prohibited by statute and the institution maintained by State appropriation. Criminals are imprisoned for the protection of society and the prevention of crime; self-support or financial profit from the prison should be a matter of secondary importance.

During the years 1903 and 1904 ninety-nine prisoners under twenty years of age have been received at the prison, notwithstanding the leniency of Superior Court Judges and not taking into account the many—certainly a large number—that must have been committed to the chain-gangs of the various counties.

There are some reformatory features in prison life. Many of those who are sentenced here are the thriftless and idle whom want has led into crime. During the term of their imprisonment they are required to perform regular and effective work of some kind and are taught to do skillfully whatever work is required of them. They must also retire at night at a particular hour and arise in the morning with equal regularity, and take their meals punctually at the appointed time. These requirements must stimulate habits of industry and regularity of life and be very beneficial to that class of people who, as a rule, find their way into prison life.

I am, nevertheless, convinced that the State's Prison cannot in any sense be called a reformatory and am doubtful if a term of imprisonment here can have any permanent reformatory effect upon the ordinary inmate. The association is vicious. I am persuaded that a reformatory for youthful criminals is greatly needed in North Carolina, and that many youths who are now straying further and further from the paths of honor, if placed under proper restraint and discipline and entirely separated from the more hardened criminals, could be developed into useful citizens.

In conclusion, I desire to express my appreciation and sincere thanks for the intelligent and efficient services of my assistants at the prison, upon the farm and at the various camps. I am deeply sensible, too, of my obligation to you, gentlemen of the Board, not only for your confidence, but also for your valuable aid and assistance in solving the many difficult problems with which we have had to deal.

Respectfully submitted,

J. S. MANN,

Superintendent.

RALEIGH, N. C., January 1, 1905.

To the Honorable Board of Directors of the Dangerous Insane Department:

I hand you herewith the report of Dr. James R. Rogers, the Physician in Charge of the dangerous insane, and beg to call your attention thereto. The capacity of the institution is fifty, but there are now fifty-four inmates. In consequence of this overcrowded condition, we are compelled each night to lock four patients in prison cells, thus violating the spirit, if not the letter, of the law. Some months ago I wrote to each Judge of the Superior Courts in the State, notifying them of the condition of the institution and requesting that further patients should not be committed. Since then but one has been sent us.

The department has been maintained during the past two years within the appropriation of five thousand dollars per annum made by the last Legislature. The special appropriation of one thousand dollars for heating and plumbing was insufficient and was augmented from the maintenance fund, thirteen hundred and fifty-six dollars and thirty-six cents being used for this purpose. A new heating plant has been installed entirely separate and distinct from that of the prison. The plumbing has been entirely overhauled and new baths and closets substituted for the old wherever needed. I believe the department is in first-class sanitary condition. The inmates have been carefully attended and provided with all the necessaries of life and made as comfortable as possible. I desire especially to commend to you the regular and efficient services of Dr. Rogers. His daily visits and careful attention to the inmates betoken his evident interest.

I believe the department can be maintained for the next two years to its full capacity with an annual appropriation of five thousand dollars. If more than fifty patients shall be committed to us, not only the appropriation for maintenance should be increased, but additional room for their safe-keeping should be also provided.

My opinion now is the same as expressed to you in my report of two years ago, that the department ought not to remain a part of the State's Prison.

Respectfully submitted,

J. S. MANN,
Superintendent.

REPORT OF THE WARDEN.

HON. J. S. MANN, Superintendent.

SIR:—As Warden of the State's Prison I beg to submit the following report for the two years ending December 31, 1904:

The discipline of the prison is good, better, in fact, than I have ever known it. Punishments are less frequent, and no very severe measures have been necessary for quite awhile, the certainty of punishment deterring the more unruly.

The greatest care is taken to see that the buildings and grounds are kept in good condition, and that there is no accumulation of refuse matter about the enclosure.

The hospital has recently been fitted with new, modern closets, which must be very much more sanitary than the old.

The old, worn-out washing machinery of the laundry has been replaced by the more modern and improved machines which were used in the shirt factory, which are doing excellent work.

The work of the machine shop has been confined entirely to repairs.

Regular religious services are held every Sabbath in the prisoners' dining-hall, the Christian Endeavor in the morning, by Dr. Curtis and Miss Bilyeu; Sabbath-school at 2 P. M., by S. W. Whiting, John T. Pullen, T. W. Blake, S. D. Waitt, Rev. Cæsar Johnson and Mrs. S. C. Blair; and preaching at 3 P. M. by a minister of one of the four principal denominations of the city. The prisoners seem to take great interest in all these exercises, and eternity alone can compute the good results.

We have burned twenty-two kilns of brick—approximately 4,860,000—of which about ten per cent. are salmon. We have found ready sale for them, in fact, could have sold many more.

We have killed 4,500 pounds of pork, and now have on hand about forty hogs, some of which will do to kill in February.

Our garden has yielded an abundant supply of vegetables, in their season, for the whole prison population.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Warden.

DEPARTMENT DANGEROUS INSANE.

RALEIGH, N. C., December 31, 1904.

To the Honorable Board of Directors:

The Superintendent submits the following report for the two years ending December 31, 1904:

In my first biennial report two years ago I gave an account of the establishment of the present institution for the treatment and custody of the dangerous insane. A description of the plans according to which the west wing of the State's Prison building, where the dangerous and criminal insane had been confined since this was selected, altered and arranged to meet the requirements of the new law providing for the separation of the dangerous insane from the convicts of the State's Prison, was also given. A set of rules and regulations governing the conduct of the employees and officials of the hospital, which had been approved by the Directors, was published. The policy as determined upon and outlined for the management of the institution, as followed during the first two years and as set forth in that report, has been continued as nearly as possible during the two years just passed.

At the meeting of the last Legislature the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000) was appropriated for permanent improvements. This sum was not sufficient to meet the expense of installing the system of heating and plumbing which was recommended and which was found to be absolutely necessary for the comfort and hygienic safety of the patients. After consulting with your honorable Board and the Superintendent of the State's Prison, however, it was decided that we would be justified in economizing in one general maintenance expense and in appropriating the money thus saved to the payment of the balance due on the heating and plumbing systems. We have now a new and complete system of heating. The boilers were placed in the basement of the hospital, and are not in any way connected with the prison heating plant. The heating is now sufficient, uniform and reliable.

New sanitary closets, urinals and bath-tubs have also been put in to replace the old-style plumbing, which prevents the return of the foul gases from sewers and discharge pipes.

The total cost of all this work was $2,356.36. It is thus seen that $1,356.36 of the above has been taken from the general maintenance fund of $5,000 annually. This has necessitated a most rigid economy. We have, however, been able to clothe the patients warmly and cleanly and give them plenty of good, wholesome food in a close sort of way, in order to provide for and have the improvements in question, necessary to health and comfort.

COST OF MAINTENANCE.

The average monthly cost per capita of maintenance for each patient not including permanent improvements, has been about $8.50. By referring to the financial statement appended the proportion of the maintenance applied to actual food and clothing and heat expended for other purposes is seen.

While the maintenance seems an exceedingly low figure, I wish to emphasize the fact that nothing necessary to actual health or comfort is denied the patients at any time.

*George McNeill escaped from the hospital October 22, 1902, while we were trying to secure his release; was recaptured March 8, 1904, and sentenced to fifteen years in State's Prison, where he is at present.

The utmost capacity of the building as it is now arranged is 49 patients, as shown in the tables. There are at the present time fifty (50) patients being cared for. Five patients are being confined at nights at present in cells of the prison. This is unavoidable. The Superintendent has several times written to the Judges sentencing these patients, informing them of the fact that there was no more room. In spite of this they have continued to commit patients to the hospital, and we have been compelled to take them and make use of the State's Prison cells to confine the overflow. If there is to be no limit to the number to be committed, then we should have more room, for the arrangement of confining even a limited number in the State's Prison cells is heartily disapproved. It is an injustice to the patients thus confined, adds to the danger of escapes, requires extra attendants, or works a hardship on the usually quite sufficient number. Besides, I dislike to have the hospital patients pass to and from the State's Prison. In case of an epidemic we would be open to criticism for allowing what is, though necessary now, unquestionably illegal, and, more important, unhygienic. I most respectfully request that this matter be inquired into and corrected, either by making provisions for the care of a larger number of patients in the hospital or by setting a definite number as the utmost capacity of the building at the present time. In this way we may be no longer forced to admit patients beyond such stated capacity. The figures show that there is an increase of about seven patients annually in the hospital population. This necessitates the provision almost immediately of more room.

It would, therefore, seem unwise to expend funds on the present building for permanent improvements beyond actual necessity to carry out plans as previously set forth by the Advisory Board. A cost of $1,500 will be required to replace the old, worn wooden stair-ways by fire-proof iron ones and to place permanent partitions between certain of the wards now separated only by temporary board walls. As intimated in my last report, the Superintendent, whose duties as an active physician prevent his devoting much more than sufficient time to the hospital at his daily visits to attend to the medical needs of the patients and inspect generally the conduct of affairs, cannot afford for the slight remuneration received to give a systematic study to each individual case admitted. At an early day, however, I hope to have a completed history of each patient's case, with such information as can be gotten as to the influence of heredity, alcoholism, syphilis and other etiological factors in each case, with a diagnosis and, as far as possible, an abstract.

COST OF MAINTENANCE.

FOR THE YEARS 1903 AND 1904, ENDING NOVEMBER 30, 1904.

| Balance on hand December 1, 1902 | $ 527.70 |
| Special appropriation for heating plant | 1,000.00 |
| Appropriation for maintenance for two years | 10,000.00 |
| Total | $11,527.70 |
| Disbursements for the two years | $11,511.81 |
| Balance on hand December 1, 1904 | 15.89 |
| Expended for improvements (heating, plumbing, etc) | $ 2,356.36 |
| Expended for pay-rolls | 3,013.09 |
| Expended for fuel, lights and water | 743.20 |
| Expended for food and clothing | 5,399.16 |
| Total expenditures, as above | $11,511.81 |
| Number of patients in hospital November 30 1904 | 54 |
| Average number of patients about | 45 |
| Average yearly cost per capita, not including improvements | $ 102.00 |
| Average monthly cost per capita, not including improvements | 8.50 |

With about twenty per cent. increase in the number of patients in the hospital over 1903 and 1904, we would ask for $6,000 per annum for maintenance. To tear out the old wooden stair-ways and replace them with iron ones, and complete the wall between the white and colored female patients, we ask for $1,500.

We have been free from accidents and contagious diseases of all kinds.

The Advisory Committee and State Board of Health have made their usual annual visits, and report everything in good sanitary condition throughout.

Very respectfully,

JAMES R. ROGERS,
Superintendent.

REPORT OF PHYSICIAN.

To the Superintendent and Honorable Board of Directors of the North Carolina State's Prison.

GENTLEMEN:—In this my biennial report of the Medical Department of the State's Prison the tables below will show, in a brief way, the amount and quality of work done. We have had many more chronic cases to treat, owing to the fact that the incurable and helpless ones have been returned from the camps and farms to the Central Prison for attention. We have been entirely free from epidemics of all kinds, the number of acute cases have been less, and the character of the cases much more mild in type than formerly. (See print No. 1; Table No. 2).

Very respectfully

JAMES R. ROGERS, M. D.,

We have had the State Bacteriologist to make several examinations of the drinking water used in the prison, and in every instance it has been free from impurities of every kind. The yards and cells have been exceptionally clean, and the sanitary condition most excellent in every particular.

The number admitted, 381; examined, 381; sound, 353; unsound, 28; sent to farms, etc., without examination, 47.

The following are the principal diseases treated during the two years ending December 31, 1904, including deaths and births; also reports of physicians in charge of camps and farms:

BIENNIAL REPORT

OF THE

STATE LIBRARIAN

FOR THE

TWO FISCAL YEARS ENDING NOVEMBER 30, 1904.

RALEIGH:
E. M. UZZELL & CO., STATE PRINTERS AND BINDERS.
1904.

RALEIGH, N. C., December 1, 1904.

To His Excellency, CHARLES B. AYCOCK,
Governor and ex officio Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the North Carolina State Library.

DEAR SIR:—As State Librarian, I have the honor to present to you, as Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the State Library, my Biennial Report of the transactions of this office for the two years ending November 30, 1904.

Respectfully submitted,

MILES O. SHERRILL,

BIENNIAL REPORT

OF THE

FOR THE

TWO FISCAL YEARS ENDING NOV. 30, 1904.

To the HON. CHARLES B. AYCOCK, Governor; HON. J. BRYAN GRIMES, Secretary of State, and the HON. J. Y. JOYNER, Superintendent of Public Instruction, as Trustees of the State Library.

GENTLEMEN:—I have the honor to submit to you my report for the years 1903 and 1904, showing the additions made to the library during that period by purchase, exchange and donations; also books disposed of as provided for by law.

The change in classifying and cataloguing the books to the Dewey system seems to be appreciated by the public.

By an act of the General Assembly of 1901 the State Librarian, Superintendent of Public Instruction, with three other persons to be selected by the Trustees, shall constitute a committee to purchase books for the State Library, to serve without compensation. The Trustees appointed Chief Justice Clark, Prof. D. H. Hill of the A. & M. College and Prof. E. P. Moses, Superintendent of the Graded Schools of Raleigh, N. C.

A subcommittee, consisting of Profs. Hill and Moses, was appointed to assist the Librarian in securing all books, booklets and pamphlets written by North Carolinians. We have succeeded beyond our expectation. We ask the co-operation of all friends of our State to aid us in recovering books, booklets, pamphlets, speeches and addresses made by North Carolinians in the past.

By act of the General Assembly of 1901, I arranged the east wing of the library as a Reading-room for the Colored People, so that the races can have separate apartments. This was effected without any expense to the State, and works admirably.

I will repeat here extracts from my last report:

"The library has been re-classified according to the Dewey Decimal Classification, and has been catalogued by the card system, which is used now in all libraries of any size. The cards are placed in a cabinet of drawers in alphabetical order. The cabinet faces the door of the main library-room, where all can see it. Every book in the main library is now represented in the catalogue by one or more cards giving the author, title, subject, place and date of publication, number and size of volumes, and also the exact locality of the work upon the shelves.

"The books are divided under the following general heads, viz.: Reference-books, Fiction, Collective Biography, Biography, Philosophy, Religion, Sociology, Philology, Natural Science, Useful Arts, Fine Arts, Literature, Description, Travel and History."

COLONIAL AND STATE RECORDS.

To the present time there has been issued 21 volumes of the Colonial and State Records, and the editor (Chief Justice Clark) informs me that there will be about six more volumes and a general index, which will complete the set. The general public does not seem to realize the great value of these books. North Carolinians do not seem to appreciate the Regimental Histories of the War of 1861-'65 as we desire they should, for in these histories is recounted the grandest achievements of the greatest citizen-soldiery the world has ever witnessed; and yet, at the time of writing this report, I am selling more of these books to people in Northern and Western States than to people in North Carolina. We wish a set could be placed in every North Carolina home.

ACCOUNT OF SALES.

Since my last report I have paid to the Treasurer of North Carolina from sale of books as follows, to-wit:

|---|---|
| Moore's Roster | $ 3.25 |
| Colonial and State Records | 422.10 |
| North Carolina Regimental Histories | 911.60 |

PORTRAITS, PICTURES AND MAPS.

Since my last biennial report the following have been added to the already large and valuable collection on hand:

A life-size portrait of the late Dr. George L. Kirby, who was Superintendent of the State Hospital (for insane) at the time of his death.

A large portrait of Theo. H. Hill, author and poet, and at one time State Librarian. The painting was done by his daughter, Miss Tempie Hill.

A life-size portrait of the late Col. W. H. Cheek, a brave Confederate soldier, who was commanding the First North Carolina Cavalry (Ninth Regiment) when wounded in 1864, donated by the family.

Life-size portrait of the lamented General L. O'B. Branch, who resigned his seat in the United States Congress in 1861 and enlisted in the Confederate States Army; was appointed a Brigadier-General; sacrificed his life while leading his brigade in battle in Maryland, September, 1862.

A life-size portrait of General W. A. Blount, who served in the War of 1812, and rose to the rank of captain; represented his county in the Legislature of North Carolina.

The two above portraits were donated to the library by the Hon. W. A. Branch, Mrs. Armistead Jones and Mrs. Robert H. Jones, children of General Branch, and descendants of General Blount. General Branch and General Blount were typical Southern gentlemen.

Also a portrait of the house in which President Andrew Johnson was born and reared. North Carolina furnished three Presidents of the United States via Tennessee.

Several beautiful photographs of monuments and scenes of "Old Guilford Battle Ground," presented by Major Joseph M. Morehead of Greensboro.

I secured from the "Youth's Companion Co.," Boston, a splendid portrait of Andrew Jackson, the seventh President of the United States, and of James K. Polk, the eleventh President of the United States, together with the cabins or log huts in which they were born. The little log huts in which these two great men were born illustrate what an American citizen may become in spite of the environments of his birth-place.

Mr. Bruce Craven of Charlotte, N. C., presented the library with a small photograph of the locality and birth-place of Andrew Jackson, giving the site and foundation stones of the McCamie Log Cabin where he was born, March 15, 1767, six miles from Waxhaw, and six hundred and forty yards from the South Carolina line, on the land of J. L. Rodman. In a few weeks the mother and child moved down to Waxhaw, S. C., hence the claim that he was born in that State.

A photograph of the historic Green Hill House near Louisburg, N. C., where the first Methodist Conference was held after the organization in America in 1784. The Conference was held at Rev. Green Hill's on the 20th of April, 1785. Bishop Asbury presided; there were present twenty-three members of the Conference, and Mr. Green entertained them all and cared for their horses, for there were no railroads in that day. Although one hundred and nineteen years have passed since that Conference was held, yet the house is still in an excellent state of preservation, and is owned by Prof. M. S. Davis of Louisburg, who married a descendant of Green Hill. The portrait was presented to the library by the Rev. M. T. Plyer of the North Carolina Conference.

The "Men of Mark" Company of North Carolina have presented to the State Library an excellent portrait of Governor Charles B. Aycock, and it has been placed in the library, where so many distinguished North Carolinians are represented by their portraits.

Hon. Theo. F. Kluttz (M. C.) of Salisbury has presented to the library a photographic group of all the members of the Fifty-eighth Congress of the United States of 1903-'05, showing the location of their desks and that of the Speaker on the floor of the House of Representatives.

MAPS.

Have secured several maps, among them a Historical Compendium and County Gazeteer of North Carolina; Tunison's Railroad, Distance and Township Map of North and South Carolina; a map of Manitoba; an excellent large map of Rowan County and of Salisbury, the work of Mr. C. M. Miller, C. E., of Salisbury. Mr Miller kindly presented this map to the library. It would be well for other counties to have maps made and sent to the library, for often strangers call and enquire for maps of certain counties.

When the classification was made in October, 1899, an inventory of the books then on hand was made by Mr. Wyche, who superintended the work, and he reported the number of volumes on hand in the library to be 22,617. To-day, November 30, 1904, we have on hand 36,816 volumes, an increase in five years of 14,199 volumes. The above does not include "Grandfather's Tales," by Creecy, or the Colonial and State Records. Neither does it include the Rosters by Moore or the books in the House and Senate Libraries. We now have 1,848 copies of bound newspapers in the library, and in these we have what will some day be the most valuable current history of our State. The accessions to the library from all sources are rapidly increasing, which increases the labor and responsibility of the Librarian.

I desire to call especial attention to the condition of the building in which the State and Supreme Court Libraries are located. The building was constructed on a cheap plan, and is liable to be destroyed by fire at any time. For want of room the basement has to be utilized for the storage of books and papers for the State, which of course augments the danger of fire. The two libraries are worth many thousands of dollars, and should by all means be in a fire-proof building. The State, of course, pays insurance on all books and bound newspapers, which is proper, but if the books and bound newspapers were destroyed, many of them could not be replaced under any circumstances for love or money. To provide a fire-proof building in order to save what the State now has is one of the most important things that the Legislature can consider. To defer it might bring disaster and great loss.

MAGAZINES.

The following magazines are received at the library, to-wit:

Arena, Atlantic Monthly, Bookman, Cosmopolitan, Forum, Harper's Monthly, McClure's, Munsey, Ladies' Home Journal, Popular Science Monthly, Public Opinion, Literary Digest, North American Review, Review of Reviews, Scribner, Country Life, World's Work, South Atlantic Quarterly (Durham, N. C.), North Carolina Historical and Genealogical Register (Edenton, N. C.), Trinity Archive, University Magazine, Wake Forest Student, Outlook, State Normal Magazine, American Historical Review, Johns Hopkins University Studies, Southern Furniture Journal (High Point), Southern Farm Magazine, The Engineer (Cleveland, Ohio), Southern History Association, Confederate Veteran, Lost Cause, Youth's Companion, Collier's Weekly, Scientific American and The Nation.

Some of the above are donated. Nearly all are bound in book form and placed in the library for future use.

NEWSPAPERS DONATED—DAILIES.

WEEKLIES AND SEMI-WEEKLIES DONATED.

American Agriculturist (N. Y.), Southern and Western Textile Excelsior (Charlotte, N. C.), Southern Milling and Lumber Co. (Wilmington, N. C.), Morganton Herald, Newton Enterprise, Hickory Mercury, Lenoir Topic, Fayetteville Observer, North Carolinian, Elizabeth City Economist, Tar Heel, Statesville Landmark, Biblical Recorder, North Carolina Baptist, Gold Leaf, Argus, Headlight, Reidsville Review, People's Paper, New Bern Journal, Public Ledger, Orphan's Friend, Cleveland Star, Asheville Register, Tarborough Southerner, Polk County News, Washington Progress, Eastern Reflector, Christian Sun, Christian Advocate (Nashville, Tenn.), N. C. Christian Advocate, Raleigh Christian Advocate, Presbyterian Standard, Wilson Times, Commonwealth, Watauga Democrat, Smithfield Herald, Davidson Dispatch, Eastern Courier, Free Press, Franklin Times, Concord Times, Wilmington Weekly Star, Webster's Weekly, Union Republican, Farmer and Mechanic, North Carolinian (Raleigh, N. C.), Progressive Farmer, Caucassian, Cape Fear Enterprise, Windsor Ledger, Graphic, Messenger and Intelligencer, Democratic Banner, High Point Enterprise, Roanoke-Chowan Times, The Commoner, Charity and Children, Madison County Record, The Harbinger, The Business Guide (Winston, N. C.), Anglo-Saxon, The Madison County Observer, The Thomasville News, Yellow Jacket, The Hornet, Elm City Elevator, Carthage Blade, Williamston Enterprise, the Warrenton Record, Greensboro Patriot, Robesonian and Lumberton Argus.

The papers published in the State are bound in book form and placed in the library. I repeat here what I stated in a former report: "In behalf of the State I extend thanks to the editors and proprietors of the newspapers thus furnished to the reading public gratis. The newspapers are a power in educating the masses, and the people of our State should appreciate it."

Some papers have discontinued since our last report, others have been added to the list. During the past two years the library has been well patronized by schools, colleges and individuals, more especially books of reference and periodicals. We have a great many letters of inquiry from other States.

MORE ROOM NEEDED.

I beg to repeat with emphasis what I stated in my former report as to the necessity for more room. Books are on the floor of the east wing, and also on the fourth floor of the same, also hundreds of books in the basement of the Agricultural Building for want of a suitable place to store them. It is not necessary or practicable to add to the library building, but it is necessary that an office be provided for the Bureau of Labor Statistics and Printing, which now occupies part of the east wing of the library building. During the administration of Governor Carr, for want of a proper place for an office for the Commissioner of Labor, a part of the east wing of the State Library was taken for the purpose as above stated. This was a mistake, now patent to all, because it deprives the State Library of the room it so badly needs, and at the same time the office of the Labor Commissioner is entirely too small for that department. He has books in the basement and on the fourth floor of the library, and all books in either of the basements are being more or less damaged all the while. The rapid increase in every department in our State makes it absolutely necessary for additional buildings wherein to store the books and other public records belonging to the State.

I take this occasion to thank the Board of Trustees for their encouragement, assistance, and uniform kindness to me during the past two years.

In the management of the library I have been diligent in looking after the interests of the State, as well as that of individuals.

Respectfully submitted,

MILES O. SHERRILL,
State Librarian.

LETTER OF TRANSMISSION.

North Carolina Board of Health,
Office of the Secretary,
Raleigh, January 2, 1903.

His Excellency, Charles B. Aycock,
Governor of North Carolina.

Sir:—In accordance with section 3, chapter 214, Laws of 1893, I have the honor to present for transmission to the General Assembly this, the Tenth Biennial Report of the North Carolina Board of Health.

With great respect,

Richard H. Lewis, M. D.,

TENTH BIENNIAL REPORT

OF THE

NORTH CAROLINA BOARD OF HEALTH

Two years ago, in the opinion of the health authorities of many of the States, our country was threatened with an epidemic of bubonic plague. In spite of the positive assertion on the part of several of the leading bacteriologists of the United States of its presence in San Francisco, the fact was persistently denied by the Governor of California and the Board of Health of that State. In consequence, believing that the proper precautions were not being taken to prevent its spread to other sections, a sufficient number of States, including our own, requested a conference with the Surgeon General of the United States Public Health and Marine Hospital Service under the law governing that bureau. This was granted, and the meeting was held on January 19, 1903, the Secretary of our Board representing North Carolina. As the result of some very plain talk and the adoption of strong resolutions on the subject, the unfavorable conditions in San Francisco were remedied and the menace averted.

During the past biennial period our State has been spared any unusual outbreak of disease, with the exception of the occurrence of typhoid fever in the Baptist Orphanage at Thomasville, in which there were sixty-seven cases, with two deaths, and of smallpox in many localities.

While our work of educating the people in the principles of Hygiene in general, and more particularly as to the best methods of avoiding the infectious and therefore preventable diseases, has not been relaxed, special efforts have been made in regard to Uncinariasis, or hook-worm disease, and tuberculosis.

The work in the biological laboratory has grown in amount and consequently in value to the people of the State. The demands upon it at present are more than can be met with the facilities available.

In the body of the report the subjects alluded to above will be found considered at length.

MEETINGS OF THE BOARD.

MINUTES OF THE ANNUAL MEETING AT HOT SPRINGS.

Hot Springs, N. C., June 2, 1903.

Annual meeting of the Board: Present: Drs. Thomas, Battle, Ivey, Duffy, Nicholson and R. H. Lewis.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Dr. J. N. McCormack, the genial Secretary of the Kentucky Board of Health, was invited to participate in the meeting.

The Secretary made a report of work done. The Treasurer made his report. Drs. Duffy and Nicholson were appointed a committee to audit the same. They reported it to be correct.

There was a special discussion of vaccination and the best virus.

On motion the Board adjourned to meet next day at 12 M. in conjoint session with the State Medical Society.

Richard H. Lewis,
Secretary.

CONJOINT SESSION

OF THE

STATE MEDICAL SOCIETY WITH STATE BOARD OF HEALTH,

HOT SPRINGS, N. C., JUNE 3, 1903.

Dr. George G. Thomas, President, in the chair.

CHAIRMAN: I do not desire to make any remarks in opening this meeting, except to renew again the thanks which were offered to Dr. Stiles for his great help to us by presenting the different phases under which that serious disease, hook-worm, can be known and cared for. I think his visit is an epoch in the history of North Carolina and of the South, and I think he deserves from this meeting, especially from the Board of Health, assuredly, very decided gratitude, and he may be assured of our continued esteem.

DR. KNOX: I desire, as President of the Medical Society of North Carolina, to most heartily second the motion, and regret not making the same remarks last evening, but owing to the Doctor's leaving so soon, rather confused matters.

CHAIRMAN: The report of the Secretary is now in order.

NORTH CAROLINA BOARD OF HEALTH, REPORT OF SECRETARY, JUNE 1, 1902, TO JUNE 1, 1903.

A full statement in detail of the work of the Board from the time of our last meeting, consisting chiefly, in addition to the routine work of the Secretary's office, of inspections of the State institutions and of the public water supplies, will be found in the Biennial Report for 1901 to 1902. This report, notwithstanding the fact that the copy for the same was furnished the State Printer at the usual time, is still in his hands, and I am therefore unable, much to my disappointment, to distribute it at this meeting to those interested. It will, however, be mailed to any one asking for it as soon as it comes from the press.

Since the beginning of the new biennial period, on January 1, 1903, our most important work has been in the line of legislation.

Believing that incompetent physicians constitute one of the greatest menaces to the public health, I felt it to be my duty to try to obtain from the General Assembly, if possible, such an amendment to our medical license laws as would cure the defect existing therein as declared by our Supreme Court in its recent decision in State v. McKnight. We gained much, but not all we asked.

The purity of our drinking waters being one of the prime essentials of health, legislation for the better protection of our municipal water supplies was sought and obtained. Inasmuch as a full statement in regard to these two matters, together with copies of the acts, has already been printed in the monthly Bulletin, it is unnecessary to repeat them in this report.

I also prepared a bill appropriating twelve hundred dollars to aid in our bacteriological work, and succeeded in getting a favorable report from the Committee on Appropriations of the House. But that was the last of it. It apparently fell immediately to sleep and never waked. Besides the above, I likewise assisted, at their request, the representatives of the State Nurses' Association in preparing a bill for the registration of trained nurses, and in securing its passage. The importance of thorough training on the part of the nurses is second only to that rightly demanded of the physicians, and this legislation is clearly in the interest of the public health. While not interfering with the right of any one to nurse the sick, the act, after January 1, 1904, permits the registration and the use of the title R. N. (registered nurse) only to those obtaining a license from the State Board of Examiners, consisting of two physicians to be elected by the State Medical Society and three trained nurses to be elected by the State Nurses' Association. Hereafter the appearance of the letters R. N. after a nurse's name will be a guarantee of her thorough training, and if our physicians will discriminate in their recommendations in favor of that class they will create a very strong incentive on the part of all trained nurses to enroll themselves in the future among those who will surely be recognized as the best in their calling.

BIOLOGICAL LABORATORY.

Learning that the State Board of Agriculture might be compelled to withdraw their most valuable aid to the cause of health in having made for us biological analyses of suspected drinking waters, sputum, etc., on account of certain extra demands upon their income made by the last Legislature, I secured the concurrence of the State Water-works Association in certain provisions in the Act to Protect Water Supplies, requiring all water companies to have made in our laboratory a monthly analysis of their waters, and pay five dollars for each analysis. If the water companies will comply with the law in this respect the expense of the laboratory can be shared by us and the people at the same time be more fully protected. Upon the invitation of the Board of Agriculture, I appeared before them on May 30th and explained the situation and our ability under the Act to Protect Water Supplies to assist in paying part of the expense incident to the hygienic work which they have been so generously doing for us free of charge since December, 1899. I proposed, speaking for the Board of Health, to pay one-half of the salary of the biologist and to furnish all new apparatus and reagents that might be required for our special work, the Board of Agriculture to furnish the laboratory with its permanent equipment, attendance, water and gas. At their request, I put the proposition in writing and it was formally accepted by a unanimous vote on their part.

SMALLPOX.

Smallpox, I regret to say, has been much more prevalent during the past year than ever before, and more fatal, confirming our predictions to that effect, in view of the indifference of our local authorities on the subject of vaccination. And unless there is a change in this respect I see no reason to anticipate anything else than a continuing recurrence of smallpox until all the people have either been vaccinated or have had the disease.

During the past year—May 1, 1902, to May 1, 1903—smallpox has occurred in fifty-eight counties, the number of cases being: White, 1,681; colored, 2,595; total, 4,456; with deaths, white, 58; colored, 105; total, 163, the death rate per cent being respectively, 3.12, 4.04, 3.66. For the first time in our experience the death rate from this disease has been nigher among the negroes than among the whites, the figures heretofore having been very much in favor of the former. A comparison by years—the first period, however, extending from the occurrence of the first case on January 12, 1898, to May 1, 1899, a little over fifteen months—is given in the following tabular statement:

| Year. | Number of Counties. | Number of Cases. | | | Number of Deaths. | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | | White. | Colored. | Total. | White. | Colored. | Total. |
| 1898-1899 | 38 | 162 | 554 | 716 | 8 | 9 | 17 |
| Death rate, per cent | | | | | 4.93 | 1.97 | 2.76 |
| 1899-1900 | 55 | 731 | 2,075 | 2,806 | 35 | 30 | 65 |
| Death rate, per cent | | | | | 4.78 | 1.44 | 2.31 |
| 1900-1901 | 54 | 530 | 1,415 | 1,945 | 15 | 23 | 38 |
| Death rate, per cent | | | | | 2.83 | 1.63 | 1.95 |
| *1901-1902 | 55 | 616 | 1,196 | 1,812 | 21 | 27 | 48 |
| Death rate, per cent | | | | | 3.41 | 2.28 | 2.59 |
| 1902-1903 | 58 | 1,861 | 2,595 | 4,456 | 58 | 105 | 163 |
| Death rate, per cent | | | | | 3.12 | 4.04 | 3.66 |
| Total number of cases Jan. 12, 1898, May 1, 1903 | | 3,900 | 7,835 | 11,735 | | | |
| Total number of deaths | | | | | 137 | 194 | 331 |
| Death rate, per cent | | | | | 3.51 | 2.47 | 2.82 |

(* In this year there were in Wilson County, according to conservative estimates, from twelve to fifteen hundred cases of smallpox, as diagnosed by experts sent to the county, which the Superintendent of Health insisted were not variola, and in consequence did not report.)

From the above statement, it appears that there have been reported to the Secretary since the first case 11,735 cases of smallpox with 331 deaths. How many more cases, under the names chicken-pox, Cuban itch, etc., have escaped record, it is, of course, impossible to say. We have good reason to believe that there were certainly over a thousand such cases in one county—Wilson. The only other similar instances were neighborhood outbreaks that were not discovered until numbers had recovered.

When we consider the loss to the State in the 331 deaths, the expense of caring for nearly 12,000 such cases and the indirect loss in trade, the statement is quite impressive. It is likewise lamentable when we realize that it could have been prevented by the vaccination of all the people.

The following is a tabulated statement by counties of smallpox during the past year:

SMALLPOX IN NORTH CAROLINA, MAY 1, 1902, TO MAY 1, 1903.

CHAIRMAN: You have heard the report. Are there any remarks to be made thereon? If not, what is your pleasure? I would be glad to hear from any of the members in regard to any difficulties they may meet in the performance of their duties, especially in the management of smallpox.

DR. J. M. MANNING: Six years ago when smallpox made its appearance in the State, I, unfortunately, happened to be the Superintendent of Health of Durham, and the first cases occurred in Durham County. I remember the circumstance of a man who came there from Greenville—ran the blockade from Greenville and came to Durham, his old home. Of course, when the news got out in the city that there was a case of smallpox, there was quite a scare among the citizens. We were totally unprepared to take care of a case of contagious disease. We had no pest-house. The Mayor and myself rode all over the neighborhood and the county to locate a tent, and we were met with shot-guns wherever we proposed putting a tent, but finally the county owned a small strip of land, half a mile from the County Home, and we succeeded in establishing a pest-house in the shape of a tent. With the active co-operation of the city and county authorities, and the management of the different manufactories in Durham, we succeeded in vaccinating a large proportion of the citizens of the town, and that epidemic—I can hardly call it an epidemic—was stopped. We set fire, by kerosene oil, to one of these houses near the Market House, in the central part of town, and we had the water supply to prevent fire extending to other buildings. In that epidemic we only had ten cases. We succeeded in getting the epidemic stopped. Since then they have adopted a different mode of managing cases of smallpox—and a method that I can't very heartily approve. The county and city authorities share conjointly the expense of the smallpox epidemics, and they become alarmed about the amount of it, so the plan—the method now used in Durham—is to send a case of smallpox to the pest-house and vaccinate the other inhabitants of the house and disinfect them as much as possible, and turn them on the community. Whether that is very effective, I am not prepared to say. Those cases are kept on the quiet and you really do not know what is going on.

Dr. Battle asks Dr. Carl Reynolds to give his experience, who, he says, is rather bashful.

DR. CARL REYNOLDS: Mr. President and gentlemen, I am a little bashful, but, as it has happened, I have had quite a little experience with smallpox in Asheville, N. C., for the past five or six years. I have had three cases of confinement, coming to maturity, and three miscarriages, and have never lost mother or child. In about four or five hundred cases altogether in the last five years I have only had one death, and I doubt seriously if I would have had any at all if the parents had been truthful. The cases were reported—a family of nine. I went immediately to the house of suspects and vaccinated them all. They claimed that every member of the family had been vaccinated. I examined them, they had scars. I revaccinated them. They smuggled under the bed clothes a child about four months of age. Three or four days thereafter this mother broke out with smallpox, and the entire family was sent to the pest-house, and on the next day, on my visit, I found this nursing babe who had never been vaccinated. I vaccinated the child in three places, neither of which was successful; the child developed smallpox and died in ten days. I thoroughly believe that if that child had been vaccinated with the rest of the family it would have been living to-day. My experience with smallpox for the last five years is that I have never seen a case in the pest-house that had been successfully vaccinated, not even a case of varioloid, that had been successfully vaccinated in the last five years. One case I vaccinated five times. Turned him out twice. It was, in my opinion, a fight between the vaccine and the smallpox. He developed twelve bumps, and was well in about twelve days. Vaccination is the thing, gentlemen, and unless we have the hearty co-operation of all our brother physicians, both in the cities and the counties, we will have with us forever smallpox. We have had quite a struggle in Buncombe with the outside physicians on account of smallpox being mild in form. They say it isn't smallpox, but chickenpox, etc., and consequently do not enter with us in the work of vaccinating the people. But in the city of Asheville—it has been thoroughly vaccinated twice within the last five years—and I venture to say there are not 300 people in the 15,000, unless they have come into the city within the last six months, that were not successfully vaccinated, and for the last eight months I have not received a single case of smallpox that has not come into the city since our last vaccination. There is one thing that I would like to touch upon while I am on my feet. I think I wrote to Dr. Lewis about it. We ought to have a law compelling the common carrier, all railroads, to compel every member of their force to be vaccinated; and until we do have the railroad people vaccinated that come from one place to another, carrying these germs and dropping them down, we will continue to have smallpox. That is very important and essential. Another thing, Mr. President, I would like to give a little estimate of my care of the smallpox, that is, relative to the expense. These gentlemen who are laughing behind me know the reason. I had in my care 227 cases of smallpox, and the expense per capita—they stayed in the house from two to three weeks, one man was in there eight weeks—including their maintenance, food, fuel, fire, guard service, physician's bill, vaccine, formaldehyde, etc.—everything, the sum total per capita per diem was 40-7.10 cents per day. What do you think of that? I think it was very reasonable, but when they began to look around again for a new health officer they accused me of highway robbery—bleeding the city of Asheville; so I thought I would come down in this society and tell you about it, that you had better be careful when you treat cases of smallpox. Forty and seven-tenths cents was my average cost for the treatment of 227 cases.

CHAIRMAN: Many refuse to submit to vaccination because of the serious arms which have followed the practice, and that in turn seems to have been the result of very bad vaccination. We were told by Dr. McCormack that he himself, and probably a number of others who were interested with him, were considering the return to the use of humanized virus. Lately the Marine Hospital Service has published a bulletin setting forth some examinations made in the different outputs of manufacturers that were manufactured in this country. I would be glad if Dr. Stiles would tell us what he knows of the subject.

DR. STILES: There is one principle that I hold to in life, and that is to not talk too much about that I know little about. This work was done by my colleague, Dr. Rosecrans, and to sum up his results in a very few words, he found when he began the investigations that the vaccine virus was not so free from bacteria as we had a right to expect. He presented a paper on the subject before the Medical Society, giving his results, and that stirred up the manufacturers of the virus to a considerable extent. He made an examination a year later and found that the virus was very much more pure, so that his investigations seem to have had a very good effect upon the manufacturers, and it is certainly hoped on the part of the men interested in that particular investigation that this effect will be lasting. With reference to the relative value of the bovine and human virus I have a decided hesitancy in discussing the subject before men who have had so much more experience in that matter than I have. It is, really, entirely out of my special line of work, and I would not want to say anything to prejudice either the one way or the other. I think that the Board of Health is in a much better position to speak authoritatively upon the subject than I am.

DR. BUTLER: Mr. President, I came to this meeting at your suggestion yesterday on the train, not with the intention of doing any talking. I came here rather for the pleasure of listening and learning. I do not know that I have anything new to say on the subject that you are not already familiar with. You know that since last year investigations have been going on in regard to the intermissibility of bovine and human tuberculosis, but I do not know if anything has been done that you are not perfectly familiar with, and I would not wish to take up your time discussing it. The tendency is to show that the danger which was once fancied to exist from the consumption of the products of the lower animals is not nearly so great; that there is little danger perhaps, yet I think the result of investigation shows that there is danger, and some of the recent work seems to confirm it. * * * The tendency of recent research was to prove that there did exist some danger, and while I am chiefly interested myself from a veterinary standpoint, even if there was no possibility of communicating it to man, still I do not think the physician can afford not to take the advice that has been given us, and use all precaution as to communication of bovine tuberculosis to the human family. I certainly think we ought to strictly supervise the products from the dairy.

CHAIRMAN: Any other remarks, gentlemen?

DR. R. H. LEWIS: I would like to offer the following resolution:

Resolved, That the conjoint session of the North Carolina Board of Health and the State Medical Society adopt, in so far as the local conditions will permit, the recommendations of the Chief Statistician of the United States Census Bureau as to collection and registration of vital statistics.

Seconded and adopted.

CHAIRMAN: Any further business before the house?

Some discussion, raised by Dr. Carl Reynolds, as to the one who should furnish certificates to be placed on coffins. Dr. Lewis states that there is no law. It is the general opinion of the members that the undertakers are the ones who should furnish such certificates.

It is moved that the conjoint session of the State Medical Society and State Board of Health adjourn.

Seconded and carried.

MINUTES OF THE ANNUAL MEETING AT RALEIGH.

Annual meeting. Present: Drs. Duffy, H. W. Lewis, Ivey, R. H. Lewis and Mr. Ludlow.

In the absence of President Thomas, Dr. Duffy was elected President pro tem.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The Secretary presented a request from Dr. McCarthy, the Biologist of the Board, for an increase of salary. It was agreed to make, on the part of the Board of Health, an increase equal in amount to any increase made by the Board of Agriculture, not to exceed a total salary of fifteen hundred dollars per annum.

The Secretary stated that it was impossible to do the work of his office without the aid of a stenographer and typewriter, and asked, if it should be thought by the Board to be proper and advisable, for an appropriation of $20 a month for this purpose. On motion of Dr. Ivey the Secretary was authorized to employ a stenographer for part of her time on the best terms possible, not to exceed $20 a month.

The following committee of inspection were appointed:

State Institutions at Raleigh—Ivey, Thomas, and Lewis, R. H.

The University—Thomas and Lewis, R. H.

The Normal and Industrial College and the A. & M. for the colored—Battle and Lewis, R. H.

The Eastern Hospital for the Insane—Duffy and Nicholson.

The Penitentiary farms—Lewis, H. W., and Ludlow.

The convict camp in Wilkes County—Ivey.

The Orphan Asylums at Oxford—Whitehead and Lewis, R. H.

On motion of Dr. H. W. Lewis, the engineer of the Board, Mr. Ludlow, was requested to assume the general supervision of the public water supplies of the State, with authority to visit and make personal inspections whenever in his judgment it might be necessary, this to take the place of the biennial inspections heretofore made.

The following delegates to sanitary meetings were appointed:

Annual conference with the Surgeon General of the U. S. Public Health and Marine Hospital Service—Lewis, R. H.

National Conference of State and Provincial Boards of Health—Duffy and Lewis, R. H.

American Public Health Association—Referred to President and Secretary with power to appoint.

It was suggested that an effort be made to give the school children in the State instruction in elementary hygiene, also for the improvement of the sanitation of the public schools. The Secretary stated that this latter had been done in the form of a special issue of the Bulletin on School Hygiene, which had been sent to all the public-school teachers by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The Treasurer submitted his report with vouchers. Drs.

Ivey and H. W. Lewis, appointed a committee to audit the same, reported it correct.

On motion the Board adjourned to meet at 12 M. next day, in conjoint session with the State Medical Society.

RICHARD H. LEWIS,
Secretary.

CONJOINT SESSION

OF THE

MEDICAL SOCIETY OF NORTH CAROLINA

AND THE

NORTH CAROLINA STATE BOARD OF HEALTH,

HELD ON WEDNESDAY, MAY 25, 1904,

AT RALEIGH, N. C.

At this meeting Dr. Francis Duffy of the Board of Health in the unavoidable absence of President Thomas, presided over the conjoint session. Present, the members of the State Board of Health and the general meeting of the Medical Society.

DR. LEWIS: Mr. President and Gentlemen, I wish to express my gratitude for one encouraging feature to-day. It has been the custom for the Medical Society to promptly melt away at the mention of the joint session. It is doubly encouraging to us that this has not been so marked as usual. I see before me a gratifying attendance. The annual report is as follows:

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SECRETARY OF THE NORTH CAROLINA BOARD OF HEALTH, MAY 1, 1903—MAY 1, 1904.

As must always be the case, the work of your Secretary during the past year has been largely of the usual routine character, dealing with the common every-day affairs of sanitation. These, however, are none the less important because they are commonplace, as they practically cover the whole field of hygiene. But we have one entirely new subject as applying to our State of great interest and importance, viz.:

UNCINARIASIS OR HOOKWORM DISEASE.

Inspired by the admirable address of Dr. Charles Wardell Stiles, Zoologist of the United States Public Health and Marine Hospital Service, at our last meeting at Hot Springs, on the Uncinaria Americana, of which he was the discoverer, and its prevalence in our Southern States, I promptly set to work to interest our physicians in the subject. In several issues of the BULLETIN the matter was called to their attention, a summary of Dr. Stiles' official report and other articles being printed, and the medical reader was urged to send specimens of fæces from suspected cases to our laboratory for diagnosis. The response to this, I regret to say, has been discouraging, as only thirty-two applications for the examination have been made during the year. This, however, does not represent, by any means, all the work done in relation to the hookworm disease. Dr. W. S. Rankin of Wake Forest, in the early fall, offered to give a month of his time to the Board without charge, other than his actual expenses in making a personal investigation, proposing to visit with his microscope the physicians in a number of our eastern counties and make the diagnosis for them on the spot. Authority was obtained by correspondence with the members of the Board to accept Dr. Rankin's offer. He began his investigation by a trip during Christmas week to Northampton and Edgecombe counties. The results were so meagre and discouraging, as will appear in his report, which he will read, that we agreed that it would not pay to continue the personal work, and the spring tour of three weeks was accordingly abandoned. He has, however, done other work on this line by correspondence and among students of the college, as he will detail to you. The physical signs of uncinariasis are so striking and the diagnosis from the mere general appearance of a victim to it, taken together with his environment, is so easy that I have no doubt the diagnosis has been made in many instances without resort to the microscope and the proper remedy administered.

From the facts in our possession it is certain that uncinariasis is very prevalent in our State, and that it is not limited to the sandy section, as Stiles suggests. It deserves and should receive the careful attention of all practitioners. With the lights before me I would say unhesitatingly that every case of pronounced anæmia, especially in young persons living in the country, should be investigated with a special view to this very harmful intestinal parasite.

TUBERCULOSIS.

Tuberculosis continues our most fatal disease. Experience has demonstrated that much can be done for its prevention. We should therefore make an earnest effort to check its ravages as far as possible. I therefore bring the matter forward in order that it may be discussed in the conjoint session, so that we may have the benefit of the wisdom that is said to appertain to a multitude of counsellors.

The question of the prevention of tuberculosis is theoretically easy, but practically most difficult—very much more so in our Southern country than elsewhere on account of the large number of negroes. The infectious principle being existent only in sputum and other discharges from tuberculosis cases and in the infected milk and meat of the lower animals, the thing to do, of course, is to destroy the sputum and prevent the sale and consumption of the tuberculous milk and meat. But how to accomplish this in actual practice to more than a most superficial extent is the question. The answer to this question is, by the thorough education of the public mind on the subject. So the practical problem is how to reach and influence the people, especially those having the disease and their immediate families who necessarily are in close and constant contact with them.

The first step in the solution of this problem is to locate the tuberculous patients. To accomplish this a few States and cities have resorted to legislation requiring compulsory notification of tuberculosis as of other contagious diseases, so that the proper instructions may be given, inspections made and disinfection practised. This looks well on paper, and in large cities with thoroughly organized health and police departments and sufficient money to support them it is no doubt of much practical value. But in communities such as our State, the population of which is chiefly rural or resident in small cities, towns and villages without the full facilities for enforcement indicated, we cannot expect very much from this means. Especially is this true of the colored people. Their temperament, training and environment make the solution of the problem in their case, to all intents and purposes, hopeless—for many years to come, at any rate. And it is among them the disease is most prevalent, in the proportion of nearly three to one of the whites. That we cannot expect much is the more apparent when we call to mind the fact—the most discouraging fact—that a very large percentage of our physicians, although required to do so by law, will not report the more actively contagious diseases, such as scarlet fever, diphtheria and even smallpox, although the last-named disease is, we believe, generally reported, but not so much because the law requires it as because the doctor wants to get rid of it. In the present state of public sentiment the indisposition to report tuberculosis will be much greater. At the same time it is desirable to have this done if it can be brought about. We are glad to say that our own city of Raleigh has enacted stringent legislation on this line, and the results will be watched with much interest, as it is the first movement in the State for compulsory notification, although anti-spitting ordinances have been in force several years, first in Asheville and later in Raleigh.

The methods usually resorted to for the education of public sentiment are tuberculosis congresses, the organization of anti-tuberculosis societies, public addresses, newspaper articles, the distribution to the individual of literature bearing on the subject and the establishment of special sanatoria. And this crusade has evidently borne fruit, for the decrease in the death-rate from tuberculosis has been much more marked in the decade 1891-1900 than in any similar period previously. It is interesting to note, however, that the death-rate had been steadily diminishing in our larger cities before Koch's discovery of the bacillus and the demonstration of its contagious character. This is attributable to the improvement in the condition of the masses, better housing, better food, shorter hours of labor, the bicycle, athletic out-door games and the open-air life has come to be the vogue, thereby begetting greater resisting power. In these respects the advance has been much greater in the past decade than before, and it is no doubt to no inconsiderable degree responsible for the decreased death-rate.

In the prevention of infection with the tubercle bacillus there are three principal objects to be sought: 1. The building up of greater resisting power in the individual. 2. The prevention as far as possible of the development of the bacilli. 3. The prevention of their distribution by their prompt destruction.

1. The dangers of the inspiration or ingestion of the bacilli are so great that it is a matter of doubt if any one living even a few years has not at one time or another taken them into his system, and yet only about one-ninth of the population, it is estimated, become fatally infected. This is due to the protective or resisting power inherent in every one to a greater or less extent. It is well established that this power to resist disease, to repel it entirely, or to overcome it is greater in those who are in vigorous health. And this state of vigorous health is to be attained and preserved by living in accordance with the principles of hygiene, special stress being laid upon the paramount importance of pure, fresh air in the greatest abundance and at all times as near an out-door life as possible.

2. The prevention of the development of the bacilli is to be accomplished chiefly by an early diagnosis, when the disease is a pure tuberculosis and before the degenerative changes which constitute consumption have taken place. In the former the bacilli, being tied up in the unbroken tubercles, are not thrown off to any extent, while in the latter they are discharged in the sputum by the million. I would earnestly commend to your careful perusal a very able article, appearing originally in the New York Medical Journal and reprinted in our January BULLETIN, on the subject of "The Relation of Early Diagnosis and Treatment to the Prevention of Tuberculosis," by Dr. Pottenger, president of the Anti-Tuberculosis League of Southern California. He estimates that from 75 to 95 per cent. of early cases, with proper care, should be cured, thereby preventing the development and distribution of the myriads upon myriads of bacilli from the same cases going on in the consumptive stage. Dr. Pottenger says that the expert in tuberculosis "should be able to determine the presence of the disease in the vast majority of cases before bacilli appear in the sputum by the clinical history and physical examination. If not by these," he goes on to add, "the tuberculin test can be used with confidence and safety." I beg to emphasize this last statement, for while I know that some object to the use of the tuberculin test in the human, claiming that it is sometimes harmful, the early diagnosis in the tuberculosis stage is of such overwhelming importance to both the patient and the public that inasmuch as it will enable the comparatively inexpert to make the diagnosis with certainty, the little risk, if there be any, should, in my judgment, be taken in doubtful cases. In any event, there can be no excuse for failure to resort at once to the microscope in every suspicious case for the detection of the bacilli upon their first appearance in the sputum, for the examination will be made free of charge for any physician applying to the laboratory of the Board of Health.

3. The prevention of the distribution of the bacilli must be accomplished by the patient himself. He can do this by the invariable habit of expectorating only into spittoons partially filled with some disinfectant, or into the fire when in the house, and by the use of a pocket spittoon, bits of cloth or paper napkins (never the handkerchief) that can be burned, when out of doors. In a word, he must never let his sputum get away from him except into a disinfectant or the fire; never turn it loose to dry and assume the form of dust, especially in the house.

Having thus outlined the problem very inadequately, but as fully as the limits of this report and your time permits, we now come to the all-important question as to how we can best solve it.

The most conspicuous movement at present is towards the establishment by the State of special sanatoria for the tuberculous. Experience has demonstrated their great success, not only in curing the disease in its incipient stage—in over fifty per cent.—but chiefly as educators of the people, for every patient returning to his home thoroughly trained in the proper management of his case, so as to prevent the reinfection of himself and the infection of others, is an educator for his neighborhood. But at present, and doubtless for some years to come, we cannot hope for an appropriation by the State for this purpose. The other methods generally employed to educate the people and prevent the spread of disease by compulsory notification, distribution of literature, organization of societies, etc., have already been referred to, but it seems to me that the most effective method of reaching and attacking the very citadel of the enemy has never been sufficiently emphasized. This method I believe to be through the family physician. It is the family physician who first locates the case of tuberculosis; it is he who is sought for advice by the patient and his friends—no one can get so near to the problem as he, and no one can have such influence as he in securing the proper management of the case on the part of both the patient and family. No health official nor organization can compare with him in the practical accomplishment of this work if he can be induced to do it. Even if all the cases of the disease could be located and the proper instructions for prevention furnished—a manifest impossibility without his aid—they would make but little impression unless re-inforced by his endorsement and earnest personal advice. He is the medium—and the only medium in the vast majority of cases—through whom the principles of preventive management can effectively reach the individual case. It would be superfluous to argue this matter further. It is self-evident that the solution of this great and difficult problem, the greatest health problem of this or any age, turns chiefly on the attitude of the attending physician. The practical question before us, then, is: How can we arouse his interest and secure his cordial co-operation in the work? It is this particular question that I wish to hear discussed, that I may be helped in the performance of my official duty in the premises.

I would respectfully suggest that this body, composed of a very large proportion of the leading physicians of the State, put itself on record by adopting some such resolutions as the following:

WHEREAS, tuberculosis, of all diseases the most fatal, being the cause of death in about one-ninth of all who die, is a contagious and therefore preventable disease; and

WHEREAS, its prevention depends upon the early diagnosis, upon the strict observance of certain precautions in the relations between the patient and his associates and upon a mode of life in accordance with the well-established principles of hygiene; and

WHEREAS, these matters come within the immediate jurisdiction of the attending physician, whose influence in securing their observance is far greater than all other influences combined: therefore, be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of the Medical Society of the State of North Carolina and of the North Carolina Board of Health in conjoint session assembled, that the spread of tuberculosis, the greatest scourge of mankind, can be most effectively prevented only with the active aid and cordial co-operation with the health authorities of the family physician.

Resolved, That not only every member of this body, but every physician in the State, is earnestly requested to use every effort, professional and personal, to promote this great work for humanity.

I would also suggest the propriety of adopting the following:

Resolved, That it is the sense of the State Board of Health and of the State Medical Society in conjoint session assembled, that provision should be made in our hospitals for the insane and in the State's Prison, and in the county jails as far as practicable, for the separation of tuberculous cases from the other inmates uninfected with the disease.

(Both resolutions were adopted unanimously).

SMALLPOX.

As was anticipated in our last report, smallpox has continued with us to an increased extent. The total number of cases during our smallpox year—May 1st to May 1st—is 5,370, as against 4,456 the year before. Of this number 2,840 were white and 2,530 colored, with 35 and 34 deaths, respectively. It will be noted that for the first time the disease was more prevalent among the whites. The death-rate was the smallest in the history of the recent outbreak, being 1.23 per cent. among the whites and 1.34 per cent. among the colored. We have experienced the same difficulties in the management that have confronted us all along, due chiefly to the extreme mildness of the disease, although they have been somewhat less than heretofore.

At the request of the authorities of the city of Durham, who were experiencing much opposition to vaccination, I visited that city and addressed the people on the subject, with good results following.

The general smallpox outlook seems to be the same it was a year ago. It will continue from year to year until all the people have been successfully vaccinated or had the disease.

The following is a report in detail for the past year:

LABORATORY.

The following is the report of Dr. McCarthy, the Biologist, in detail of the work done for the Board of Health in the joint laboratory of the Department of Agriculture and the Board of Health during the past year:

REPORT OF BIOLOGIST.

RALEIGH, May 5, 1904.

DR. RICHARD H. LEWIS,
Secretary North Carolina State Board of Health,
Raleigh, N. C.

DEAR SIR:—I herewith submit a detailed report of the work done in the laboratory of the Board of Health during the twelve months included in the period from May 1, 1903, to April 30, 1904.

|---|---|
| Total number of analyses and determinations | 522 |
| These include the following samples, to-wit: | |
| Public water supplies, monthly analyses | 226 |
| Analyses of water for physicians and health officers of counties | 136 |
| Examinations of sputum for physicians | 57 |
| Examinations of throat exudates, diphtheritic | 53 |
| Examinations of blood for plasmodium malariæ | 18 |
| Examinations of fæces for hookworm | 32 |
| Total | 522 |

The official examinations of public water supplies, under the law passed by the last Legislature, was begun in May, 1903.

No work was done in the laboratory during June. The full number of analyses required of the water companies under the law was therefore eleven. This number was actually taken by only four companies; the others, by carelessness or other causes, falling below the requirements of the law, as shown by the annexed list:

| Water Companies. | No. of Analyses Taken. | Water Companies. | No. of Analyses Taken. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Asheville | 7 | Raleigh | 11 |
| Concord | 2 | Reidsville | 6 |
| Charlotte | 10 | Rocky Mount | 10 |
| Dunn | 1 | Roxboro | 6 |
| Durham | 10 | Salem | 9 |
| Fayetteville (municipal) | 8 | Sanford | 6 |
| Fayetteville (old system) | 0 | Salisbury | 10 |
| Gastonia | 9 | Southern Pines | 9 |
| Goldsboro | 10 | Statesville | 7 |
| Greensboro | 11 | Tarboro | 7 |
| Henderson | 8 | Waynesville | 6 |
| Hendersonville | 5 | Washington | 7 |
| High Point | 6 | Wadesboro | 3 |
| Lumberton | 6 | Wilson | 11 |
| Monroe | 8 | Wilmington | 11 |
| New Bern | 5 | Winston | 10 |

It must be said in justice to a few of these water companies that they began business during the year, and could not therefore take the full number of analyses. The companies included in this latter category are Dunn, Hendersonville, Roxboro.

The law directs the Board of Health to make these analyses for a charge of $5 each. The usual cost of biological analyses of water is $10 each. When we began this work it was with the idea of making only the biological analyses in the laboratory of the Board of Health, the chemical analyses to be made, if possible, by the Department of Agriculture. But, in fact, the chemical work was not done except in a very irregular way. The Department of Agriculture is supported by a special tax levied upon the farmers of the State. It is supposed to devote its energies entirely to strictly agricultural work. What work the Department can do in other lines must depend upon the chemists being unengaged.

Water analyses, to be of much value, must be made regularly and systematically. It was therefore determined to do the chemical as well as the biological work in the laboratory of the Board of Health.

Soon after starting the chemical work we found that the larger part of the water companies were using too much alum in their filters and passing a part of this into the filtered water. The various companies were notified of this fact, and, though there was at first some indignation expressed upon the imputation cast upon their waters, the companies soon improved their services and apparatus, so that the last or April series of analyses showed for the entire State but two supplies giving the reaction for alum, and both these for only very minute quantities. We are now fully justified in stating that no State or country anywhere has municipal water supplies superior to that of North Carolina—so far as regards freedom from pollution and injurious chemical compounds. There are thirty public water companies in the State. The water of all is very soft, and, with a few exceptions, is free from organic matter. All of the supplies derived from deep wells—in number, five—contain much dissolved earthy matter, and a few approach the quality of mineral waters. The deep waters are much harder than the surface waters.

The quality and safety of the public or municipal water supplies of the State is enormously superior to the average quality of the well waters sent to the laboratory. So great is the difference that the Biologist, as the result of four years' work in this line in North Carolina, is disposed to say that no incorporated town having 1,000 inhabitants can afford to permit its citizens to be supplied by private wells of the ordinary shallow type. The danger of typhoid hangs like the sword of Damocles over every community getting water from shallow wells. This danger is minimized for communities having a common supply which is closely guarded and the quality kept up to the standard by monthly analyses, such as our State law requires. It would therefore seem to be the duty of health officers and physicians to advise even small towns to abandon shallow private wells for a common public water supply.

As regards the samples of well water sent by physicians and county health superintendents, I am able to say that the average quality is superior to that received during the preceding year. There were fewer grossly polluted samples.

Of the fifty-seven samples of sputum received, about one-third were free from bacillus tuberculosis. The samples showing the bacillus came from different parts of the State, but chiefly from the Central and Piedmont regions.

Of diphtheritic exudates fifty-three were received, and all but two showed the bacillus. Nearly all samples of exudates were described by attending physicians as "tonsillitis" or "membranous croup." Determinations of diphtheritic exudates were given precedence over all other lines of work in the laboratory, and the result is, in all cases where the physician can be reached by telegraph so transmitted, usually within one hour after sample reaches the laboratory. We could handle more of this class of work.

In examinations of blood for the malaria parasite our facilities are not yet appreciated by the medical profession, or else the type of malaria found in North Carolina is easily diagnosed clinically. Only eighteen samples came in, and the larger part of these were free from the germ. Only the tertian parasite has been found.

Of fæces we have received thirty-two samples, and all but four contained the hookworm or its eggs. Most of the samples also showed large quantities of sand, indicating recent geophagism. The ages of the patients as given by physicians varied between six and sixty-one years. The larger part were under twenty-five years. The samples came from the following counties: Caldwell, Iredell, Granville, Johnston, New Hanover, Mecklenburg, Nash, Stokes and Wake.

During the past twelve months, as in the preceding period, a few applications were received for the Widal test for typhoid fever. At considerable trouble and expenditure of time and materials, the Biologist stocked suitable cultures for this work at three different times in the two years, but the demand for this work proved too small to justify us in keeping up the cultures. The average demand is only about four per year. For the Widal test the culture of bacillus typhosus must be virulent and not over four or five months, at longest, from the spleen of a person dead of typhoid. The culture must also be transferred from tube to tube at least once a week, thus entailing much labor and consumption of material. With so much other work pressing upon the laboratory, we could not afford for the small demand to keep up typhoid culture as required, so at present we decline applications for the Widal test. The clinical alternative is usually between typhoid and malaria, and an examination of the blood by microscope will determine whether or not it is malaria.

A part of the Biologist's time is given to the work of the State Department of Agriculture. The work of the Board of Health alone is more than enough to occupy the entire time of one man. Therefore, until such time as the Legislature sees fit to provide for the entire support of the laboratory, no further extension of the work is possible. Respectfully submitted, GERALD MCCARTHY, D.Sc., Biologist.

It will be observed that many of the public water supplies have been quite derelict in the matter of monthly analyses. The act to protect water supplies requires every company selling water to the public to have an analysis made every month by the Board of Health or in such laboratory as it may select, and yet in a total of 334 analyses required only 226 sent samples. I have tried faithfully to induce them by gentle means to send the samples regularly and promptly. My last letter has borne fruit, but there are some still that neglect this duty. While the law provides a penalty for failure to have the analyses made, it is manifestly undesirable to resort to the courts. Public opinion is the best lever to employ, and if the physicians living in cities and towns having public supplies would interest themselves in the matter the companies would be more apt to respond. It is of great importance that they should, not only as a guarantee to consumers of the purity of the water sold them, but also as a means of support to the laboratory. Thanks to an enlightened, broad-minded Board of Agriculture and a Commissioner cordially in sympathy with this work for the people, we have been enabled to do the very creditable amount of work for the public health shown in the report, but times change and men change with them, and the support of the laboratory is extremely precarious. It should be sustained by a direct appropriation by the State for the purpose, and it is to be hoped that it may be made by the next Legislature.

While Dr. McCarthy, having no assistance, could hardly do more work than he has done, still it is discouraging to note how comparatively few of our physicians avail themselves of the privileges offered free of cost beyond a few cents of postage. The number, however, is growing, and will no doubt increase more and more as time passes.

In conclusion, I appeal to the members of our noble profession to lend their interested support in this great work in which we are engaged. While some are disposed to sneer, and while it must be admitted that the spirit of commercialism which pervades all callings at the present time has not left us untouched, it still remains true that, excepting perhaps the sacred ministry, there is no body of men whose hearts are so open to the cry of distress or whose minds and hands are so ready to administer to its relief without pecuniary reward as the physicians of our country. It is a noble profession, and on the principle of noblesse oblige it is the duty of every physician, and should be his pleasure, not only to cure disease and suffering, but also to aid in their prevention.

CHAIRMAN: The report is before the house. Any discussion of it?

DR. STEPHENS: I want to say just one word as to tuberculosis. The worthy Secretary, in calling attention to the prevention of tuberculosis, speaks of education of the laity in regard to preventative measures. These things are matters of importance, but there is one thing even greater—the educating of the family physician in those things which are necessary to make early diagnosis. If the family physician is qualified to do this the education of the laity will follow. The family physician needs to have impressed upon him the fact that it is his duty to examine the sputum of a patient having a cough of more than one week. It is his duty to examine the chest carefully in every case of declining health and not let false ideas of modesty stand in the way. It is his duty to see that an examination is made. I would also suggest that the figures mentioned in the resolutions suggested by our worthy Secretary be changed to this effect. He mentions the fact that one-seventh of the deaths is due to tuberculosis. Our last census makes it between one-ninth and one-tenth, and the last census of our own State gives the figures as 11.15-100 per cent. of the total mortality of the State.

DR. ————: I wish to call attention to the fact that something should be done for the prevention of infection in the public institutions. This is a crying need and one in which the people of the State and the physicians should be interested. It is appalling to see the number of necessity infected in the public hospitals.

DR. PAQUIN: It is rather a source of congratulation to me that our Secretary has so emphasized the matter to which I called the attention of the Society on yesterday. It is the most important subject in the domain of medicine to-day. It is true that prevention is the key to the situation. The practical solution of this question is the great desideratum in our State. How shall we succeed in combating this enemy? As I said on yesterday, let every man of you constitute himself a committee of one to go home and teach the community at large how to prevent, and himself how to diagnose, the disease. A great many physicians fold their arms and say they can not diagnose that disease. They say, "What can't be cured must be endured." The microscope is only confirmatory of the opening symptoms of the disease. There are signs and symptoms by which the ordinary physician can diagnose the disease in its early stages. What are they? Physical examination of the chest, the temperature and tuberculin test. By these three methods you can tell whether the disease is tuberculosis or consumption. Let us go home and perfect these methods. It is useless for me to go into details. If you will make a diagnosis early while yet in its incipiency, this cruel disease will not carry so many to an untimely grave, and prevent the infection being distributed in different portions of the country. Therefore, in view of this, I move that we adopt the resolutions as suggested by our worthy Secretary. Now, gentlemen, I move for the adoption of these resolutions as a whole, unless some one calls for them separately. The motion was carried.

DR. LEWIS: There is a fault with a great many of us—that of being a little too kind-hearted sometimes and of not being perfectly candid in informing the patient or family that it is a case of tuberculosis. It is a very painful thing to do to tell the patient or family that it is a case of tuberculosis, but it is important that they should know and take necessary steps to cure it.

CHAIRMAN: Any further discussion?

DR. FAISON: I think it is right to make a diagnosis early. I think a law should be passed preventing any one having tuberculosis from coming within our borders.

DR. LEWIS: I think it would be helpful when the Legislature meets if a resolution should be adopted by this body for an appropriation by the State for a biological laboratory. I think it would be helpful to us.

DR. IVEY: I move that this body ask the Committee on Legislation to approach the coming Legislature in reference to that point.

The motion was made and carried.

DR. LEWIS: I have not received the advice I want—the best practical method of reaching the family physician. You are all family physicians. You can tell me very much better than I can how to reach yourselves. Make me some suggestion by which I can reach the profession and I will be very much obliged. How would a personal letter with a two-cent stamp on it do? Leave off the heading of "Board of Health." Have it directed by a lady and it would be opened and read.

DR. STANCILL: I would like to suggest an evangelist from the State Board of Health making a visit to the family physicians. In the long run it would pay.

DR. LEWIS: I thought that idea was ventilated some years ago. If we could get the State to appropriate for an evangelist it would be the best plan, but it is impracticable.

DR. ROBERTS: There are in every county men who are competent to write up these subjects. Dr. Lewis is acquainted with the medical profession, and he knows who to apply to in each county. Let us ask each physician in each county to write up on these subjects which he wants investigated. I know it would not be successful in every case, but it will accomplish something. I think a great deal can be done through the County Medical Societies, and if you reach one in ten you have done something. * * * It is only by line upon line, precept upon precept, that you can do anything along this line.

DR. LEWIS: It is the intention to put literature on this subject in the letter to the physician.

Dr. ————: We are better prepared than ever to cope with this disease. We have County Societies in every State, and with the assistance of the State Board of Health in sending literature and letters to the physicians in the county and waking them up to the importance of this subject, this matter may be worked out at our home in the County Medical Societies. There is no remedy for the prevention of tuberculosis unless it commences at home among the people and among the doctors—the doctors that go in and out among the families. The Society should select some man to write and read a paper and work up an interest in the County Medical Societies.

CHAIRMAN: We have the report of the Secretary that requires adoption.

Motion was made to adopt the Secretary's report. Motion carried.

Motion was made for adjournment of the conjoint session. Motion carried, and the conjoint session was adjourned.

REPORT OF BIOLOGIST.

The biological work of the State Board of Health as at present carried on was begun in 1901, when by the liberality of the State Board of Agriculture the Secretary of the Board of Health was permitted to send samples of suspected drinking-water to the biological laboratory which the Board of Agriculture had recently established for its own particular work. The great hygienic value of biological analyses, especially in regard to drinking-water, soon became apparent, and June 1, 1903, the Board of Health arranged with the Board of Agriculture to share the expenses and facilities of the laboratory already established.

The principal line of work carried on on the part of the Board of Health is water analysis. A large amount of work is, however, done in examining pathological samples, including sputum for bacillus tuberculosis; throat exudates for bacillus diphtheriæ; feces for uncinaria; and blood for the parasite of malaria.

As showing the increase in volume of work and in the interest and favor with which the work is regarded by the medical profession, the following figures showing the total number of samples examined in the laboratory for each of the four years are hereto appended:

|---|---|
| Total samples for 1901 | 294 |
| Total samples for 1902 | 357 |
| Total samples for 1903 | 476 |
| Total samples for 1904 | 785 |

Approximately two-thirds of these samples were water. The remainder were pretty evenly divided between the different classes of pathological samples above-named.

The Legislature of 1903 amended the law governing public water companies so that the Board of Health was required to make a monthly biological analysis and a quarterly chemical analysis of each water supply. The Board was empowered by this act to charge a fee of $5 for each biological analysis, but no provision was made for paying for the chemical analyses, which are therefore made free by the biologist. The fees received from the water companies and one-half the salary of the biologist paid by the Board of Agriculture, constitute at present the sole income of the laboratory, notwithstanding the fact that about one-half our laboratory work is done free of charge for physicians of the State.

The practical value of the monthly analyses of the public water supplies cannot be overestimated. These systematic examinations serve to assure the patrons of water companies that no pollution of the supply can occur without being quickly detected. A good illustration of the value of regular and frequent examinations of a public water supply is furnished by the experience of the town of Butler, Pa. This town has a population of 18,000. It had an apparently efficient system of water-works, but made no regular biological examinations of the water. During the summer of 1903 some accident occurred to the filter which remained for a time undetected, and for that time passed into the service mains water practically unfiltered. The first warning the water company had of the break-down in the filter was the outbreak of typhoid fever among the water consumers. A severe epidemic ensued, resulting in the death of 111 persons and the serious illness of 1,348 others. First and last, the expenses of this epidemic, besides loss of life, were estimated to be not less than $40,000. The experience with typhoid fever in Butler, Ithaca, Watertown, Plymouth, and other cities having public water supplies but not controlled by frequent and regular biological examinations, proves conclusively that typhoid fever may be spread to a most disastrous extent by such waters, and that without efficient control by biological analysis no consumer can feel safe in using such water.

The monthly analyses of water supplies now provided for by the law governing water companies in North Carolina enable the biologist to detect even the smallest trace of pollution, and by promptly advising the responsible officers of the water companies concerned, the source of the contamination can be discovered and the pollution stopped before the health of the water consumers is affected. In this manner the public health is safeguarded and at the same time the interests of the water companies protected. Reports of pollution are treated confidentially so long as the companies show the proper zeal in remedying the trouble. More than one water company in North Carolina could certify to the assistance the Board of Health's laboratory has been to them in protecting the health of their patrons and, by preventing panic among patrons, the financial interests of the companies.

In a general way, we can say that no State now has a purer, more wholesome or better-guarded system of water supplies than North Carolina. The mechanical system of filtering water is exclusively used in this State. Alum is employed to coagulate suspended matter and clear the water. When we made our first chemical analyses of these waters we found that a large proportion of the water companies were passing free alum in notable quantities into the filtered waters. We at once notified these companies, and with commendable promptness most of the companies improved their methods in so far that for some time past the average alum content of filtered water has been not more than one part per million. This amount is entirely negligible. So long as the alum process of filtration is used, by no practicable method can the filtered water be entirely freed from this substance. Some complaints have been made by boiler inspectors that the free alum in filtered water was injurious to steam boilers. But it is apparent that such an infinitesimal proportion of alum in the water as we have named can have no appreciable effect upon the steel shells of boilers unless the boilers remain uncleaned for very long periods. Most unfiltered waters contain notable quantities of magnesia, soda and other substances which affect steam boilers injuriously. From these substances most of our filtered waters are almost wholly free.

Of the total number of water samples analyzed in the laboratory about one-third are physicians' samples of well-water from houses where typhoid fever has prevailed and where the well is suspected of being the source of the infection. Our earlier work in this line showed a most unfortunate condition of affairs, since the great majority of the samples received were badly polluted. During the last year, however, the majority of samples of well-water analyzed have been of very fair quality and free from fecal contamination. It is the general custom in villages and farm-houses to have an open privy or pit within one hundred feet of the house. Where flies abound they pass from the house to the privy and back, carrying upon their feet and frequently deposit upon food-stuffs small particles of fecal matter, which may contain the germs of typhoid. Such germs are excreted in enormous numbers by all typhoid patients and by convalescents for some weeks after recovery. It is both practicable and easy to use closed receptacles in privies, or to cover dejections as soon as deposited with dry earth, ashes or lime. Houses having water-closets should have wire screen-doors to keep out flies. Finally, every house in which there is a case of typhoid should be required to use disinfectants freely upon all excrementitious matter and upon all clothing soiled by the patient.

Beginning in the summer of 1903 a vigorous campaign has been carried on by the Board of Health against the Hook-worm parasite, Uncinaria Americana. The presence of this parasite was first brought to the knowledge of the physicians of the State by Dr. C. W. Stiles of the United States Public Health and Marine Hospital Service, at the meeting of the State Medical Society in 1903. This loathsome and destructive parasite has been shown by our work to be present in all the counties of the State east of the Piedmont section. So far no sample of Uncinaria-infected feces has been received from beyond the Blue Ridge.

There is a constant all-the-year demand upon the laboratory for examinations of sputum from suspected cases of tuberculosis. The greater part of such samples received do in fact show the germ of tuberculosis. Tuberculous sputum is the most dangerous class of samples received at the laboratory. We are sorry to say that not a few physicians are so reckless as to send such samples in containers not authorized by the Board of Health and which are forbidden by United States law to be carried in the mails. Such physicians frequently excuse themselves by saying they are in a hurry and cannot wait for the authorized mailing cases supplied by the Board for this use. These physicians seem to forget that there may be a hundred other physicians wanting similar work done, and all equally in a hurry. The rules of the Board of Health governing the laboratory, and the rules of the United States Post-office regulating the transmission of infectious matter through the mails, are very reasonable and are in fact necessary to safeguard the health of those who must handle the samples. The routine of our laboratory aims to treat every physician alike, and to take up samples in their regular order. Physicians who deliberately disregard our rules have only themselves to blame when their samples are consigned, unexamined, to the fire. Verbum sap. satis!

From the time when the public schools open in the fall until about May 1, the examination of throat exudates from suspected cases of diphtheria form a very considerable part of the work of the laboratory. The type of diphtheria prevalent in North Carolina seems to be of a very mild form, in so far that physicians generally refuse to diagnose the disease from the clinical symptoms. Most of the samples sent to the laboratory are labeled "Tonsillitis" or "Croup." Yet the great majority of these samples show the true Bacillus diphtheriæ. The bacteriological process does not distinguish between virulent and feeble varieties of the germ.

Very few physicians who have secured a positive original diagnosis of Bacillus diphtheriæ send samples from the convalescent patient as recommended by the National Conference of State and Provincial Boards of Health in the following words:

"Resolved, That the isolation of any person affected with diphtheria or so-called laryngeal or mebranous croup, and of the nurse or nurses attendant upon such person, shall be absolute and shall be governed by the following regulations: * * * * *

"Whenever the presence of the Bacillus diphtheriæ is in any manner reported by an approved bacteriologist, the house should forthwith be quarantined and a plainly printed notice thereof, including the name of the disease, should be posted in a conspicuous place thereon, and guards stationed if necessary.

"After proper disinfection, quarantine shall be removed from those houses in which diphtheria has been diagnosed, when synchronous cultures taken from the noses and throats of all persons quarantined have been pronounced to be free of diphtheria bacilli by a bacteriologist approved by the State Board of Health.

"After the laboratory diagnosis of diphtheria has been given, it shall be the duty of the health officer to see that specimens from both nose and throat of the patient are forwarded by himself or the attending physician to a laboratory approved by the State Board of Health, once a week after clinical symptoms have subsided, until negative reports for both nose and throat are obtained."

It is probable that the spread of this disease in epidemic form is very largely due to the neglect of isolating the patient until the germ has disappeared from throat and sputum.

A comparatively small number of samples of blood are sent to the laboratory for examination for the parasite of malaria. Most of the samples received are free from the parasite. This seems to indicate that physicians either use quinine before taking the samples or else send only from cases of obscure continued fevers which are not malarial.

The laboratory receives a very few demands for the Widal test for typhoid. The Widal test is easily made, but for trustworthy results the culture of the typhoid bacillus used to agglutinate must be fresh and virulent. To procure and keep up such cultures requires too much labor for the trifling demand for this work, so at present we decline to make the Widal test.

The laboratory receives an occasional freak sample supposed to contain the "germs" of cancer or scarlet fever. While the biologist is always willing to give a brief answer to a courteous request, with our facilities already overtaxed, physicians must understand that no samples requiring special research can be accepted. The germs (if germs there be) of cancer and scarlet fever are not known to science. It is not the business of our laboratory to search for unknown germs.

With present facilities and lack of sufficient financial support, there is little prospect of broadening the scope of our work. With increased means the laboratory might, with great benefit, add to its present lines of work biological diagnosis of rabies and of pneumonia. It might also undertake to test the qualities of the drugs and medicines usually prescribed by physicians. Those States which have investigated the quality of drugs sold, especially in the smaller towns, have found a most alarming condition of affairs. For example: Massachusetts has found that practically all the "diabetic flour" sold in that State at about fifty cents per pound was little better than ordinary whole wheat flour. This is one of the most despicable impositions practiced upon a credulous and helpless public. All the medicinal wines were found to be spurious and most aromatics below standard strength. Unless the physician can depend upon the purity and strength of the drugs he prescribes, no amount of skill will avail to save his patient, and the reputation of the physician must suffer. This is a very serious matter and should have the earnest consideration of the Board of Health as well as of practicing physicians.

It is necessary to call your attention and the attention of the physicians of the State to the insufficient and precarious support of the biological laboratory. There seems to be a loose impression among the profession that the whole power and wealth of the State is back of the laboratory and that the amount of work to be had for the asking is practically unlimited. The fact is that the State does not contribute one cent to the support of the laboratory. Our sole source of income is the fees received from public water companies. These companies are supposed to get their work done at the actual cost, and if we consider that for an annual payment of $60 each company receives twelve bacteriological analyses and four chemical analyses, it is apparent that there can be little profit to the laboratory.

The biologist has made free of charge for physicians and the general public during the last twenty months, 850 analyses. It will be impossible to continue this work unless the State appropriate sufficient to cover the actual cost of this work. The laboratory needs at least $1,500 per annum above what it earns in fees. With such State aid we will be able to continue our free work and to extend it by adding to our present list the biological diagnosis of rabies and some other diseases, and possibly we may give some attention to medico-legal work, as in examination of blood stains, etc.

The salary of the biologist is insufficient; he needs an assistant and a clerk or stenographer.

The biologist has for over a year accepted an excessive amount of work, being anxious to prove the practical value of bacteriological diagnosis as an aid to the practicing physician. This value has now been very fully demonstrated, and it seems to be the duty of the State or the public to provide for this work in the future.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

GERALD MCCARTHY, D. Sc.,

SANITARY INSPECTION OF STATE INSTITUTIONS.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS.

THE CAPITOL.

THE COUNCIL OF STATE.

GENTLEMEN:—The undersigned, a committee from the State Board of Health, visited the Capitol Building and carefully inspected the property, so far as sanitary points connected with it are concerned. We respectfully suggest that the bath-rooms now in use should be ventilated. They are built under the stair-cases and are lighted by gas, and the water for bathing purposes is heated by an instantaneous gas heating apparatus. There is no proper ventilation for these rooms, and we respectfully suggest that this is not a sanitary arrangement, and one not conducive to the welfare of those who are to use these bath-rooms. A coat of paint or whitewash over the walls of these rooms would certainly add much to their looks, and we respectfully think that it would make them healthier. In the Senate Chamber and the House of Representatives, we beg leave to repeat the warning that during the sessions of the Legislature, when both of these rooms are crowded by members of this body, and by persons in the lobby, fires should be kept in all the fire-places, to promote good ventilation of these rooms.

Yours very truly,

G. G. THOMAS, M. D.,
RICHARD H. LEWIS, M. D.,
Committee.

THE AGRICULTURAL BUILDING.

STATE BOARD OF AGRICULTURE,
Raleigh, N. C.

GENTLEMEN:—The undersigned, a committee of the State Board of Health, visited the Agricultural Building and inspected the plumbing and the sanitary arrangements generally in use about the building. Most of this plumbing is in the old building, and none of it appears to us to be first-class work. It is in as good shape, generally, as can be expected of plumbing of this character. We do not think the ventilation of any of the closets was properly looked after when the plumbing was installed. We suggest that you have a competent plumber to go over the work and remodel that which is now rather badly constructed.

Yours very truly,

G. G. THOMAS, M. D.,
RICHARD H. LEWIS, M. D.,
Committee.

THE SUPREME COURT BUILDING.

THE COUNCIL OF STATE.

GENTLEMEN:—The undersigned, a committee of the State Board of Health, visited the Supreme Court Building and inspected the plumbing and the sanitary arrangements generally in use about the building. We beg leave to heartily approve the removal of the closets from the first floor of this building to the basement. This seems to be a move in the right direction. Generally speaking, the sanitary condition of this building is very good, but the closets, opening in the halls above, are entirely without any ventilation. Windows should be cut in the outside wall, both for light and air for these rooms. The building was clean, and we see no other recommendation to be made regarding the sanitary conditions.

Yours very truly,

G. G. THOMAS, M. D.,
RICHARD H. LEWIS, M. D.,

EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS.

---

STATE UNIVERSITY.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES,
University of North Carolina.

GENTLEMEN:—The undersigned, a committee from the State Board of Health, visited the University and have carefully gone over the sanitary arrangements of the institution. Generally speaking, these were found in excellent condition. The water supply seemed sufficient, and it has been reported of excellent character. From all reports received while there, we are convinced that this water supply will be most carefully protected from contamination, and will be ample for the purposes of the University.

The plumbing in the Carr Building appeared to us to be of poor character. It certainly needs careful overhauling, and in many places repairing. Slate floors, or some impermeable material, should be placed under the urinals in the closets, as the floor is now badly soiled by the urine falling on it, and soaking in, and is a source of discomfort, and may be a source of disease. All these wooden floors should be replaced by marble or slate, with ample drainage for any overflow or dripping.

We respectfully call your attention to the fact that the chemical laboratory and lecture-rooms are badly overcrowded, and the removal of the hoods to make room for students has affected the ventilation of the building. This is not only detrimental to the health of the students, but is taking away from the chemical department an opportunity to do the good work which has been so signally performed by it in the past. The graduates of this department have been in demand, and it will be a serious blow to the University to have any neglect of this department and impair the high grade of teaching which has so far marked the chemical work at the University of North Carolina.

Yours very truly,

G. G. THOMAS, M. D.,
RICHARD H. LEWIS, M. D.,

STATE NORMAL AND INDUSTRIAL COLLEGE.

THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES,
State Normal and Industrial College,.
Greensboro, N. C.

GENTLEMEN:—The undersigned, representing the State Board of Health, in accordance with section 3 of an act relating to said Board, made on the 15th inst. a sanitary inspection of the college under your charge.

It gives me pleasure to report that I found the institution in an excellent condition, from a sanitary point of view. Of the many water-closets scattered through the various buildings, all were as they should be, with a single exception in the partially occupied Students' Building. Its water supply was cut off, but it did not appear to be in use. The President, who was with me, made a note of it for correction. I note, however, in the lavatories of the Spencer Building that privacy was secured by opaque window-shades. They should be discarded and the windows painted or frosted, for light in abundance is especially desirable in such places.

I was pleased to note the continued use of the Forbes water sterilizers. The output on the second floor of the Spencer Building was not satisfactory as to quantity. I would, therefore, suggest the installation of an additional sterilizer of such capacity as to supply, not barely enough, but more than enough water. One of the chief troubles in the hygienic management of people—women especially—is to get them to drink water enough. The free and easy working of the vital functions is greatly helped by drinking large quantities of pure water. Its generous use, therefore, should be encouraged in every way.

The Infirmary is too small, I think—certainly incomplete—in that no provision is made for contagious diseases. Owing to the occurrence of three cases of diphtheria in the past few weeks the second floor was cut off from the remainder of the building for their accommodation, and in consequence the quarters for the ordinary sick were at one time overcrowded. This is, of course, inadmissible in the proper care of even the well, and ample provision should be made to avoid it. A separate building for contagious diseases should be erected, or an annex to the present Infirmary, connected by a covered way with open sides, should be built. A still better plan, if possible, would be to use the present Infirmary for other purposes and build a new one in a more retired part of the grounds.

The cold-storage plant, I was informed, is only rented—a temporary arrangement, no doubt due to lack of funds. It should be purchased, or, in any event, made a permanent fixture of the institution. It occasionally happens that under the influence of heat certain organic poisons, known as ptomaines, are developed in milk and meats and cause serious illness. This should be guarded against.

Very respectfully,

RICHARD H. LEWIS, M. D.

COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE AND THE MECHANIC ARTS.

THE STATE BOARD OF AGRICULTURE.

GENTLEMEN:—Having made a sanitary inspection of the College of Agriculture and the Mechanic Arts, the undersigned, appointed by the State Board of Health to make the inspection, beg leave, as required by the act relating to the Board of Health, to report to your honorable body as follows:

The sanitary condition of the College as a whole is good, and we found only one thing to criticise. We refer to the surface privy, the same, with the exception of the water-closets in the hospital, being the only convenience of the kind for the large student-body. As a surface privy it is well arranged and well cared for, but it is the method of disposal of human feces to which we object. For such an institution in this day of sanitary progress it is an anachronism. It is, however, as a possible source of disease that it is to be condemned. Typhoid fever is the one of all the more serious diseases to which the young adult is most susceptible. Most frequently it is conveyed by infected drinking-water, but its transmission by flies is now a well-established fact. As the College is a military school, the most apt illustration we can suggest is the experience of our troops during the recent Spanish war. In some of our camps, notably at Chickamauga, typhoid fever became such a scourge that the government appointed a commission composed of three of the most distinguished sanitarians in the country to investigate the matter. After a most careful and thorough inquiry they reported the cause of the spread to be chiefly flies, excluding the drinking-water, which they found to be pure. The germs of the disease are found in the discharge from the bowels and bladder. The flies crawling over the surface of the pits infected their feet and afterwards planted them on the food in the kitchen and mess tents. Thousands of cases were caused in this way. On a smaller scale the same thing might happen at the College. In our opinion, in order to avoid this danger a system of sewerage should be installed and the surface privy abandoned.

AGRICULTURAL AND MECHANICAL COLLEGE FOR THE COLORED RACE.

THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES,
A. and M. College for the Colored Race, Greensboro, N. C.

GENTLEMEN:—Having been designated by the State Board of Health for the purpose, I made a sanitary inspection of the College on the 15th inst. I found it in as good condition as the nature of the plant will permit.

I note the absence of any provision for taking care of the sick. This should be remedied by all means, by the erection of a separate infirmary, so that in case of the appearance of contagious disease the proper isolation could be carried out.

The bathing facilities could be enlarged to advantage, I think.

The surface privy, while apparently fairly well kept, should be abandoned and a system of sewerage substituted. This can be done at comparatively small expense by the method known as subirrigation, as most of the work could be done by the students themselves and the amount of sewer-pipe required would be small. I commend this matter to your careful consideration.

Respectfully,

RICHARD H. LEWIS, M. D.,
Secretary of State Board of Health.

SCHOOLS FOR THE DEAF AND DUMB AND THE BLIND, AT RALEIGH.

THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS,

Schools for the Deaf, Dumb and the Blind, Raleigh, N. C.

GENTLEMEN:—In compliance with the provisions of section 3 of an act relating to the Board of Health, the undersigned, a committee appointed by the said Board for the purpose, made on November 30th a sanitary inspection of the two schools under your charge. As we purposely avoided giving notice of the intended visit, the conditions found, we take it, fairly represent those usually prevailing.

The School for the White Blind.

As regards the more important sanitary features—general cleanliness, water supply and plumbing—we found the school in excellent condition. We think, however, that it would be an improvement of the lavatory in the southern wing of the girls' building to transpose the bath-tubs and water-closets. The latter are now located in a small inside room without an opening upon the outer air, and is consequently dark and not properly ventilated, while the bath-tubs occupy quarters that are both well-lighted and ventilated. It is much more important that the former should have the benefit of an abundance of light and air than the latter.

We noted the very small and totally inadequate inside play-room for the children in bad weather. For reasons given in the concluding paragraph, this is a defect which should be remedied. This could easily be done by utilizing the basement, which is now so much waste space, the only thing required being a good concrete floor. This would also be an improvement on general sanitary principles, inasmuch as it would prevent the rising of the ground air which, from the health standpoint, is objectionable.

The arrangements for the sick, we think, could be much improved. Each of the rooms in the two wings of the girls' building set apart for the cases of ordinary sickness are too far from the general lavatories. A bath-tub and water-closet should be installed in the immediate proximity of each of them. This need is too manifest to require further discussion. But the crying need of the institution is some provision for the proper isolation of contagious diseases, and we earnestly repeat the recommendation in regard to this matter made by the committee of inspection two years ago. The third floor in the center of the main building, being cut off from other parts, except a stairway from below, is well located for the purpose and could easily be transformed into two wards, one for each sex. This should be done by all means. The State cannot afford to subject the most pitiable and helpless of its wards to the dangers of an epidemic of infectious and therefore preventable disease.

The rooms on the west side of the girls' building are too dark. The number of windows is insufficient, and the trouble, especially on the second floor, is aggravated by the roof of the veranda. This defect should be remedied.

Leaving out other considerations, the blind, from a purely physical point of view, are heavily handicapped by their special infirmity. Except to a limited extent they are debarred from the active outdoor exercise which is so important to healthy childhood. They cannot romp and run and participate in athletic games, and in consequence they lack, as a class, the glow of vigorous health to be found in those blessed with sight. You have doubtless observed the pallor which generally characterizes them. For these reasons it is especially important that everything possible in the way of air and light and play-room should be provided for them.

The School for the Colored Deaf and Blind.

We found both departments of this school in a most exemplary state of cleanliness, and those in charge are deserving of commendation. Some of the water-closets are of a rather antiquated pattern, but are in good working order and answer the purpose very well. The school as a whole is in excellent sanitary condition.

SCHOOL FOR THE DEAF AND DUMB, AT MORGANTON.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS,

School for the Deaf and Dumb, Morganton, N. C.

GENTLEMEN:—Having made a sanitary inspection of your school, in compliance with the act relating to the Board of Health, the undersigned committee from said Board take pleasure in reporting that they found everything in excellent condition.

We would suggest, however, the advisability of changing the brick floor of the basement to one of concrete as soon as practicable. While not unsanitary, it is a source, we were informed, of much dust which finds its way to the floor above.

Very respectfully,

GEORGE G. THOMAS, M. D.,
RICHARD H. LEWIS, M. D.,
Committee.

OXFORD ORPHAN ASYLUM.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS,
Oxford Orphan Asylum.

GENTLEMEN:—The committee from the State Board of Health visited the Oxford Asylum and made a careful investigation of the sanitary condition of the property under your charge. It affords us great pleasure to report that we found the buildings in excellent condition, so far as the sanitary arrangements were concerned. The cleanliness was so marked a feature as to excite our unstinted admiration. We nowhere found any evidence of neglect of the premises or want of daily care of all the property under the control of your Superintendent, Colonel W. J. Hicks, and his efficient helpers. The children bore the evidence of the well-directed care which is exercised over this institution.

We wish, however, to call your attention to two points which seem to us of marked importance: We found that everywhere the children were sleeping two in a bed, and it is with great earnestness that we advise you to separate these children, giving each one a single bed. This is a suggestion which is the result of long observation among those best fitted to judge of such necessities. Evil habits of pronounced character are often begotten in dormitories where two children sleep together. The presence of a bad child in a dormitory may work an amount of mischief which may be of serious detriment to the future lives of these little ones over whom you are otherwise exercising such beneficent care. We respectfully submit that the present air supply in these sleeping-rooms is hardly sufficient, and if possible, it would be well to scatter the children more. As we found it, the air supply was not over 255 cubic feet per head, being less than half of the minimum amount supposed to be necessary for the best health in sleeping-rooms. With the exception of the two above-named exceptions, this committee wishes to express again its great satisfaction at finding a charity of this sort so administered as to bring happiness and health to the inmates of the institution, and to insure among these helpless little ones, not only comfort during their stay, but a feeling of admiration, which is the outgrowth of gratitude, toward the institution which gave them an opportunity to become useful men and women.

Yours very truly,

G. G. THOMAS, M. D.,

ASYLUM FOR COLORED ORPHANS.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS,

Colored Orphan Asylum, Oxford, N. C.

GENTLEMEN:—The committee from the State Board of Health visited this institution and found everything under the control of your Superintendent, Rev. Mr. Shepherd, well cared for. The house was clean and the children looked to be in good condition. Little or no sickness was reported, and there was every evidence of a thorough disposition to do the best for the inmates of the institution, under the care of the Superintendent and his corps of teachers and helpers. While it is not strictly a part of our inspection to look after the furniture in these buildings, we would respectfully recommend that these buildings be supplied with new bedsteads and mattresses, as they seem to be in bad shape.

Yours very truly,

G. G. THOMAS, M. D.,

STATE HOSPITALS FOR THE INSANE.

CENTRAL HOSPITAL, AT RALEIGH.

THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS,

State Hospital for the Insane, Raleigh, N. C.

GENTLEMEN:—The undersigned, assigned by the State Board of Health to this work, have made a sanitary inspection of the hospital, and respectfully beg leave to report:

We found the institution clean and in excellent sanitary condition. We would note, however, two wants, the supply of which would, in our opinion, conduce to the healthfulness of the patients.

One of these is the want of verandas, enclosed, of course, with wire netting. Fresh air and sunshine in abundance are of the first importance, from the health point of view, to all persons, especially to children and invalids. The insane are below par in physical as well as mental health, and as the condition of many of them requires restraint of their liberty, they are debarred from outdoor exercise. Wire-enclosed verandas in good weather would in effect be outdoor wards and therefore of great benefit to many of the patients. We would recommend the constructions of such verandas on the west side of the hospital.

The other want is the lack of provision for the isolation of tuberculous patients. The transmissibility of tuberculosis is thoroughly established, the chief avenue of transmission being the sputum. The proper care of the sputum in this class of patients is simply out of the question, and the danger of infection is, therefore, much greater than it would be among sane people. This is a crying need that should be met at once by the establishment of a special colony for the tuberculous, or by such other method as in the judgment of your honorable body would best solve the problem.

Very respectfully,

GEORGE G. THOMAS, M. D.,
RICHARD H. LEWIS, M. D.,
Committee.

STATE HOSPITAL, AT MORGANTON.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS,
State Hospital, Morganton, N. C.

GENTLEMEN:—The undersigned, representing the State Board of Health, having made a sanitary inspection of the Hospital, beg leave to report:

We found the institution in excellent sanitary condition. There is, however, in our judgment, a serious defect in the arrangements, and that is the lack of some provision for the isolation of the tuberculous patients. In view of the well-established fact of the communicability of the disease through the sputum and the manifest impossibility of securing its proper care from the irresponsible insane, it is particularly important that such provision should be made for them.

We were much pleased with the colony for men and believe this arrangement will be materially helpful to the general health and ipso facto to the special malady of its members. We would recommend the extension of this plan as far as possible.

Very respectfully,

GEORGE G. THOMAS, M. D.,
RICHARD H. LEWIS, M. D.,
Committee.

---

STATE HOSPITAL, AT GOLDSBORO.

To the BOARD OF DIRECTORS,
State Hospital, Goldsboro, N. C.

GENTLEMEN:—On October 27th, without previous notice to your Superintendent, we, a committee of the State Board of Health, made a sanitary inspection of the Hospital under your care. We respectfully beg leave to report as follows:

The economy and efficiency used in the management of the institution are unmistakable, as shown by the small annual per capita expenditure, the valuable enlargement and improvement of plant in many respects, and the fairly low death-rate of the inmates as compared with that of other hospitals for the colored insane.

The arrangements for the preparation and preservation of food was found to be admirable; the newly added cold-storage, dancing-hall, dining-room, as well as other improvements, displayed wise and needful investments of the State funds.

The floors to the halls and most of the wards, made clean by frequent dry-sand scourings, and the walls made white by periodic applications of liquid lime, together with the remarkable absence of dust, gave evidence that neatness and cleanliness were conditions striven for by Dr. Miller and his subordinates.

While, therefore, the buildings and the management are in many respects a credit alike to them and the State, the sanitary condition is not ideal, is not above reasonable criticism.

The white floors, made of soft and inferior wood, certainly in the main building, are worn and rough in many places and further marred by large dirt-filled cracks.

With insane people for your population, such floors must sooner or later, in spite of all effort, become contaminated with feces, sputa, urine and other elements of filth.

Floors made of hard wood properly polished, and with periodic applications of enamel paint, would be well-nigh non-absorbent, easily washed and in every way more healthful.

Walls with smooth hard finish, properly painted, suited to disinfectant sprayings, washings and fumigation, are much to be preferred from a sanitary standpoint.

The mortality in your Hospital for the last twelve months, as we are informed, is a fraction less than 7 per cent., which is much lower than it was last year, and even lower than is usual among the colored insane of other asylums. While it is gratifying to know this, it is a fact sad to realize that one preventable disease—tuberculosis—is responsible for about 30 per cent. of this death rate. Two years ago our report showed quite 35 per cent. of your mortality was due to the same cause.

As is known, doubtless, to most if not all of you, tuberculosis is a contagious disease. As a contagion it is slow in its onset, and can, with proper precaution, be avoided even in close proximity with its victim. Its contagion is closely associated with the home, the hospital and the prison. An inclosure of some form is necessary to make it effective. "The house is the granary of the tubercle bacillus. It is the place in which tuberculous matter is kept vital until the bacillus can find a new host." The increasing susceptibility to consumption among the negroes of the South seems to be a well-established fact.

According to recent report, at the autopsies on all negroes dying in the Georgia Insane Asylum in 1901, over 50 per cent. gave unmistakable evidences of the presence of this disease.

The relation between consumption and insanity in the negro is, from the very nature of things, a question of much interest to your Board. The evidence at our command seems to point to the idea that insanity, in most instances, precedes the onset of consumption.

Granting the truthfulness of these propositions, the freest possible ventilation of the wards, with the greatest liberty to outdoor life, are matters of the highest concern to the well-being of your population.

Besides these precautions, we are assured by your Superintendent that systematic bichloride washings and formaldehyde fumigation is practiced in infected wards. To our minds, the most effective method left you whereby you may greatly diminish this heavy sacrifice of life is that of complete separation of the tubercular patients from the other inmates. Such a course was urged in our former report. We are glad to know that Dr. Miller, by means of a little profit realized from brick-making, has been enabled recently to effect such an arrangement among the female patients. There still remains several tubercular patients closely associated in every-day life with 217 male inmates. Surely our legislators will not longer remain indifferent to your needs for the proper removal of this evil condition.

With but a few exceptions, the defective closets in the sewerage system, to which your attention was called in a former report, have been replaced by splendid automatic flushing closets. The further expenditure of a very small sum will give an ideal condition on this line. When the filthy and mischievous habits of many of your inmates are remembered this becomes a matter of no little importance.

In our report of two years ago we called attention to imperfections in the water supply. As the same conditions prevail now as then, we again call attention to matters discussed in that report; except that we are informed by the management that the well near the stables continues to afford good water, as determined both by practical use and by occasional analyses. Two years more of use of this water with good results causes us to be less apprehensive of it, yet we regard it as a possible source of infection, and if used should be analyzed from time to time.

Respectfully,

FRANCIS DUFFY, M. D.,
J. L. NICHOLSON, M. D.,

TUBERCULOSIS.

Tuberculosis, usually appearing in the pulmonary form and then popularly known as consumption, is the most fatal disease in North Carolina as it is in other parts of the civilized world. Since its organization the Board of Health has been working in a general way to prevent its spread, but no special concentrated effort to secure its prevention has been made until the present year. The Secretary of the Board, in his annual report made to the conjoint session of the Board with the State Medical Society at its meeting in Raleigh in May last, called particular attention to the importance of the subject and the difficulties appertaining to the solution of the problem, and earnestly requested of the physicians suggestions as to the best methods of procedure. The interested reader is referred to this report and the suggestions made in its discussions, which will be found on preceding pages.

The execution of the campaign was delegated to the Secretary, who gave it most careful consideration before taking action. The fundamental object to be obtained was the education of the people. The most effective way of reaching the people he believed to be through the family physician, whose immediate personal advice and influence would be worth all other agencies combined. For the purpose of this educational work a six-page pamphlet on "The Causes and Prevention of Consumption" was carefully prepared, special pains being taken to make it concise, yet essentially complete; positive and definite, yet plain and simple, and, notwithstanding the handicap, to make it, if possible, interesting. The pamphlet will be found below.

But the mere distribution of literature is not enough. A most important part of the problem is to secure the reading of it. To secure that end as far as possible by interesting the recipient enough to get him to read the pamphlet, a series of letters addressed to different special classes of the people asking, in addition to the perusal of the article, the interested co-operation of the reader in securing its wide distribution and in general helping to stir up an interest in the subject, were prepared. A copy of these letters was and is to be mailed with each pamphlet, for the distribution is by no means finished, only about 25,000 having so far been sent out. The first was sent to all the newspapers in the State that it might be widely advertised. The response on the part of the editors was encouraging, and as a result much interest has been excited and the call for the pamphlet has been very gratifying, the demand not being limited to our own State, but extending from Indiana to Texas. The other letters are respectively to physicians, ministers, school-teachers of both races, managers of various enterprises having numbers of employees, and to the general public. The greatest interest in this work has so far been shown by ministers of the gospel, many undertaking to distribute the pamphlet by the hundred. In order to set forth fully the scheme adopted by the Board in its campaign against consumption, these letters are also printed below.

It will be noted that a special letter was prepared for the colored teachers. This was deemed necessary for the reason that consumption is much more fatal to the colored than to the white race, the death-rate, so far as our limited mortuary statistics show, being in the proportion of about two and a half to one. Besides, owing to their ignorance and poverty as a class, to their habits and environment and the difficulty of reaching them except through the leaders among their own people, special efforts in their behalf are required. In fact, the colored element in our population greatly enhances the difficulties of successfully solving this, the most stupendous task, under the most favorable circumstances, which confronts the sanitarian. It is our hope, however, that something can be done through the physicians, ministers and teachers of their race.

It is not the intention of the Board to limit its efforts against tuberculosis to this method, but as far as possible to avail itself of others that are useful, such as the organization of anti-tuberculosis societies in our cities and towns, the securing of public addresses on the subject, and when it becomes feasible the establishment of a special sanatorium for consumption. These latter methods, while helpful, are necessarily very limited in their scope, but by the free use of printer's ink and postage stamps we hope at comparatively small expense to plant the seed of knowledge of this subject in every neighborhood in the State, in the confident belief that it will bring forth fruit.

But after all is said, the family physician remains the most effective agency in the solution of the problem, and by repeated appeals directly to every individual practitioner in the State we hope to arouse and keep alive his interest and secure his active co-operation.

CAUSES AND PREVENTION OF CONSUMPTION.

(Tuberculosis, Phthisis, Pulmonary Consumption).

Pulmonary tuberculosis (consumption) is the most common form of tuberculosis, about 95.5 per cent. of all kinds, it is said. The other principal forms of tuberculosis are scrofula (of the glands), white swelling (of the bones and joints), and lupus (of the skin). These are milder in character, and not so dangerous as the pulmonary form.

Consumption is the most fatal of all diseases and is aptly called "The Great White Plague." It is estimated that one-seventh of all deaths from every cause in the civilized world are due to it. One-fourth of all who die in adult life—the most useful period—it is said, are the victims of this disease. In North Carolina, according to the last census report, about one-tenth of all deaths were attributed to consumption. In other words, between four and five thousand of our people die every year of a disease that can be prevented.

CAUSES.

It is a communicable disease, which means that it is transmitted from one case to another. The essential element in the transmission is a germ known as the tubercle bacillus, an extremely minute rod-like body, one-ten-thousandth of an inch long and one-fifty-thousandth of an inch in thickness. In common with all communicable diseases, it is a preventable disease.

The causes of consumption are of two classes, predisposing and exciting.

Predisposing Causes.—In every constitution there is, in varying degrees, a certain power of resistance to the inroads of disease germs, most pronounced in those in vigorous health. While it may be said that the disease itself is very rarely if ever inherited, the lack of this resisting power, just as any other constitutional peculiarity, is inherited, hence the great susceptibility of those belonging to consumptive families. This is greatly increased by intermarriage between such, which should not occur. But resistance is weakened by lowered vitality from any cause, as insufficient and impure air from overcrowding, especially in dark, damp, sunless, poorly ventilated apartments; insufficient or improper food; other diseases of a wasting character, as dyspepsia and typhoid fever, for example; overwork, worry, dissipation, etc. It is a mistaken notion that alcohol is a preventive or curative of consumption. The habitual user is an easier victim. As about three-fourths of the nourishment of the body is furnished by the oxygen taken in with the air breathed, a deformed or imperfectly developed chest, with the corresponding deficiency of lung expansion, is a predisposing cause. For the same reason, those having normal chests but who do not expand them by exercise in the open air are more susceptible. The improved general health of the people resulting from the advance in hygiene, and the outdoor life that has come to be largely the vogue in recent years, is doubtless to no small degree responsible for the marked reduction in the death-rate from consumption.

Exciting Cause.—The Tubercle Bacillus. This is found, with the exception of infected meat and milk, which we believe to be rare so far in our State, only in the pus or matter thrown off by a tuberculous patient in the sputum or spit from the diseased lungs, or discharged in the other forms of tuberculosis. It is said that the number of the bacilli or germs thrown off in twenty-four hours in the advanced stage mount up sometimes into the billions. The sputum, therefore, is the chief source of the poison, and consequently its management is the most important item in the problem of the prevention of consumption. Although the germs may find their way into the system by being swallowed in infected food, tuberculous milk or meat, or eatables over which flies fresh from sputum have crawled, from kissing a consumptive on the lips, by putting infected articles in the mouth, as for example, coins that have been handled by a consumptive, etc., they are generally taken in with the breath in the form of dust. As long as the spit remains moist it is innocent in this regard, as the germs cannot be dislodged and floated into the air. For the same reason the breath of a consumptive is not dangerous, but the germs are sometimes found in the fine spray of saliva expelled to a distance of several feet in coughing, sneezing, loud talking and laughing. The germs cannot live for any length of time exposed to sunshine, fresh air, and rain. They retain their vitality sometimes for months when protected from these agencies. Consumption is therefore essentially a house disease. In a room occupied a large part of his time by a consumptive, the germs are not only more abundant but more persistent in action than elsewhere, and the darker and more badly ventilated the room the more so. Moreover, persons who live an indoor life are more susceptible.

PREVENTION.

From what has been said above, the following specific rules of conduct are deduced:

The sputum or spit of a consumptive should always be destroyed before it can dry and assume the form of dust. Indoors he should spit directly into the open fire, if there be one, or into a spittoon or spit-cup containing some disinfectant, 5 per cent. carbolic acid, 2 per cent. formaldehyde or one to two thousand corrosive sublimate. Plain water would be much better than nothing, as it would keep the sputum moist and for so long a time innocuous. The contents of the spittoon should be burned or buried and the vessel scalded with boiling water. Away from home, especially in public places of all kinds, he should religiously abstain from spitting on the floor or the sidewalk. He should always use some form of pocket spittoon, of which there are many varieties that can be obtained at a trifling cost, or expectorate upon pieces of rag or soft paper, which should be kept wrapped up in paraffin paper or other impervious material until they are burned. He should never spit into his handkerchief, lest the dry sputum be distributed in the air when he pulls it out.

Special care should be taken not to soil the hands, face or clothing with the sputum.

A consumptive should never cough, sneeze, talk loudly or laugh towards any one near at hand, but turn away his face, or hold his handkerchief in front of his mouth.

No consumptive should ever be kissed upon the lips—better not at all. Regard for the safety of his dear ones ought to make him refuse absolutely to be kissed.

Persons waiting upon consumptives should wash their hands frequently, always before eating. They should abstain from sharing with them articles of food sent to their rooms. They should, of course, keep constantly in mind the rules of prevention.

The tuberculous patient should have his own toilet articles, tableware and linen, and no one else should use them. In cleansing them they should be boiled, or at least washed with boiling water.

His underclothes, night-clothes and bed-linen should never be mixed with the linen of the family, but immediately upon removal be dropped into a tub of water and kept wet until they can be boiled and washed.

His room should be as airy and bright with sunshine as possible, having a southern exposure when feasible. It should be kept thoroughly ventilated with at least one window open day and night, winter and summer. It should be simply furnished, without carpet, curtains, furniture upholstered in cloth of any kind—all dust-catchers, in short. It should never be swept or dusted, but wiped with a damp cloth, which should immediately afterwards be burned, boiled, or soaked in a disinfecting solution.

No one, if it can be avoided, should sleep in the same room with a consumptive, never in the same or another bed very close to his. Besides the risk of catching the disease, the second person would consume a large part of the oxygen of the air which he so much needs.

Children, who have a habit of handling everything and putting their fingers in their mouths, ought not to be allowed in the room. This applies with special force to the crawling age.

A room vacated by a consumptive should never be occupied by another until it has been disinfected. Renters ought to refuse to take a house in which such a patient has lived until this has been done. In cities the municipal authorities should require the immediate disinfection of every house from which one dead of consumption has been buried. It would be best for the city to have this done by its own officials trained in the work. In order to reach these cases every town should forbid the burial or removal of any corpse except upon the presentation of a death certificate stating the cause of death, signed by the attending physician. Progressive towns do this any way in order to make an accurate record of their vital statistics.

A consumptive house servant or dairy hand is a source of danger that can and should be avoided. It would work no hardship, for a different life would be better for the patient. This warning applies especially to the South, for the reason that the disease is very much more prevalent in the colored than in the white race.

The outer clothes of a consumptive and the woolen skirts of all women which have trailed over the floors of infected houses, of public halls, of street-cars and over the sidewalks should be brushed out-of-doors, and the brusher should avoid, as far as possible, inhaling the dust, always breathing through the nose. Dark petticoats, often tucked or flounced at the bottom, which are never washed and which accumulate filth month after month, are very objectionable.

The danger from tuberculous meat is slight because the germs are killed in cooking, but it is much greater from milk which is taken raw, and which, besides, is more liable to infection. Milk from a cow with a diseased udder should never be used. Cities and towns ought to require of every dairyman selling milk to their people a license granted only upon the observation of the proper sanitary rules, including the tuberculin test, and revocable upon violation of these rules.

Every municipality should adopt and enforce an ordinance against spitting on the sidewalks and on the floors of public places.

Compulsory notification would be very helpful, especially in the case of the very poor.

It is the plain duty of every consumptive, to his loved ones and the public, once in possession of the facts above set forth, to observe all the precautions laid down, and of those intimately associated with him to see that he does it.

It is likewise the duty of every physician to see that these facts are impressed upon his consumptive patients and their families. The interested co-operation of the attending physician is by far the most important element in the solution of this difficult and dreadful problem. Without it comparatively little can be done, with it wonders can be accomplished.

It should be borne in mind that a consumptive taking the precautions above set forth in the management of his sputum is not at all a source of danger to others, and need not be avoided. It would be unnecessary cruelty to treat him like a leper. But his friends should see that he does take the precautions.

OFFICES AND SHOPS.

In business offices, shops, factories, or any other places where a number of persons are shut indoors together, the danger of infection is increased. The managers of such offices or factories, for their own protection as well as that of their employees, should see that the proper precautions are observed. Free ventilation should be had and a rigid anti-spitting rule should be enforced. Spittoons containing water under all circumstances, and a disinfectant if there be present a known case of consumption, should be provided and their invariable use insisted upon. Book-keepers should never moisten the finger to turn a page. The Michigan Board of Health reports twenty successive cases of consumption in one office in Detroit as originating from one case who had this habit. The germs were found on the leaves of the books. His successors picked them up and put them into their own mouths, or scattered them in the air as dust in turning the leaves and inhaled them. No individual having a cough ought to use the common drinking cup, but use his own exclusively.

Provision should be made in all hospitals for the insane and in prisons for the separation of the tuberculous from the otherwise healthy. The utter helplessness of the inmates makes this an imperative demand of humanity.

A WORD AS TO TREATMENT.

Tuberculosis, if taken in time, is one of the most curable of chronic diseases. In the first stage, before the lungs begin to break down, there is no expectoration, no pus or matter containing germs is thrown off, and it is not contagious. In this stage it can be cured by proper care in the majority of cases. It is therefore all-important to the patient and the public, his immediate family in particular, that the diagnosis be made as early as possible. To this end, any person suffering from a general decline in health, especially if marked by a gradual loss of flesh, loss of appetite, a slight morning cough, feverishness, and perhaps huskiness of voice towards evening, should seek medical advice without delay. There seems to be a tendency on the part of both the patient and his friends to resent the suggestion that he has consumption, to deny it, and perhaps to discharge his true and candid physician—and lose the golden opportunity of cure. He should accept and act upon it at once—with hope.

The modern treatment of tuberculosis, which has been so successful, consists not in the use of drugs to any considerable extent, but in fresh air at all times, day and night, an abundance of highly nutritious food (rich milk, eggs, good beef, etc.), and a well-ordered life in accordance with the principles of hygiene. The consumptive should beware of patent medicines or over-confidence in any drug, lest the chance of cure be lost while leaning on a broken reed.

The success of the treatment is chiefly in the hands of the patient himself. A resolute will, a cheerful spirit, and obedience to discipline will overcome the disease in very many cases.

Copies of this Bulletin will be gladly furnished free to any one who will ask for them and distribute them.

LETTERS SENT WITH THE PAMPHLET.

TO EDITORS OF NEWSPAPERS.

To the Editor:

MY DEAR SIR:—The State Board of Health proposes to inaugurate a vigorous campaign against the most fatal of all diseases, pulmonary consumption. It is a preventable disease. Ignorance of its causes and of the proper methods of its prevention is in large part responsible for its spread. For the information of the people on these points we have prepared and had printed for general distribution twenty thousand copies of the enclosed pamphlet. The problem is to get it before the people. For the accomplishment of this no agency can be compared with the press. I therefore write to ask your most valuable co-operation in this work for suffering humanity. Your help would almost surely be the means of saving some—probably many—lives. Will you not give it by calling attention to the pamphlet and by advising those of your readers interested in the subject, especially such as have consumption in their families, to send a postal card to the undersigned for as many copies as they will distribute?

Very truly yours,

RICHARD H. LEWIS, M. D.,
Secretary.

TO PHYSICIANS.

MY DEAR DOCTOR:—You have probably already seen in our last Monthly Bulletin a statement of the intentions and plans of the Board of Health in regard to the prevention of tuberculosis, including the article on the subject, which it is proposed to circulate as widely as possible among the people. Those whom it is most important to reach are the consumptives themselves and their families. A fundamental element in the problem is to locate these. This can practically be done only by our physicians, who, in their visitations to all classes, high and low, rich and poor alike, must know of the existence of nearly every case of consumption in the advanced and dangerous stage. Knowing and treating these cases, they can, without any trouble, put this pamphlet into the hands of those affected. By so doing they would be the means of accomplishing great things in preventing the spread of this most fatal disease.

Now, Doctor, we ask your invaluable aid in this work. We believe you will give it, for every physician worthy of this profession must be always glad not only to cure disease, but also when in his power to prevent it.

I enclose a copy of the pamphlet as printed for distribution. Please let me know how many copies you can use, or send me the name and address of the householder of those families in which consumption exists (in confidence), and I will mail one to each of them. Let me beg of you also to impress, by your own word of mouth, the importance of taking the precautions laid down. Your personal advice would be more weighty than any publication.

Very truly yours,

RICHARD H. LEWIS, M. D.,
Secretary.

TO MINISTERS.

REV. AND DEAR SIR:—I enclose herewith a pamphlet on "The Causes and Prevention of Consumption," published by the State Board of Health for wide distribution among the people, in the hope of staying, to some extent at least, the ravages of this the most fatal of our diseases. The problem is how to get it into the hands of the people, especially of consumptives and of families in which the disease is present. Next to the physician, the minister of the Gospel is in more immediate relation with the sick and suffering than any other. There are more than 2,500 ministers in the State. If we can secure their sympathetic co-operation in this work for humanity we believe that it will be most helpful. Ministers as a class are not only public-spirited citizens, but as a result of their holy calling their hearts are especially attuned and responsive to the cry of distress, physical as well as spiritual. We therefore believe that we can count on your help in this work, and we ask it. You can best render it by giving a copy of the pamphlet to all the consumptives in your congregation and by discussing the question with your people publicly and privately. Ignorance of the causes and of the proper methods of prevention is chiefly responsible for the spread of the disease. And how can the people hear without a preacher?

Upon receipt of a postal card stating the number you can use, I will send them to you with pleasure.

Very truly yours,

RICHARD H. LEWIS, M. D.,
Secretary.

TO WHITE TEACHERS.

To the Teacher:

The State Board of Health is making an effort to prevent, as far as possible, the ravages of pulmonary consumption—the most fatal of all diseases. The method adopted is the wide diffusion among the people of information as to the best way to do this. To that end a pamphlet, setting forth in a simple manner the proper course to be pursued, has been prepared, a copy of which I enclose.

The teacher, through the children, is in relation, more or less direct, with nearly all the people in his or her school-district and, by inquiry of the pupils, can ascertain the families in which there is a case of sickness characterized by a cough. Having done so, she could send a copy of the pamphlet to the family by the child. Will you not make this inquiry, and let me know on a postal card how many copies you can use? Upon its receipt I will mail them to you without cost, and will add as many more as you will distribute to those interested, whether sick or well.

In reading the pamphlet you will note that one of the most important things in the prevention of consumption is the building up of the general health, or in keeping strong and well. This requires an observance of the general laws of hygiene, the most important of which are indicated in the pamphlet.

Scrofula in its various forms is a mild form of tuberculosis. Pale, flabby, listless children with running nose or ears, or who breathe through the mouth, if not actually scrofulous, have a tendency to that disease or toward true consumption later in life. It is, therefore, especially important that such children should enjoy to the full fresh air, sunshine and simple but nutritious food. Outdoor sport should be encouraged for all children, and, therefore, every school should have its playgrounds.

You can assist in educating the people in regard to consumption by talking about what you have read in the pamphlet as well as by distributing it. Will you not lend your valuable aid to this most important work? Write me.

Very truly yours,

RICHARD H. LEWIS, M. D.,
Secretary.

TO COLORED TEACHERS.

To the Colored Teacher:

Pulmonary tuberculosis, or consumption, as it is commonly called, has come to be the bane of the colored race. It is the most fatal of all diseases to every race, but it is especially so among the colored people, being nearly three times as fatal to them as to the whites. It is, therefore, especially important to your people that every effort should be made to check the ravages of this dreadful disease. Being a contagious disease, it can be prevented by following carefully the directions which are fully set forth in the pamphlet on the subject issued by the State Board of Health, a copy of which I enclose.

In this matter the colored people, as a whole, can be reached only by the more enlightened of their own race. We must depend, therefore, upon their ministers and teachers, the number of colored physicians being quite limited. As you are in relation with the people in your school district through their children, and doubtless have their confidence, you can be of great service in this work—by sending the pamphlet, by the children, to those who can read, and by telling the illiterate about it. It is desirable that all the people should possess the information contained in the pamphlet, but particularly those families in which there is a case of the disease. In repeating the instructions, I would suggest that you emphatically condemn the habit of sleeping with the head covered and, with even greater emphasis, dwell upon the vital importance of properly caring for the sputum, or spit. Carelessness and a want of cleanliness in relation to the expectoration is the chief cause of the spread of consumption.

I bespeak your cordial co-operation in this work of humanity. It carries with it no pecuniary reward, but the consciousness that you had been of service to your people would repay you. Make a careful estimate of the number of pamphlets you can use to advantage, notify me on a postal card, and I will mail them to you without cost.

Respectfully,

RICHARD H. LEWIS, M. D.,
Secretary.

TO THOSE CONTROLLING EMPLOYEES IN INDOOR PURSUITS.

DEAR SIR:—The State Board of Health is making a special effort to check as far as possible among our people the ravages of consumption, our most fatal disease.

I enclose a copy of a pamphlet on its causes and prevention and ask your careful reading of the same, especially of the paragraph addressed particularly to you. I also bespeak in the interest of yourself as well as of your employees your cordial co-operation in this work we are trying to do for humanity.

I would be pleased to send you as many copies as you will distribute.

Very truly yours,

RICHARD H. LEWIS, M. D.,
Secretary.

TO THE GENERAL READER.

MY DEAR SIR:—I enclose a copy of a pamphlet on "The Causes and Prevention of Consumption," which the Board of Health has prepared for general distribution, and ask you to read it. Having read it, we would thank you to hand it to some consumptive or to the head of some family in which the disease is present. We would also be pleased if you would discuss the subject with your associates, and in that way assist in spreading the information.

Tuberculosis is the most fatal of all diseases, and at the same time is preventable. The chief cause of its spread is ignorance of its cause and of the best methods of preventing it. The hope of the Board is to dispel this ignorance, in part at least, by sending out this pamphlet and by still wider distribution of the information it contains through the help of the newspapers and by word of mouth on the part of those who read it. Will you not aid us in this effort to save our people, as far as possible, from suffering and death?

We would be more than glad to send the pamphlet to any one desiring it. A postal card to the undersigned would represent the cost and trouble.

Yours very truly.

RICHARD H. LEWIS, M. D.,
Secretary.

UNCINARIASIS OR HOOK-WORM DISEASE.

Since our last report work new in character and valuable in results has been inaugurated and vigorously prosecuted, viz., a campaign against what is known as hook-worm disease. What are known as "dirt-eaters" are victims of this disease, abnormalities in appetite being one of the symptoms. This intestinal parasite, being a blood-sucker, we now know is the source of the trouble with those pale, flabby, listless people, especially children, we so often see in our country districts, and not so much soda-biscuit and fried meat as we once thought. It no doubt also explains in many instances those cases of anæmia and weakness among the young operatives in cotton mills about which so much has been said—the operatives coming from the country bringing the disease with them.

While the hook-worm has been known in Europe for about fifty years, it was not until 1902 that a species indigenous to the Southern section of this country was discovered and demonstrated by Dr. Charles Wardell Stiles, Chief of the Department of Zoology in the United States Public Health and Marine Hospital Service. The following is a summary of Dr. Stiles' report on the subject:

SUMMARY OF DR. STILES' REPORT.

Convinced from theoretical deductions that hook-worm disease (uncinariasis) must be more or less common in the South, a trip was made from Washington, D. C., to Ocala, Fla., stopping at penitentiaries, mines, farms, asylums, schools, and factories, and the fact was established that the chief anæmia of the Southern rural sand districts is due to uncinariasis, while clay districts and cities are not favorable to the develpment of this disease.

In the Old World, hook-worm disease was probably known to the Egyptians nearly three thousand five hundred years ago, but its cause was not understood until about the middle of the nineteenth century, when it was shown to be due to an intestinal parasite, Agchylostoma duodenale. Until 1893 no authentic cases of this disease were recognized as such in the United States, but between 1893 and 1902 about thirty-five cases were diagnosed. In 1902 it was shown that a distinct hook-worm, Uncinaria americana, infests man in this country, and this indicated very strongly that the disease must be present, although not generally recognized. It is now established that in addition to the few cases of Old World hook-worm disease imported into the United States, we have in the South an endemic uncinariasis due to a distinct cause, Uncinaria americana. This disease has been known for years in the South, and can be traced in medical writings as far back as 1808,* but its nature was not understood. Some cases have been confused with malaria, others have been attributed to dirt-eating.

The hook-worms are about half an inch long. They live in the small intestine, where they suck blood, produce minute hemorrhages, and in all probability also produce a substance which acts as a poison. They lay eggs, which cannot develop to maturity in the intestine. These ova escape with the fæces and hatch in about twenty-four hours; the young worm sheds its skin twice, and then is ready to infect man. Infection takes place through the mouth, either by the hands soiled with larvæ or by infected food. Infection through the drinking water may possibly occur. Finally, the larvæ may enter the body through the skin and eventually reach the small intestine.

Patients may be divided into light cases, in which the symptoms are very obscure; medium cases, in which the anæmia is more or less marked, and severe cases, represented by the dwarfed, edematous, anæmic dirt-eater. Infection occurs chiefly in rural sand districts. Above the frost line the symptoms are more severe in summer than in winter, and whites appear to be more severely affected than negroes. Persons who come in contact with damp earth are more commonly infected than others; so that the disease is found chiefly among farmers, miners, and brickmakers. Severe cases are more common in women and children than in men over twenty-five years of age. Uncinariasis is a disease which occurs in groups of cases, and if one case is found in a family the chances are that other members of the same family are infected.

The testimony of patients severely infected is unreliable. Recalling that any one or more symptoms may be absent or subject to variation, it may be noted that the period of incubation (at least before the malady can be diagnosed by finding the eggs) is from four to ten weeks. Stages are not necessarily distinctly defined, but are described as (1) stage of purely local symptoms, corresponding to the light cases; (2) stage of simple anæmia, corresponding to the medium cases; and (3) dropsical stage, corresponding more or less to the severe cases. The duration of the disease after isolation from the source of infection has been traced for six years and seven months; how much longer infection will last is not established. If a patient is subject to cumulative infection, the disease may last five, ten, or even fifteen years, and in case of light infection perhaps longer.

External appearance.—In extreme cases there is a general lack of development; skin waxy white to yellow or tan; hair is found on the head, but is more or less absent from the body; breasts are undeveloped; nails white; external genitalia more or less rudimentary; face anxious, may be bloated; conjunctivæ pale; eyes more or less dry; pupil dilates readily; membranes pale according to the anæmia; teeth often irregular; tongue frequently marked with purple or brown spots; cervical pulsations prominent; thorax emaciated; heart-beats often visible; abdomen frequently with "pot-belly"; extremities emaciated, frequently edematous, and with wounds or ulcers of long standing.

Urine 1010 to 1015; in advanced cases albumen without casts; acid or alkaline.

Fæces reddish brown, contain eggs, and may contain blood.

Circulatory system.—Anæmia pronounced, according to degree and duration of infection; blood watery, with decreased red blood corpuscles and with eosinophilia; "heart disease" very commonly complained of; hæmic murmurs present; pulse 80 to 132 per minute.

Temperature.—Subnormal, normal, or to 101° to 102° F.

Respiratory system.—Breathing may be difficult, slow, or increased to as high as 30.

Muscular system.—Emaciation and great physical weakness.

Digestive system.—Appetite poor to ravenous; abnormal appetite often developed for pickles, lemons, salt, coffee, sand, clay, etc.; pain in epigastrium; constipation or diarrhœa.

Nervous system.—Headache, dizziness, nervousness, mental lassitude, and stupidity.

Genital system.—Menstruation irregular or absent; if present, it occurs chiefly in winter; there is a marked tendency to abortion.

Diagnosis.—The safest plan is to make a microscopic examination of the fæces to find the eggs; or, if fæces are placed on white blotting paper, a blood-like stain will be noticed.

Treatment.—Thymol, or male fern (or ? calomel); iron and good food.

Prognosis.—Good, if patient is not too far gone at time of treatment.

Lethality.—Not yet determined.

Prevention.—Treat all cases found and dispose of fæces.

Economically, uncinariasis is very important. It keeps children from school, decreases capacity for both physical and mental labor, and is one of the most important factors in determining the present condition of the poorer whites of the sand and pine districts of the South.

The disease is carried from the farms to the cotton mills by the mill hands, but does not spread much in the mills; nevertheless, it causes a considerable amount of anæmia among the operatives.

For the details of the work done by the Board in connection with this disease the reader is referred to the annual report of the Secretary made to the conjoint session of the Board of Health with the State Medical Society in 1904, and to the files of the Monthly Bulletin.

SMALLPOX.

For the past biennial period smallpox has been much more prevalent in the State than at any time since it made its first appearance in January, 1898. In the annual report of the Secretary of the Board for 1902-'03 a tabulated statement giving the number of counties infected, the number of cases and number of deaths according to race from the beginning to May 1, 1903, will be found. In the corresponding report for 1903-'04 similar statistics for that year are given, the total number of cases being 5,370—2,840 white and 2,530 colored—with total deaths 69: 35 and 34 respectively, according to race. Previous to this year the number of cases was much larger among the negroes and for the first time this proportion was reversed. From January 12, 1898, to May 1, 1904, there have been reported 17,105 cases with 400 deaths—among the whites, 6,740 cases with 172 deaths, and among the colored people 10,365 cases with 228 deaths.

The explanation of the practical difficulty in controlling the disease is to be found in its extreme mildness, which, together with a pronounced prejudice against vaccination among the more ignorant of the population, creates a public sentiment strongly hostile to those thorough and drastic measures which are essential to its successful control and final obliteration from the State. In view of the above facts the present outlook is for a continuance of smallpox for years to come, or until all the people have either had it or been vaccinated.

The health officers of the State having become more familiar with the disease, the demand for the State Smallpox Inspectors has greatly diminished. During the two years Dr. Harrill for the western section has visited only eight counties, viz., Buncombe, Stanly, Richmond, Ashe, Wilkes, Anson, Catawba and Caldwell; and Dr. Tayloe for the eastern section, nine, viz., Vance, Columbus, Pender, Greene, Pitt, Onslow, Camden, Beaufort and Hyde.

For details the reader is referred to the annual reports of the Secretary to the conjoint session, to be found on preceding pages.

LEGISLATION.

Two important measures having in view the better protection of the public health were enacted by the General Assembly of 1903. These were "An Act to Define the Practice of Medicine and Surgery," and "An Act to Protect Water Supplies."

The object of the former was to eliminate charlatanism of all kinds by requiring all persons offering to heal disease by any method whatsoever to prove to the satisfaction of the State by obtaining from its Board of Medical Examiners a license, thereby showing that they had acquainted themselves with the structure, functions and diseases of the human body and with those methods of healing generally accepted as the best. While materially weakened by an amendment exempting Christian Scientists, it covered all other forms of quackery. Unfortunately, however, the Supreme Court in State v. Biggs, declared it unconstitutional.

The act to protect water supplies was an amplification and improvement in many respects on an act under the same title passed by the Legislature of 1901, which it repealed. The provision empowering the State Board of Health to have the biological analyses required made in its own laboratory and to charge therefor "the sum of five dollars ($5) for each examination," has resulted in a much closer surveillance of the public water supplies than ever before, and has at the same time enabled the laboratory, with the assistance of the Agricultural Department, to keep afloat and do much valuable work. A few of the water companies have shown a disposition to evade the law or payment for the work, and an amendment to cure this trouble would be of material benefit.

In its report to the American Public Health Association at the 1901 meeting the Committee on Water Legislation placed

North Carolina with only three other States in the first class; and as the act of 1903 is a very great improvement upon former statutes, her position in that rank would seem to be assured.

The following is the act:

AN ACT TO PROTECT WATER SUPPLIES.

The General Assembly of North Carolina do enact:

SECTION 1. In the interest of the public health every person, company, municipal corporation or agency thereof selling water to the public for drinking and household purposes, shall take every reasonable precaution to protect from contamination and assure the healthfulness of such water; and any provisions in any charters heretofore granted to such persons, companies or municipal corporations in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

SEC. 2. Such water-works as derive their supply from lakes or ponds or from small streams not more than fifteen miles in length shall have made a sanitary inspection of the entire water-shed not less, under any circumstances, than once every three calendar months, and a sanitary inspection of any particular locality on said water-shed at least once in each calendar month, whenever in the opinion of the board of health of the city or town to which the water is supplied, or when there is no such local board of health, in the opinion of the county superintendent of health, or in the opinion of the State Board of Health, there is reason to apprehend the infection of the water in that particular locality. Said companies or municipal corporations shall cause to be made a sanitary inspection of any particular locality on said water-shed at least once in each week, whenever in the opinion of the board of health of the city or town to which the water is supplied, or when there is no such local board of health, in the opinion of the county superintendent of health, or in the opinion of the State Board of Health, there is special reason to apprehend the infection of the water from that particular locality by the germs of typhoid fever or cholera. The inspection of the entire water-shed as herein provided for shall include a particular examination of the premises of every inhabited house on the water-shed, and in passing from house to house a general inspection for dead bodies of animals or accumulations of filth. It is not intended that the term "entire water-shed" shall include uninhabited fields and wooded tracts that are free from suspicion. The inspection shall be made by an employee of, and at the expense of, said water company or municipal corporation, in accordance with reasonable instructions as to method, to be furnished by the Secretary of the State Board of Health. The said sanitary inspector shall give in person to the head of each household on said water-shed, or in his absence to some member of said household, the necessary directions for the proper sanitary care of his premises. It shall further be the duty of said inspector to deliver to each family residing on the water-shed such literature on pertinent sanitary subjects as may be supplied him by the municipal health officer, or by the Secretary of the State Board of Health.

SEC. 3. In case of those companies obtaining their supply of water from rivers or large creeks, having a minimum daily flow of ten million gallons, the provisions of section 2 shall be applied to the 15 miles of water-shed draining into the said river or creek next above the in-take of the water-works.

SEC. 4. Every water company, whether owned by private individuals or corporations, or by the municipality, shall have made, not less frequently than once in every three months, at its own expense, by the chemist of the State Board of Health, or such chemist as the said board may designate, a chemical analysis; and once every month at its own expense by the Biologist of the State Board of Health or such biologist as said board may designate, a bacteriological examination of a sample of its water drawn from a faucet used for drinking purposes, packed and shipped in accordance with the instructions to be furnished by the Secretary of the State Board of Health: Provided, that when the supply is from a flowing artesian well said analysis shall be made in the discretion of the Secretary of the State Board of Health.

SEC. 5. Failure on the part of any water company to comply with the requirements of sections 2, 3, and 4 shall be punished by a deduction from any charges for water against the city or town supplied, of twenty-five dollars for each and every such failure: Provided, that in no one year shall the sum of such forfeitures exceed five hundred dollars. Where the water-works are owned or operated by the city or town, failure on the part of the municipal official having in charge the management of the water-works, to comply as above, shall be a misdemeanor, and punishable by a fine of not less than ten nor more than twenty-five dollars, or by imprisonment for not less than ten nor more than thirty days: Provided further, the said official does not prove to the satisfaction of the court that in spite of reasonable effort and diligence on his part he was prevented, directly or indirectly, by his superiors from doing his duty in this respect, in which case said superior officer or officers shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and punished by a fine of not less than fifty nor more than two hundred dollars, or by imprisonment for not less than one nor more than six months.

SEC. 6. Every city or town having a public water supply shall, at its own expense, have made at least once in every three months by one of its own officials a sanitary inspection of the entire water-shed of its water supply, and it shall be the duty of the said official making such inspection to report to the mayor any violation of this act.

SEC. 7. Every person, firm or corporation residing or owning property on the water-shed of a lake, pond or stream from which a public drinking supply is obtained, shall carry out such reasonable instructions as may be furnished him in the manner set forth in section 2, or directly by the municipal health officer, or by the State Board of Health. Failure to do so shall be deemed a misdemeanor, and shall be punishable by a fine of not less than two dollars and costs nor more than twenty-five dollars and costs, or by imprisonment for not less than ten nor more than thirty days.

SEC. 8. The mayor of each city or town having a public water supply shall have concurrent jurisdiction with any justice of the peace to hear and determine all violations of this act: Provided, such violation is within the jurisdiction of the justice of the peace.

SEC. 9. As a check and guarantee of the faithful performance of the requirements laid down in the preceding sections of this act, the State Board of Health shall make or have made by its authorized agents such inspections of water-sheds and such chemical and bacteriological examinations of the public water supplies of the State as may be deemed necessary to insure their purity. Should this inspection or examination show conditions dangerous to the public health, the Secretary of the said State Board of Health shall notify the mayor, the municipal health officer and the superintendent or manager of the water-works at fault, and demand the immediate removal of said dangerous conditions. If at the end of thirty days after the service of said notice and demand, the said dangerous conditions have not been removed, to the extent that due diligence could accomplish such removal, the said Secretary shall have printed in one or more of the local newspapers a plain statement of the facts for the information and protection of the citizens using the water.

SEC. 10. Each sanitary inspector herein provided for is hereby authorized and empowered to enter upon any premises and into any building upon his respective water-shed for the purpose of making the inspection herein required.

SEC. 11. Whoever defiles, corrupts, pollutes any well, spring, drain, branch, brook or creek, or other source of public water supply used for drinking purposes, in any manner, or deposits the body of any dead animal on the water-shed of any such water supply, or allows the same to remain thereon unless the same is buried with at least two feet cover, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and fined and imprisoned in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 12. Whoever shall collect and deposit human excreta on the water-shed of any public water supply shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and punished by fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 13. No person, firm, corporation or municipality shall flow or discharge sewage into any drain, brook, creek or river from which a public drinking-water supply is taken, unless the same shall have been passed through some well known system of sewage purification approved by the State Board of Health. Any person, firm, corporation or the officer of any municipality having this work in charge, who shall violate this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and the continued flow and discharge of such sewage may be enjoined by any person.

SEC. 14. That all schools, hamlets, villages, towns or industrial settlements which are now located, or may be hereafter located on the shed of any public water supply, not provided with a sewerage system, shall provide and maintain a tub system for collecting human excrement, and provide for the removal of the same from the water-shed at least twice each week. Every person, firm, corporation or municipality violating this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and fined or imprisoned in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 15. No burying-ground or cemetery shall be established on the water-shed of any public water supply nearer than five hundred yards of the source of supply.

SEC. 16. All water companies now organized under the State laws, which may maintain public water supplies may acquire, by condemnation, such lands and rights in land and water as are necessary for the successful operation and protection of their plants, said proceedings to be the same as prescribed by chapter 49, section 1 of The Code of North Carolina.

SEC. 17. For carrying out the provisions of this act the State Board of Health is authorized and empowered to have the bacteriological examinations made as hereinbefore provided for, and to charge for the same the sum of five dollars ($5) for each examination.

SEC. 18. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

SEC. 19. That this act shall be in force from and after its ratification.

THE MONTHLY BULLETIN.

The Monthly Bulletin continues to be our most valuable means of reaching the people, and especially the medical profession. Every physician is, or should be, in a certain sense, a health officer to his own clientele, and our principal method of educating the public in hygiene is through him. The word of the family physician is far more weighty with those whose confidence he possesses and with whom he comes in frequent personal communication on all questions relating to health than anything said or written by a stranger. In order, therefore, to keep in touch with him and to keep alive his interest and secure his co-operation, the Bulletin is sent regularly to all the physicians in the State.

In addition to a monthly review of the diseases prevalent in the State and the mortuary statistics of the principal cities and towns, leading articles by the Secretary of the Board, who is its editor, including as occasion demands, direct communications to physicians, and from time to time by the bacteriologist, as well as selected articles on pertinent subjects, are printed. The folowing titles will give an idea of the scope if its work: Plague Conference, Biological Laboratories and Public Health, A Bill to be Entitled an Act to Define the Practice of Medicine and Surgery, Recent Legislation, An Act to Protect Water Supplies, The Medical License Law as Amended, Notice to Physicians, Germs and Germicides, Annual Meeting of the Board of Health and of the State Medical Society, Report of the Secretary of the North Carolina Board of Health, June 1, 1902, to June 1, 1903; Hook-worm Disease, the Hook-worm Disease in Alabama, Laboratory Notes, The Fly as a Carrier of Typhoid Fever, Consumption is Chiefly Caused by the Filthy Habit of Spitting, The Domestic Filter, Diphtheria, Extracts from the Evidence for Antitoxin, Wanted a Physician, A Case of Uncinariasis (illustrated), A New Course in General Hygiene Offered at the University, Our Medical License Law, Brief of the Attorney-General in State v. Biggs, Amendment to Medical License Law Unconstitutional, The Health Conscience—Pneumonia, The Relation of Early Diagnosis and Treatment to the Prevention of Tuberculosis, Antitoxin Again, The Adulteration of Foods and Medicines, The War Against Mosquitoes—An Appeal to Physicians, Hook-worm Disease Again, The Ethics of Eating, The Disinfection of Paper Money, Notice to Physicians, Annual Meeting of the State Medical Society and of the Board of Health, Dr. Ernest P. Foster, Dr. Abner Alexander, The Etiology of Malaria (illustrated), House Infection of Tuberculosis, Annual Report of the Secretary of the North Carolina Board of Health—1903-1904, Microbes and the Milk Supply, Compulsory Notification of Tuberculosis, The Prevention of Tuberculosis, Typhoid Fever and Drinking-water, Diphtheria, Woman's Duty Toward the Health of the Nation, A Scheme to Induce General Vaccination, The Germs of Consumption.

ARTICLES FOR THE PRESS.

TYPHOID FEVER—RULES FOR ITS PREVENTION.

(Issued by the North Carolina Board of Health).

The active agency in the causation of typhoid fever is a bacterium, the bacillus typhosus, which attacks and causes the ulceration of certain glands in the small intestine, developing therein by myriads. They are therefore to be found chiefly in the bowel discharges, although present also in the excretion of the kidneys and to some extent in the expectoration of a person sick with the disease. From one of these sources, nearly always the first named, the bacteria are transferred to the intestinal tract of a healthy person. The poison is always swallowed. The most common agencies of transfer are the drinking water, including milk infected from washing cans in polluted water, and the common house-fly, although it may be conveyed directly to the nurse by her own soiled hands, and sometimes in dust. The most important rules therefore for the prevention of the extension of the disease may be briefly stated as follows:

1. Cover immediately upon their passage the body discharges, to prevent access of flies.

2. As soon as possible thoroughly disinfect the discharges by mixing in equal quantity with them one of the following: (a) freshly-made milk of lime or "whitewash" (unslaked lime); (b) a five-per-cent. solution of carbolic acid: (c) a 1-to-1,000 solution of corrosive sublimate; (d) a 1-per-cent. solution of formaldehyde. After standing a half hour (covered all the time), the mixture should be buried (never thrown on the surface of the ground) at a distance from the well of not less than 150 feet.

3. Provide in the sick-room a wooden tub one-third full of either of the three last-named solutions, and drop therein as soon as removed everything in the way of body or bed clothing, handkerchiefs, towels, etc., that have come in contact with the patient, and keep them submerged until they be boiled, washed and dried in the sun.

4. All remnants of food that may for any reason be carried into the sick-room must be burned.

5. The nurse should wash her hands and dip them into one of the solutions, preferably corrosive sublimate, after every "changing" of the patient. She should never draw water from the family well unless a pump is used. In case it should be absolutely necessary she should disinfect her hands as above before doing so.

6. The soiled linen of the patient should never be washed at or near the well or spring. The greatest care should be observed to prevent the drainage or seepage through the soil into the well or spring from accumulations of filth of all kinds. As soon as a case of typhoid fever appears in a family all drinking water should be boiled until a report on the same can be obtained from the State Biologist, the family physician making application to the Secretary of the Board of Health for permit and sterilized bottle.

7. As the germ is present in the intestine in the preliminary stages and for several weeks after convalescence is established and the patient practically well, extra care of surface privies should be observed. Every evacuation should be immediately and completely covered with lime or dry powdered earth.

Summary.—Prompt disinfection of all discharges from the body of the patient; protection of the same against flies; special care as to the drinking water; scrupulous cleanliness.

To the Profession.—As the people cannot be reached except through the medical attendant, we earnestly beg all physicians having cases of typhoid fever under their care to insist upon the strict observance of the above simple rules. Printed copies of the same will be furnished in quantity upon request.

MOSQUITOES AND MALARIA.

The most prevalent disease in North Carolina, certainly from now until frost, is malarial fever in one form or another. It is by no means confined to the low-lying Eastern section of the State, but is quite abundant in many localities in the hill country, having been reported even from Cherokee.

By recent scientific investigations the cause of the fever has been shown to be a microscopic animal known as the plasmodium malariæ or hem-amœba vivax, which feeds upon the red corpuscles of the blood—hence the pallor of persons suffering from chronic malaria. The development of this little parasite in the blood is as follows: One of the spores, or baby germs, so to speak, enters a red corpuscle and, feeding on its contents, grows until at the end of twenty-four hours it has become nearly as large as the corpuscle. It then, by a process known as segmentation, splits up into a dozen or more little spores again, which for a short time are free in the blood and unattached to the corpuscles. It is just as the segmentation occurs that the chill comes on, which explains the periodic recurrence of the chill every twenty-four hours, and as it has been found that quinine is most effective in killing the germs while they are free in the blood and not buried in the substance of the corpuscles, the best time to give quinine is just before the chill is expected.

The method of the introduction of the malarial poison, the plasmodium, certainly the chief method, has been demonstrated beyond all question to be the sting of a certain variety of mosquito known as anopheles, the common mosquito, which while more abundant is innocent as a carrier of disease, being known as culex. The latter species will breed in still water of any kind, no matter how pure, but the former, our enemy, will only breed in stagnant pools in which there is a certain amount of vegetable matter, especially if there are no fish, such as top minnows or sun-perch, which feed upon the larvæ or wiggletails. This explains the fact that malaria is much more abundant after freshets, in the course of which the stream, getting out of its banks, washes holes in the ground—and, speedily falling, leaves there stagnant pools with few or no fish in them. Mosquitoes are very much more abundant this exceptional year of freshets than usual. It also explains the danger of brick holes.

The larvæ, or wiggletails, as we generally call them, are the young mosquitoes. Although they live in the water from the time they are hatched from the eggs which were laid on the surface until they reach maturity, they cannot live without air—they must breathe Contrary to the general rule, they breathe "wrong end foremost"—through a long breathing tube which springs from the body near the tail and which they stick out of the top of the water when they want air. The bearing of this arrangement on their destruction will appear later.

There is a popular misapprehension in regard to the movement of mosquitoes. The general impression is that they are carried by the wind, and people at the sea-side say that a land breeze brings mosquitoes. It is a fact that they are more abundant when the breeze is from the land or in a calm, but according to those who know best the fact probably is not that they are blown from the swamps to landward, but that they simply come out again from the trees and shrubbery and the lea side of houses where they had taken refuge from the strong sea breeze which was too rough for their fragile bodies. With rare exceptions they travel, it is said, seldom more than a mile, and generally not so far. When one is troubled with mosquitoes a careful search will almost always reveal stagnant water in the near vicinity. The destruction of mosquitoes and the consequent prevention of malaria is accomplished in two ways: First and best, by the thorough drainage of all stagnant pools of water, and second, by keeping the surface of such pools covered with petroleum, what is known as light fuel oil, or even the crude petroleum being better and cheaper than ordinary kerosene. The film of oil prevents the larvæ from breathing and smothers them. The quantity necessary is one ounce or two tablespoonfuls to every fifteen square feet of surface, repeated every two weeks. This oil method was employed with great success last year by the city of Winchester, Va., and our own town of Tarboro has recently shown a most commendable spirit of enterprise in adopting it. Some care and a little expense in securing protection against mosquitoes and in providing a supply of pure drinking water will practically insure against malaria.

To those interested in this subject I cordially commend a very interesting and valuable book on mosquitoes written in popular and entertaining style by Dr. L. O. Howard, the Chief Entomologist of the United States, and published by McClure, Phillips & Co., New York, at a cost of $1.64, postpaid.

VITAL STATISTICS.

As explained in previous reports, our vital statistics are necessarily partial and incomplete owing to the general character of our population, it being chiefly rural, with one-third of the whole negroes. We have made no attempt, therefore, to collect vital statistics except from cities and towns.

In 1903 twenty-seven cities and towns with an aggregate population of 155,700—91,250 white and 64,450 colored—reported, the average death-rate being 18.3 per thousand, 14.3 for the whites and 23.9 for the colored race.

In 1904 twenty-eight, with an aggregate population of 173,300—101,700 white, 71,600 colored—reported. The total death-rate was 20.0, 15.2 for the whites and 26.9 for the colored.

In round numbers the death-rate for the colored race was about ten per thousand more than for the white race. Whether this means that the increase of the colored population is slower than that of the white, it is impossible to say, because we have no record of births. Our impression, however, in the absence of complete and reliable records, is that the negroes are more prolific than the whites, and therefore in all probability the proportion between the races remains about the same, at least so far as natural increase is concerned.

The scourge of the colored race remains tuberculosis, the death-rate from this disease during the past two years being: In 1903, for the whites, one in 10.26 of all deaths, or 1 to 710 of the population; for the colored, one in 6.46, or 1 to 270. In 1904 it remained much the same: for the whites, 1 in 9.46 of all deaths, or 1 to every 624 of the population; for the colored, 1 in 6.31 and 1 to 234 respectively. To put it in another way: the death-rate from consumption in the two races is as 1 is to 2.6. With slight variation this proportion has been quite constant for years.

During the present biennial period, 1903-'04, there has been a material decrease in the death-rate from both typhoid and malarial fevers in both races, the latter, however, being proportionately much more fatal to the colored race than the white. In previous reports we have attempted to explain this fact, which is contrary to the usually accepted theory that the negro is less susceptible to malaria than the white man.

For details the reader is respectfully referred to the tables which follow:

PRESIDENT'S REPORT.

To His Excellency, CHARLES B. AYCOCK, Governor of North Carolina:

In behalf of the Board of Directors of the North Carolina Institution for the Education of the Deaf and Dumb and the Blind, I have the honor to submit the report of the officers, showing in detail the condition of the various departments and of the finances of the Institutions for the two years ending December, 1, 1904.

It is with great pleasure to be able to report that there is absolutely no debt upon the Institution. In order to avoid debt it has required very careful management to close the year within the limits of our income. A number of pressing demands for much-needed improvements have been compelled to wait until another year. During the time there has been constructed a covered way between the two buildings, which is of great benefit to the students. The deep wells referred to in our last report have been fully completed, and continue to give satisfactory results in quantity and quality of pure water.

A detailed statement will be found in the reports of the Principal and the Steward. The reports of the Physicians give full information regarding the health and condition of the pupils and the needs of their departments.

Monthly meetings of the Directors have been held with regularity for discussing the affairs of the Institution, and a careful supervision has been maintained. The terms of Prof. Hugh Morson and W. N. Jones having expired, James D. Moore, of Gastonia, and James G. Boylin, of Wadesboro, were appointed, and in place of William Boylan and B. S. Franklin, resigned, Dr. J. L. McMillan, of Red Springs, and J. M. Jones, of Person county, were appointed.

The terms of the following Directors will expire on March 1, 1905; C. B. Edwards, Joseph E. Pogue, I. M. Procter, Dr. G. M. Bell, Joseph T. Broughton, Dr. J. L. McMillan and George Allen. The Directors are making every effort to enlarge the industrial training of the students, and to make the best use possible of the gymnasium. We are pleased to report continued success in both. The teachers are doing faithful and successful work in their several departments. The present attendance is the largest in the history of the institution, the total enrollment being 350. This is the result of personal efforts on the part of the Principal, who has visited nearly every portion of the State with direct appeals to the parents to send the children.

The Principal has given a detailed statement of the most pressing needs of the Institutions, which is fully endorsed by the Directors. Owing to circumstances, the Legislature failed to make any appropriation for improvements and betterments at its last session, and it was found impossible to spare any portion of the support fund for this purpose. We have, however, lived within our income.

The Directors realize that they are the servants of the State, and they have no disposition either to complain or to dictate to the members of the Legislature. Yet, in justice to the children that you have seen fit to commit to our charge, we would most respectfully ask your careful attention to the statements made by our Principal, also by the Physicians of the Institution, regarding the needed improvements for the protection and comfort of the unfortunate children; and if possible, that you will see fit to make a suitable appropriation for the purpose.

GEORGE ALLEN,
President of the Board of Directors.

PRINCIPAL'S REPORT

To the Board of Directors of the North Carolina Institution for the Education of the Deaf and Dumb and the Blind:

GENTLEMEN:—Another mile-stone is passed in the progress of our school. In many respects it has been one of the most satisfactory periods in our history. The attendance has been larger than ever before, the health record good, the eagerness with which the students have applied themselves encouraging, the faithfulness and efficiency of the teachers and officers as a whole commendable, the appliances improved and the indications of a healthy growth inspiring. The last General Assembly was liberal as to our maintenance fund, and we have managed, notwithstanding the considerable rise in the prices of provisions and the increased attendance, by the exercise of the strictest economy, to live within the annual appropriation. The already high standard of the school has been maintained, and we trust some considerable advancement has been made.

Our school is still one of the four largest of its kind in the nation, and the department for the colored race is the largest, the very best and the best equipped of its kind to be found. We may still claim that there are more deaf and blind children receiving an education in North Carolina, in proportion to the population, than in any other State in the Union. Our State will not suffer in comparison with any other State in her care for these two classes of our children.

Since the last report constant, systematic and vigorous efforts have been put forth to secure the attendance of every eligible child within our borders. The statistics given below show the result:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| There were present December 1, 1902 | | 331 |
| We have admitted during the two years new students | 117 | |
| Former students re-admitted | 20 | |
| Total increase for the two years | | 137 |
| Total enrollment for the two years | | 468 |
| The enrollment for the present session alone has reached | | 350 |
| the largest number ever present during any one whole year. | | |
| There have been graduated during the two years | 6 | |
| Died during the two years (one white and one colored) | 2 | |
| Suspended for misconduct | 9 | |
| Time expired | 12 | |
| Voluntarily remained at home | 61 | |
| Relieved by the opthalmologists | 35 | |
| Returned home as feeble-minded | 9 | |
| | | 134 |
| Present December 1, 1904 | | 334 |

This is our best record for attendance, the average attendance being far greater for the past two years than formerly; but it is far from what it should be. We count not ourselves "to have attained." There are more than one hundred other children in North Carolina, of whom we have information, who need the advantages of the school, oh, so much, possibly more than any yet received; but with all our efforts we have been unable to reach them. There can be no doubt but that there are quite a number about whom we have not yet heard. So that it is safe to conclude that considerably more than one hundred children—and among them the most needy—have never come to our school. With such ample provision as the State has made for their education, and the doors of the school wide open to receive them, what shall be done to rescue these children from the thraldom of ignorance, the desolation of darkness and the curse of dependence?

NOT AN ASYLUM.

We are still pleading with the public against being called an asylum. Many thoughtless intelligent folks will persist in so regarding us. We are a part of the great public school system of the State, doing the same kind of work as that done in the public schools, the high schools, the University, the A. & M. College and the Normal College—not so extensive in some directions; more extensive in others. Why, then, call our school an asylum?

METHODS.

There is nothing new to write upon this subject. The experience of the best schools has proved that what is known as the "combined system"—any method—all methods, so as to meet the needs of every child committed to our care—is the best. In fact, the method means but little, unless there is the honest, earnest, faithful, energetic, enthusiastic teacher behind it. That kind of teacher will succeed, whatever the method. Without these qualifications no method or system will amount to much.

The New York Point and the Line Letter print have proved most satisfactory to us in the instruction of our blind students. After many years' experience and observation we see no good reason to change. There is still the deplorable condition confronting us that all our schools cannot see alike, will not lay aside prejudice and adopt some one system of point writing and printing.

IMPROVEMENTS.

The last General Assembly failed to provide any fund with which to make some sorely needed repairs and improvements. On this account we have been very seriously hampered in our operations these years. The only improvements which we have been able to effect of a material character have been secured through the income from our mechanical and industrial departments, viz.: A covered way between the two main buildings, to prevent the exposure of the students, especially the girls, in passing from building to building, in the discharge of their daily duties; and the construction of a small kitchen for the Principal's family. This condition leaves us still battling with the following

GREAT NEEDS.

For four years we have been asking for most of the items named below. They have been most seriously needed. They have become a necessity for the economical, judicious, comfortable conduct of the affairs of the school. This is so apparent as to make it necessary only to refer to these things.

The basement rooms of the main buildings are in such condition as to be a constant menace to the health of the student body. Half-decayed floors, old exposed sewer pipes, with the leaking that has come from them in the years agone, are to be found in some of these rooms. One can easily see the danger to those occupying the rooms immediately over them. We are in constant dread of some such epidemic as visited one of our State institutions a few years ago. It is desired to tear these old floors out, remove the loose earth therein, and replace them with neat cement floors. This would give us sanitary play-rooms for our little girls and store-rooms for vegetables, neither of which we now have, besides removing the menace to the health and life of our students. It seems a great pity to permit such valuable space to be rendered useless and actually dangerous, when a very small expense would make them so useful, and make it unnecessary to use our school-rooms for play-rooms and sitting rooms.

It seems impossible to go longer without new roofs for the kitchen and laundry, and an enlargement of the latter. Two small rooms have been used for laundry purposes for nearly forty years, with no enlargement to meet the demands created by the greatly increased attendance. The equipment is of the crudest possible kind. To add to the emergency, the floor of the upper room has given way and is now simply propped up with scantling to protect the lives of the laun-dresses. We cannot afford to go longer in this condition. Surely no legislator will be willing to ask us to do so.

The laundry at the colored department also needs enlarging and should be supplied with some machinery. All the work in this department has to be done by hand—a very expensive process.

For four years the city authorities have been urging us to pave around the premises at both departments. Being a State institution, it seems rather unsuitable for the sidewalks in front of our premises to remain unpaved, while the private citizens next to us are required to pave theirs. There is one side of Caswell Square paved. The other three sides are still unpaved. There is not an inch of paving at the colored department, though it is located upon one of the principal thoroughfares leading out of the city.

Every other institution in the State is provided with its own electric lighting plant, cold storage and sick wards. These are items which would add not only to the comfort of the school, but also to the economical administration of its affairs. Our lighting cost us from December, 1902, to December, 1903, the sum of $1,181.68. This had to come out of our maintenance fund.

With no cold storage plant we have to pay retail prices for all our meat, for the reason that we have no place to store it and preserve it; nor any provision for keeping our milk and butter. The price of meats alone has become a great consideration. The average business man can see at a glance the difference to us in the retail and wholesale prices of meat, when he knows that our bills amount to nearly three hundred dollars per month, as matters now stand. Information from the Kentucky School for the Deaf, where they have recently installed a cold-storage plant, is that they now save at least one-third of the former amount paid. Think of what we might save in this way!

To think of going longer without some provision for taking care of the sick seems little short of criminal. Think of the calamity which would befall us in case of an epidemic of some contagious or infectious disease! By reference to the report of our own physician, as well as to the reports of the State Board of Health and the State Board of Public Charities, you will see this necessity emphasized.

The fence around Caswell Square is in a dilapidated condition. It is quite old, is decaying very rapidly and needs immediate attention. There is no fence at all around the boys' premises at the colored school.

Two more years have passed and our funds have not permitted us to paint the interior of our buildings. It has been something like fifteen years or more since the interior of any of the older buildings received any paint.

If fire should occur, it is likely that many of the valuable papers and books of the institution would be destroyed, since there is no storage vault in which to keep them.

There is some plumbing in the main building at the white department and in the girls' building at the colored which demands serious and prompt attention. With defective plumbing one need not be told the menace to the health of a household.

Our hundred-acre farm is still unstocked and uncultivated for lack of funds for these purposes and the erection of a small cottage. This might be made a source of considerable revenue to the school, besides providing instruction to a number of our colored deaf boys, quite a number of whom will most naturally spend their lives upon farms.

From the best information at hand the cost of these improvements will be as follows:

|---|---|
| For lighting plant | $ 7,500.00 |
| For cold storage | 3,500.00 |
| For sick wards | 2,500.00 |
| For cement floors | 2,000.00 |
| For roofs for kitchen and laundry, with enlargement | 2,500.00 |
| For paving at both schools | 1,500.00 |
| For fire-proof vault | 1,000.00 |
| For equipping the farm | 1,000.00 |
| For fencing at both departments | 1,000.00 |
| For plumbing in main buildings | 500.00 |

INDUSTRIAL FEATURES.

These departments of our school are receiving constantly more attention. Most of the garments worn by our girls are made in our sewing rooms, including some of the commencement dresses. The dress-making department and the cooking school at the colored institution have made very commendable progress. The fancy work done at both schools by the girls is an increasing source of satisfaction to the management and of wonder to the public. Two of our totally blind girls last vacation sold during one day at Jackson Springs $21 worth of articles which they had made, the accumulation of the work of several weeks. And one of our negro girls, totally blind, says that she made $26 during her vacation, another $15, another $12, still another $10, while a number of others made smaller amounts.

The broom and mattress shop is a source of revenue to the school, besides providing both schools with all the brooms and mattresses used. By reference to the Steward's report, it will be seen that there is a balance in favor of the shop of quite a neat sum.

There are several of the colored deaf boys who are already creditable carpenters, and the shoe shop is doing very satisfactory work. The sloyd department is a useful and helpful feature of our school life.

AWARDS OF MERIT.

There are in the office of the Principal four gold medals which have been awarded the school by the authorities of our State Fair, one each year for the past four years; and there is still another yet to come for the present year's exhibit. These are for the largest and best exhibits, and our work is placed in direct competition with that of the general public. Besides these medals, a number of the students have won individual first premiums. Much interest clusters around our band-stand at the Fair, and the music rendered by our blind boys' band has become quite a feature of the occasion.

The exhibits made by the colored department at the Colored Fair took some twenty-five premiums, the articles being placed in competition with those of the colored schools and colleges of the State.

SUGGESTIONS.

For eight years your Principal has been calling attention to the crying need in the State of a school for feeble-minded children and a reformatory for youthful criminals. One may find in the report of this school issued six years ago the following appeal:

> My travels through the State and my labors here have convinced me that there are at least two great needs from which our State is suffering—a school for feeble-minded children and a reformatory for youthful criminals. Statisticians tell us that there are about two deaf children of school age to one blind child, and two feeble-minded children to one deaf. If this be true, what an appalling situation! We have more than two hundred blind children in school. I have the names of more than one hundred and fifty others who should be here, and still other names come to me constantly. I am convinced that there are from four hundred and fifty to five hundred blind children in North Carolina who need the care and training which can alone be had here. Then there must be from eight hundred to one thousand deaf children of school age in the State, and from fifteen hundred to two thousand imbeciles, and not a single school where they can be received. Is our State doing its duty to itself not to provide an education and training for these children? There are applications coming to this institution annually from parents of such children. I know some who are in alms-houses.

A few days ago, while at the union depot, I observed a sheriff coming in with a mere lad in irons. Upon inquiry, I learned that he was twelve years of age and had been convicted of horse-stealing three times. A walk through our State's Prison will make one's heart bleed.

A recent visit to the admirable Industrial School and the School for Feeble-minded Children in the State of Ohio convinced me of the crying need that our good old State should also take steps in this direction, and hence this most respectful suggestion to our legislators.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.

And, now, gentlemen, to you, each and all, are due the grateful thanks of the Principal especially, and of the whole school, as well as of the State at large. You have given the work of the Institution the same unstinted attention and care that you would have given your own private business, and without one cent's remuneration. In fact, one of your number has served upon the Board for these years, notwithstanding a recent law passed by the General Assembly deprived his business house of its rightful share of the patronage naturally coming from the Institution, thus cutting the house out of what legitimately belonged to it in the trade of the Institution. Many times you have actually left your own business to answer the call here. The interest you have shown has been an inspiration to all and a great benediction to the student body here gathered. To your untiring efforts and earnest zeal are due the progress, the efficiency and the present high standing of our school.

Through your kindness and consideration the Principal has been privileged to attend the sessions of the American Association of Instructors of the Blind and the Conference of Superintendents and Principals of American Schools for the Deaf, both of which were very largely attended and proved to be of uncommon interest and benefit.

We feel profoundly grateful, too, to our "educational Governor," Hon. Charles B. Aycock, for the interest he has taken in the progress and development of the school. Nor would we forget to mention the kindly favors shown us by the other State officials, all of whom have rendered us important service.

The railroads of the State have continued their generosity to students and officers alike, in granting reduced rates to and from their homes. Without this concession many of our children might never have received the benefits of an education.

Nearly all the schools for the deaf in America print periodically papers which give local and professional information of great value to their own constituents and to the profession at large. Most of these papers are sent us regularly, and their visits are both interesting and helpful. The fact that we have no paper with which to exchange renders the courtesy the more highly appreciated. Several of our State papers also come to us gratuitously.

CONCLUSION.

Detailed statements of the finances, the health record, the music department, &c., will be found in the reports of the officers and teachers directly in charge of these departments, which are hereto attached.

PHYSICIANS' REPORTS.

RALEIGH, N. C., December 1, 1904.

To the President and Board of Directors of the North Carolina Institution for the Education of the Deaf and Dumb and the Blind:

GENTLEMEN:—I have the honor to herewith transmit my report for the last two years, from December 1, 1902, to December 1, 1904.

At the department for the whites there has been, since my last biennial report, a great many minor ailments and several severe ones, as well as a number of surgical cases—such as accidents, etc.—which require my services.

Catarrhal troubles, bronchitis and tonsilitis during the sessions of 1902-'03, 1903-'04 and the present term, and bowel troubles at the close of the session of 1902-'03 were very prevalent.

At the latter part of the session of 1902-'03 an epidemic of catarrhal fever, with strong pneumonial tendencies, prevailed. A great many were affected and five were critically sick.

We have also had a dozen cases of violent ptomaine poisoning in December, 1903; 1 case of diphtheria in December, 1903; 1 case of chickenpox in February, 1903; 1 case of appendicitis in May, 1903; and pneumonia, 2 cases in May, 1903; 2 cases in June, 1903, and 1 case in March, 1904; and typhoid fever, 1 case in October, 1904.

In the way of accidents of much importance, 1 case of badly fractured leg in March, 1903, and 1 case of fractured forearm in March, 1904—both resulting from falls.

We have had only one death. On May 12, 1903, Albert Cates died, after a few days' illness of acute catarrh of the stomach, having been confined to the bed for nearly eight weeks with a badly fractured leg.

The general good health enjoyed by the pupils can, in my opinion, be accounted for in part not only by the careful supervision exercised over them, the increased dormitory space and improved sanitary arrangements, but also by their improved physical development, due to the gymnasium and physical culture exercise. Anything, therefore, that tends to physical development, especially of the blind, meets my hearty approbation, and I hope you will give all the aid and encouragement in this direction in your power.

So far, we have been peculiarly fortunate in preventing the spread of contagious and infectious diseases, but at the same time badly handicapped by no provision having been made for the proper quarantine and isolation of such cases. We have no right to expect such good fortune in the future. In fact, we are not warranted in continuing to run such a risk. In the way of recommendations, I cannot, therefore, do better than again quote the following from my report for 1898 to 1900, which was published in the report of this Institution for that period:

> There is one thing I have urged for years, in fact ever since my connection with the institution, and that is the great need of a hospital or infirmary, special provision being made for the isolation and treatment of contagious and infectious diseases, especially diphtheria and scarlet fever. The necessity for such a provision is too apparent to need any argument here. A building separate and distinct from the main building is of course to be most desired, but, failing in this, a very good substitute may be had as follows: There are five rooms on the fourth floor of the tower in the center of the building—separated and isolated from the remainder of the building—which could be utilized for this purpose by the expenditure of a small amount of money for bath-rooms, water-closets, etc. The increased room for dormitories, etc., which we have by the completion of the new building makes this plan feasible.

I would also suggest the replacing of the old floors in the basement of the main building with cement and the building of a covered way from the boys' dormitory to the dining-room and over the bridge leading from the main building to the sloyd room over the kitchen, as a protection to the pupils in bad weather.

The food furnished the pupils is not only ample in quantity, good in quality and sufficient in variety, but is also well cooked and served.

Respectfully submitted,

HUBERT HAYWOOD, M. D.,
Physician to the Department for the Whites.

RALEIGH, N. C., December 1, 1904.

To the President and Board of Directors of the North Carolina Institution for the Education of the Deaf and Dumb and the Blind:

GENTLEMEN:—I have the honor herewith to transmit to you my biennial report as physician for the colored department of this Institution for the two years ending December 1, 1904. During these two years I have treated quite a large number of cases of general sickness and some few of a surgical nature. In the latter part of December of the session of 1902-1903 we had the appearance of an epidemic of whooping-cough, which went pretty generally through the whole school, and especially the younger of the girl children; and in January and March of the same session we had three or four cases of pneumonia, one of typhoid fever and one of tuberculosis.

During the month of February, 1903, I treated three or four cases of glandular abscess of the neck and one case of hemiplegia. In April, 1903, by request of her parents, an operation for the cure of hare-lip was performed on Carrie Spencer, one of the deaf girls. This operation was performed at the Leonard Hospital by Dr. A. W. Knox of this city. It was a very successful operation and gave to the girl a perfectly natural lip.

In the latter part of this same month we had one case of typhoid fever. In the early part of the session of 1903-1904 I treated several cases of glandular troubles, one of typhoid fever and several of tonsilitis.

In October, 1903, one little girl, Lillie Rogers, contracted typhoid fever, and in the stage of convalescence it was complicated with tuberculosis. She died of it, November 28, 1903. I am very glad to report to you, gentlemen, that although we have had a great deal of sickness, this is the only death that has occurred in the school during these two years.

In February, 1904, we had an epidemic of influenza, there being more than thirty cases of it, each of which, however, had a very satisfactory recovery.

In April of the same year we had one case of pneumonia and three of German measles. During the year 1904, up to December 1st, we have had quite an epidemic of measles in both the department for the girls and that for the boys. At one and the same time we had fifteen girls together in one small room and all afflicted with measles. And I wish at this point, gentlemen, to emphasize the fact that with our limited space and crowded condition in this department it is almost utterly impossible to prevent the spread of this and other contagious or infectious diseases among the pupils. If there is any one thing needed more than another in this department it is a special room, sufficiently large, where pupils suffering with contagious diseases can be isolated and treated separate and apart from the other sick pupils. It is only in this way that we can successfully combat the fearful ravages of such diseases as measles, scarlet fever, diphtheria and whooping-cough, to all of which this class of unfortunates is so much susceptible.

During the month of October, 1904, one little girl, Maggie Murphy, was severely and almost fatally burned in the face, on the head, neck and other parts of her body. She was accidentally scalded by one of the other girls who was carrying a pan of hot water. She was sent to the Leonard Hospital for treatment and is now improving rapidly.

The pupils have plenty of food, a sufficient variety, and it is very well prepared.

The buildings and grounds are kept clean, and the sanitary condition of the Institution is good.

Respectfully submitted,

M. D. BOWEN, M. D.

REPORT OF MUSIC DEPARTMENT.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT, INSTITUTION D., D. AND B.,

RALEIGH, N. C., November 14, 1904.

John E. Ray, Principal:

SIR:—Since the last biennial report of this department no material change has been made in the general scope or method of the instruction given. Pains have been taken to keep the work, as far as the means at our disposal would allow, fully abreast of the best work done in any similar institution, and, thanks to the earnest co-operation of all the teachers, very gratifying results have been secured.

The work of the class in piano tuning has been made more systematic and thorough. The playing of the band has been much improved. Ample provision is made for training in vocal music by our four graded singing classes and special lessons in voice culture to individual pupils. In addition, systematic instruction is given in piano playing, musical notation, history, form, harmony, acoustics and other branches of music study, our aim being to make as many as possible of our pupils self-supporting.

Music teaching, piano tuning, public recitals, etc., are the most profitable employments open to the blind, and a good proportion of our graduates succeed in earning a livelihood by one or more of these. It should be understood, however, that our graduates are in no way exempt from the merciless competition of the times, and that their only chance of success lies in the thoroughness of their training and in the possession of unusual powers of application and endurance.

While our means of giving the necessary training have steadily improved from year to year, still for a number of years we have lacked one very important appliance, namely, a good pipe-organ. Indeed, we have never had an instrument of this kind adequate to our needs. The position of church organist is a very desirable one for a blind musician—one which he can fill most acceptably, as such men as Wood of Philadelphia, Bischof of Washington City, Hollins of Edinburgh, and others, have fully demonstrated. It affords him an assured income, brings him into contact with the best people of the community and gives constant public evidence of his musical ability. The demand for competent organists is rapidly growing in the State, and it is important that we prepare our pupils to profit by the demand.

An organ of adequate size and quality would cost about three thousand dollars. I shall be glad to draw up a detailed scheme of such an instrument whenever desired.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN A. SIMPSON,
Director of Music.

---

RALEIGH, N. C., November 10, 1904.

Mr. John E. Ray, Principal:

DEAR SIR:—I am glad to report that the progress made by the pupils in the music department during the past two years has been very satisfactory. We now have in the Music Department forty-two pupils, who receive lessons on the piano, organ and violin. Instruction is also given in musical history and general musical information and harmony. Every pupil in the blind department is taught class singing every day, and our chorus work has been a special feature of the school and has received much favorable comment by the public.

As a rule, our pupils make good progress in music, and many are supporting themselves by their music, both teaching and playing, and quite a number are playing the organ in the various churches throughout the State.

We teach both modern and classic music. Our motto is to keep up with the spirit of the times, while at the same time not neglecting the classics.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE D. MEARES,

REPORT OF OPHTHALMOLOGISTS.

RALEIGH, N. C., November 26, 1904.

The Board of Directors, School for the Deaf and Blind:

GENTLEMEN:—During the past biennial period we have rendered service in the line of our specialty to the pupils of the school whenever called upon. These services have consisted in:

1. The examination of the eyes of all new pupils, testing the vision of those with sight enough to justify it and correcting the errors in refraction with glasses in those requiring it. A few were found to possess perfect sight, while quite a large number were found to have, with the aid of glasses, sufficient vision to enable them to obtain a common school education with very much more ease by the sense of sight than by the sense of touch. In this way the school has been relieved of the care of many children.

2. Medical treatment for inflamed and painful eyes.

3. Surgical operations for the relief of suffering by the removal of totally lost and painful eyes, and for the restoration of sight. The results from the operations for cataract and for making an artificial pupil have varied from a very decided improvement in vision to almost perfect sight.

In a few instances we have found pupils suffering from trachoma, or granular lids, a highly contagious, quite painful and most obstinate chronic disease, and have advised their return home to prevent the infection of the other pupils.

According to our observation the number coming to the school with sight too good to be entitled to its benefits, thereby putting the State to unnecessary traveling expenses, is increasing. To avoid this we would respectfully suggest that an arrangement be made by which some test of vision can be made before they leave home and that the results of this test be sent up with their application.

We desire to acknowledge the unvarying courtesy and assistance of the Principal and the matrons.

Respectfully submitted,

LEWIS & BATTLE,
Ophthalmologists.

RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR THE ADMISSION OF STUDENTS.

The North Carolina Institution for the Education of the Deaf and Dumb and the Blind is located at Raleigh, the Capital of the State. It is strictly an educational institution, having for its object the moral, intellectual, industrial and physical training of the young blind and colored deaf of both sexes, residing in the State, and is, therefore, neither a house of refuge for the aged and helpless nor a hospital for the treatment of disease.

The Institution consists of two departments—the white and colored. The two classes are in separate buildings, situated a distance of a mile apart; still each enjoys equal privileges and advantages with the other, being, as they are, under the same Principal and Board of Directors.

The arrangement of the Institution is such as to secure the separation of the male and female pupils, except in the work of the school-rooms, where they are under the supervision of their teachers

The officers and teachers of the Institution recognize the fact that a high and holy responsibility is resting upon them, and at all times endeavor to exercise the same tender watch-care and kindness towards the pupils committed to them as they would wish their own children to have, if they were in the same condition. Special attention is paid to the cleanliness of their rooms and the wholesomeness of their food; and every pupil of the Institution is required to bathe at least once a week in rooms prepared and arranged expressly for that purpose.

Each pupil in the Institution is required to work three hours per day. The trades taught the males are mattress-making, broom-making, chair-seating, piano tuning and repairing; and shoe-making and mending, dairying and gardening for the deaf. The girls are required to sew, knit and to do the mending necessary for themselves and the male pupils, and are also instructed in bead work and fancy work.

The school year commences in September in each year, and continues for ten school months, leaving the vacation during the warm season.

Applicants who are under six or over twenty-one years of age are not admitted.

No person of imbecile or unsound mind, of confirmed immoral character; or incapacitated by physical infirmity for useful instruction will be knowingly received into the Institution; and in case any pupil shall, after a fair trial, prove incompetent for useful instruction, or wilfully and persistently disobedient to the regulations of the Institution, such pupil will be thereupon discharged.

All are required to come provided with an adequate supply of good, comfortable clothing, embracing suitable articles for both summer and winter wear, in such quantities as to admit of the necessary change for washing and repairing, the whole to be neatly packed in a good trunk with a good lock and key.

Each article of clothing should be distinctly marked with the owner's name, in order to prevent confusion or loss, and must be sent in good order and condition, not only upon the entrance of the pupil, but also at each subsequent return from home after the vacation.

The course of study pursued at the Institution embraces all the English branches, consisting of spelling, reading, writing, arithmetic, higher mathematics, geography, grammar, the sciences, kindergarten training, and vocal and instrumental music.

Pupils from this State are admitted to all the privileges of the Institution, upon compliance with the rules, free of charge, being provided with board, washing, fuel, tuition, books, medical attendance and everything necessary except clothing, shoes and traveling expenses.

Where the parents are unable to furnish clothing and shoes, or where the child is without living parents, the county in which such child lives must do so, in which case twenty dollars will be the amount so required, payable invariably in advance. From this rule there will be no variation.

All letters to pupils should be addressed to the care of the Principal of the Institution, in order to insure their prompt delivery.

Persons desiring to procure the admission of pupils should apply, by letter or otherwise, to the Principal of the Institution for instructions as to the manner of procedure, and no pupil should be sent to the Institution until such instructions have been fully complied with. It is to the interest both of the pupils and the Institution that they should enter at the beginning of the session, and therefore such rule must be observed.

A special appeal is made to any one seeing this circular, and knowing the whereabouts of any blind or deaf colored person of the proper age to become a pupil of the Institution, to inform the Principal of the name and post-office address of the said person and his or her parent or guardian. This is requested, even though the parents may be unwilling to allow their children to attend school. Pupils are not allowed to go home Christmas.

The use of tobacco in any form, and of spirituous liquors as a beverage, by the pupils, is strictly prohibited. Parents are urged to use their utmost endeavors to prevent the formation of these habits by their children before they come to school and their practice during the vacation.

Parents and friends of the pupils cannot be entertained at the Institution over night.

We have an arrangement by which we can obtain railroad tickets for pupils at reduced rates.

For further information, address the Principal of the Institution.

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL.

His Excellency, CHARLES B. AYCOCK, Governor.

SIR:—I herewith present my biennial report of the work of the Department of Agriculture, and respectfully request that you have it transmitted to the General Assembly.

Very respectfully,

S. L. PATTERSON,
Commissioner.

Raleigh, N. C., January 4, 1905.

REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONER OF AGRICULTURE.

Sir:—The Constitution of North Carolina provides: Article 3, section 17, that "The General Assembly shall establish a Department of Agriculture, Immigration and Statistics, under such regulations as may best promote the agricultural interests of the State, and shall enact laws for the adequate protection and encouragement of sheep husbandry"—(Amended Constitution, 1875).

In obedience to this requirement the Legislature first succeeding, in 1877, in the beginning of Governor Vance's administration, established the Department of Agriculture, placing it under control and supervision of a Board comprised of the Governor, who was ex officio chairman, the State Geologist, the Master of the State Grange Patrons of Husbandry, the President of the State Agricultural Society, the President of the Agricultural College of the State, then a department of the University, and two agriculturists (appointed by the Board, so as to keep the representation of the different sections of the State as nearly equal as might be).

The first meeting of the Board for the organization of the Department of Agriculture was held in the Governor's office, March 21, 1877. There were present

Gov. Z. B. Vance, Chairman.

Prof. W. C. Kerr, State Geologist.

Hon. S. B. Alexander, President State Grange.

Hon. T. M. Holt, President State Agricultural Society.

Hon. K. P. Battle, President of the University.

At this meeting Messrs. I. R. Thigpen, of Edgecombe, and Jonathan Evans, of Cumberland, were elected the farmer members called for in the law.

Professor Kerr was temporary Secretary. On the 29th of March the Board elected Col. L. L. Polk, of Anson, Commissioner, and Dr. A. R. Ledoux, then at the State University, State Chemist. The salary of each was fixed at $2,000. On April 11th Capt. T. J. Roberson, of Fayetteville, was elected Secretary.

Captain Roberson died in office in November, 1879, and on January 20, 1880, Governor Jarvis in the chair, Mr. Peter M. Wilson was elected Secretary and placed in charge also of the State immigration work. Colonel Polk resigned as Commissioner in July, 1880, and Capt. S. B. Alexander, of Mecklenburg, was elected his successor, but declined.

In October of the same year Dr. C. W. Dabney, of Virginia, now the distinguished President of the University of Cincinnati, was elected State Chemist and Director of the Experiment Station, and the Hon. Montford McGehee, of Person, was elected Commissioner. He in turn was followed by others, whose names are elsewhere given.

The Geological Survey, Department of Agriculture and Experiment Station have always been so closely allied, perhaps a few notes of their earlier history and struggles may not be uninteresting.

The prime mover in the establishment of the State Experiment Station, from which afterwards sprung the Department, was Dr. Kemp P. Battle, than whom North Carolina has had no more useful and patriotic citizen. At that time Dr. Battle was President of the University, which controlled the land grant fund, amounting to $7,500 per annum, and the Agricultural College was a part of the University.

This was before the Hatch Act was passed by Congress. About the year 1875 Dr. Battle visited other States and colleges, and was so pleased with the Station in Connecticut, he began at once to arouse public opinion at home to the advantages of such an institution. In this work he was materially aided by the Grange, or Patrons of Husbandry, a useful farmers' organization existing at that day. Dr. W. C. Kerr, another eminent and most useful citizen, was State Geologist. Joining forces with Dr. Battle and the Grange, the Department of Agriculture was established, and connected therewith were the State Geologist and Museum (a small affair then), located in Raleigh, and the Agricultural Experiment and Fertilizer Control Station located at Chapel Hill.

For some years previous the State Geologist had been conducting the Geological Survey, Volume I of which was issued by Professor Kerr in 1875. Dr. Emmons immediately preceded Professor Kerr.

The laboratory and offices of the Survey and the Museum were located near the corner of Fayetteville and Morgan streets, in bare, cramped quarters, entered by outside wooden stairsteps, the principal feature of the Museum being a huge map of North Carolina that covered a whole side of the long hall, probably painted by Mrs. C. P. Spencer. Subsequently the Museum and office were moved to the second story of the Briggs Building on Fayetteville street.

The Station remained at Chapel Hill until 1881, when the Board of Agriculture, under the advice and influence of Governor Jarvis, chairman of the Board, decided to bring together all divisions of the Department, and for that purpose bought the old National Hotel property for $13,000, a most fortunate purchase. The old building has been greatly enlarged, and remains still the home of the Department.

Among some of the notably useful and profitable enterprises of the Department were its exhibits and illustrations of the State's resources at the great expositions. The first exhibit made was through the energy and instrumentality of Professor Kerr at the great World's Fair at Vienna, about the year 1873. This was followed by exhibits of the Department at great fairs at home, Atlanta in 1881, Boston in 1883, New Orleans in 1884, Chicago in 1893, Paris in 1900, Charleston in 1901, St. Louis in 1904. These exhibits have not only had the effect of attracting attention and capital to such rich natural resources as our forests and minerals, but, aided by the publications of the Department, have provoked inquiries and investigation on the part of outsiders, and have presented the State in altogether a new light to the eyes of the world, and, perhaps, what is better, to our own people also.

Various changes in the composition of the Board of Agriculture and in the methods of appointing or electing its members have taken place. At present the Board consists of eleven members, one from each of the ten Congressional Districts, appointed by the Governor and confirmed by the Senate for terms of six years, and of the Commissioner of Agriculture, who is, ex officio, chairman of the Board.

The terms of the members of the Board are so arranged that for each of two biennial periods three appointments are made, and for the third biennial period four appointments are made.

In this order, therefore, at least six members hold over. The terms of the members begin March 9th. The vacancies next occurring on that date, to which his Excellency the Governor will make appointments, are for the Third, Sixth and Ninth Congressional Districts, now represented respectively by Messrs. William Dunn and A. T. McCallum; and, until his resignation to become a member of the Legislature, W. A. Graham.

The Commissioner of Agriculture, who is the chief executive officer of the Department, was elected by the Board of Agriculture from the beginning up to 1899, when the Legislature of that year, in order to bring the Department in closer touch with the people, especially the farmers, of the State, so changed the law as to require the election of the Commissioner to be made in general election with other State officers for a term of four years, the Legislature itself electing for a short term, beginning June 14, 1899, until after the general election of 1900.

The Commissioners in the order of their terms have been:

L. L. Polk of Anson County, elected March 29, 1877.

Montford McGehee of Caswell County, elected October 20, 1880.

John Robinson of Anson County, elected April, 1887.

T. K. Bruner, acting, elected February, 1895.

S. L. Patterson of Caldwell County, elected June, 1895.

J. M. Mewborn of Lenoir County, elected June, 1897.

J. R. Smith of Wayne County, elected January, 1898.

S. L. Patterson of Caldwell County, elected June, 1899.

The Secretaries have been:

T. J. Robinson (died in office), April, 1877.

P. M. Wilson of Wake County, January, 1880.

T. K. Bruner of Rowan County, December, 1886.

J. L. Ramsey of Wake County, June, 1897.

T. K. Bruner (Rowan) of Wake County, June, 1899.

The State Chemists have been:

A. R. Ledoux, March, 1877.

C. W. Dabney, October, 1880.

H. B. Battle, October, 1887.

W. A. Withers, acting, 1897.

A. W. Blair, 1897.

B. W. Kilgore, June, 1899.

Originally, and for most of the time subsequent, the State Chemist has been also Director of the Experiment Station.

The wise men who originated and developed the plan of establishing a Department devoted to the betterment of the agriculture of the State and to the general advancement of the State's interests, and the Legislature which enacted it into law, looking forward to the future, manifested a broad comprehension of the State's needs. Surely they builded wiser than they knew. It is remarkable that during all the changes of the years nearly all of the essential features of the original law, and couched in almost identical language, are still retained, with such modifications only and additions as have become necessary from experience or changed conditions.

Among the duties originally imposed on the Department, and still retained, somewhat amplified, are the following:

The Commissioner of Agriculture (formerly the Board), by and with the consent and advice of the Board, shall investigate and promote such subjects relating to the improvement of agriculture, the beneficial use of commercial fertilizers and composts, and for the inducement of immigration and capital, as he may think proper; but he is especially charged with investigations adapted to promote the improvement of milk and beef cattle, and, especially, investigations relating to the diseases of cattle and other domestic animals, and shall publish and distribute from time to time information relative to any contagious diseases of stock, and suggest remedies therefor, and shall have power in such cases to quarantine the infected animals, and to regulate the transportation of stock in this State, or from one section of it to another; and may co-operate with the United States Department of Agriculture in establishing and maintaining cattle districts, or quarantine lines, to prevent the infection of cattle from Splenic or Spanish fever. Any person wilfully violating such regulations shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Liable also in a civil action).

With investigations relative to the ravages of insects and with the dissemination of such information as may be deemed essential for their abatement, and shall make regulations for the destruction of such insects (violation of which is a misdemeanor).

With investigations and experiments directed to the introduction and fostering of new agricultural industries, adapted to the various climates and soils of the State, especially the culture of truck market gardens, the grape and other fruits.

With the investigation of the subject of drainage and irrigation, and shall publish information as to the best methods of both, and what surfaces, soils and locations may be most benefited by such improvements; also, with the collection and publication of information in regard to localities, character, accessibility, costs and modes of utilization of native mineral and domestic sources of fertilizer, including formulæ for composting, adapted to the different crops, soils and materials.

With the collection of statistics relating to the subject of farm fences, with suggestions for diminishing their cost, and the conditions under which they may be dispensed with altogether.

With supervision of all measures for the propagation and culture of fish in the rivers and inland waters of the State (provides also for accepting such aid as the United States Fish Commission may be induced to extend, and to encourage said Commission to establish a fish hatchery in the State)—provides also for inquiring into the praticability of construction of fish-ways over the dams and other obstructions in the rivers of the State, so as to secure the free passage of fish.

The Commissioner of Agriculture (formerly the Board), shall transmit to the General Assembly at each session, a report of the operations of said Department, together with suggestions of such legislation as may be needful.

With the enforcement and supervision of the laws which are, or may be, enacted in this State for the sale of commercial fertilizers, seeds and food products, and with authority to make regulations concerning the same. (The willful violation of such shall be a misdemeanor).

The act provided also for co-operation between the Geological Survey and the Department of Agriculture in maintaining the Geological Museum already begun, and for enlarging its scope and increasing its collections.

Among the duties originally enjoined upon the Board, but which, in the passing years, have dropped out, were the collection of crop statistics, and investigations which seemed best adapted to promote the extension and improvement of sheep husbandry, and with the collection and publishing of statistics on the subject, and suggestions to the Legislature of measures for the encouragement of this industry, and more particularly for the suppression of the ravages of dogs. While this provision has been omitted from the duties enjoined on the Department of Agriculture it remains in imperative force and effect in the Constitution of North Carolina.

Let me dispose of this subject here and now by calling the attention of the Legislature to the constantly decreasing interest in sheep husbandry, the decrease between the census of 1890 and 1900 alone being 25 per cent. At the rate of decrease still going on sheep husbandry, one of the most needful branches of animal industry for North Carolina, will soon be wiped out of existence.

But the Constitution says emphatically that the General Assembly "Shall enact laws for the adequate protection and encouragement of sheep husbandry."

My recommendation of the first needful step to comply with this requirement of the Constitution is to place a substantial tax on all female dogs, and to authorize the killing by any one of all other dogs caught in the act of chasing sheep.

In my judgment a few years would mark a much-to-be desired decline in the canine and a corresponding increase in the sheep industry. It would be time then to consider other measures "for the adequate protection and encouragement of sheep husbandry."

I shall later on in this report refer again to the collection of crop statistics.

In addition to the foregoing provisions, enacted by the Legislature of 1877, certain rules and regulations were also established for the control of the fertilizer traffic in the State, then in its infancy, and so wisely drawn that most of them remain to the present time.

Some immaterial changes in and additions to the laws were made by the Legislature of 1879, such as authorizing the State Geologist to deliver at the University a course of free lectures on the geology and mineralogy of the State; and authorizing the Board of Agriculture to "pay the rent and other necessary expenses of the Geological Museum." Instead, however, of a continuous payment of rent in cramped and unattractive quarters unsuited for the Department, and unsuited for the Museum, acting under the advice of our great statesman, whom North Carolina is so justly proud of, then Governor Thomas J. Jarvis, the property was purchased, since greatly enlarged, where the Department now has its home. (This was probably in 1881).

The Museum has grown in size, variety and value. No other in the South is comparable with ours, and very few in the United States surpass it. Recently an additional feature of inestimable value has been added to the Museum. The "Hall of History," established through the indefatigable industry and unselfish perseverance of Col. Fred A. Olds, is going to quicken a new interest in our dormant State history and add immensely to its importance.

An act was passed requesting the Board of Agriculture, through the Commissioner and State Chemist, to report upon the "feasibility of establishing a State guano works or fertilizer manufacturing establishment" for the manufacture of fertilizers to be supplied to farmers and truckers at prime cost. But this seems to have been considered impracticable and abandoned.

The membership of the Board was changed by act of the Legislature of 1883, by providing for the election of members, one from each Congressional District, "who shall be so chosen as to secure as nearly as may be a representation of all the leading industries of the State."

A few changes were made also affecting the compensation allowed and time of holding meetings, bequests for special purposes, etc.

In 1885 the Legislature established the State Board of Health and directed that analysis for the purposes connected with the hygienic duties of the Superintendent of Health shall be made by the Chemist of the Agricultural Station. (Such analyses to include soils, drinking waters, articles of food, etc.)

In this year also appears the dawning idea of an Industrial School, which the Board of Agriculture is authorized and directed to establish, from which has been evolved in successive stages of growth the Agricultural and Mechanical College, which is doing its great and beneficent work for the State. The Industrial School referred to was not established but was afterwards merged into the college provided for by the Legislature of 1887.

A survey of the oyster beds and an examination of the waters of the State with reference to their possibilities for the culture of shell-fish were enjoined upon the Board, and executed under direction of Lieutenant Winslow of the United States Naval Service.

The Legislature of 1887 made quite a number of changes and additions. Most of the changes are not of especial interest, nor material to the main purpose of this report. The additions are for the most part obligations imposed upon the Board in continuation of the duties enjoined in the original act, and are as follows:

The Board is charged with such investigations as will best promote the improvement and extension of diversified farming, including the general rotation of crops, the raising of home supplies, vegetables, fruits, stock, grasses, etc.

The said Board shall co-operate and aid in the formation of Farmers' Institutes in all the counties of the State, and shall send the Commissioner of Agriculture, the Director of the Experiment Station, the teachers in the Agricultural College, or some other representative from their body, to assist in holding these institutes, at least once in every two years, in every county in this State, in order to instruct the people in improved methods of farming and to ascertain the wants and necessities of the various farming communities.

They shall publish a monthly bulletin, or report of their current work and expenses, which shall not contain any advertisements or any other matter which would injuriously affect the newspapers of the State; but shall contain reports of analyses and other work, of experiments at the Experiment Station and Agricultural and Mechanical College, the dates of meeting and records of Farmers' Institutes and similar societies, reports on farm dwellings and buildings suited to our climate and needs, a list of Agricultural Fairs to be held in the State, reports of experiments and experiences of farmers, and upon such other matters as are named in the law.

They may employ a Geologist, Surveyor or Engineer for such specific work as may be necessary in the performance of their duty under this law.

They shall keep a Museum, or collection, to illustrate the agricultural and other resources and the natural history of the State.

This session of the General Assembly enacted, "That the Industrial School provided for in chapter 308, Laws of 1885, shall be denominated 'The North Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts.'" Provision was made for building, equipping, conducting and managing the college. The Board of Trustees was composed of the Board of Agriculture and five other persons to be appointed by the Governor.

The Directors of the Penitentiary were required to furnish, free of charge, the brick and stone necessary for the buildings, and labor in clearing up the grounds, digging foundations, etc. The Board of Agriculture was directed to aid in the buildings with a portion of its funds.

The relation between the Department of Agriculture and the college has undergone various changes, but has revolved until now it has nearly reached its starting point. At another part of this report the college will be referred to, I am endeavoring now to trace what may be termed the statutory history of the Department.

No legislation was enacted affecting the operations of the Department, excepting that the Governor, who had been up to this time ex officio chairman of the Board, was relieved of that duty, and the Board afterwards elected its own chairman.

From the beginning and up to this time the revenue of the Department had been derived from licenses imposed upon the sales of commercial fertilizers; "for which shall be paid a privilege tax of five hundred dollars per annum for each separate brand or quality."

The constitutionality of this privilege, or brand tax, was contested by the fertilizer companies and declared by the United States Supreme Court to be unconstitutional. This decision of the Court left the Department in some straits. Either its valuable work must be abandoned and the trade in fertilizers become utterly demoralized, or some other method of collecting a protecting tax be devised.

The Legislature of 1891 adopted the tonnage system, imposing a tax of twenty-five cents on every ton of fertilizer sold within the State. The constitutionality of this tax was also tested in the Supreme Court, but was sustained on the ground of its being a State police regulation.

In March, 1887, what is known as the "Hatch Act" was passed by Congress, carrying with it an annual appropriation to all the States of fifteen thousand dollars for scientific and experimental purposes. The act went into effect in 1888.

The Act of the Legislature of 1877 provided for the establishment of an Experiment Station for the analysis of soils, marls, fertilizers, etc., and for conducting experiments upon the growth and nutrition of plants, to ascertain what fertilizers were best suited to the various crops of the State, and what other crops may be grown to advantage.

It will be of interest to note that the State Experiment Station was the second Station established in the United States, that of Connecticut alone preceding it. This Station was, after the passage of the "Hatch Act," consolidated with the United States Experiment Station provided for in that act, and the Experiment Station was made a department of the college and placed under the management of the Board of Trustees.

The adoption of the "tonnage" tax in place of the "brand" tax necessitated some corresponding changes in the fertilizer laws by the Legislature of 1891.

The same Legislature abolished the Bureau of Immigration and the duties of the Commissioner of Immigration were imposed on the Commissioner of Agriculture, who afterwards was known as the Commissioner of Agriculture and Immigration, and the Commissioner of Agriculture was allowed for said additional service one hundred and fifty dollars per annum, to be paid out of the State Treasury. The operations of the Bureau had not been successful.

At this session the State Geological Survey was established, "which Survey shall have as its object the thorough examination of the nature and extent of the mineral and timber resources of the State."

1893.

No changes of the laws governing the Department of Agriculture were made at the session of 1893. "For the support, maintenance and extension of the college" ten thousand dollars out of the State Treasury was appropriated.

1895.

In 1895 a different political party was in control of the Legislature, which endeavored to plow deep furrows through the organizations of both Department and college. They proved to be, however, untrained hands, their work being quickly healed over by the Supreme Court, no change remaining except an increase in the membership of the Board, and certain appropriations for additional buildings at the college and for equipment.

But in 1897 a complete change of control and management was effected, and new men conducted Department and college affairs, the governing Board being separated and made two and increased in numbers.

The Legislature of 1899 found it necessary to adopt somewhat unusual and heroic measures. In order to secure control of the Department the membership was largely increased and all new members were elected by the Legislature. Provision was also made for a gradual reduction of members to the number existing at this present, that is, one from each Congressional District, to which has been added the Commissioner of Agriculture ex officio.

It was further made the duty of the Board to "proceed to reorganize the said Department in the interest of the taxpayers of the State to the extent allowed by law."

1901.

The office of Commissioner having been raised to the dignity of a State office, and filled by direct vote of the people, the Legislature of 1901 increased correspondingly his duties and responsibilities, laying upon him the burden of directing the affairs of the Department by and with the advice and consent of the Board of Agriculture. He was made a member of the Board and, ex officio, its chairman.

The A. & M. College was once more placed in charge of the Board of Agriculture, a Board of Visitors being provided to give counsel and make suggestions to the Board of Agriculture, acting as Board of Trustees. An act was passed making farmers only eligible to membership.

The study of agriculture had languished and the obligation devolved upon the Board of Agriculture to revive it. They found less than a score of boys taking the Agricultural course. The Chair of Agriculture had been declared vacant. Their first step was to secure the services of an experienced, attractive and practical professor. The man for the place was found in Prof. C. W. Burkett; a man, broad-minded, magnetic, enthusiastic, and thoroughly in earnest. The School of Agriculture now numbers 102 students, and this number does not include the special students taking the "short course" of ten weeks during the winter months.

The College has grown from 265 students in 1901 to 427 in 1904. This is the full number the College can accommodate. There is pressing need for more dormitory room.

In the fall of 1901 the principal dormitory building was burned. This building contained also the kitchen and dining-room. An emergency was upon the Board, in meeting which they acted as wisdom prompted: built a larger building on the site of the burned building, devoted wholly to dormitory rooms, and began the erecting of another building, containing dining-hall in basement, with kitchen attached, lecture rooms and library on first floor, and auditorium on second floor, all of which were of commanding importance.

Insurance money on the burned building and other money, borrowed with the advice and consent of the Governor and his Council of State, were used for meeting the expenses of the work as far as it had progressed. Watauga Hall was practically complete, but the new "Pullen" Building had advanced but little beyond the bare brick walls and roofing.

This was the condition which confronted the Legislature of 1903.

I have begun to introduce into my report these College affairs, because of the close relationship, under one management, of the College and Department. And I have given this sketch of history concerning the Department with two objects in mind. First to show to the Legislature how nearly the Department of Agriculture in its successive stages of development has endeavored to track the requirements imposed upon the Board by successive Legislatures, and to declare to the Legislature that the work of the Department, as now conducted, is useful and necessary to the State, and cannot be abandoned without serious loss. The Department is now more nearly fulfilling all its obligations than has ever before in its history been possible. And secondly, to show also that all work undertaken by the Department, not explicitly set forth in the laws, such as its co-operative work with the State Board of Health, analysis of water and soils, its connection with the geological work and soil survey, its exhibits at international fairs and the like—all these useful undertakings are so much akin to the general purposes and objects laid out for the Department as to be more than warranted in their performance.

The Board of Agriculture, composed of practical, sensible and honest men, aided by wise legal counsel, are doing their duty as required by law. They are not extravagant or wasteful of the funds of the Department, and I respectfully ask the Legislature to allow them continued latitude in their work.

Definite and valuable results have already been gained from the Test Farms, and other farms should be established in sections of different soils and products.

All the transmontane counties and several east of the Blue Ridge have been cleared of the deadly and destructive cattle tick, under direction of our expert Veterinarian, Dr. Butler. This work is now progressing eastward and in a few years will cover practically the entire State, adding incalculably to the value of our cattle industry.

Dr. Butler has answered many calls from all sections of the State for treatment of sick cattle, horses and hogs. His lectures at the Farmers' Institutes on the care, feeding and breeding of farm stock, and the information given to farmers are of great practical value. Outside of the work above named the animal industry of the State is entirely too important and valuable not to have a competent veterinarian who may be consulted in cases of serious outbreaks of disease and epidemics. According to the census of 1890 the loss of hogs alone was 25 per cent. of the whole number, most of which doubtless died from hog cholera. At that time farmers knew comparatively little of the disease. Since then veterinary science has come to their aid, mostly by way of preventive measures, and for years past losses have been at a minimum.

Mr. Sherman, Entomologist, has sent out many thousands of letters and circulars relative to dangerous insect pests, and as to the best known methods of treating and destroying them.

While there can be no certain way of measuring results, his services must prove of great value and importance to all the fruits and market gardening crops.

In view of the rapidly enlarging area devoted to the trucking industry and of the large investments being made in that important field, an experienced Horticulturist has been secured, who, while caring for horticultural interests throughout the entire State, will devote especial attention to trucking in the east.

The Board of Agriculture contemplates the establishing of a Test Station at an early day, if funds are available, at some convenient point in the trucking region, in order that tests of soils, truck crops and fertilizers may be made under the intelligent superintendence of Mr. Hume, the Horticulturist.

The work of Mr. McCarthy, the Botanist and Bacteriologist of the Department is constantly increasing. Many demands for information come to him from all over the State on many subjects. His most important work is probably in the detection of disease germs in waters, sputa and blood.

For fuller and detailed information concerning the duties of the various officers in charge of the different divisions of the Department of Agriculture, and for the results and progress of their work, I beg to refer to their reports herewith submitted, and made a part of this report, viz.:

B. W. Kilgore, Chemist.

Gerald McCarthy, Bacteriologist.

Dr. Tait Butler, Veterinarian.

Franklin Sherman, Jr., Entomologist.

H. Harold Hume, Horticulturist.

H. H. Brimley, Curator of Museum.

I can say truthfully of these men that all have been capable, industrious and faithful in the performance of their respective duties. I deem the Department especially fortunate in having such a corps of intelligent and useful workers.

FARMERS' INSTITUTES.

I have already referred to provision by the Legislature of 1887 for holding Farmers' Institutes in all the counties of the State. For years this work was more or less hampered for lack of force on the part of the Department, and for lack of interest on the part of the farmers. It is very gratifying to be able to say now that since the Department has increased its regular force the institute system has been organized more fully and a corresponding interest among the farmers is manifested. The institutes are perhaps the chief point of contact between the Department and the farmers, and the beneficial results are self-evident. Dr. Butler has been mainly in charge of this work for the year past, and his report deals more fully with its details.

THE BULLETIN.

The circulation of the monthly BULLETIN grows apace. When this writer first came to the Department less than 5,000 copies were distributed. The mailing list now contains some 27,000 names to whom THE BULLETIN is sent every month. THE BULLETIN gives life to the Department work; without it the results obtained from analyses of all sorts and experiments would be of little value, and information sought by farmers on many subjects could scarcely be given. Its publication is a necessity, but costly. The paper, printing, pictures and postage of 27,000 copies sent out each month amount to a large yearly sum, which is shown in the financial statement elsewhere in this report. When THE BULLETIN was established its cost was limited to $50 per month. This sum hardly pays postage on THE BULLETIN issue of to-day.

It may be asked what evidence can be presented to show that the efforts put forth by the Department have borne fruit commensurate with its expenditures. While I may not answer such an inquiry adequately, I can point with certainty to the thousands of letters annually sent in answer to letters of farmers and others, asking for information on all sorts of subjects, to the wide-awake interest in the results gathered at the Test Farms, to the requests from other sections of the State for the establishment of such farms, to the more intelligent use of fertilizers, to the raising of home supplies, to the conspicuously evident improvement in farm methods, to renewed interest in farming. I might justly claim for the Department a share at least in the greater prosperity of farmers all over the State. I might refer to the current and generally accepted saying that North Carolina is far ahead of Virginia, where no Department of Agriculture has existed until in very recent years; and in South Carolina, where the so-called department has been swallowed up by the Clemson A. & M. College. But to one who will come and acquaint himself with the work done, it will not be necessary to refer to any of these things.

STATE EXHIBIT AT ST. LOUIS.

By joint resolution of the last Legislature an appropriation of $10,000 was made of funds in the Treasury, available only under certain prescribed conditions, for providing an exhibit of the State's resources at the great St. Louis Exposition, now just closed, the exhibit to be made under the direction of the Governor and his Council of State. The Governor and his Council called into service the Department of Agriculture for making the exhibit, both on account of the use of the Museum, from which the exhibit would be largely drawn, and for the services of the experienced men connected with the Department.

The appropriation was not available, however, until an equal amount had been raised and placed in the Treasury by private subscription. This became a difficult and disagreeable task, and without the personal appeals made by the Governor to the people the subscription could not have been secured. As it was, the Department of Agriculture had to subscribe several hundred dollars ($708.11) at the last to make up the amount necessary to secure the full $10,000 State appropriation, and it is yet doubtful whether there may not be a deficit before all the exhibit is reinstalled in the Museum, from which most of it was taken.

To make a creditable display of the State's vast resources with $20,000, side by side with other States whose appropriations ran from $50,000 and up, was no light task.

The installing of our different resources was comparatively very modest, but I have good reason for saying that when the awards of true merit are made North Carolina will be, as usual, well to the front in every line in which her exhibit competed.

The State was extremely fortunate in having such a manager as Mr. H. H. Brimley and such able and expert officials connected with the Exposition as Professor Holmes and Mr. Bruner.

A committee of the Board visited the Fair and made an examination of all accounts to the date of their visit. Later the committee will report fully.

The Department is named in the Constitution "Department of Agriculture, Immigration and Statistics." No kind of statistics is particularized, but the Legislature of 1877 provided for taking crop statistics, under direction of the Board of Agriculture, by the tax-listers of each township. The system provided was cumbrous, unsatisfactory and unnecessary in tedious detail. It accomplished no practical result, and was repealed by the next Legislature. A like effort was made in 1889 with a like result in 1891. Correct statistics of leading crops would be valuable. I earnestly recommend to the Legislature the passage of a law requiring a report of every farmer to the tax-lister of the acreage of his leading crops of the year preceding, and of the yield of each, and of present acreage. I would confine the reports to such crops only as cotton, corn, tobacco, wheat and peanuts. I do not see why such a system should provoke opposition, for the infinite details of the former laws would be eliminated, and the results would prove a reliable basis for computing by comparison the results of growing crops, which would be of great service. Frequent requests are made of the Department in the interests of farmers for estimates of crop yields.

As it is, I have only crude methods for making estimates, which are at best unsatisfactory.

I think it will require no argument to convince the intelligence of the Legislature that reliable crop statistics would be of great value.

Other statistics are sometimes called for, which can be usually supplied either from publications from this Department or from the Bureau of Labor Statistics or by resort to the Auditor's reports.

IMMIGRATION.

I have already stated that the Legislature of 1891 abolished the office of Commissioner of Immigration, which carried with it the Bureau of Immigration, and imposed upon the Commissioner of Agriculture the duties of the Commissioner of Immigration. Evidently the Legislature did not consider the Bureau a paying institution to the State. But this was not for lack of energy, enterprise or fidelity to his work on the part of the very capable gentleman then in charge.

The writer, whose office inherited the labor of the Immigration Bureau and a small part of the compensation, has labored pretty hard with this knotty problem of securing an influx of desirable settlers into North Carolina. Some results have been accomplished, but these are hardly commensurate with the efforts put forth, nor with the opportunities which would open both to the State and to the settlers upon a successful solution. North Carolina has the farm lands to offer, and there are plenty of home-seekers who would do well with the lands. The problem is to bring them together, and it is a much more difficult one than may at first appear.

Without going here into a discussion of the difficulties, or of the subject generally, I will merely state that I co-operate with the land and industrial agents of the different railroad systems and with real estate agents; I answer many letters giving in detail information of the character of land in different sections of the State, prices, products, etc., and I send out many publications descriptive of the State and its resources.

But while we are waiting for immigrants to come and make our good old State "blossom as the rose," I beg to submit the opinion that it is more to the point, more rational, more practical to aid our own farmers already in the field to the best of our ability by strict attention to the obligations and duties imposed on the Department of Agriculture, making investigations and experiments, fostering new enterprises, seeking to promote the animal industry, to use profitably commercial fertilizers, to seek to promote the extension and improvement of diversified farming, including the rotation of crops, the raising of home supplies, vegetables, fruits, stock, grasses, etc., in other words, to do all those things so wisely set forth in the law from the beginning. Our farmers need and ought to have the results of the experiments made at the Test Farms, these farms ought to be increased in number, and they will increase in efficiency. The farmers need and deserve all the protection that can be thrown around the trade in commercial fertilizers and feed stuffs; they need and deserve to have all the aid this Department can give in every line of their work. There are many who entertain the opinion that our own people, already the most homogeneous in the United States, are capable of intelligence and progress beyond any degree to be obtained in an influx of immigration from elsewhere. At the same time, the honest capitalist who is seeking safe and profitable investments, and the worthy, industrious settler, whether laborer, mechanic or farmer, wishing to partake of the advantages of our unsurpassed climate and of our natural resources, will alike find an open door and a cordial welcome.

RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES OF THE DEPARTMENT.

The receipts for the past five years have been as follows:

|---|---|
| For 1900 | $55,247.69 |
| For 1901 | 67,988.24 |
| For 1902 | 66,142.97 |
| For 1903 | 80,048.88 |
| For 1904 | 97,800.19 |

A statement of the disbursements for the last two fiscal years is appended.

The marked increase in the sale of fertilizer tags indicates a continued purpose of the farmers to rely more and more upon the use of commercial fertilizers for raising their crops. Not only is the territory broadening, but heavier applications are resorted to. During the fiscal year just closed (November 30), there were bought by the farmers of the State something like 450,000 tons of all sorts, involving an expenditure, an investment, as it were, and before the crops were even planted, of the enormous sum of $8,000,000. Surely this is too much, and surely much of this is used injudiciously, ignorantly and wastefully. Herein is the need emphasized of farms to test the value of different kinds of fertilizers to different kinds of crops and on different kinds of soils; of Farmers' Institutes, where competent, experienced men may instruct the farmers upon the use of fertilizers and kindred subjects; of the publication of THE BULLETIN, to advise the farmers of the chemical values of different brands of fertilizers, and of every agency to aid them in their arduous labors. Herein is a pointer to the meaning of the law which charges the Department of Agriculture with the collection and publication of information of the cost and modes of utilizing native and domestic sources of fertilizer, including formulas for composting adapted to the different crops and soils; to the rotation of crops, and to soil-improving crops.

Such vast interests as the fertilizer trade involves require the most constant care and closest attention.

The law makes it the duty of the Commissioner to "report to solicitors and to the General Assembly information as to the existence or formation of trusts or combinations in fertilizers or fertilizing materials which are, or may be, offered for sale in this State, whereby the interests of the farmer may be injuriously affected, and shall publish such information in THE BULLETIN of the Department."

Undoubtedly there are several combinations of large fertilizer companies, chief of which is the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company, which comprise a large number of companies throughout the South, thereby weakening competition. It is a fact also that the price of fertilizers has advanced; but I have not discovered that this advance is any greater than the average advance in prices of all kinds of materials and labor. The companies composing these combinations, with few exceptions, manifest a willingness and purpose to obey our laws and regulations, and, as a rule, have given little trouble in the control of their business in the State. Indeed, it is very gratifying to say that nearly all of the companies do this, and that this great traffic is in satisfactory condition.

INSPECTION OF COTTON-SEED MEAL AND STOCK FEEDS.

For the same reasons that a system of fertilizer inspection was inaugurated, it became necessary to provide against frauds in cotton-seed meal and stock feeds. The former was placed on the "tax list" in 1901 and the latter in 1903.

Not any great difficulty has been experienced in bringing under control the cotton-seed meal trade. The main necessity has consisted in impressing upon manufacturers and dealers the determination of the Department to execute the law.

With the stock feeds the problem has been somewhat different. It is hardly necessary to enumerate all the difficulties encountered in enforcing this law. But when it is considered that the law was a new thing, that these concentrated feeds consist of a great variety of mixtures, that the people have not understood the terms which measure the value of stock food, I think no surprise need be felt that time and patience are necessary to put the law into successful and satisfactory operation. It has already worked beneficent results, for shameful frauds had been practiced upon our brute friends, who had no voice to protest against them. If they had, I am sure they would cry out against their rations being imported from St. Louis, Chicago, Memphis, Texas and intermediate points, and sold in competition with the North Carolina ground and mixed feeds. I shall present a few amendments to the Legislature to strengthen the execution of the law which I respectfully ask to be acted upon favorably.

The Pure Food Law passed in 1899 has continued to work out results affecting the health of the people. Many of the adulterated articles of food, found in every corner grocery and country store, have been driven from the market by the exposure of their unfitness, their numbers showing a steady decrease with each recurring season.

Dr. Kilgore's report will discuss this work of the Department in fuller detail.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE AND A. & M. COLLEGE.

Ever since the Board of Agriculture took charge of the College in 1901, and the number of agricultural students began rapidly to increase, the need of an Agricultural Building, designed and arranged especially for the study and illustration of soil analysis, plant growth, veterinary science and practice and the like, has been sorely felt. Two years ago the Board of Agriculture thought it not amiss to ask the Legislature for an appropriation of $50,000 for the erection of such a building, to be paid out of the State Treasury, as other State college appropriations are paid, of which the farmers pay their just proportion in taxes. No other expenditure had been made at the College, especially in the interest of agriculture, except for the erection of a little wooden dairy building, now old and dwarfed by the side of the big buildings surrounding it. The Board presented a memorial to the Legislature setting forth the need of an Agricultural Building, and respectfully asking for the appropriation. The bill came up for action in the closing days of the session, when the overworked and weary members had not time nor patience to consider important new measures, especially such as involve the expenditure of large sums of money, and was defeated. But the Legislature did not stop here. An act was passed requiring the Board to complete the Pullen Building, to purchase twenty-five or thirty lots, containing several dwellings, both as a site for the Agricultural Building and on account of their objectionable proximity to the College, and to erect the Agricultural Building, borrowing the money if need be, but denying to the Board the faith and credit of the State, and the further requirement of the payment by the Board of Agriculture of $10,000 per annum for current expenses, beginning after the first year.

I can see no more reason in using the money derived from the taxes on the farmers' fertilizers to bear the current expenses of the College, which include all departments of the College, than to use it for the support of the University or the department for the dangerous insane. Let us spend it then in such useful channels as are at least akin to agriculture, and to the purpose for which the tax is levied. I ask the Legislature most earnestly to relieve the Board of the payment of this $10,000 to the College's current expenses.

Pullen Hall has been completed. The lots referred to have all been purchased, and all paid for except two, the titles to which are in the names of minor heirs and which are now being adjusted by the courts. These draughts upon the resources of the Department have been a heavy drain and have crippled our operations. They would have been impossible but for the heavy increase in the tax receipts during the past two years.

It was impracticable to begin the work on the Agricultural Building as early as contemplated by the Legislature, and to complete the building within two years. It is gratifying to say the work is now well under way, and the building will be a credit to the State. The contract price for the completed building is $41,348. The Board has borrowed $35,000. With this amount, and with such surplus as we may reasonably anticipate from the receipts of tags sales, I believe the work can be done. The building will be devoted to the State's greatest industry, and will, I believe, incite a new interest and greater pride in the noble occupation of agriculture.

INCREASED RECEIPTS.

It will be observed from the receipts of the Department heretofore given, that they have increased nearly 50 per cent. within the past four years. The conditions under which this increase has occurred have been unusual, and are not likely to be repeated. Indeed we can hardly expect the sales of tax tags to be at all larger during the incoming year than for the year past. The prevailing high prices of farm products have stimulated increased purchasing of fertilizers. The recent disastrous slump in the price of cotton will tend to check both the acreage of this, the most important of all crops, and will give pause to investment in large quantities of expensive fertilizers.

I trust the Legislature will not consider the abormal increase of the past four years as a guide to mark the ability of this Department to bear any greater obligations than have been already incurred.

THE HIGHWAY COMMISSION.

The Legislature of 1901 established a State Highway Commission, naming, as members of the Commission, the State Geologist and Commissioner of Agriculture and the Secretary of the Board, as Secretary of the Commission. It has been impossible for the Commission to carry out the full purpose of the Legislature in its establishment, both for lack of means and lack of time. But the Commission has endeavored to meet and foster the spirit of road improvement that possesses many counties in the State. Hundreds, perhaps thousands, of the "Mecklenburg" road law, of the "Holmes" road law, of the "Old" road law, have been distributed upon application. I have recently compiled the general road legislation existing in the statute books, and have this compilation published in pamphlet form, which may be of some service to the members of the Legislature. The subject of road improvement is full of interest, and is of the highest importance to the material welfare of the people. Many of the counties have special road laws. In my judgment this is to be discouraged. A few general laws, applicable to varying conditions of soil, road material and available funds in the different sections of the State, would be far better. The importance of the subject demands of the Legislature full consideration and wise action.

CONCLUSION.

In endeavoring to present clearly to the Legislature the work of the Department, its history, its purposes and its obligations, I fear this report is already too long-drawn-out and I hesitate to say more. But I hope it will not be transgressing the proprieties to call attention to the amount of additional labor and responsibility which has been imposed from time to time upon this office. In the nature of things, as now existing, the Commissioner must be held responsible to a large degree for the success or failure of the work in every division—chemical, veterinary, entomological, bacteriological and horticultural. He must direct the Farmers' Institute work, the publication of THE BULLETIN, the inspection of the fertilizer and feed trade; he must conduct the correspondence and do all necessary things pertaining to immigration and Highway Commission duties. He must give the best information obtainable in answer to many inquiries on many subjects. Besides all these his duties as chairman of the Board of Trustees of the A. & M. College are onerous and exacting. Without such an able corps of assistants and the counsel of a wise and practical Board of Agriculture, the task would be impossible.

I do not desire credit for myself, my associates, or the Board, further than to claim for all a sincere desire to do efficiently the work devolving upon us, and a patriotic purpose to serve the State. I do not claim that mistakes have not been made. Who of us does not see what might have been with clearer vision than what is to be? But, guided by the lamp of experience, growing constantly in knowledge of the things pertaining to our manifold duties, we will go forward with renewed energy, and with the earnest hope of acquiring greater efficiency in their performance.

Without embarrassment, without fear of just censure, but with reasonable confidence of approval, I present the work of the Department of Agriculture to your Excellency, to the Legislature and to the State.

To your Excellency, whose cordial interest has at all times been manifested in the work of the Department, and whose substantial aid and wise counsel have been freely given in all times of our need, I return my most grateful acknowledgment.

Respectfully submitted,

S. L. PATTERSON,

| Total for the two years | 4,811 |

A comparison of the number of samples analyzed during the two years under consideration shows a large increase over those examined in the two years included in the previous report. In addition to fertilizers, food products and stock feeds, a large amount of miscellaneous work has been done, including fertilizers for farmers, mineral and health waters, ores, marls, rocks, etc. It is not necessary to discuss these in detail, as reports have been submitted in all cases and the results made immediate use of.

The analyses of fertilizers occupy a large portion of the time of the workers in the laboratory, the Division being organized on the basis of performing, with reasonable promptness, this class of work. All of the analyses, except those made for farmers, have been published in THE BULLETIN during the spring months of the two years and in time for the farmers to know mostly before using the character of the goods they were purchasing or had purchased for use on their crops. This phase of our work has been in operation so long that a detailed consideration of it is hardly called for.

2. PURE FOOD WORK.

The General Assembly passed what is generally known as the "Pure Food Law" in February, 1899. This law went into effect on August 1st of that year. The first report on the inspection and analyses of food products under this law was published as the December (1900) BULLETIN. In all four reports have been made, with the publication of the detailed results each year, and the fifth report is now in the hands of the printer. That the law is having a very important and beneficial effect is shown by the amount of adulteration given in the four reports already issued, as follows:

In 1900 507 samples were analyzed, 56 per cent. of which were found to be in some way adulterated.

In 1901 308 samples were examined, 35.7 per cent. being adulterated.

In 1902 589 samples were examined, 21.3 per cent. of which were adulterated.

In 1903 477 samples were examined, 32.1 per cent. of which were in some way adulterated.

In 1904 347 samples were examined, 17 per cent. of which have been found to be in some way adulterated.

A summary statement of each year is given below, showing in detail the products which have been analyzed each year and the adulteration to which they have been subjected.

Summary Statement.—Up to this time chemical and microscopic examinations have been made in the laboratory of the Department of 2,228 samples of food. A great deal of interest has been manifested in this phase of the Department's work, as is shown by frequent letters from within and without the State and requests made by town officials, health officers and individuals in regard to the examination of various materials.

Manufacturers are generally manifesting a desire to comply with the law and to make their products meet all requirements.

Through the information thus distributed in our reports and through the newspapers regarding the brands of adulterated foods, a great deal of good has already been done and a foundation laid for a gradual bettering of the quality of food products on our markets. The decrease in adulteration as shown above justifies this conclusion.

3. CONCENTRATED STOCK FEEDS.

The laws passed by the last General Assembly governing the manufacture and sale of concentrated stock feeds and cotton-seed meal went into operation July 1, 1903. The first report on the inspection and analyses was made in the December (1903) BULLETIN. This report included chemical and microscopic examinations of 203 samples of the various stock feeds. The second report is now in the hands of the printer and contains the results of analyses of 500 samples, making over 700 samples analyzed for the year and a half in which these laws have been in operation. Our analyses have shown that there is a large amount of worthless material put into concentrated stock feeds as filler. Prominently among these are rice chaff, ground corn-cobs, peanut hulls, mill sweepings, etc. We have been examining these products now for five years, and some mills from without the State had, previous to the passage of the stock feed law, become specially noted for the use of worthless diluents referred to above, as we had found them to exist almost universally in their products for three years prior to 1903. While we still find considerable adulteration, some of it seriously reducing the feeding value of the products, there has been a change for the better, and we feel that the law has done a great deal of good. Quite a number of cases of serious adulteration have been discovered before the feeds were sold and their sale and use prevented. In one of these a car-load of wheat-bran had ground with it red corn-cobs to the amount of about 35 per cent. of its weight. Several shipments of considerable quantities of feeds contained rice chaff to the extent of 25 or more per cent.

Sea Island cotton-seed meal was being offered at near the same price as regular upland meal, whereas its feeding value is only about two-thirds that of good upland meal.

The law as executed by the Department is thus seen to have already given substantial protection to our feeders and manufacturers, and will, I am sure, become more useful in the future, as it will certainly be more necessary. An examination of the reports giving detailed results is necessary to fully appreciate what is being done in this line, and its meaning to the users of stock feeds.

4. TEST FARMS.

This closes the fifth year's work on the Test Farms of the eastern part of the State, and the second year in Iredell County. The main experiments on these farms with field crops are conducted according to one general plan, so that the results may be comparable and furnish data as to the culture and methods of handling these crops in the different soils and sections of the State. This work is being repeated from year to year and will be continued until we feel that we have sufficient reliable data to justify the discontinuance of these experiments.

These tests in the main are as follows:

Cotton and Corn.—Between sixty and seventy different tests have been made with each cotton and corn on one-tenth-acre plats. Twenty-two of these are devoted to different combinations and amounts of the three fertilizer constituents—nitrogen, phosphoric acid, and potash—with the view to determining the best balanced fertilizers and best paying amounts for these crops on these particular lands. Three plats are given to testing the effect of dividing the fertilizer and applying on one plat half of all the constituents at planting and half later, and in two cases to applying all the acid phosphate and kainit and one-half the cotton-seed meal before planting, putting on the other half of the nitrogen later as nitrate of soda on one plat and cotton-seed meal on the other. Two plats are devoted to different methods of cultivation—ridge and level; ten to rotations, to see if vetch, peas, burr clover, velvet beans, soja beans and peanuts—winter and summer growing nitrogen gatherers—will not collect from the air all the nitrogen that is needed by these crops; two to testing the effect of lime; three to comparing cotton-seed meal, cotton-seed and stable manure as sources of nitrogen; three to testing the effect of acid phosphate, fine-ground phosphate rock and Thomas' slag phosphate as sources of phosphoric acid; two to different depths of applying fertilizer, and twenty-five to thirty to testing varieties of cotton and corn, together with different distances of planting in the rows and different width rows, and methods of selecting seed for the improvement of yield.

Cotton Wilt.—The wilt of cotton is becoming more and more prevalent in the State every year. It is a disease similar to that attacking melons and tobacco in some sections and is caused by the clogging of the circulation of the plant by minute organisms, thus causing it to wilt and die for want of food and water. We have conducted this year in Robeson County, on the farm of Mr. J. A. Thompson, near Lumberton, an experiment in co-operation with the United States Department of Agriculture, with the view of obtaining one or more varieties of cotton which will withstand this disease. The farm now owned by Mr. Thompson was sold two years ago at a greatly reduced price because of the prevalence of this disease on the land, and which made it impossible to grow cotton with any certainty. The experiments this year have been quite successful. Several varieties of cotton were found to be more or less resistant to the disease and one variety did all that could be expected of it. Five acres of this kind were planted and the yield was at the rate of 1,349 pounds per acre as against 1,017 for the kind being generally grown. A considerable quantity of seed of this variety is now available for the use of other parties in the State who are troubled with the disease, and we are in position to enable them to get seed for use in this way.

Peanuts.—Thirty-five plats are given to experiments with peanuts along the lines indicated for corn and cotton, with the idea of obtaining information regarding the best methods of growing, fertilizing and handling this important eastern crop.

Cow-peas.—Fertilizer tests of cow-peas along the line of those for cotton, corn and peanuts have been conducted, together with tests of different times of planting, different quantities of seed when planted broadcast and in the drill, to determine the effect on seed and hay production. In these tests have been included all the varieties of cow-peas which we could obtain and which have numbered between fifteen and twenty each year. A study is also being made of the fertilizing value of the different varieties, as well as of the entire plant and the stubble, together with methods of handling the soil for different crops when the vines are left and when removed for hay. These experiments have been made on sandy soil in the eastern part of the State and also on red clay land at Statesville. They have included between eighty and ninety experiments, all of which are divided into half, one portion being cut for hay and the other half gathered for the yield of peas.

Cow-pea Wilt.—The cow-pea is subject to a disease similar to that already referred to as attacking cotton. We are conducting experiments with it. Other experiments have found that the Iron cow-pea resists this disease, and in our experiments with varieties we have found one or two other varieties which are more or less resistant. This work will be continued.

Experiments With Grains.—A large number of varieties of wheat, oats and rye are being tested on the Edgecombe and Statesville farms, with a view of determining which variety or varieties will do best in these two sections of the State. It is our purpose to run these tests until we find two or three kinds of each grain which will stand our climatic conditions best and give us the largest yield and then from these make selection for further improvement of yield and quality. Methods are also being tested in regard to preparation of land, time and quantity of seeding, and fertilizer requirements.

Grasses and Legumes for Pasture and for Hay.—On the Edgecombe and Statesville farms over one hundred small plats have been put out in grasses and legumes and combinations of these to test the adaptability and value of native and new grasses and legumes for pasture and hay production, and for use as winter cover crops and in rotation with the usual crops of the sections. Of such of these as have given promise of success our tests have been extended to develop the best methods of growing and handling to obtain the surest and most profitable crops. Up to this time, among the grasses Tall Meadow Oat, Italian Rye and English Rye, early grazing and hay grasses, have done especially well. Among the legumes burr clover and vetch have succeeded splendidly.

Burr Clover and Vetch.—On considerable areas of the Edgecombe farm, for two years, both burr clover and vetch have re-seeded themselves and given excellent pasturage and fine yields of hay. A special Bulletin (July, 1904) on these crops has been issued, giving in detail methods of the preparation of the land, seeding, and management of the crops, together with rotations, which fit well with them. We are growing both corn and cotton year after year on the same land with vetch and burr clover, and have not had to seed either the clover or the vetch after the first year. The yields of cotton and corn have both been largely increased by the winter growth of the clover and vetch, and have enabled us to grow more cotton and corn with a reduction of the fertilizer bill, by something like 40 per cent. Quite a large number of farmers, in the eastern section particularly, are putting out these crops, for use as indicated above in the growing of cotton and corn.

Growing Crops True to Name.—We began our experimental work five years ago with tests of a limited number of varieties of cotton and corn. We have increased these until this year we have twenty-nine kinds of corn and twenty-five of cotton. It is our desire to extend this work and include in our tests all the distinct varieties of cotton and corn grown in the State, with a view to determining their merit and to aid in the naming of them, so that we may know which are the same and which are different. There is great advantage in having this information, and tests only will positively give it.

I feel that an important point would be gained if the majority of our farmers could say that they grow a particular kind of cotton or corn and keep the seed reasonably pure. A crop grown under a name has identity, definiteness and individuality, and would have greater value for planting than a mixed or unknown variety, which would yield practically as good results.

Mountain Test Farm.—The Board of Agriculture at its recent meeting accepted the report of the committee appointed at the June meeting to select and purchase a site for a Test Farm in the mountain section of the State. This farm has been located on the Transylvania Railroad, between Hendersonville and Brevard, on what we consider good land for conducting experiments with apples, peaches and other tree fruits, with truck crops, as Irish potatoes, cabbage, celery, etc., and with the general farm crops which are grown or can be grown to advantage in the mountain district of the State. A liberal donation was made by the County Commissioners, the Transylvania Railroad, and individuals towards the purchase of the place as an inducement to have it located at the present site. This, of itself, shows that there is much interest in this phase of the Department's work.

Test Farm for Truck Crops.—The Board of Agriculture, at its December meeting, decided to transfer the Test Farm at Red Springs, which has been conducted on a small area of leased land, to a more eastern situation in the trucking belt. For some time the East Carolina Truck and Fruit Growers' Association and individuals have been making a strong effort for the location of a Test Farm for experiments with trucking crops. The Department has for some time considered this step desirable, but has not found it possible heretofore to undertake the work. We find much interest in the location of the place and we feel that a suitable site can be obtained within a reasonable length of time, when experimental work in the line of truck and other crops in the section will be undertaken.

Interest of Farmers in the Test Farm Work.—We find that the farmers in the different sections are becoming more interested every year in the work we are doing, and in many cases go long distances to inspect the farms and their operations. We encourage these visits, and our superintendents give every opportunity for visitors to see what is being done on the farms.

In addition to this, I feel that we need and should ask for any suggestions which they might have regarding the work which we are now conducting or other experiments which would be of value to their sections.

In many ways the Test Farms are proving of great value and interest. They give us something definite for use in our correspondence with farmers with reference to the use of fertilizers and the growth and handling of various crops. They also give us first-hand information in our Farmers' Institute work, which is developing and becoming more important every year. I do not consider that a better thing can be done for the agriculture of the State than that which is being done in the experimental work.

CORRESPONDENCE.

An additional evidence of the growing usefulness of the Department is the greatly increased number of inquiries on various subjects relating to farm and other matters which come to me. During the past two years we have sent out letters to the number of nearly ten thousand and analyses to the number of nearly five thousand, making a total of nearly fifteen thousand for the two years, as against thirteen thousand for the previous two years.

CONCLUSION.

In conclusion, I desire to commend most fully and heartily the efforts of the workers associated with me. They have been industrious, earnest and faithful, and to them is due a full share of credit for whatever has been accomplished.

It is especially pleasant to say that I find myself under continued and renewed obligations to you, Mr. Commissioner, and to the Board of Agriculture for the uniform interest and consideration shown me in the conduct of the work entrusted to my charge, for all of which I thank you most heartily, and respectfully submit this review of operations for your information and consideration.

Very respectfully,

B. W. KILGORE,
State Chemist.

REPORT OF THE BOTANIST AND BACTERIOLOGIST.

The routine work of the biological division of the Department of Agriculture includes many different lines of work. Among these one of the most important is direct correspondence with farmers and others who write for special information. Such inquiries, when referred to the Biologist, are answered as promptly as the case permits by a personal letter. In addition to such special answers, when the question asked seems to be of general interest, the gist of the reply is sent out to the press of the State in form of a mimeograph circular. The average number of letters received by the Biologist is about twenty-four per week. Many of these letters enclose specimens of grasses, seeds or weeds for name and uses. Others refer to plant diseases, or ask for methods of preparing herbs for market, or best markets to ship certain kinds of produce. Occasionally letters which no one else seems able to answer are referred to the Biologist from the Commissioner's office. A sample of such letters was one asking for the most propitious phase of the moon for planting early truck crops. The Biologist answered such a letter, giving the accepted scientific theory of the relationship between the earth and her satellite. The moon has absolutely no influence upon early vegetation. But in early spring moonlight nights are apt to be frosty nights, not because the moon generates frost, but because of the absence of clouds which permit the heat radiated by the earth to pass off into space. When the nights are clouded, and therefore moonless, the clouds reflect back the radiated heat and prevent the temperature passing below the frost point.

There are in North Carolina many wide-awake real estate agents who make a specialty of selling farm and timber lands to immigrants. To attract the notice of prospective settlers the Biologist has frequently been asked by these agents to prepare statements in regard to the value and uses of different species of timber trees and the possibilities of various special crops in this State. A sample of work in this line is a circular recently sent out to the State press upon the value of certain North Carolina timbers for making paper, and the question of paper-making in general. An immense amount of valuable fiber which may be easily worked up into newspaper is annually wasted in the cotton fields of the State. The bark of the cotton plant in very fibrous, and there has been invented machinery intended for working this material into paper. The rice straw of the coast region and the wheat and oat straw of the middle counties, as well as the flax of the mountain region, might all be profitably utilized for paper-making.

The Biologist has been asked by the owners of certain patents controlling machinery for weaving "China matting" for data as to the abundance of the rush, Juncus effusus, from which this floor covering is made. This plant is native, wild and very plentiful in the swampy sections of the eastern counties. The plant is also capable of regular artificial cultivation and such cultivation is not more difficult than the cultivation of grass crops. The Juncus is a long-lived perennial which will thrive upon the rich moist or wet bottom lands of all the rivers emptying into the Atlantic within the boundary of North Carolina.

The "Pitch, Tar and Turpentine" industry, which was, according to the old geographies, the former main-stay of North Carolina agriculture, has now been worked out and passed on further south. The more southern fields are also becoming exhausted by the reckless methods of working turpentine farms. The market value of turpentine is on the increase and is likely to go on increasing. Many owners of North Carolina pine lands, once productive in turpentine, have written for best methods of restoring their timber. The only advice given or necessary is to fence out hogs for five years. There are usually left trees enough to reseed the destroyed forests. but the razor-back hog is especially fond of young seedling pines, and being great foragers and rapid travelers, these animals at present succeed in frustrating every attempt of the trees to regain possession of the soil.

There has occurred within a few years past a great revival of interest in matters pertaining to the public schools of the State. This revival has led to a widespread desire to improve the appearance of school grounds. The Biologist has had numerous calls for information about shade trees. Many letters have been written to such inquirers and a circular dealing with the subject has been sent out to the press of the State. The matter of selecting suitable shade trees for particular localities and uses is one of very great importance, since if unsuitable varieties are planted it may be many years before the mistake becomes apparent, and in the meantime great loss of time and money has been suffered. The Biologist has been sorry to see so many maple and cotton-wood or "Carolina Poplar" trees planted in the middle and eastern sections of the State. He has on the other hand always recommended oaks of the red group as by far the best and most desirable shade trees for the upland counties of North Carolina.

During the last two years the State seems to have been flooded with circulars of certain concerns, mostly located in the Western States, urging our farmers to go into the cultivation of genseng, the roots of which plant these philanthropists offer at prices which will enable any farmer to plant one acre in genseng at a cost of about $400. These circulars have detailed statements showing the expenses and receipts of a suppositious crop of genseng, yielding a net return of over $30,000 per acre. It might strike most cautious people that those who can make such profits from any sort of culture on one acre of land ought to devote their entire attention to producing the merchantable crop instead of advertising for purchasers of seedling roots. The real facts in regard to genseng-growing are as follows: The plant is botanically known as Panax quinquefolia. The roots as found in commerce have no medicinal or other intrinsic value whatever. Their commercial value depends wholly upon the fact that the Chinese have a superstitious reverence for the genseng root, regarding it in fact as a cure for all real and imaginary ailments. The market price for the dried root is about $4 per pound. It requires six to eight years to grow a salable root from seed. The plant is very sensitive to drought and heat, and a single unfavorable season at any time during the long growing period may ruin a plantation. The Biologist has advised all inquirers to go slow in experimenting with genseng. There is no possibility of successful cultivation of this crop anywhere in North Carolina east of the foot-hills of the Blue Ridge mountains. In the moist, shaded valleys of the mountain region there is a possibility of growing genseng, but the chances are that the crop will on the average yield a loss instead of profit. A circular giving plain directions for planting and caring for genseng has been published and sent to all inquirers.

Each recurring spring the Biologist receives letters stating that stock or children have been poisoned by plants of which a specimen is usually sent for name. These poisonous plants of spring-time are for the most part well known to botanists. They are native plants of sparsely settled regions and their eradication can come only with increase of population. All we can do at present is to warn against them and prescribe the most useful remedies. A large illustrated BULLETIN and a press circular on this subject have been published.

The bark of the root of the cotton-plant is a staple crude drug. It is used in compounding a certain class of medicines.

For many years past the bulk of the bark on the market seems to have been gathered at a loss of time and labor to the producers. Druggists have been offering only three cents to five cents per pound for the dried bark, delivered in Baltimore or New York. Within the last two years labor has become so scarce and high-priced in the cotton region that no one would gather the bark for the price offered. The result has been the exhaustion of the market supply and the price of the drug in the New York market has during the greater part of the year 1904 been about forty cents per pound. This fact has led to numerous inquiries of the Biologist as to methods of preparing the bark and best markets to send it. A circular has been published giving methods for preparing the bark and names of buyers. The Biologist has subsequently learned of an evident "combine" on the part of manufacturing druggists to keep the price of cotton root bark at or near its former unprofitable price—about five cents per pound. Letters from manufacturers of medicines have been forwarded by farmers to the Biologist, offering from five cents to eight cents per pound for first-class bark, while at the same time the bark was selling in the New York market for thirty-five to forty cents per pound. The druggists evidently supposed the farmers did not understand the facts and would sell their bark for any price offered. The Biologist has advised farmers to collect at first only small samples of the bark and submit these to the purchasers, and collect no more bark unless the price offered is above ten cents per pound f. o. b. nearest railroad depot. The labor even of children can be better utilized on the farm than in gathering cotton root bark for less than ten cents per pound.

In the fall of 1902 one of the members of the Board of Agriculture called the attention of the Biologist to reports being circulated in the newspapers of the State of alleged cases of death due to poisoning called the "Cabbage Snake."

Letters were at once written to several persons—all in the mountain region of the State—whose names were mentioned in connection with the cases of alleged cabbage snake poisoning. Samples of the supposed to be deadly creature were in this manner obtained, and on examination all proved to be a perfectly harmless Gordius worm which occurs naturally as an intestinal parasite of caterpillars, grasshoppers and other insects. The presence of this worm on cabbage plants or cabbage heads was evidently due to the previous abundance of cabbage worms. The Gordius worms are never parasitic upon humans or vertebrate animals. They are not snakes, are not venomous, and by no possibility could they harm any human being even if they were eaten by the quart. The sensational newspaper stories were wholly untrue. Yet it was found that many persons who had grown plots of cabbage or purchased cabbage for home use were throwing this good food on the manure pile on account of the panic created by these foolish stories. A circular giving the true facts of the case was at once sent out to the press and very widely copied all over the country. Yet, notwithstanding this, we still continue to hear of alleged deaths caused by "the deadly cabbage snake," but for the most part in other States than North Carolina.

North Carolina possesses numerous and great advantages for raising fruit. Here, as in other fruit-growing sections, there is annually a great waste of unmerchantable fruit. To save this waste, even in a small degree, is to add an important item to the agricultural income of the State. In this line the Biologist has published a lengthy and comprehensive BULLETIN on Canning, Preserving and Evaporating Fruits and Vegetables. Shorter papers dealing with Vinegar-making, Wine-making and Cider-making have also been published. These papers have seemed to fill an urgent need. All of them have been republished in part or in whole by agricultural journals in other States and in some foreign countries. The series of practical papers dealing with the "fermentation industries" will be continued until all of importance to the farmers of North Carolina have been dealt with. Among the subjects of special interest to North Carolina farmers is or should be the growing of sweet potatoes for production of alcohol, dextrine and starch. The growth of the Irish potato for alcohol is one of the main-stays of French and German agriculture. Yet the sweet potato is probably superior to the Irish potato for this purpose, and it can be raised in North Carolina for less than half the cost of growing the Irish potato in Germany, taking same weights of produce. There is a very large and growing demand for potato starch and dextrine for use in sizing cotton cloth. There seems no reason why these commodities should not be produced in North Carolina.

In the November, 1901, number of THE BULLETIN of the Department the Biologist published a brief history of silk culture, with a review of the former attempts made to produce silk in North Carolina, and the possibilities of reviving the industry. This paper attained an immediate and widespread popularity. The succeeding spring a small supply of silk-worm eggs was imported from Italy and distributed to some one hundred families in North Carolina. These families were for most part farmers who had one or two old mulberry-trees on their lands, the remnants of plantations set out in the early years of the nineteenth century. Few if any of these experimenters had ever seen a silk-worm or silk-cocoon. They had no facilities for economizing time or labor. The experiment was begun merely to see what could be done. No expectation was entertained that any salable cocoons could be produced the first season. In fact, however, a large lot of very fine silk was the product of this first attempt. This silk was all sold at from ninety cents to one dollar per pound. The results were very encouraging. The most valuable lesson taught was that silk can be profitably grown in nearly every county in North Carolina. The labor utilized in producing this crop is that of children of from six to fifteen years and the very old or feeble members of the family for whom there is no other species of remunerative labor.

A ten-year-old boy or girl by growing silk may in six weeks of early summer earn from thirty to fifty dollars. This statement assumes that there is an abundance of leaves of the white mulberry at hand—not large trees difficult to get at, but low shrubs or a hedge from which the leaves may be gathered without climbing. Silk-growing is no get-rich-quick scheme. The work requires the utmost care and conscientious effort upon the part of the attendant during the six weeks of the silk season. The season being so short, silk-growing can never become a special or all-the-year business. It is not recommended as a substitute for any employment now open to persons who can do remunerative work. It is most eminently suited for the younger and aged members of the family who need money and the comforts money may buy, and who are yet unable to do any ordinary income-producing work. If every farm in North Carolina which has a dry soil, such as is known to be favorable to the peach-tree, had from one hundred to two hundred white mulberry-trees, and grew silk by the kind of labor just mentioned, the entire face of country life would be greatly and permanently altered for the better. Every nation which has made silk-growing a general household industry has acquired enduring wealth and raised its agricultural class above brutish stolidness and desires. At the present writing the outlook for silk culture is bright. Already there are prospectors looking for locations for silk mills where silk can and is being locally produced. We may even hope to see silk factories and silk reels as plentiful as we now see cotton mills and cotton-gins.

Since June, 1902, the North Carolina Board of Health has made an arrangement with the North Carolina Board of Agriculture whereby the two boards conjointly use the services of the writer and the bacteriological facilities of the laboratory in the Department's building. The bacteriological work of the Board of Health was begun in 1900, when the Board of Agriculture generously permitted the Board of Health to send samples to the undersigned, then employed solely by the Board of Agriculture. From this small beginning the bacteriological work of the Board of Health has developed until it has now become one of the most important health and life-saving agencies controlled by the State. Great credit is due to the Board of Agriculture for its part in building up the health work of the other board, and when the history of the Agricultural Board comes to be written probably no more important service can be credited to it than its assistance in building up the bacteriological part of the work properly belonging to the Board of Health.

REPORT OF VETERINARIAN.

Hon. S. L. Patterson,

Commissioner of Agriculture.

My Dear Sir:—Pursuant to your request, I submit the following report regarding the work of the Veterinary and Animal Husbandry Division of the Department:

Animal Husbandry.

By legislative enactment the State Board of Agriculture is charged "with investigations adapted to promote the improvement of milk and beef cattle."

Is there need of more live stock on North Carolina farms, and if so, why? These questions are fully answered by the simple statement that while our farms yield eighty-nine millions of dollars worth of products annually, we feed only ten million dollars worth of these products to live stock.

In other words, we take eighty-nine pounds of fertility from our soil and put back less than ten pounds in the form of stable manure.

It is readily seen that no bank, not even a bank of North Carolina soil, can stand that sort of drafts and deposits. Then, in what way do we keep up the balance of fertility in order that our crops may draw on it? By the purchase of commercial fertilizers to the extent of about $8,000,000 worth in 1904.

It appears to me that $8,000,000 is too heavy a tax on our agriculture. It is about 9 per cent. on our entire agricultural production. Moreover, our present system of farming means that these fertilizers must be steadily increased year after year, to produce equal effect, and the price of fertilizing materials has also steadily increased and will probably continue to do so. Can we stand this increasing burden which falls with regular certainty on our agriculture, in years of light crops as well as in years of heavy, and in years of low prices as well as in years of high prices? I do not believe we can, and, therefore, a change in our system of farming seems to me inevitable.

But the necessity for more live stock in our system of agriculture does not rest solely on the need of our soils for plant food. In fact, analyses show that many of our unproductive soils have sufficient plant food to grow numerous crops if it were in such condition that the plants could use it. For instance, some of our red clay soils have been found to contain 4 per cent. of potash, which is more than is usually contained in commercial fertilizers and just twice as much as is contained in the common 8-2-2 goods so generally used. The productiveness of such a soil is not so much a question of plant food, as the mechanical and other conditions that will render the plant food already in the soil more readily available for the growing crops.

The great need of our soils is humus—decaying vegetable matter. This decaying vegetable matter is essential to every productive soil, because it makes it more mellow; because it increases its ability to hold water for the growing crops; because it prevents leaching and washing; and because it furnishes plant food. In fact, without it, even commercial fertilizers will not give satisfactory results, and, therefore, more decaying vegetable matter in our soils is a necessity which even increased applications of commercial fertilizers will not obviate. This humus has been exhausted in our soils by our system of agriculture, which carries away eighty-nine dollars worth of crops for every ten dollars worth fed on the farm and returned to the soil; by the kinds of crops grown, which generally demand clean cultivation; and by the warm, wet winters which favor washing and leaching.

How can this humus be most economically put into our soils?

By the growing of more forage crops and the feeding of them to better live stock.

Is it really necessary to feed these crops to live stock? Why not turn them directly into the soil? Because they may be fed to live stock and from 75 to 90 per cent. of their fertilizer value obtained in the manure, if it be carefully saved; therefore, it is apparent that we cannot afford to waste their entire feeding value to save from one-tenth to one-fourth of their fertilizer value.

The aim of this Department has been to induce every farmer, no matter how small his operations, to keep a few more animals of higher quality and give them better care and more feed; for in this way only, can he economically supply his soil with that humus necessary to high and profitable crop production. In short, the growing and feeding of more live stock is no longer a matter of choice with us, but has become an absolute necessity. Our washed and gullied soils show plainly the need for more humus, and common sense and science unite to prove that this humus can be most profitably supplied through stable manure; while our increasing fertilizer bills but foretell the final failure of a system of agriculture which feeds to live stock and returns to the soil but 12 per cent. of that which it produces.

Realizing this need for more live stock in North Carolina agriculture and the importance of wider knowledge concerning the industry, considerable effort has been made to arouse a greater interest in animal husbandry and to disseminate information concerning the breeding and economical feeding of farm animals. This work has been done in the form of lectures at over sixty farmers' meetings, in as many counties, in the State, during 1904, contributions to the Department BULLETIN and the agricultural press; and the encouragement of the importation of a better quality of live stock. The Test Farms of the Department are being stocked with such numbers of cattle, sheep and hogs as should be found on every farm of similar size and the produce of these animals distributed over the State at a reasonable price. Moreover, to further aid in the introduction of improved live stock we have induced a prominent and reliable breeder of Louisville, Ky., to sell at public auction, thirty pure-bred short-horn cattle, at the Iredell County Test Farm, near Statesville.

THE CATTLE QUARANTINE.

After it became established that the disease variously known in this and other Southern States as splenic, Spanish, Texas or tick fever, distemper, dry or bloody murrain, red water, acclimation fever, town-cow disease, etc., was naturally conveyed solely by the common Southern cattle tick (Boophilus annulatus), the United States Secretary of Agriculture designated a line, extending across the country from the Atlantic Ocean to the Pacific, which was intended to divide the section infested with the cattle tick from that in which no ticks existed. No cattle from south of this line, that is, from the tick-infested area, are allowed to be driven or in any way transported northward across this line, except under certain strict regulations, and then only for immediate slaughter. All of North Carolina was not permanently infested with this tick, but that part east of the mountains was, and, consequently, all of the State was subjected to these quarantine restrictions. The Secretary of Agriculture has authority to exempt from the operation of this quarantine any district that is free of the cattle tick, where the State authorities will enforce such regulations as will effectually prevent ticks being carried into such district, giving assurance thereby that cattle for shipment originating within said districts are unable to carry infection with them to other markets. In order to secure the advantages thus accruing the Department has co-operated with the United States Department of Agriculture and secured exemption from the quarantine restrictions for a number of the western counties of this State, thus securing a valuable saving to the cattle growers of that section.

To those familiar with the conditions under which Southern or quarantined cattle sell in the principal markets of the country, it is well known that because they cannot go on to Northern pastures or into Northern feed lots, but must be sold for immediate slaughter or go back home, they sell from one-half to one cent per pound, live weight, below that brought by cattle of the same quality, but not under the quarantine restrictions. To this must also be added the cost of providing separate pens and unloading chutes and disinfecting the cars, which the government requires the railroad companies to do. It is, therefore, evident that the gain to the twenty-two counties of this State exempted from these quarantine restrictions is not less than from one-fifth to one-seventh the selling price. In 1899 these counties sold over $800,000 worth of live stock (estimated from the United States Census Report), which means a clear annual saving by the exemption from the quarantine restrictions, of between $115,000 and $160,000. The total cost of maintaining the line across this State does not amount to more than $500 annually.

THE EXTERMINATION OF THE CATTLE TICK.

When the work of tick extermination was begun in North Carolina under the direction of my predecessor, Dr. Curtis, it was largely an experiment, and was not generally regarded as practicable. At first little interest was taken in the effort, but to-day those interested in live stock sanitary matters, from California to South Carolina, are making inquiries regarding our plans of work and the results. In fact, over the entire infected area the tick is gradually coming to be regarded as an exterminable pest, and one demanding State and Federal attention in the interest of the cattle industry. The injury done to the growth and development of infested cattle; the large death loss from tick fever, the magnitude of which is being more fully appreciated as the disease becomes more generally known; the interference with free exchange of traffic, caused by the quarantine restrictions and the danger of loss from tick fever, which retard the improvement of the quality of our live stock; and the closing to us of the best markets, except under almost prohibitive conditions, combine to form such a terrible bill of indictment against the tick and such a heavy embargo on the development of the cattle industry of the South, that it seems almost incredible that now, since we know how easy it is to exterminate him, more effort is not being made to free the industry of this, the only real obstacle to its successful development.

The accompanying illustration shows the location of the Federal quarantine lines in 1902 and 1905. Only 16 counties were free in 1902 and in four of those, Henderson, Transylvania, Macon and Cherokee, ticks were numerous. In 1905 there will be 22 entire counties free and parts of two others, while infection has only been found in one county west of the Blue Ridge this year. In other words, Caldwell county and the north half of Burke were released from quarantine in 1903, and we have the promise of the Federal Inspector in charge of this work to recommend the addition of the counties of Wilkes, Catawba, Lincoln, Gaston, south half of Burke and part of Surry to the exempted area for 1905.

FEDERAL QUARANTINE LINE ACROSS NORTH CAROLINA, 1902.

FEDERAL QUARANTINE LINE ACROSS NORTH CAROLINA, 1905.

This, it seems to me, should be regarded as satisfactory progress, and with a continuation of the work I think we can reasonably hope for the addition of two or three counties each year.

FARMERS' INSTITUTES.

The Farmer's Institute has been on trial as a method of extending agricultural knowledge for over twenty years, and has now become established as one of the most important educational movements of the century. At this date it should be a waste of time, if not ridiculous, to further discuss the importance of this work, and therefore, suffice it to state, that in my opinion there is no other way in which this Department could annually spend a liberal amount that would more certainly carry great good to the farmers of the State and bring them in touch with the work of the Department and agricultural progress in general. In short, it seems to me, the time has come when the Farmer's Institute should be considered and treated as an important and fixed line of work of the Department and put upon a permanent financial and business basis. To obtain the best results these institutes should be held regularly in every county in the State and at stated intervals of not over one year. In this way the Farmer's Institute should soon become established as a well-known and important institution that would require less advertising and command more attention as the years go by. It is not only folly but also a waste of money and effort to hold institutes at irregular intervals of two or three years. At least one institute every year, and preferably at the same season each year, is the least that should be attempted.

During 1904 institutes have been held in sixty counties. This is at least two, and probably three times the number held during any other year. On the whole, these institutes were fairly well attended and in those counties where institutes were held last year the attendance and interest this year have been very encouraging. No record of the attendance at institutes was kept previous to 1903, but while many more institutes were held in 1904, and quite a number of these in the more sparsely settled mountain regions, still I am of the opinion that the average attendance this year was double that during 1901 and 1902. Very successful institutes were held in 1904 in the counties of Mecklenburg, Cabarrus, Davie, Stanly, Union, Cleveland, Beaufort, Gaston, Gates, Iredell, Montgomery, Northampton, Perquimans, Pitt, Warren and Washington, and, considering everything, fairly successful institutes were held in Bertie, Burke, Alexander, Alamance, Caldwell, Chatham, Clay, Edgecombe, Forsyth, Franklin, Granville, Hertford, Lincoln, Madison, Moore, Pasquotank, Camden, Currituck, Polk, Randolph, Rowan, Catawba, Guilford, McDowell, Rutherford, Watauga and Yancey.

During 1904 fully half my time has been devoted to organizing and attending Farmers' Institutes; in fact, during the year I have made one or more talks at farmers' meetings in sixty-two counties in the State.

THE CONTROL OF THE DISEASES OF LIVE STOCK WITHIN THE STATE.

This Division cannot, nor does it attempt to treat, individual cases of diseased animals, except by correspondence; still, it is our policy to visit all reported outbreaks of contagious or infectious diseases and all outbreaks of any disease when a sufficiently large number of animals are affected to render it of general interest to a community.

Of the communicable diseases affecting live stock in this State, tick fever, popularly known as distemper or Texas fever, and hog cholera continue the most common and fatal. Such diseases as tuberculosis, blackleg, glanders, etc., while not unknown in this State, are fortunately much less common than in many other sections of this country.

all others combined. In the majority of cases the true nature and cause of the disease is little suspected, even by the owners, the animals dying before the ticks have grown large enough to be visible to the ordinary observer. These heavy losses are due to the fact that, even in what is known as the infected area, many farms are free of ticks and therefore the cattle raised on these farms are as susceptible to the disease as those raised in New York or Minnesota; for, in order to safely acquire immunity the calves must get ticks on them before they are six months old, which nearly always occurs on the tick-infested farms. Hence, the freedom from losses when there are abundance of ticks, or none of them at all, and the heavy losses where there is any commingling of cattle from tick-free and tick-infested farms. This renders cattle traffic extremely dangerous in a large number of the counties of the State and results in losses, the aggregate of which are simply amazing to those not familiar with the conditions.

Hog Cholera.—This disease is a source of great loss to the farmers of the State. Many outbreaks have been reported to this office. A few of these have been visited, and in all cases information concerning the best known methods of control and eradication have been given. Much of the ravages of this disease could be avoided by a better observation of sanitary regulations. The fact that the disease is due to a specific germ and cannot break out in any herd unless that germ has been carried there by buzzards or other birds, by running water the wind, on the feet of visitors or attendants, by other hogs, or by hogs coming in contact with the places or things contaminated by sick animals, is not properly appreciated by the average farmer and as a result the disease is often spread when proper precautions would have prevented it. Proper regard for these facts, by burning all hogs dying of disease, excluding from the premises all visitors and others likely to have been where the disease exists and removing the well hogs (not the sick ones) to new and clean quarters as soon and as often as a sick animal develops, would very greatly reduce the losses from this disease.

INOCULATIONS TO PREVENT TICK FEVER.

The presence of the fever tick (Boophilus annulatus) over the greater part of the State offers the most serious obstacle to the improvement of our common cattle through the use of imported pure-bred bulls.

All cattle that are over one year old before becoming infested with ticks are susceptible to the disease, and fifty per cent. of them die. This renders the introduction of pure-bred stock extra hazardous and expensive.

In recent years there has been developed a method of preventive inoculation, with blood from an animal previously infested with ticks. Susceptible animals are thus given a mild attack of the disease from which they usually recover and which enables them to withstand the infection introduced by the ticks.

During the last three years I have inoculated over sixty head of cattle for citizens of the State with a loss, from the inoculation and subsequent tick-infestation, of only one animal, whereas without inoculation fifty per cent. would almost certainly have died.

This work is done free of charge for any farmer in the State who may request it, in order to encourage the introduction of pure-bred stock.

The work briefly reviewed in the foregoing pages, my duties as Veterinarian to the Agricultural Experiment Station, and Professor of Veterinary Science at the Agricultural and Mechanical College, and the gradually increasing correspondence and office work connected with the same, have combined to fully occupy my time and energies.

Very respectfully submitted,

TAIT BUTLER,
State Veterinarian.

REPORT OF ENTOMOLOGIST.

MR. S. L. PATTERSON,

Commissioner.

SIR:—The following report covers the principal operations of the Division of Entomology for the past two years:

The duty of this office is to give information regarding insects, especially such as are injurious to the interests of man. Reliable estimates place the annual loss in the United States from insect ravages at $400,000,000, or about $5 for every man, woman and child. Yet it must be borne in mind that this comes almost entirely from the farming classes. During the Spring of 1904 the Strawberry Weevil caused a loss in eastern North Carolina of not less than $100,000. Much of these losses can be prevented by proper management or by applying the proper remedies at the proper time.

GROWTH OF WORK.

During the last two years there has been a constant and steady growth in the amount of work carried on by this office in its various lines. Some idea of this growth may be had by a study of the following table, which compares the work for 1903-'04 with the two previous years, which are reported upon in the last report to the Legislature. These figures are as accurate as it is practicable to make them:

| | 1901-1902. | 1903-1904. | Inerease. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Number of nurseries inspected (for two years)------- | 90 | 106 | 16 |
| Acreage in nursery stock inspected (for two years)--- | 1,200 | 1,600 | 400 |
| Counties where San Jose Scale is known to exist------ | 22 | 47 | 23 |
| Premises where San Jose scale is known to exist------ | about 125 | 192 | 67 |
| Trees treated by owners for San Jose Scale (for two two years, estimate). | 50,000 | 100,000 | 50,000 |
| Miles traveled in Entomological work (for two years) | *12,000 | †21,000 | 9,000 |
| Number of letters written (for two years, estimate)-- | 2,200 | 4,000 | 1,800 |

†Entomologist and assistants.

During the years of 1901-'02 the Entomologist was alone in this work save for two or three weeks in the summer of the latter year. During the years of 1903 and 1904 he has had assistance a large part of the time and this accounts for the great increase in traveling work. Mr. G. M. Bentley, who has now been appointed the regular assistant, has been doing most excellent work.

Brief mention may here be made of some of the more important phases of work carried on by this office.

NURSERY INSPECTION.

All nurseries in the State have to be inspected once each year by the Entomologist or others working under his direction. The object of this inspection is to detect injurious insects or disease if they shall appear in any nursery and prevent their being disseminated through the sale of nursery stock. The great stimulus to fruit growing in the past few years has resulted in a considerable increase, both in the number of nurseries and the amount of stock grown by them.

ORCHARD WORK WITH SAN JOSE SCALE.

In this work our object is to locate, so far as practicable, all orchards or premises which are infested with the San Jose Scale and give full information to the owners regarding the manner of controlling the pest. That it can be profitably and successfully combatted is shown by the fact that at Southern Pines, Moore County, where the scale has been thoroughly established for many years, the well-sprayed orchards have produced profitable crops of fruit for five consecutive seasons, and all prospects point to increased profits in the future. The best orchardists in that vicinity, so far from giving up in despair, are enlarging their fruit interests.

The introduction of the Lime-Sulphur-Salt Wash as a remedy for the scale, marks a new era in the combat with this pest. Although it has always been practicable to keep orchards in profitable condition even when infested (as shown by the best orchards at Southern Pines), yet this wash has greatly simplified the matter of its successful control. Last year marked the first extensive use of this wash in this State, and approximately 75,000 trees were treated with it, most of these being in the vicinity of Southern Pines. This year we expect it to be still more extensively used.

TRAVELING.

The expenses incurred in carrying out the various inspections are quite considerable and are a serious handicap to the active prosecution of work in a State of the magnitude of North Carolina. The work of this office has touched nearly every county from the Smoky Mountains to the Atlantic, but much of it has to be done by correspondence only, as actual visits to the localities concerned would entail heavy expense.

COUNTY CORRESPONDENTS.

In order to offset in some degree the disadvantage just mentioned we have lately undertaken to select a list of County Correspondents. These parties are expected to take a special interest in the work of this office and we will expect to give special attention to their inquiries. We now have a list of about sixty such persons, covering between thirty and forty counties. It is our hope by means of these agencies to keep the public better informed regarding insect pests.

CORRESPONDENCE.

The number of letters received making inquiries about insects is steadily increasing. So far as possible we are meeting these inquiries in our publications, but the interest being felt in this subject by the farmers is far in excess of our ability to supply printed information. By direct letter we are also better able to meet the specific needs of each individual.

PUBLICATIONS.

THE BULLETIN of this Department for June, 1903, contains a great deal of information relative to insect pests. This was practically a reprint of THE BULLETIN for June, 1901, revised and brought down to date, with the addition of an adequate article on the spraying of fruit trees, etc. The demand for the June, 1901, BULLETIN had been so heavy that the edition was exhausted and the demand for the revised edition has been considerable.

We have also been issuing a series of "Entomological Circulars," the object of which is to treat of our various insect pests in the plainest, briefest and most practical manner possible. The first one of this series was issued in September, 1903, and up to date twelve have been issued, with two more in press, as follows:

No. 1. The Hessian Fly.
No. 2. The Cotton Boll-worm.

COTTON BOLL-WEEVIL.

Great uneasiness now prevails throughout the cotton States concerning the Cotton Boll-weevil. The numerous reports of its appearance in this State have proven to be erroneous in every instance. At the present time the insect is not known in this country outside of the eastern half of Texas and the adjoining western one-third of Louisiana.

The spread of this pest is of course a very serious matter and every precaution should be taken that it shall not be accidentally introduced into this State. Yet at the same time it is safe to assume that it will never cause the permanent abandonment of cotton-growing in any of the Southern States.

For the enlightenment of our people we have had a large number of dead weevils sent us from Texas, and these have been distributed among our farmers to enable them to detect the pest more readily should it appear in this State at any time.

COLLECTION OF INSECTS.

The collection of the insects native to this State is growing constantly. About 30,000 to 35,000 specimens are now accumulated—some harmful, some beneficial, and some neutral, in their relation to man. This collection is a great help in the teaching work at the College and is absolutely indispensable in carrying on our regular office work. It contains, in various stages, almost every serious insect pest known to the State. This collection is open to inspection at all times.

REPORT OF THE HORTICULTURIST.

Hon. S. L. Patterson,

Sir:—In accordance with your request of recent date, the report of the Division of Horticulture since its establishment, is submitted herewith.

On May 1, 1904, I entered upon my present duties as State Horticulturist. Since then my time has been largely occupied in investigating the present status of the different horticultural industries in the State, studying their needs and problems, and formulating plans for future work.

It is doubtful whether any other State in the Union affords better soil and climatic conditions for the development of large and diversified horticultural industries than does North Carolina. Rising from the sea level in the east through all gradations of muck, sand, sandy loam, clay, clay loam, to the rich cove and valley lands of the mountains in the west, soils in great diversity may be found, suited to the growth and development of all those vegetables and fruits which reach perfection in temperate and cold temperate regions, and to some peculiar to warmer regions.

It is not to be wondered at, if under conditions such as these the problems confronting those engaged in the several lines of work should be no less in number than the crops which are grown. To the solution of these problems the Division of Horticulture must devote its main strength and energy and the major portion of its time.

The Trucking District.

The principal crops of the eastern trucking belt are strawberries, cabbage, Irish potatoes, lettuce, cantaloupes, cucumbers and dewberries, and there is great need for investigation work with all these crops. The kinds, quantities and economical use of fertilizers, the varieties of the several crops, the method of cultivation, the insects and their control, the diseases and the means by which they may be prevented, and in short all the details of handling these several crops from seed to market, are the pressing and urgent problems which demand attention on our part because more and more urgent is becoming the need of definite detailed knowledge. This knowledge is vitally important for the growth and development of the industry, necessary for the man long engaged in the industry to help him in solving the problems by which he is confronted, necessary for the man who desires to engage in the industry to enable him to undertake his work intelligently.

The introduction of new crops or the bringing forward of old ones is equally in need of attention, and in this work, must not be left out of consideration, while irrigation must come in for its share of attention.

The Western Trucking and Fruit Region.

The trucking crops which have been most developed in Western North Carolina are Irish potatoes and cabbage, and there appears to be every reason why these crops should receive still greater attention. The western section in nowise comes into competition with the eastern one, because of the difference in time of the maturity of the crops. It is a fact, that during the summer months the Southern markets, the natural markets of western North Carolina, are poorly supplied with fresh vegetables. No sooner does the northward movement of truck cease in spring or early summer, than a southern movement in the same commodities begins from northern sections. Western North Carolina can and eventually will supply an ample share of this produce.

Many other crops should be brought to the front, celery, strawberries for local consumption, tomatoes and sweet corn may be mentioned among the number.

In Eastern North Carolina large quantities of Irish potatoes are used for seed every spring. There appears to be no reason why these may not be produced in the western part of the State. Thus in more ways than one, the western region may be made to fit into and supplement the work of the east.

In addition many of the small fruit crops, such as blackberries, raspberries, currants, gooseberries demand attention.

The problems confronting the apple growers of the west are of paramount importance and those engaged in the industry are much in need of assistance. Plans have been laid looking to the solution of these difficulties.

CENTRAL REGION.

Except in the southern section, in the vicinity of Southern Pines, the horticultural industries are not likely to take a place of first importance. But a large variety of fruits may be grown for local consumption and the Piedmont section is doubtless as well adapted to the development of a pear industry as any region in the country. This industry should be developed.

In the peach belt, the principal difficulties are those concerned with the diseases and insects of the peach. The former demand attention.

CABBAGE EXPERIMENTS.

Although handicapped to a great degree by being unable to carry on work on our own ground, yet we have, through the kind co-operation of one of the members of the Board of Agriculture, Mr. William Dunn of New Bern, been enabled to start some experimental work which we have every reason to believe will prove beneficial to the eastern truckers. Tests of cabbage varieties are under way. Two hundred and seventy-nine samples of seed of different kinds were secured from different sources. Of these eighty-nine were supplied by the Section of Seed and Plant Introduction United States Department of Agriculture, and the remainder were purchased of seed dealers. The lot of seed from the National Department is particularly important, as we know definitely where and by whom the samples were grown, and we are certain of securing seed from the same sources for future work.

The objects of this work are:

1. To determine the best varieties of cabbage from the standpoint of production and quality for the eastern section.

2. To determine the best source from which the seed can be secured and whether there is any difference in different strains of the same variety.

3. To determine whether foreign or domestic seed is preferable. At the present time the chief sources of our cabbage seed supply are Holland, Denmark, England, France and Rhode Island.

4. To determine in some measure, how many different names the same variety is sold under.

In addition to this we have undertaken, at Mr. Dunn's suggestion, a line of work to demonstrate the best time at which to set the plants in the field.

It is our hope to be able to continue this work from year to year. The number of samples of seed used this year is large. At the end of this season's work we shall be able to greatly reduce this number and the second year's work will be carried on only with such varieties as merit further trial and with such new varieties as we deem it advisable to incorporate in the test.

FARMERS' INSTITUTES.

During the latter half of August, all of September, and the first half of October, my time was occupied entirely with Farmers' Institute work. Thirty-four institutes were attended at which some sixty addresses were delivered on apple growing, general fruit culture and soil amelioration. The interest taken in these subjects at all the institutes was excellent. That this line of work is effective there is no room to doubt; that it brings the Department workers into close touch with the farmer, his needs and his problems and enables him to approach these problems in a practical way, cannot be gainsaid, yet it may, in time, interfere seriously with investigation work.

CORRESPONDENCE.

The correspondence of the Division is steadily increasing and now takes a considerable portion of our time. Numerous inquiries are received concerning the culture of different crops. Many specimens of fruit have been sent in for identification.

In conclusion, I desire to express my appreciation of much kindly assistance rendered by my co-laborers, and by you, Mr. Commissioner, and to different members of the Board for the hearty support extended me in inaugurating my work.

Respectfully submitted,

H. HAROLD HUME,
State Horticulturist.

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., December 31, 1904.

To the Honorable General Assembly of the State of North Carolina:

GENTLEMEN:—I have the honor to submit the following report in response to the resolution of your honorable body, passed February 8, 1893:

I beg leave to say that none of the money appropriated by the General Assembly comes into the Bursar's hands. It is all received and disbursed by the Treasurer of the Board of Trustees, Honorable R. H. Battle, of Raleigh, who also administers all the endowment funds excepting the Deems Fund for aiding needy students. The Bursar collects fees from students for tuition, room rent, registration, gymnasium, library, etc., and pays all local bills. Whatever balance remains over he pays semi-annually to the Treasurer. His expenditures are subject to the direction of the Board of Trustees and are approved and audited by the Finance Committee of the Faculty. Semi-annual reports are also made by the Board of Trustees and audited by the Finance Committee of the Board. The Annual Committee of Visitation to the University also inspects the accounts.

The following are the scholarships awarded:

1. State Scholarships.—The only State scholarships given in the University are those under section 3 of chapter 233 of the Laws of North Carolina, passed by the General Assembly at its session of 1887.

2. Private Scholarships.—Private Scholarships have been endowed as follows, each valued at $60 per annum and conferring free tuition on the recipients:

(1) Four B. F. Moore scholarships, endowed by the will of the late B. F. Moore of Raleigh.

(2) Ten Cameron scholarships, established by his executors and legatees in memory of the late Paul C. Cameron of Hillsboro.

(3) Thirty-eight Mary Ann Smith scholarships, established by the will of the late Mary Ann Smith.

(4) Two Thomas F. Wood scholarships, endowed by the widow of the late Dr. Thomas F. Wood of Wilmington as a memorial to her husband.

(5) Fifteen Francis Jones Smith scholarships, endowed by the will of Miss Mary Ruffin Smith in memory of her brother, Dr. Francis Jones Smith.

(6) Ten Mary S. Speight scholarships, endowed by the will of the late Mary Shepard Speight.

(7) Eight Mary Morgan Mason scholarships, endowed by the will of the late Mrs. Mary Morgan Mason.

(8) The Weil scholarship, endowed by Henry Weil of Goldsboro.

(9) Five scholarships, given by E. M. Armfield.

(10) Twenty-four Alumni scholarships, endowed by the Alumni of the University.

(11) One Kenneth Murchison scholarship, endowed by Mrs. Jennis Murchison Carter and valued at $90.

It should be remembered that all these scholarships are paid for by private philanthropy, which thereby not only educates many deserving boys, but also adds that much to the property of the State.

3. Notes for Tuition.—Like other institutions, the University is unable to obtain cash payments from all its paying students. Some have property which is not available, some have no property at all, but prefer to give notes rather than accept scholarships. The law of 1887 (above referred to) specifically declares "that no young man of good moral character shall be denied admission because of his inability to pay cash or give a secured note."

The report of Honorable R. H. Battle, Treasurer, which accompanies this report, gives fully all information concerning the finances of the institution.

Very respectfully, FRANCIS P. VENABLE,
President.

STATEMENT B—MARY ANN SMITH FUND.

| Interest from bond and mortgage of an individual | | 270.00 |
| | | $ 2,509.76 |

| Paid General Fund for Professors' salary, etc | | $ 2,506.00 |
| Balance on hand | | $ 3.76 |

THIRD.

STATEMENT C—CHAIR OF HISTORY FUND.

| Cash on hand | 92.44 |
| | $37,086.44 |

As stated in last report, the obligation of the University is given for only the loan on account of the Carr Building, and there being no revenue from the Alumni Building, the money loaned to complete that has not been productive of interest. The Wilkes and Stanly County Bonds were, by direction of the Finance Committee, put in the hands of W. N. Coler & Co., bankers, of New York, who were the original plaintiffs in the creditors' suits brought in the United States Court to have the validity of the bonds adjudicated and for collection of accrued interest. As heretofore reported, the bonds were declared by the Supreme Court of the United States to be valid, and it is expected that this fund will soon realize something for interest and the bonds can be disposed of to an advantage.

One hundred and seven have been helped during two years.

The University derives no income from the fund. It was established by the Rev. Charles F. Deems, D. D., LL. D., as a memorial to his son, Lieutenant Theodore Disosway Deems, and was greatly augmented by the munificence of Mr. William H. Vanderbilt. The fund is loaned, both principal and interest, to students in the University on note, with security, at six per cent. As fast as payments are made, new loans are made, thus continually adding to the principal fund.

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL.

RALEIGH, N. C., April 6, 1904.

To His Excellency, CHARLES B. AYCOCK,

Governor of North Carolina.

DEAR SIR:—We have the honor herewith to present the Annual Report of this Board for the year ending December 31, 1903.

The report should have been submitted at the January (1904) meeting, but for lack of a quorum there was no action on the part of the Board, hence the delay to this date.

We are gratified to note continuous progress along most lines of our work, but are again impelled to call your attention to the still unsatisfied demands of the unfortunate insane of our State, a full exposition of which is set forth by our worthy Secretary in her accompanying report. We would also direct your attention to her utterances in reference to jail management, which have our full approbation. To our County Visitors, whose work is all-important to the furtherance of our object, we offer our sincere thanks, and bespeaking for this report your careful consideration, we have the honor to be,

Most respectfully,

CHARLES DUFFY, Chairman.

REPORT

OF THE

BOARD OF PUBLIC CHARITIES

FOR THE YEAR 1903.

RALEIGH, N. C., January 5, 1904.

DR. CHARLES DUFFY, Chairman, and MESSRS. WESLEY N. JONES, WM. A. BLAIR, EDGAR L. HAUGHTON and W. F. CRAIG, Commissioners of Public Charities of North Carolina.

GENTLEMEN:—I have the honor to present the following report of the condition and management of the penal and charitable institutions of the State for the fiscal year ending November 30, 1903.

In addition will be found reports of the county institutions and hospitals and orphanages maintained by the liberality of churches, fraternal orders, municipal aid and private benevolence.

North Carolina may well be proud of her institutions. Without exception, they are well managed by their efficient officers in charge, and their conscientious and painstaking boards of directors. These gentlemen not only discharge their duty to the State, but also the higher and nobler obligation of frail humanity "to bear one another's burdens." Their sympathetic and eager interest in the welfare of the defective and dependent classes, their personal feeling for each one of their own particular charges is an honor not alone to themselves but to the State whom they serve. A brief summary of the improvements, financial condition and needs of the institutions will be interesting.

THE STATE HOSPITAL AT MORGANTON.

The improvements in 1903 were the completion of the Harper Building, cost $100,000, and of the Colony, cost $6,000. The experiment of the Colony has proved remarkably successful and economical. In charge, 890; applications refused for want of room, 66. The financial condition is good. Needs a larger acreage and more room for male patients.

THE STATE HOSPITAL AT RALEIGH.

The Hospital has been connected with the Wake Waterworks (making a much needed improvement in the water supply), also some general repairs. At the end of the fiscal year balance on hand, $1,963.51. In charge, 405; applications refused, 103—42 for want of room. More land needed and accommodations for female patients.

THE STATE HOSPITAL AT GOLDSBORO.

New closets in the female department. The connecting of a small brick building with the third story of Vance Hall by means of a bridge of iron girders serves to dissociate tubercular patients and furnishes a solarium for them. In charge, 507 patients; applications refused, 28. Financial condition excellent, there being a surplus of $67 on hand November 30th. The Superintendent reports many cases of severe dysentery in the spring. The general health of the patients is good, "excepting tuberculosis, which is becoming a veritable scourge to the negro population, especially in the hospitals for the insane. About 28 per cent. of the deaths in the past year have been from tuberculosis. By all means the tuberculous patients should be isolated. This can be done by erecting separate buildings for their accommodation. This is our greatest need." This institution was inspected by your Honorable Chairman, Dr. Charles Duffy, on October 6th.

He reported its general condition satisfactory and earnestly advocated the isolation of the tubercular insane.

DANGEROUS INSANE DEPARTMENT.

The physician in charge reports the installation of the heating plant. This department is now full, having in charge 49 patients. "The accommodations are not altogether suitable or satisfactory." There is need of more land in order to provide the patients with room for proper exercise and occupation. Hon. J. S. Mann, Superintendent of the State's Prison, in which this department is located, speaks very emphatically in his report to the Board of Directors against this disposition of the dangerous insane. He says: "I cannot think this the proper place for these unfortunate people. The acts of an insane man can never make him a criminal, and if a criminal becomes insane he is at least entitled to a suspension of punishment during his affliction, and in neither instance is confinement in the State's Prison either just or humane. If need be, place them in a separate and distinct institution, but let it be outside of prison walls."

SCHOOL FOR THE DEAF AND BLIND.

A covered way between the main structures to protect students in inclement weather and a kitchen for the Principal's family have been added. Capacity of white and colored departments, 550. Now in charge, 315. On file 50 applications. The Principal estimates that there are 400 blind children, including both races, in this State. Isolated sick wards or a hospital for the care of contagious diseases is the chief need.

SCHOOL FOR THE DEAF AND DUMB.

There have been improvements to laundry and heating system. Can accommodate 280 children. On the roll, 238. The appropriation for maintenance is not sufficient. Applications on file, 27. The Superintendent estimates that "there are 400 white deaf children of school age in the State, and more than 100 have never attended school, and are growing up in pitiable ignorance. We also know of a large number who are too young." There was an indebtedness of $240.23 at the end of the fiscal year. The grounds are crude and need grading and macadamizing.

NORTH CAROLINA SOLDIERS' HOME.

Improvements, remodeling of the dining-room and repairs to the buildings. On the roll, 98. Applications on file, 25. In the hospital, 28. The sick are well cared for by special attendants, but a trained nurse would be advisable. This institution is managed most economically and has lived within the appropriation.

OXFORD ORPHAN ASYLUM.

Three industrial buildings have been completed. The new well is furnishing an ample supply of pure water. In charge, 254. Can accommodate 260. Will soon make room for 30 more. Also for hospital facilities, which are much needed.

OXFORD COLORED ORPHAN ASYLUM.

A dwelling with six rooms and three acres of land adjoining the grounds have been donated to the trustees of the Asylum. Since the addition to the building 135 can be accommodated. Now in charge, 99. "About 100 have failed to gain admission for the lack of room and not meeting the conditions." Applications are not filed.

THE STATE'S PRISON.

An excellent brick plant has been installed at the Central Prison. Many minor repairs and changes at the State farms. Number in charge November 30, 830, being 8 less than last year. The tendency is to work the prisoners on the county roads, and the number received at the Central Prison is decreasing. The health of the institution has been remarkably good. The prison is not only self-sustaining, but has on hand a balance of $31,438.97.

The proposition to change the Central Prison to a hospital for insane white males is strongly discouraged by the State physicians of the insane, on the ground that it would be entirely unsatisfactory without a large acreage of land and that the building would have to be radically changed, one item being the removal of all interior walls. Alienists agree that the peaceful and healthful occupations of farm life are most conducive to mental restoration, physical labor in the fresh air and sunshine coming nearest to the natural life of man. To profitably employ patients there should be an acre of land to each. There is not now sufficient acreage for the 49 confined within the prison precincts.

Number in charge of the State charitable institutions:

| | Present Nov. 30, 1903. | Total During Year. |
|---|---|---|
| State Hospital, Morganton | 890 | 1,019 |
| State Hospital, Goldsboro | 507 | 631 |
| State Hospital, Raleigh | 405 | 434 |
| Dangerous Insane Department | 49 | 53 |
| School for the Deaf and Blind | 315 | 375 |
| School for the Deaf and Dumb | 238 | 241 |
| Soldiers' Home | 98 | 157 |
| Oxford Orphan Asylum | 254 | 322 |
| Oxford Colored Orphan Asylum | 99 | 121 |
| | 2,855 | 3,353 |

Special appropriations were made by the last General Assembly to liquidate the indebtedness of the institutions, and they have lived well within their incomes during the current year.

We view with pride the industrial and educational progress of the State. Neither has she been a laggard in her charitable work. Never in her history has there been such general organized private benevolence. Her orphanages shelter the homeless, her hospitals lay healing hands upon the sick. But she has not yet done her duty to her wayward sons. There is no reformatory or industrial school for the youthful criminal—recommended for fourteen consecutive years by the Board of Public Charities, endorsed by religious and political bodies, prayed for by thousands of women. Nor is there a home for the feeble-minded. They sit in utter neglect upon the door-steps of the County Homes. The past, the future, empty nothingness, the present oft-times filth and physical discomfort, their rush-light intellects gradually going out. Wanting custodial care, they may be the progenitors of future generations who will successively sit in mental darkness upon that threshold. After years of earnest thought and effort, philanthropists agree that in the prevention of poverty, disease and crime lies the hope of the race. We cannot expect to attain this ideal existence, for the "poor" are to be "always with us," and so will disease and crime; but they can be appreciably decreased by the segregation of imbeciles and epileptics (thus preventing the transmission of hereditary taint), and by saving the children. Never in the history of the world has the uniform development of the mind, body and moral nature of the child so held public attention. Such weaklings as Sparta cast out, the modern State gathers into institutions for remedial or custodial care, mindful of the Divine word, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these * * * ye have done it unto Me." Twenty-two States maintain schools for the feeble-minded, twenty make special provisions for epileptics. Texas is combining the feeble-minded and epileptic in one institution. In North Carolina sixty-four idiots and epileptics are reported in the Homes (doubtless hundreds in the State). These might be removed to buildings on lands adjacent to the hospitals and under the supervision of the present superintendents. The cost would be little more than the sum expended for their care by the counties. They could be taught useful occupations and their pitiable condition alleviated. It is the duty of the State to guard her defectives and protect the unborn. Dr. George Mogridge, Superintendent of the Iowa Institution for the Feeble-minded, says: "Aside from the humanitarian aspect, it is understood that there is the more tangible one of political economy involved in the maintenance of these institutions."

A movement has been inaugurated in the State to obtain the enactment of laws in regard to juvenile offenders. A Juvenile Court and the Probation System (whereby children may be tried privately, and put on probation instead of the now compulsory attendance upon the schools of crime in our jails) will be strong factors in child-saving and in the ultimate prevention of crime.

Public sentiment in North Carolina is overwhelmingly in favor of the establishment of an "Industrial," or "Reform School." The Commissioner of Education reports ninety-two reformatories, with a population of 29,612, in the United States.

The educational and industrial features are most prominent. Pupils are under proper restraint only, and are taught to be self-reliant and self-supporting, and become useful citizens. More than 200,000 have passed through these institutions. In the educational opportunities which surround the happy, healthy children of North Carolina, to a degree of which their forefathers never dreamed, are the feeble-minded and incorrigible, abnormal physically, mentally, morally, through the sins of others, and no fault of their own, are they to have no share?

But the urgent and pressing need of the State is "more room for the insane." The hospitals are full, each county home has its quota, and many whose only "crime" is insanity are forced to pass weeks in the confinement of jail cages before they can be transferred to the hospitals for medical treatment. It is estimated that there are between four and five hundred insane persons in private homes. The "Appeal in Behalf of the Insane," published by this Board in 1900, says: "Of all misfortunes that befall the private citizen, nothing is such a hopeless task as the relief of insanity, or attempt thereto, in the private home. Hospital care is absolutely required, and every interest of the State, pecuniary, social and humanitarian is concerned in the restoration of the tax-consumer to his former relation as a tax-producer and productive worker in society." Cases curable in their incipiency become chronic in the enforced delay before admission to the hospitals can be obtained. Dr. J. W. Wherry, of the Clarinda State Hospital of Iowa, says: "The public do not know that the majority of all patients brought to the hospital are incurable, and this, too, for no other reason than the long lapse of time between the inception of the disease and their admission for treatment." "They do not know that most of the curable insane are outside—more's the pity—until the chance of recovery has been reduced to the minimum and the time for treatment has long since passed."

A young lady of a near-by town visited Raleigh to consult a physician. Reaching the railroad station she became violently insane. A stranger, she was committed to jail, thence transferred to the County Home of Wake, from there removed to the home of relatives. Being violent and uncontrollable, she was passed on to the County Home of her settlement. And this sad necessity occurred within a stone's throw of one of the State's great hospitals, but the institution was taxed to its utmost capacity, and already forty-two women had knocked in vain at its portals. It is a painful and distressing duty to the superintendents to turn away such cases, but the State virtually says: "Care for as many as the appropriation will maintain; the others must wait." It is the waiting which fills the institutions with chronic cases, which dooms to life imprisonment, which lays the burden of a twenty or thirty years' maintenance of a patient upon the tax payers, when a few months of hospital care in the first onset of the disease would have returned him to the community as a tax payer himself. In order to form a correct estimate of the insane who should have hospital care and who are now in county institutions and in private families, special circulars, requesting information in regard to defectives and dependents, were mailed to the commissioners of each county. The law provides that such information shall be furnished by the County Commissioners to the Board of Public Charities. The number of insane in the Homes is given, but little or no attempt has been made by them to ascertain the outside insane. Fourteen counties make no report at all, fifteen leave those questions blank, thirty-four reply "none," thirty-four give 180 insane in private families. One county gives 39, one 20, 12, 11, 10, etc., showing that a rigid canvass of the counties would probably result in a report from 400 to 500 not in any institution. The reports of commissioners, supplemented by those of the Visitors, give the number of insane in the Homes and jails of ninety-six counties, Granville not reporting:

|---|---|
| Insane in the County Homes | 192 |
| Insane in the County Jails | 28 |
| Idiots, imbeciles and epileptics | 64 |
| Total in Homes | 281 |
| Outside insane in 34 counties | 180 |
| Grand total | 461 |

Dr. Murphy estimates that there are at least 250 in the Western District needing hospital care. He has the names of 150, "who do not apply because they know that it is of no use." Dr. McKee has been obliged to refuse 103, some not eligible. Dr. Miller declined 28 and reports an undoubted increase of insanity in the negro race.

In North Carolina's year of plenty, with prosperity smiling upon her, surely the hearts and consciences of the people will not be hardened to the cries of the State's most unfortunate children. To increase the accommodations for the insane is a public necessity.

COUNTY HOMES.

The county institutions show some improvement upon reports of former years. The majority are in fair condition as to buildings, and all are comparatively well managed. The effort to raise the standard of the Homes and jails, with the assistance of influential men and women in the counties, has occupied much of the time. Letters of complaint were written to twelve counties where conditions were not satisfactory. A noble band of workers, Visitors and Auxiliary Visitors, two hundred and fifty-eight men and eighty-two women, assist the Board in the counties. The ladies have made special efforts to brighten the lives of the inmates, to encourage them in light work, to see that they have the privilege of religious services. The Auxiliary Visitors in Chatham County are to be praised for their commendable efforts. They have, through the generosity of the citizens, provided special dinners at Easter and Thanksgiving, and at Christmas a tree. Religious services are held once a month by the Episcopal minister. The ladies of Haywood County provided dinners for the inmates of Home and jail and gifts for those at the Home. It is the expectation that during the year other counties will make similar reports.

Human wrecks are washed by the unfavorable tides of life into the Homes, "the lame, the halt, and the blind." Childhood passed in this atmosphere of sorrow and failure is a pathetic travesty upon the name. To look after the children, of whom there are now 77 reported in the Homes, is a special feature of their work. An attempt has been made to ascertain the exact condition of these blighted little creatures. Fifty per cent. are defectives, some with indigent mothers, others abandoned or orphans. At least one-fourth should be in orphanages.

Scotland County has completed her Home. The buildings of Iredell have been renewed. Anson, Brunswick, Cumberland and Mecklenburg contemplate erecting new structures. Carteret, Currituck, Graham, Harnett, Lenoir and Polk have no Homes, though Harnett expects to build in the near future. Combining Visitors' and Commissioners' reports in regard to the county expenditure for the poor, 96 counties report as follows:

| | No. Inmates. | Maintenance. Cost per Annum. |
|---|---|---|
| *In Homes, time of report (in 84 counties) | 1,575 | |
| In Homes during six months | 1,640 | $ 95,884.64 |
| Receiving outdoor relief | 4,153 | 89,724.66 |
| Total | 5,793 | $185,609.30 |

There is no system of outdoor relief to the poor in Ashe, Forsyth, Guilford, Mecklenburg, Randolph, Yadkin or Vance.

COUNTY PRISONS.

Mr. Amos Butler, Secretary of the Indiana Board of Charities, has personally inspected the jails of a third of our States.

In his report to the National Conference of Charities he says: "While this has been an age of great progress in almost every line of social activity, that spirit does not seem to have influenced the jail system of our land. Most of our jails in plan and management are little, if any, advanced above those of a century ago. * * * " In the best plans that we can adopt the following points should be borne in mind: The jail should be of brick or stone; the walls unplastered. Provision should be made for a thorough separation of the sexes and for the classification of the prisoners. Juveniles and adults should not be placed together. Quarters should be provided for sick and insane inmates. Opportunities for communication between prisoners should be reduced to the minimum. Each inmate should have a cell, in which he should be confined day and night, when not employed or exercising, unless excused by a physician. When exercising, only one at a time should use the inner corridor for this purpose. To the outside corridor prisoners should never be admitted. * * * In devising a plan for a jail there is always to be taken into consideration the condition of the county and its needs. Having secured a good jail, it is necessary then to have a good administration. This is one of the most difficult things to attain. The sheriff is elected because of his political belief and not on account of his ability to administer a jail. We find some who are well qualified and who take pleasure in caring for those who are committed to their charge as well as conditions will permit. On the other hand, there are some who leave the entire administration to a deputy and who know little and care less about the care of the building or treatment of the inmates. A few rules of a simple character, applicable to the officers and the inmates, if properly enforced, would greatly improve conditions. It might be wise for the employment of prisoners, to lessen the evil effects of our jails, for the purpose of reducing crime, and as a means for the reformation of many who now have little opportunity in that way, if there could be erected within our State district work-houses under the care of the State, to which could be committed all such convicted ones as now serve jail sentences. Jails would then serve their proper function—merely as places of detention." Our work-houses and convict camps partially meet this proposed innovation, but jail sentences are still enforced, and there is no discrimination between prisoners awaiting trial and those convicted.

General R. Brinkerhoff, an authority on penological questions, says: "The county jails are moral pest-houses; the jail system should be revolutionized."

In some States the system of fees to the sheriff for the support of prisoners has been superseded by a regular salary, the county paying the actual cost of maintenance. Quoting from the proceedings of the Illinois State Conference of Charities: "There is no reason other than custom for the system which makes a prisoner a source of private revenue for a public officer, and it should be abolished, the county to pay the actual cost." These quotations have been made at some length in order to show the trend of prison reform which is "based upon a broad philanthropy more and better than a regard for the happiness of the individual, looking to the general welfare, and so the happiness of all."

Although the prisons do not attain the hoped-for standard, they show progress toward better conditions. Robeson, Bertie, Bladen, Brunswick and Stokes are erecting new buildings. Harnett will build during the summer. Gates, Wayne, Onslow and Wilkes have improved.

Ninety counties report:

|---|---|
| *Number confined at time of report | 562 |
| Number confined during six months | 2,539 |
| Hanged | 3 |
| †Died | 6 |

*See Tables, Jail Statistics. † One suicide.

Many confined for petty offenses. Concealed weapons in the eastern portion of the State and distilling and retailing in the western are most frequently reported. The number of murders reported has increased. Jail deliveries have been numerous. Three times as many negroes as whites and nine times as many males as females. These reports are incomplete and merely indicate the facts.

COUNTY CONVICT CAMPS.

There are twenty-five convict camps in the counties, and a number of other counties are preparing to work their convicts upon the roads. The reports are favorable. Outdoor labor is the negro's natural occupation, and the majority are negroes. Except for some abuses in punishments, which are sometimes administered, and which should be regulated by a general law, prisoners are well cared for, and the system is far preferable to the idle confinement of jails, "veritable schools of crime."

For the general work of the office, you are respectfully referred to the quarterly reports herewith presented. Grateful thanks are due the Governor, the State officers, the Superintendents of Institutions, the County Visitors, the Auxiliary Visitors and the members of the Board of Charities for their kindly aid and courtesy.

Very respectfully,

DAISY DENSON,

Secretary.

STATE HOSPITAL.

(Inspected by the Board of Public Charities, July 8th, Charles Duffy, M. D., W. F. Craig and Edgar L. Haughton, present).

DR. JAMES MCKEE, Superintendent. RALEIGH, N. C.

The improvements have been connecting the Hospital with the Wake Water-works, making a much needed change in the water supply (this was done by special appropriation), the erection of a house for storing farm implements, relaying of two floors in the centre building, fitting up an infirmary on the third floor for male patients, new tables covered with marble in the kitchen, scraped and hard-finished the walls in wards A and D in the female department. Cost for water supply $5,000; other items and general repairs, $1,500.

The farm is in a good state of cultivation, also the garden. Value of products, $12,470.44.

STATE HOSPITAL.

DR. P. L. MURPHY, Superintendent, MORGANTON, N. C.

Since the last report to the Board of Charities a new building for women, called the "Harper Building," has been finished and partly occupied. The building will accommodate 230 women, but owing to the fact that not enough money was appropriated to support the additional number of patients, only a part of it is occupied, 115 beds. A Colony for men has also been finished and occupied. It is about a mile from the main Hospital. This easily accommodates 40 men, and with some proposed additions 50 can be cared for. The Harper Building cost $100,000 and the Colony about $6,000. The Colony is heated with hot water and is entirely satisfactory. The results there have been far beyond our most sanguine hopes. The patients sent out in many instances would not work, were in poor health and many of them in profound melancholia. The improvement in them has been astonishing; men who never had done any work here now employ themselves all the time and are correspondingly happier. The health of all is appreciably improved. It is exceedingly gratifying to us to see how happy and contented every one is who goes there. Each one has his daily duties, some attending to the pigs, some the chickens and turkeys, and the feeble old men break stone for macadamizing the road. One patient especially, who had never worked any, has shown quite an aptitude for painting the barn and stable and making coops, etc. He is now, for the first time, taking interest in other things, and wants to be employed.

| Total removed | 58 | 71 | 129 |
| Remaining November 30, 1903 | 327 | 518 | 890 |

Percentage of deaths, 3.1; recoveries, 28; number refused admission during the year, 66. This does not include about 150 whose names we have, and who do not apply because they were told there was no use. I think it is safe to say that there are 250 patients in this district who cannot get admission. Re-admissions, 28. It is fair to state that 3 of these were not discharged as recovered. There has been no epidemic. One suicide. The financial condition of the Hospital is good. The appropriation is $125,000 per year. No other resource except a few pay patients, 22 in number, including those who pay only in part. No special appropriation. It is estimated by the Steward that the farm products, including milk, amounted to $20,782.85; cost, $12,044.88; net, $8,738.05. Number of patients from the Eastern District is 37. Number on probation, 95. Returned, 13. Discharged, 45. No accident reported to me happening to any patient out on trial.

Room for male patients is urgently needed, and more room for women. I honestly believe that we have not enough room for women, and the new building could be more than filled.

Remarks.—I cannot conceive how insane patients can be properly managed at home, unless in exceptional cases. If the friends had all the wealth necessary, still it is better for the insane to be in a hospital for their proper treatment.

P. L. MURPHY, M. D.,
Superintendent.

STATE HOSPITAL FOR THE COLORED RACE.

(Inspected October 6th by Charles Duffy, M. D., Chairman).

DR. J. F. MILLER, Superintendent, GOLDSBORO, N. C.

The improvements have been three new closets added to the female department, and a small brick building has been connected with the third floor of Vance Hall by means of a bridge of iron girders, wire and wood.

The object of this bridge is to dissociate tubercular patients and to furnish a solarium for them. The closets are better located and ventilated than the old ones. Cost of closets and connections, $1,552.

General average, 507.352.

Percentage of cures, 29.33; percentage of deaths, 11.56; on probation, 24.

The institution is now full. Until recently we have been able to admit most patients, but there are now 28 applications on file, and we cannot receive the applicants. There has been no change in the domestic administration. Annual appropriation, $58,000. No outstanding indebtedness but a surplus of $67 on November 30, 1903. Average per capita cost of maintenance is $121.45 per annum, or 33 cents per day. There has been a daily average throughout the fiscal year of 268 patients employed out of a daily average population of 477 present. Their employment has been on the farm, at the wood yard, in the sewing room, in the laundry, on the wards, etc. We insist upon every patient being employed when the mind and body are capable of it.

The farm and garden are gradually improving in productive capacity. Estimated value of farm, garden and dairy products is, net, $4,395.26.

We had a severe epidemic of dysentery of a malignant form in the spring. The present health is fairly good, excepting tuberculosis, which is becoming a veritable scourge to the negro population, especially in the hospitals for the insane. About 28 per cent. of the deaths during the past year have been from tuberculosis. By all means the tubercular patients should be isolated. This would be practicable and could be done by erecting separate buildings for their accommodation. This is our greatest need. A cold storage plant and enlargement of the kitchen, which was erected when the population was less than one-third of the present number, are also needed. There should be more room for the accommodation of many colored insane outside of this Hospital. I think the Colony plan a good idea for certain classes of insane people. I believe that there is and has been for a number of years an absolute increase of insanity among the colored people of the State.

NORTH CAROLINA HOSPITAL FOR THE DANGEROUS INSANE.

DR. JAMES R. ROGERS, Superintendent, RALEIGH, N. C.

The new heating plant is being installed, and other improvements not yet completed, cost $2,200, of which $1,700 has been paid. The institution will accomodate 49 patients.

BROADOAKS SANATORIUM (PRIVATE).

DR. I. M. TAYLOR, Superintendent, MORGANTON, N. C.

Broadoaks Sanatorium is a private hospital, duly licensed by the Board of Public Charities to care for the insane, feeble-minded and inebriates, and in addition receives other invalids suffering from any of the many nervous diseases. Dr. Isaac M. Taylor is the Physician in Charge. The improvements during the year have been the addition of double piazzas on the north and east sides, adding greatly to the comfort of the rooms in inclement weather. The stairway, formerly in the wing, has been taken out and run in the new north piazza. Additional rooms have been made where the stairway was removed, one on each floor. All second story piazzas have been screened with wire netting to prevent accidents. A hot-air furnace has been placed in the main building. The centre building has been in part remodeled and a stairway run to the attic and rooms for employees fitted up there. A sufficient supply of fire extinguishers has been ordered and will be in place by January 1st.

Daily average, 13; highest number, 23; can accommodate 25. No accident, epidemic or sickness other than that for which received. We constantly employ three male and three female nurses besides the matron, who is a graduated trained nurse. A night nurse for each sex is on duty each night. The Physician in Charge has removed to the Sanatorium with his wife and family and is on call night and day. Nurses and attendants are quartered in the house. Dr. Speight has been elected Assistant at the State Hospital and the Physician in Charge has the medical work. The patronage has come largely from other States and has steadily increased. It is with pride that we can point to the fact that the Sanatorium is evidently filling a want of the Southern people. Our work has been very successful; with no possible selection of cases we have maintained a good average of recoveries and satisfactory improvement.

NORTH CAROLINA SCHOOL FOR THE DEAF AND BLIND.

JOHN E. RAY, Superintendent, RALEIGH, N. C.

Additions to the buildings have been a covered way between the main structures to protect the students in bad weather, at a cost of $541, and a kitchen for the Principal's family, at a cost of $298; total $839. The kitchen erected reduces the danger from fire. We can accommodate 300 white and 250 colored children.

Enrolled during the year: White males, 100; white females, 90; colored males, 95; colored females, 90; total, 375.

Average attendance 315. Fifty applications on file, one or two only of these refused, being over age. Died, one of typhoid fever. No epidemic. Health during the year remarkably good. New students admitted among the deaf. Congenital cases, 3; typhoid fever, 1; scrofula, 1; whooping-cough, 1; unknown, 3; became deaf at 17 months, 1; eighteen months, 1; three years, 1; six years, 1. Of the blind, 17 congenital cases, one from spinal disease; measles, 1; ulcers, 1; accident, 1; eczema, 1; inflammation, 1; fever, 1; cataract, 3; scrofula, 5; unknown, 9.

There have been no changes in the literary or artistic courses. We are just introducing typewriting. Boys are taught broom-making, mattress-making, cane seating, piano tuning and repairing. Dress-making, sewing, fancy work and teaching for the white girls. The same occupations are taught to the colored. In addition, the colored deaf girls and semi-blind are taught cooking and the colored deaf and semi-blind boys are taught farming, gardening, dairying; and the deaf boys carpentry, wood-work and shoemaking.

For exercise they have physical culture drills, swings, walks, etc. Students are required to attend the churches and Sunday-schools in the city, these selected by their parents. In addition, we have daily reading of the Scriptures, songs and prayers.

The appropriation and expenditures have been $60,000. Also a special appropriation of $10,000 for liquidating debts, and $50 annually for books for the blind. We are in distressing need of isolated sick wards, a hospital, or some provision for the care of contagious or infectious diseases. In the case of an epidemic there is no provision for the proper care of the sick, or for precautions in case of those in dangerous proximity. I estimate that there are at least 400 blind children of both races in the State.

NORTH CAROLINA SCHOOL FOR THE DEAF AND DUMB.

E. McK. GOODWIN, Principal, MORGANTON, N. C.

Improvements to laundry department, concrete floors and machinery, $500; concrete floor in basement of main building, $80; covering pipes in heating system, $360 (these pipes were covered as a matter of economy in consumption of fuel); remodeling of old residence, $2,200; heating plant, $650; fire-proof vaults, $175; total, $3,965.

| Attendance from December, 1902, to June, 1903 | 238 |
| Average attendance | 234 |
| Enrollment September, 1903, to December, 1903 | 241 |
| Present November 30, 1903 | 238 |

We can accommodate 280, but the appropriation is not sufficient for the maintenance of that number. At present there are 110 girls and 131 boys. We have 27 bona fide applications on file of children who are strictly eligible, and a large number who are too young. We also have the names of 22 who have attended school one or more sessions, and who are still eligible for further time. We know of a large number who have made inquiries, but who have not filed legal applications. None of those have been denied. However, if all of them had appeared for admission it would have taxed us to the extreme to take them. I estimate that there are at least 400 white deaf children of school age in North Carolina. More than 100 have never attended school, and are growing up in the most pitiable ignorance. I recommend a compulsory attendance law for deaf children. Of the 31 admitted in 1903, 19 are congenital mutes, six are congenital, though only partially deaf; lost hearing, 1 at age of 9 years, cause unknown; 1 accident—falling; 1 inflamed ear; 1 deaf at 1 year old; 1 otorrhœa, six months; 1 eight years, white swelling; 1 three years, rising in the head.

Health of the institution unusually good. The courses of literary and artistic study are unchanged. Boys are taught carpentry, wood-work, shoemaking, printing, farming and gardening. I urge the introduction of sloyd (or primary handicraft) for the younger boys, whereby they may be taught the primary principles of mechanical knowledge before they are ready to enter regular departments. The pupils have a party once a month, conducted strictly under the direction of a number of the teachers. Also magic lantern entertainments. The larger boys have an athletic organization, and have ball contests with other schools. The school is opened with prayer every morning, with Scripture texts or moral lessons. Sunday-school and chapel service conducted by lady teachers every Sunday. Occasional services by various ministers.

| | $ 240.23 |

Per capita cost for 240 children, $177. Five thousand dollars was appropriated to pay off indebtedness. The grounds are perfectly crude, no outlay having been made for drives, walks or shrubbery. We need $3,000 for grading, macadamizing and ornamenting. Many applications for admission for feeble-minded children, not eligible, are received. I earnestly recommend the establishment of a custodial school for this class, where their sad condition might be ameliorated and where many could develop so that they might enjoy ordinary citizenship.

NORTH CAROLINA SOLDIERS' HOME.

DR. B. F. DIXON, Secretary. RALEIGH, N. C.

The improvements at the Soldiers' Home have been the remodeling and the enlarging of the dining room and repairs to other buildings. Cost, $1,200. The old building was totally inadequate.

Applications on file, 25. Several of the above were discharged to go on the pension roll. No change in the government of the institution. There are 28 in the hospital at present. The old men are well cared for by special attendants. There is no trained nurse, and think it would be advisable to have one. The different ministers of the city hold regular religious services in the chapel. For recreation they have magazines and papers, checker-boards and other games. The annual appropriation was $13,000 for maintenance and $1,200 for improvements. We have lived within the appropriation, and have no outstanding indebtedness. We have one of the best gardens in the county, yielding vegetables of the finest quality. The grounds have been greatly improved and are well and tastefully kept.

Captain and Mrs. Brooks are a most efficient Superintendent and Matron.

OXFORD ORPHAN ASYLUM.

W. J. HICKS, Superintendent. OXFORD, N. C.

The year marks the completion and occupancy of three industrial buildings. In these are located the laundry, sewing room, printing-office, shoe shop and wood-working shop, wood saw and splitter. The deep well and pump are a few feet in the rear of the wood-working shop. The steam power for all industrial work is supplied from a central boiler. The old steps at the front of the north entrance to the main building have been replaced by cement steps, and cement floors have been laid in a part of the laundry, in the dairy and in a portion of the basement of the main building. The new well is now furnishing a pure and abundant supply of water. Analyses of the water show it to be first-class for drinking purposes. A supply of hose with necessary attachments has been provided. This will be a better protection from fire. Improvements (including bills of wood-working shop and farm), $4,500.

Two hundred and sixty can be comfortably accommodated. We hope to soon make room and provide for thirty other children. Twelve applications have been disapproved by the Executive Committee because the applicants were not, under the rules, proper subjects. Approved applications are kept on file for admission as soon as there is room. One death, a very delicate girl succumbed to consumption. The mumps, brought by a new boy, spread through the institution but without serious results. One girl sent back from the singing class while on its tour had typhoid fever, but recovered in time to go on the second tour. The school has eight grades. In the highest grade, Arithmetic, Algebra, Physical Geography, Composition and Rhetoric, English History, Literature and Beginners' Latin are taught. The industrial training of the girls lies largely in the duties of the cottages, kitchen, etc. The boys receive industrial training on the farm, in the workshops, etc., and dairy. In their moral training the example, the instruction, the personal contact of the cottage teacher is especially valuable. A prayer service is held each morning, and evening prayers in the study rooms of the eight cottages. Sunday-school and Sunday afternoon services are conducted at the institution. The children attend Sunday morning services at the churches in Oxford. We need better hospital facilities. This will soon be provided at small expense by fitting up rooms in the main building for the Superintendent and family, and the present home of the Superintendent will be used for a hospital, for which it is well adapted. This will bring the Superintendent in closer touch with the children.

We believe it would be to the interest of all our orphans' homes if more people would visit them. An annual conference of those who are in this line of work in our section would also prove very beneficial. The placing of children into homes is one of our most important and responsible duties. Such work demands the greatest degree of caution. As seen in statement, 23 have been placed in approved homes. We count on our file 256 applications for children withdrawn, dropped or rejected. Many who apply for children go no further when they understand the method of investigation, the agreement required of all those who take children into their homes, the full conditions under which boys and girls leave the institution to enter private homes. An extension of this important feature, with still more thorough investigation, will make the Oxford Orphan Asylum even a greater blessing to the children.

Superintendent.

OXFORD ORPHAN ASYLUM FOR THE COLORED.

R. SHEPARD, Superintendent. OXFORD, N. C.

Three acres of land with a dwelling upon it containing six rooms and pantry has been donated to the Trustees of the Asylum. This property is contiguous to the Asylum land and is valued at $1,000. A stable for cattle and a shed for implements, wagons, etc., has been built onto the barn constructed in 1902—total cost, $101.81.

|---|---|
| Number present November 30, 1902 | 109 |
| Admitted during the year | 12 |
| Adopted | 5 |
| Returned to friends | 4 |
| Died | 1 |
| Aided to self-support | 10 |

Remaining November 30, 1903, 61 girls, 38 boys, total 99.

Since addition to buildings, 55 boys and 80 girls, total 135, can be accommodated. No list of applicants kept; at least one hundred have not been admitted because of want of room, and conditions not being met. One death—consumption. No epidemic or serious sickness. The children are warmly clad. They receive daily instruction in the Scriptures, and have religious services and Sabbath-school on the Lord's Day. They have outdoor games for recreation. They are taught a common school course, also to work on farm, in workshop, etc. The following is the pay-roll per month:

Superintendent, $50; general matron, $15; principal of school, $18; assistant (intermediate), $15; assistant (primary), $11; first matron of boys, $8; second matron of boys, $8; sewing matron, $10; matron of juveniles, $8; farmer No. 1, $10; farmer No. 2, $10. Total, $163.

Receipts $6,719.22 (State appropriation included $5,000); borrowed from bank, $1,050; borrowed from Superintendent, $61.58; total, $7,830.80. Expended, $6,680.80; borrowed money returned, $1,150; total, $7,830.80.

There is a portion of woodland (50 acres) just between the farms and through which the institution now has access, offered for sale. It is most desirable that it should not fall into the hands of persons who would be unfriendly to the institution. If it could be bought it would furnish the Asylum with wood for several years. We are in need of school furniture and appliances.

NORTH CAROLINA STATE'S PRISON.

J. S. MANN, Superintendent. RALEIGH, N. C.

The only improvement at the Central Prison has been the installing of an excellent brick plant, which cost $3,400. Quite a number of improvements have been made at the State Farm, chiefly the rebuilding of barns, the addition of large and commodious shelter.

|---|---|
| Number of prisoners remaining November 30, 1902 | 830 |
| Number received | 195 |
| Died | 25 |
| Discharged | 286 |

Remaining November 30, 1903: Indian, 2 males; white, 137 males and 8 females; colored, 521 males and 46 females. Total, 714. Average daily population, 772.

No epidemic. In consideration of the fact that many times infirm prisoners are sent here because of their inability to do the work required on the public roads in the counties which use chain-gangs, we think that the health of the institution has been remarkably good. The percentage of deaths upon the whole population is a little over 3; killed, 4—3 by accident and one in attempting to escape; escaped 42. A record of all punishments is kept. We do not regard punishment here as at all frequent or necessary. The inmates are as well behaved as could be expected from such a class of people. Corporal punishment is inflicted, but always in the presence of and by the authority of the Warden or the Supervisor of a camp.

The convicts are employed principally in farm work, brick-making, public roads and road-building, in wood-cutting and work for lumber companies. It is proper and right to work the farm lands with a considerable portion of the prison population. As a rule, the employees of the Prison are very competent and satisfactory. Religious services are maintained at the State Farm, at other camps they are not, but ministers of good standing of any denomination are always welcome to conduct religious services on all proper occasions.

|---|---|
| Receipts for fiscal year November 30, 1903 | $158,805.27 |
| Expenditures | 127,366.30 |
| Balance | $ 31,438.97 |

Estimates of annual pay-roll, $40,000. I cannot think this a proper place for the confinement of the dangerous insane. I believe that a healthy public sentiment will demand and eventually secure their removal. Confinement in the State's Prison is neither just or humane. I cannot and do not advise the further expenditure of public funds for the purpose of making this a permanent department of the Prison.

THE CHILDREN'S HOME OF BUNCOMBE COUNTY FOR WHITE CHILDREN.

The building is an old residence of eight rooms, used for the children since 1890. It is well suited for the purpose, the grounds being large with plenty of shade, and the children are out of doors much in pleasant weather. Number now in charge, 15; total number under charge of the committee by commitment of the Court is 382, of whom 30 are a charge upon the the county; 15 in Asheville at the Lindley Training School (infants mostly). The others are not only no charge, but most of them are respectable citizens. When we note, year after year, the difference between the children as they first come to the Home and the same children after receiving care, and when we know from what degradation, poverty and suffering these little creatures have been snatched, to be taught how to live in clean bodies and clean minds, we must believe that this is not only a work of morality and religion, but the very wisest economic course for the State to take to cut off the increase of the criminal class and to add to the number of her intelligent and law-abiding citizens.

CHILDREN'S HOME OF BUNCOMBE COUNTY FOR COLORED CHILDREN.

The building used for the colored children is a rented one, small, inconvenient and totally inadequate for our needs, but the matron is doing the best she can under the conditions, and has the full commendation of your committee. The number of commitments by the Court has been 25, and the number now at the charge of the county is 15. We rejoice to report that a building is under erection for a home for indigent colored children, the cost of which is being borne by the negroes of Asheville and vicinity. There is much interest and enthusiasm being aroused by this worthy effort. The situation of the new building is most favorable, its site is ample, and it is proposed to put it at the use of the county free of charge.

INSTITUTIONS MAINTAINED BY PRIVATE BENEVOLENCE.

THE PRESBYTERIAN ORPHANS' HOME.

The Presbyterian Orphans' Home is at Barium Springs, Iredell county, under the charge of Rev. R. W. Boyd, Superintendent. Now in charge, 150; completed the course, 13. This institution was established at Barium Springs in 1890 with 33 acres of land and an old hotel building. To-day there are nine convenient and comfortable buildings and two hundred acres of land, the whole valued at $50,000. In the last year two memorial buildings have been erected and the industrial building (all of brick) is well under way. The farm and orchard are in good condition. The children are taught both literary and industrial work. A few boys have been prepared for college. Some of the children have been given instrumental music lessons by one of the matrons, for love, outside of her regular duties, as is also the case in advanced mathematics and languages given in the same manner by other teachers.

|---|---|
| Total amount of receipts, for buildings, press and support | $14,990.40 |
| Total disbursements | 14,227.80 |
| Leaving balance in hand | 762.60 |

The actual outlay for each child per annum is $72.11.

REV. R. W. BOYD,

THE LINDLEY TRAINING SCHOOL.

We have visited and carefully inspected this institution, which is a place of refuge and protection to such girls or women as, having fallen, indicate a wish to reform. Those only are admitted who voluntarily apply to be received. The most perfect cleanliness, quiet and discipline are its characteristics. The following is the matron's report:

| | |
|---|---|
| Number girls in the Home at last report | 19 |
| Children | 12 |
| Girls received during the year | 33 |
| Children | 19 |
| Total | 83 |

Placed in service, 10; sent to parents, 12; placed in private homes, 5; died (children), 2; returned to former lives, 9; under care of Board of Protection, 9; girls now in Home, 22; children, 14; total, 83.

We submit that these figures indicate a condition that should lead to the inauguration of a similar effort in each of the larger towns of our State. Most people regard this work as hopeless, and in no way can this be so well controverted as by making known the results of a single year.

ODD FELLOWS' ORPHAN HOME.

J. F. BRINSON, Superintendent, GOLDSBORO, N. C.

The Odd Fellows' Orphan Home is managed and entirely supported by the I. O. O. F. of North Carolina, J. F. Brinson, Superintendent. Only children of deceased Odd Fellows are received. Age of admission 6 to 16. Admitted during the year, 20; placed in families and positions, 18. Can accommodate 100 with present buildings; now in charge, 75. Health good; no epidemic; no deaths. The children by special arrangement attend the Goldsboro Graded Schools. At the Home they are taught farming general house work and farming. There are twenty acres of land. Buildings and farm valued at $35,000. Disbursements to March 31, 1903 (fiscal year), $4,741.80; receipts, $5,716.04. The management does not solicit any outside contributions, but supports the institution by a per capita assessment.

The placing of children in families is a help. If any child shows special merit and desires a college course it is given him.

METHODIST ORPHANAGE.

REV. J. W. JENKINS, Superintendent, RALEIGH, N. C.

This orphanage is under the control of the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Church, South. Now in charge, 16 girls and 15 boys; total, 31. Admitted during the year, 4. Foreign born not received. Health good. Not admitted under 6; girls leave at 17 and boys at 16. They are taught the common-school course and especially habits of industry. No servants are kept and the work is divided among the children. The per capita cost is $5 per month, or about $3,000 per annum. About $50,000 on land and equipment has been expended. The main building of brick, with heating plant, etc., will cost $30,000 when completed. It is 108x116 feet, four stories, tower 112 feet, and the chapel is 48x60 feet. The orphanage owns 46 acres of land. We do not care to put out our children except where they are received as members of the family. We think that some legislation is needed to protect the management in regard to legacies left the children.

J. W. JENKINS,
Superintendent.

Received November 5, 1902.

THOMPSON ORPHANAGE AND TRAINING INSTITUTION.

REV. WALTER J. SMITH, Superintendent, CHARLOTTE, N. C.

This orphanage is under the control of the Episcopal Church of North Carolina. Rev. Walter J. Smith is Superintendent. The present buildings, by crowding, will accommodate 70. Boys and girls of foreign as well as those of native birth are admitted. Now in charge, 72; admitted during the year, 12; placed in homes, 3; returned to their mothers, 8; discharged, 1. Children are admitted from 3 to 12 years of age. Boys are supposed to leave at 15 and girls at 16 to 18. Health good. Both literary and industrial courses are taught. We maintain the children at about $5 per capita, and the voluntary contributions, with funds from the farm and The Messenger of Hope, the orphans' paper, support them. They are comfortably clothed and fairly well fed, but we lack the means of giving industrial instruction. Sewing and ordinary household duties and farming are taught. The orphanage owns about 50 acres of land. Receipts for the year were $4,965.44. We have more demands for children than we can supply. Home finding is one of our hardest problems, partly because of the conditions expressed and also because we are not satisfied with the applicants themselves at times. We need better buildings and equipments.

WALTER J. SMITH,
Superintendent.

Received November 6, 1903.

THOMASVILLE BAPTIST ORPHANAGE.

REV. J. B. BOONE, Superintendent, THOMASVILLE, N. C.

The orphanage is located at Thomasville, under the charge of the Rev. J. B. Boone, for the Baptist Convention. Number who can be accommodated, 275; now in charge, 260. Both sexes of indigent white children are received, from 5 to 12 years; the age of departure is 16 to 18. Number admitted during the year, 85; eloped 2; placed in families, 9; died, 6; completed the course, 14. Present health good, have had a number of cases of chicken-pox. ## ROMAN CATHOLIC INDUSTRIAL ORPHANAGE FOR BOYS.

REV. THOMAS F. PRICE, Supt., NAZARETH (NEAR RALEIGH), N. C.

The Roman Catholic Orphanage at Nazareth has made great progress in the four years of its existence. It opened with four children in 1899, and now has 45. It is beautifully situated three miles from the city and 75 feet above the Capitol grounds. Besides the Orphanage building there are two substantial modern brick buildings, the Church of the Holy Name of Jesus and the priest house. Can accommodate 50; now in charge, 45; discharged, 1; eloped 2; completed the course, 2. Health excellent. Conditions of admission, that they shall be subjects of charity, free from contagious disease and large enough to dress themselves. They are taught the common English course, book-binding, printing, laundry, typewriting and shorthand. It is not necessary to be of American birth or of Catholic parentage to be admitted. The Catholic paper, "Truth," and the "Orphan Boy," are published in the printing establishment. The Orphanage owns about 300 acres of land not yet entirely reclaimed, and the boys are taught farming. The receipts and disbursements have been equal, about $1,600. Living has been a continual struggle, as we are dependent upon charity appeals. We purpose rather to keep the boys with us, employing them upon the farm and our industries, paying them for their labor, or getting them employment in Raleigh and having this for their home, they paying board until able to strike out for themselves.

THOMAS F. PRICE,
Superintendent.

ROMAN CATHOLIC ORPHANAGE FOR GIRLS.

BISHOP LEO HAID, Superintendent, BELMONT, N. C.

The Sacred Heart Orphanage is located at Belmont, N. C. The Sisters of Mercy are in control. There are 21 children present; admitted during the year, 2; placed in a family, 1. Health good; no epidemic. Five completed the course and have become self-supporting. Children of any age are taken and they leave the institution at 18. They are supported partly by the Catholics of the State and partly by the work of the Sisters and children. They are educated, and whatever talent is seen is always cultivated; also taught some domestic industry. They are well cared for by the Sisters. Applications for children are frequent. The funds furnished are never sufficient, but are increased by the labors of the Sisters. MOTHER M. TERESA.

ASHEVILLE HOSPITAL, ASHEVILLE, N. C.

This is a new institution of Buncombe County, located on College Street, Asheville. It is partly supported by county funds. It is a private residence and is not very well adapted to hospital purposes. There are 18 rooms with 15 available beds. Now in charge, 8 pay patients and 3 charity; total, 11. Mrs. Walton is Matron, with three nurses under her. The physicians are various physicians of the city, the chief being Dr. E. B. Glenn, County Superintendent of Health.

MISSION HOSPITAL, ASHEVILLE, N. C.

This hospital is located at the corner of Charlotte and Woodfin Streets. It is a building erected especially for the purpose upon premises owned by the managers. It was begun in a small rented house and has so commended itself to the people as now to be independent of everything except the love and affection that it has justly earned. We have visited and critically inspected its 8 private rooms and 5 wards and found them in perfect order. Miss Marion Little is Matron, with five young ladies serving under her for the instruction they receive, and to whom the institution will issue diplomas upon graduation, as it is empowered to do so by its charter. The medical staff is composed of physicians selected by its Board of Managers, and is presided over by its chief, Dr. M. H. Fletcher. The expense has been chiefly boren by private citizens, the county and city each contributing $50 per month. We believe that these appropriations are eminently wise; in addition to the aid given a worthy charity, it has caused it to be subject to the Board of Public Charities, as should be the case with all similar institutions.

REV. MCNEELY DUBOSE,
HANFORD N. LOCKWOOD,
THOMAS W. PATTON.

WILSON SANATORIUM, WILSON, N. C.

The Wilson Sanatorium was organized March 14, 1898, at Wilson, N. C. The institution is private and is owned and superintended by Drs. E. E. Moore, Albert Anderson and E. T. Dickinson. Number in charge November 1, 1902, 8. Received during the year, 101; remaining October 30, 1903, 5. Mortality about 6 per cent. Beds available, 12. It is a private incorporated institution, and as yet has no endowment. Charges are $15 per week for board and nursing and an average of $10 per week for medical attention. The expense is borne entirely by the proprietors. Improvements have been Static and X-Ray Machine, and other fixtures, cost $1,000. No insane patients received. An endowment is needed to enable us to give free board, nursing and medical attention to those who are unable to pay. This would necessitate the addition of an annex or wing to the building for the accommodation of twelve or more beds, and a source of revenue for the board of such patients as would occupy these at a cost of about $8 per week.

DRS. MOORE, ANDERSON AND DICKINSON.

Received November 17, 1903.

REPORT OF THE STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA TO THE NATIONAL CONFERENCE OF CHARITIES AND CORRECTIONS, MAY, 1903.

There has been marked advancement in providing for our defective and dependent classes in the last decade, the number cared for and the funds appropriated by the State having almost doubled. It is a record of which we are proud. In the words of the late Secretary of the Board of Public Charities, "From his Excellency the Governor, down, the State officers and leaders have manfully stood by the cause of humanity; the noblest feelings that exalt civilization, alike with the soundest policy of the modern State, control their legislation for the public good."

The total number of defectives and dependents reported in State institutions for 1902 was 3,252.

Of these, insane treated, 2,094 (579 colored) at a cost of $244,766.95.

Deaf, dumb and blind, 655 (colored, 192); cost, $112,500.

Soldiers' Home for Confederate Veterans, 148 in charge during the year, $13,000 for maintenance.

Oxford Orphan Asylum (white) 247 children, State aid, $10,000.

Oxford Orphan Asylum (colored), State aid, $5,000.

The penitentiary is self-sustaining. Convicts are employed on the State farms and contract work. Remaining November 30, 1902, 849.

Important improvements during the past year were as follows: The Morganton Hospital for Insane has nearly completed a $50,000 building which will soon be occupied.

An annex to the Goldsboro Hospital for Colored Insane has been completed at a cost of $21,000; also a carpenter's shop, cost $500.

Deaf and Dumb Institution, Morganton, a system of water-works, and two additions to the main building which will give other exits in case of fire and accommodations for fifty more children.

At the Soldiers' Home a $5,000 dormitory has been finished and occupied.

Oxford Orphan Asylum, remodeling of chapel and schoolrooms, water system perfected, industrial buildings erected; cost, $7,000.

Oxford Orphan Asylum for the Colored, new barns and stables and a well sunk.

State farms (worked by convicts) improved at an expense of $3,400.

Our Biennial Report gives the following as to our county poor: "There are 1,300 inmates in the homes. A correct estimate of those receiving relief otherwise is difficult, but a conservative estimate would be about 3,918, making a total of 5,218 persons supported in whole or part by public funds, outside of Soldiers' Home, pension system and the orphanages. The expenditure for the poor cannot be less than $125,000 to $130,000, about ten per cent. of county taxes. A feature of this subject which deserves attention is the tendency to seek public aid."

The condition and management of the homes and jails have improved in the past year to some extent.

There are eleven orphanages. Two receive State aid, two are county institutions and seven are maintained by religious denominations and fraternal orders; several of these have added improvements. They provide for 973 children. The Red Men and the Junior Order of American Mechanics are collecting funds for the establishment of two more homes for destitute children.

We have added two new hospitals to our number of nine supported by county and municipal aid and voluntary contributions. The Pittman Sanatorium of Tarboro, a well-equipped hospital erected and furnished at a cost of $20,000 (there is a training school for nurses connected with it), and the James Walker Memorial Hospital of Wilmington at an expenditure of $100,000.

Broadoaks Sanatorium, the first private hospital for mental and nervous diseases established in the State, has been successfully operated for the past year.

The Old Ladies' Home, maintained by St. Luke's Circle of King's Daughters in this city, deserves commendation. The Sadie Williamson Day Nursery has recently been opened here and bids fair to succeed.

The King's Daughters, the Associated Charities of Wilmington and Goldsboro, and the Humane Society of Charlotte give relief to the destitute, and the W. C. T. U. works diligently for the uplifting of the prison population.

The Legislature of 1903 increased the appropriations for maintenance to meet the needs of 450 more wards of the State for whom room will be available upon the completion of the buildings in course of construction. Five thousand dollars was appropriated for water supply for the Central Hospital for Insane; $1,000 for improvements in heating and lighting the Department for Dangerous Insane, and $2,400 for repairs at the Soldiers' Home.

A "Child Labor Law" was passed, which shortens the hours of operatives and prevents the employment of children under twelve years of age in factories.

The bill for a Reformatory for Youthful Criminals was reported favorably by the Joint Committee on Penal Institutions, was referred to the Appropriation Committee and failed because the latter decided upon a policy of "no new institutions" on account of a deficit in our treasury, which was subsequently provided for by a bond issue of $300,000 for a term of ten years. The effort for legislation looking to the introduction of a parole system in North Carolina also failed. It would greatly lighten the onerous and trying responsibility of our Governor in granting pardons (the power being in his hands alone), and it would open the door of hope to those who have made failures of their lives. Our State is extremely conservative and jealous of change in the prerogatives of any branch of its government.

The Superintendent of the Western Asylum (Morganton) asked for a building in which to isolate tuberculous insane, but this also was postponed.

We need a system of classification of prisoners in the jails by which boys can be separated from hardened criminals. Legislation to this end and for the establishment of a Reformatory and a Home for the Feeble-minded will be pressed in the future, as it has been in the past, by the Board of Public Charities and by many other bodies, until we succeed.

There is a wide-spread public sentiment in favor of the proper support of our charitable institutions. The necessity of a Reformatory for Youthful Criminals is recognized and endorsed by every religious sect and political party. But the educational qualification in the suffrage amendment to our State Constitution has given an unprecedented impetus to education, and the Legislature of 1903 made very large appropriations to public schools and to the colleges which receive State aid. The "education of the masses" is the war-cry of the State; a wave of enlightenment is sweeping from seashore to mountain; upon its success depends our political salvation, and the growth of new institutions for defectives, dependents and delinquents is temporarily retarded.

REPORT OF THE ASSISTANT SECRETARY, JANUARY 1 TO JULY 1, 1903.

OFFICE BOARD OF PUBLIC CHARITIES,
RALEIGH, July 1, 1903.

Dr. Charles Duffy, Chairman, and Messrs. Wesley N. Jones, William A. Blair, E. L. Haughton and W. F. Craig, Commissioners of Public Charities of North Carolina.

GENTLEMEN:—I have the honor to present the following report of the general work of the office for the six months ending July 1, 1903: The annual report for 1902 was presented to his Excellency, Governor Charles B. Aycock, on January 2d and was ordered by him to be printed, so that the information therein contained of the condition of the charitable and penal institutions might be available to the Legislature then about to assemble. The revising and shortening of the report of 1901, proof-reading and indexing were done in the office, and on March 2d 175 copies were distributed to the General Assembly. Subsequently, 178 were sent to other States and in North Carolina as per mailing list; total, 354. On January 24th the Assistant Secretary attended the hearing before the Joint Legislative Committee on Penal Institutions of the various organizations in favor of a Reformatory for Youthful Criminals. The King's Daughters' bill was favorably reported, but failed on account of the deficit in the treasury.

A list of State appropriations to public institutions, a copy of the law relating to private hospitals, a synopsis of the child labor law, list of county boards of pensions and a copy of the Captions of the Laws of 1903 have been collected for reference. Frequently receiving requests for information as to North Carolina laws bearing upon charities and corrections, the Assistant Secretary went to the Supreme Court Library and made copies of the most important. Sixty-one publications have been received and duly acknowledged, among these there are four quarterlies, one weekly pamphlet and the bulletins of the Academy of Medicine and of the North Carolina Board of Health, which are regularly mailed to the Board. These publications are reports of the various States and are instructive, as they bear exclusively upon the vital questions of the age. By request much data was collected in regard to the organization of private charity. The Associated Charities of the city of Raleigh has been established and is actively doing good. A letter of inquiry as to the functions of the Board of Public Charities, the number of insane, idiots, etc., was referred to the Assistant Secretary from the Executive office, also a request from the Governor for a list of recommendations by the Board, as per custom, for appointment of delegates to the National Conference of Charities and Corrections at Atlanta. A letter of inquiry as to municipal aid to the poor was received at the Secretary of State's office and the Assistant Secretary of this Board was requested to reply to the same. A circular letter was addressed to twelve of the largest towns, which resulted in replies from eight. Wilmington and Goldsboro have Associated Charities, Charlotte dispenses aid through the Humane Society. The greater part of the help given is through private benevolence, except in the case of city hospitals, or the attendance of city physicians. Wilmington and the county of New Hanover give $12,000 a year to the James Walker Memorial Hospital and the county gives $125 per month to the Associated Charities (white) and the United Charities (colored). A number of other towns give to their hospitals liberally. Raleigh publishes a neat report of the city government, etc. The charities are unsystematic and unorganized in the cities and statistics are difficult to obtain. The organization of charities on the business principle of doing most good to the greatest number is one of the strongest movements of the day, and has gained a firm foothold throughout America. In addition to those mentioned, the following papers were prepared for "Charities" of New York, a list of proposed legislation and the recommendations of the Governor in regard to charitable and penal institutions in his message to the Legislature; a list of the superintendents of the County Homes, a resume of the Laws of 1903 relating to child labor, etc. A copy of the Reformatory bill and a detailed account of the general plans for that institution as proposed by the Board of Charities, together with the published reports of several years of the Penitentiary (these were requested and obtained through the courtesy of Mr. Mann) were forwarded to Mrs. M. H. Reid, to be used at the annual meeting of the State Branch of King's Daughters. The report of the State Corresponding Secretary of North Carolina to the National Conference of Charities and Corrections.

For Mr. Harry Woolf of the Hebrew Benevolent Society of New York, a paper upon the orphanages of the State, giving the number of children, course of instruction, source of support, address of superintendents, etc.

For Mr. Edmond Butler of New York, a paper on needy families, causes of poverty, means of alleviation employed, number cared for in the homes, and outdoor relief in this State.

Preparing a copy of the laws in regard to the charitable and penal institutions and the Board of Public Charities for Professor Blackmar of the University of Kansas.

For the Children's Home Society of Dakota, a copy of the law in regard to taking children from abandoned parents.

A list of the Circles of King's Daughters for Mr. William B. Streeter of Indiana.

At the suggestion of Rev. Mr. Boone, superintendent of Thomasville Orphanage, a list of the children in the County Homes was made. A card requesting the age, color, sex, whether healthy in mind and body, and if homes were in view, was sent to the superintendents of those counties reporting children. In the fifty-nine counties heard from there are thirty-nine children, fifteen are defectives; most of them white. Some have homes in view and others are infants with their mothers. A list of these children was sent to Mr. Boone, also to Rev. Mr. Smith of the Thompson Orphanage. There are healthy orphans in the homes who should be in the care of the orphanages. Fifty per cent. are defective mentally or physically, often both. Much correspondence was held in respect to two children in Watauga Home. Mr. Smith agreed to take them in the Thompson Orphanage, but the letters to Watauga's Visitor were not received, owing to his prolonged absence, and subsequently he reported the children removed. A movement is on foot to change the age of admissions to the orphanages to a younger limit. Oxford has ordered the establishment of a Nursery Department, and a building is being repaired and arranged for that purpose.

Fifty-eight county reports have been received, tabulated as to conditions of buildings and management, and abstracted. The abstracts are presented herewith. The County Visitors have cordially continued their work for the Board. The personnel has but slightly changed. After long and faithful service two have resigned, two died and three have removed from the counties; total, 7. New visitors, W. W. Washburn, Cleveland; R. F. Cobb, Alexander; T. W. Patton, Buncombe; F. A. Gennett, Cherokee; Dr. John Bynum, Forsyth; Benj. O. Blalock, Haywood; Rev. Louis Llewellyn Williams, Pasquotank; W. W. Taylor, Swain; T. C. Davis, Wilson, and R. C. Puryear of Yadkin.

The reports of the homes give: Insane, 58 (6 of these imbeciles), and 16 idiots. In jail, 5 insane. One has been removed to the Central Hospital, one is epileptic, one suffering from senile dementia, one unreported as to curability; the fifth is a young white man, twenty-seven years old, in Cabarrus jail. The County Superintendent of Health expressed the utmost confidence in the probability of this man's recovery if he could have proper treatment. The case was presented to Dr. Murphy and was refused for want of room, also reported to Dr. McKee, who courteously explained that he could not care for the insane of his own district. This was in April; it is probable that the patient is still languishing in jail. There is a vigorous sentiment against confinement in jail for insanity (constantly charged as an offense in the reports), and the counties are providing for their insane in a crude way. New Hanover cares for fourteen in her asylum.

A few Confederate veterans are reported in the homes, usually getting pensions. Mr. Stronach was interviewed upon the prospect of transferring some of them to the Soldiers' Home, but that institution cares for 129 men and accommodates this number only by the system practiced of allowing them furloughs to visit relatives, the railroads kindly furnishing transportation. The Home is in fine condition, the grounds have been greatly improved and beautified.

A list of the county convict camps has been made and eight of the twenty-one have been inspected and reports abstracted.

Letters of complaint were sent to the Sheriff of Warren and to the Commissioners of New Hanover, Alleghany, Buncombe and Montgomery. The trouble in Warren jail was caused by a defective sewer-pipe and was at once remedied. The convict camp of New Hanover at Castle Haynes was presented by the grand jury. The commissioners of that county held an investigation and reported it in good condition. Upon request, they courteously made a statement to the Board of Charities. Special inspections of the camp, Home and jail were made by Mr. A. G. Hawkins and Mr. R. M. Wescott, County Visitors of New Hanover. Their report was that these institutions were in good condition at the time of said inspection. Alleghany and Buncombe have not yet replied. Montgomery writes that a new farm and Home are in contemplation and that they will be glad of suggestions, advice, etc., from the Board. They readily agree that there is need of better provision for their poor.

Newspaper reports were circulated to the effect that there were fifteen deaths at the Eastern Hospital due to bad beef. Dr. Miller, upon request for a statement, replied that there had been an unusual number of deaths—consumptives who had contracted dysentery caused by the unseasonable conditions of the weather and not due in any way to their food. Broadoaks Sanatorium was licensed on June 12th. Personal visits have been made to the Chatham and Wake Homes and jails and the Police Station. No inspections of the State institutions have occurred and the reports of these and of the private institutions are collected in September. A number of letters and a personal visit from Mr. William B. Streeter, agent of the Indiana Board of Charities, have been received by the Assistant Secretary in regard to the organization of the "Children's Home Society of North Carolina."

The Assistant Secretary has met with the utmost kindness and courtesy from every one, and she wishes especially to acknowledge the words of sympathy and encouragement from the County Visitors, the Governor and State officials, officers of the National Conference of Charities and Corrections and the members of the Board of Public Charities. It is her sad duty to report to the Board the death of the Secretary, Capt. C. B. Denson, on January 15, 1903. He had "fought the good fight," and with the radiance of the new life upon his face passed smiling to the bosom of his God, in whom he "trusted as a little child."

Since then the duties of the office have devolved upon the Assistant Secretary, and have been discharged with the best endeavors and heartfelt interest of a daughter to whom the memory of her father's love for North Carolina and his untiring devotion to her helpless wards is a sacred legacy.

Very respectfully,

DAISY DENSON,
Assistant Secretary.

REPORT OF THE SECRETARY, JULY 1 TO OCTOBER 1, 1903.

Dr. Charles Duffy, and Messrs. Wesley N. Jones, William A. Blair, Ed. L. Haughton and W. F. Craig, Commissioners of the Board of Public Charities of North Carolina.

GENTLEMEN:—I have the honor to submit to your honorable Board the following report of the county institutions and the work of the office during the quarter ending October 1, 1903:

There has been some improvement in the homes and jails. The former are generally reported fairly well managed, but buildings need repairs, many should have better farming land and be removed nearer to the county-seats. Anson is levying a tax for a new home. Lenoir contemplates erecting one. Pitt has added a chapel and Rockingham an asylum for her insane. Carteret, Graham, Polk, Lenoir and Currituck have no homes. Scotland's is nearing completion.

The jails are in better general condition than the homes. Being situated in the towns they are more accessible, and in many counties the number of prisoners is small. Scotland has a new jail, Bertie's and Bladen's are in process of construction. In Carteret, Onslow and Wayne they have been improved. Seventy-five counties have reported during the year. Fall blanks have been mailed and a number of reports received. According to the instructions of the Board, the Secretary has communicated with the commissioners of those counties in which the homes and jails were not reported as satisfactory. The boards of the following counties have been addressed, with the request that they co-operate with the Board of Public Charities in effecting the desired improvements: Alamance, Ashe, Bladen, Buncombe, Burke, Caldwell, Dare, Davie, Duplin, Lenoir, Onslow and Yadkin. Replies have been received from four of these counties expressing an intention to comply with the request of the Board of Charities.

The work of reorganizing the County Boards of Visitors has necessitated an extensive correspondence. A circular to the ladies, asking for their assistance as auxiliary members, and also personal letters, have been mailed to each county and have been well received. Thirty-six counties have enrolled ladies upon their boards, and when fully organized these boards (of three gentlemen and two ladies) will wield a strong influence for the welfare of the institutions.

There are twenty-two county convict camps. Reports have been received from Alamance, Buncombe, Davidson, Durham, Henderson, Mecklenburg, Randolph, New Hanover, Rowan, Swain, Wake and Wayne. The Visitors generally commend the camps, the life in the open air, with labor, being more healthful than the idle confinement of jail. Corporal punishment is reported in several counties. This subject has been made prominent by the report of a convict's death at one of these camps, the alleged cause being given by popular rumor as whipping. The Secretary has written to the commissioners asking for a statement of the facts in this case. The Board of County Visitors have inspected this camp and report the general management good. In view of the fact that the lack of a general law on this point leaves room for arbitrary punishment of prisoners, the Secretary respectfully submits to the Board for discussion the proposition to ask the next Legislature to pass a general law regulating the punishment of county convicts.

The question of increased accommodations for the insane must be again placed before the public. There is much unrest among the county people at being forced to maintain what are virtually county asylums without the expert care or treatment to which this afflicted class has a sacred right. Unable to demand proper care for themselves, they languish in County Homes and jails and become chronic cases through the delay necessary to gain admission to the State Hospitals, which are already choked and burdened with incurables. Discussing the increase of insanity, Dr. James L. Greene, Superintendent of the Nebraska Hospital, says: "There can be no question but that the increase in Ireland and the older settled States of the United States is real." Insanity is now considered far less curable than was supposed thirty years ago. The prevention of crime and disease is occupying students of sociological problems, and such students and the alienists advise the systematic study of insanity in its incipient stages, so that it may be readily recognized and the patient treated before it reaches full development. The percentage of recovery is far greater when given hospital treatment at an early stage of the disease. In view of this fact, and that the asylums are full, that each county has its quota of insane and the light of many private firesides is darkened by this saddest of afflictions, it was thought advisable to attempt a census of the insane and defectives of the State for the information of the next General Assembly and the people, preliminary to asking for a full discussion of this question and a change for the better.

Circulars covering the information sought and letters of explanation have been mailed each Board of County Commissioners, a sufficient number for each township. Section 2337, Volume 2, chapter X of The Code, makes it obligatory upon county commissioners to procure such information for the Board of Public Charities whenever they forward "carefully arranged circulars indicating the information desired."

In general office work the following papers have been written, viz., a copy of the laws for the commitment of the insane, for the Board of the District of Columbia, notes on State charity work for "Charities," list of the institutions, superintendents, daily average of population and appropriations for current year. For the Secretary of the National Conference of Charities, an article on the work of the county boards, also for a daily paper, and a synopsis of the poor and vagrant laws for the Raleigh Associated Charities.

Mr. William B. Streeter, formerly of Indiana, now of North Carolina, has notified the Secretary that he has established the North Carolina Children's Home Society, and has placed three children in approved homes.

A number of States hold annual State Conferences of Charities and Correction. To quote the "Indiana Bulletin": "The State Conference of Charities has no requirements for membership, no fees or dues, no written rules. Its purpose is to meet annually for conference regarding all phases of charitable work." These conferences have aroused popular interest in the charitable and penal institutions of those States, and it is hoped that North Carolina may organize such a body in the near future.

Respectfully submitted,

DAISY DENSON,
Secretary.

REPORT

OF THE

BOARD OF PUBLIC CHARITIES

FOR THE YEAR 1904.

To the Honorable Assembly of the State of North Carolina.

GENTLEMEN:—In obedience to the constitutional provision through which the Board of Public Charities is required to submit an annual report of the condition and needs of the State charitable and penal institutions to his Excellency, the Governor, to be by him transmitted to your honorable body, the Board respectfully presents, in compliance with the law, the following report of the institutions, together with "suggestions for their improvement."

The greatness of the age lies in its altruism. We may no longer "pass by on the other side." 'Tis true the good Samaritan of to-day finds out how and why the other half suffers before applying the oil and wine, but it is in order that the remedy may be speedy and effective.

Last year eighty millions of dollars were bequeathed by private individuals to charitable and philanthropic institutions in the United States.

From the small benevolent society to the Hague Conference in peace and charity, divinely taught, men seek the good of others. Over the lowliest hovel of the city slums and the great institutions maintained by the State, alike shines the light of holy love.

Every phase of suffering, defective humanity, offspring of ignorance, poverty, crime, is brought to the knowledge of the members of the Board of Charities. There is not a chord of sympathy unstruck or unresponsive in their hearts.

It is their duty to view the whole field of the charitable and penal institutions of the State, and the law commands that: "They shall recommend such changes and additional provisions as they may deem needful for their economical and efficient administration."

Impartial, dispassionate, conscientious, they have personally inspected the institutions and ascertained their needs, and their earnest hope is that Carolina will stretch out her beneficent hand and relieve the suffering of her afflicted children.

The State charitable and penal institutions have been carefully inspected by the Board or committees of members appointed by it during the biennial period of 1903-'04, and the Board desires to commend the very able corps of officers in charge. The institutions continue to advance in efficiency and usefulness and compare favorably with those of other States.

The total number cared for, including the orphanages at Oxford, reported in the year 1902, was 2,961; in 1904 there were 3,558 in charge, an increase of 597.

The population of the institutions was distributed during the year 1904, as follows:

| | Total Number During 1904. |
|---|---|
| Hospital at Morganton | 1,162 |
| Hospital at Raleigh | 622 |
| Hospital at Goldsboro | 630 |
| Dangerous Insane Department | 57 |
| School for White Blind | 157 |
| School for Colored Blind and Deaf | 176 |
| School for White Deaf and Dumb | 241 |
| Soldiers' Home | 129 |
| Oxford Orphanage for white children | 266 |
| Oxford Orphanage for colored children | 118 |
| Total | 3,558 |
| Total number of insane in charge during the year | 2,471 |

Present in the institutions November 30, 1904:

|---|---|
| Hospital at Morganton | 1,002 |
| Hospital at Raleigh | 382 |
| Hospital at Goldsboro | 529 |
| Dangerous Insane Department | 54 |

| | |
|---|---|
| School for White Blind | 157 |
| School for Colored Blind and Deaf | 176 |
| School for White Deaf and Dumb | 241 |
| Soldiers' Home | 116 |
| Oxford Orphanage for white children | 266 |
| Oxford Orphanage for colored children | 102 |
| Total | 3,025 |
| Insane present November 30, 1904 | 1,967 |

The appropriations for maintenance made for the biennial period of 1903-'04 were, for each year, as follows:

|---|---|
| State Hospital at Morganton | $125,000 |
| State Hospital at Raleigh | 71,500 |
| State Hospital at Goldsboro | 58,000 |
| Dangerous Insane Department | 5,000 |
| School for White Blind and Colored Blind and Deaf | 60,000 |
| School for Deaf and Dumb | 42,500 |
| Soldiers' Home | 13,000 |
| Oxford Orphanage | 10,000 |
| Oxford Orphanage for the colored | 5,000 |
| Total per annum | $390,000 |

For liquidation of debts, $33,766.95; and for improvements for the biennial period, 1903-'04, $8,500.

We are glad to report that the institutions, with one exception, and that is a small amount, have lived within their incomes, notwithstanding the increase in the cost of living since the above appropriations were made.

Per capita cost of maintenance:

|---|---|
| State Hospital at Goldsboro | $100.89 |
| State Hospital at Morganton | 145.00 |
| State Hospital at Raleigh | 159.00 |
| Dangerous Insane Department | 102.00 |
| School for the White Blind and Colored Blind and Deaf | 175.00 |
| School for the Deaf and Dumb (upon appropriation, $175.00), actual consumption | 160.00 |
| Soldiers' Home | 108.00 |

The per capita of the schools is largest because of the cost of educating defectives. A much larger number of teachers is necessary than in schools for normal children.

The per capita of the Goldsboro Hospital is small because the negro can be comfortably cared for at less expense than the whites.

The Dangerous Insane Department is the smallest of the per capitas of the Hospitals, for the reason that it has the benefit of the Prison management. The per capita of the Raleigh Hospital is larger than that at Morganton. This is greatly due to the fact that the Hospital at Raleigh is and has been handicapped for years by being compelled to rent land, and to the necessity of paying for connection with the city water-works and light plant. To own its water and light plants and land sufficient for the profitable employment of the patients who should work for its curative effect; would result in a decrease in the per capita cost of maintenance and in a large saving to the State.

AN INFIRMARY NEEDED AT THE SCHOOL FOR THE WHITE BLIND.

There are sufficient accommodations for the white blind and the colored blind and deaf now in school, but there are 150 white blind children in the State who refuse to attend.

The pressing need of the school for the white blind is an infirmary for the isolation of the infectious and contagious cases. Situated in the heart of the city, the pupils are necessarily exposed to many diseases.

The Superintendent says in his report that "It is only through a merciful providence that the children have been protected. Cases of scarlet fever and diphtheria have occurred, and by the strictest care only an epidemic was averted."

In the top story of the central building there are five rooms which could be equipped as an infirmary at a cost of $2,500. Communication with the main building can be cut off, except by a stairway. A separate building—and this is advised by the attending physician—would cost approximately $5,000.

The State will fail in her duty if she longer delays adopting proper precautions against such serious calamity to a class already afflicted by physical defects.

THE INSTITUTION FOR THE DEAF AND DUMB.

The Superintendent estimates that there are from 400 to 450 children eligible for admission to this school, with 241 present. Accommodations for 270. Many refuse to attend to whom admission has been offered.

Speech is taught to more than half of all who enter, and while the speech is not natural nor perfect it is intelligible and useful and places the deaf person more nearly on a footing with his hearing companions.

The school has kept abreast with advanced methods. A text-book, called "First Lessons in Speech," has been written by one of the faculty and printed at the school. It has met with success, having been adopted in other States. In July, 1905, the teachers of the deaf in this country will meet in Morganton. This body numbers 300.

It is gratifying to know that this school is classed with the best in America.

The grounds are crude, no attention having been paid them thus far as to ornamentation. It is recommended that $2,500 be used in macadamizing roadways and grading walks, and other improvements, in order to put the institution on a par with other institutions in this respect.

COMPULSORY EDUCATION FOR THE BLIND, DEAF AND DUMB.

"What sculpture is to a block of marble, education is to a human soul."

The institutions for the blind, deaf and dumb have accommodations for a larger number of pupils than are on the rolls, notwithstanding the fact that there are several hundred of these classes not in any institution. Parents refuse to send them. In many States, and countries of Europe as well, compulsory education by statutory enactment is in force.

We call your attention to the recommendation of Superintendent E. McK. Goodwin, in his report, that a compulsory attendance law be adopted for these classes, and ask your consideration of the subject.

A SCHOOL FOR THE FEEBLE-MINDED.

One of the greatest needs of the State is a school for the feeble-minded.

This institution has been recommended by the principals of the other schools for defectives. Admission to them is often sought by parents for feeble-minded children. Professor Goodwin recommends its establishment in his report to this Board. We see the necessity, but feel that the State's first duty is to provide for the insane.

THE REFORM OR INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

This Board most earnestly advocates the establishment of an industrial or reform school. For fourteen years it has brought its recommendations to the General Assembly of the State. Again it urges the need of stretching out the staying hand to prevent the downward course of the children. Save these children from the very dust-heap of humanity and make men and women of them. Never in the history of the world has child study—child saving—occupied the attention of thinkers and philanthropists so prominently as in this new century. It is agreed that upon the prevention of crime, disease, defect, all effort should be focused, and in the plastic child the beginning of these evils can be most readily detected and eradicated.

"It may never be possible to do without penal institutions; it is entirely possible to diminish the number of their inmates."

"The crimes of men have their origin in the vagrancy of childhood."

Popular sentiment is overwhelmingly in favor of the industrial school or reformatory. Educational, political, fraternal and religious bodies have declared themselves, and warmly endorsed it.

THE JUVENILE COURT.

To the reform school only such children should be committed as have been really vicious and who have flagrantly broken the law. First offenders should be given an opportunity to retrieve the wrong done, and for this class the juvenile court established in many of the large cities of the country has proven a brilliant success. Under this law no child under 16 would be incarcerated in jails with hardened adult criminals, but would be called before the judge for investigation into his case; no trial at the expense of the State, but proper investigation, proper safeguards for the child's welfare, and he would be returned to his home under the supervision of a probation officer. This system is attracting interest among the philanthropists of the country and has already proven successful, and, as a matter of economy, Colorado, for instance, reports a saving of $80,000 in cash by the different methods employed in dealing with children. (Message of the Governor of Colorado to the General Assembly, 1903).

Judge Ben. Lindsey says: "In my own experience it is wiser and less expensive to save children than to punish criminals."

THE STATE'S PRISON.

The management of our convicts is attracting attention not only in the United States, but inquiries as to the system have been received from foreign countries. The distinctive features which are commended are the open-air life which they lead and the pecuniary results of their labor. The State's Prison is not only self-supporting, but has a large balance on hand. Through the number of county camps established, the population of the penitentiary is gradually decreasing.

Occupation is necessary; it is one of the best means of reform.

To quote "Charities" as to other means of reformation:

"The probation system, the indeterminate sentence, suspended sentence, discharge on parole, and the plan of permanently segregating habitual criminals are all so many integral parts of a comprehensive and radical reform of the penal system. The old idea that each offense was to be expiated by a definite period of imprisonment varying in length with the supposed seriousness of the crime is discredited. We are feeling our way to a more rational method of preventing crime, securing the reform of offenders who are willing to be reformed, and the rescue of children who display premature symptoms of wrong-doing, by bringing to bear upon them educational and formative influences in their youth and preventing their association with hardened criminals."

Dr. S. J. Barrows of the International Prison Commission says in his report to that illustrious body: "The classification of crimes and the imposition of penalties, based on the purely punitive idea, in which so much suffering is meted out for a particular offense, rest on a false conception and must give way to the more scientific principle involved in the indeterminate sentence." The parole system and indeterminate sentence are in force in many of our States and in other countries. The subject of parole, with the indeterminate sentence, is recommended for your consideration."

THE SOLDIERS' HOME.

If the debt of honor which the State owes to the veterans of '65 is to be paid, now is the time. The thinning line of gray is breaking fast. Feeble and old, friendless except for comrade and State, they totter on the brink of the grave. A large per cent. are hospital cases, and every four weeks one joins the growing ranks of his comrades in the quiet cemetery. With many applications on file for admission, the Board heartily advises an additional sum of $5,000 per annum for maintenance and $2,500 per annum for building and repairs. This increase in amount of present appropriation of $13,000 will furnish accommodation and support for fifty more veterans who are in sore need of the State's assistance. This institution is very economically managed, and, through the untiring efforts of the executive committee who have it in charge, and the labor of the soldiers, the grounds have been much improved and beautified.

THE OXFORD ORPHANAGE.

This institution is under the management of the Masonic order, with a representation on its board of directors of the State. It is well managed and has made many needed additions in the way of industrial buildings and hospital facilities. The management is to be commended in its earnest endeavor to educate the children to occupy proper positions in the world. Several girls have entered the Normal and Industrial School at Greensboro and some at other institutions. Two boys are in the Trinity High School. These children have not been sent at the expense of the orphanage, but defray their expenses partly by their labor and through the benevolence of the order.

OXFORD ORPHANAGE FOR THE COLORED.

This institution occupies the anomalous position of receiving four-fifths of its support from the State, and yet the State has no representation in its management. For several terms this Board has called the attention of the Assembly to this fact and recommended that some action be taken in the matter. The superintendent of the orphanage has petitioned that the State take action and appoint representatives on the board of managers.

THE RELIEF OF THE INSANE THE SUPREME DUTY OF THE STATE.

Under a sense of the advisory responsibility imposed by the Constitution, it becomes the solemn duty of this Board to lay before the General Assembly the urgent and pressing need for the relief of the insane, for whom adequate provision has not been made by the State. In 1900 an "appeal in behalf of the insane of the State" was issued by the Board to the people, setting forth the condition of this afflicted class. Some additional room was provided, but only sufficient for temporary relief, and the problem again confronts us.

With the hope of ascertaining the number of the insane now deprived of curative treatment and lapsing into chronic disease and dependence, carefully prepared circulars were mailed to the commissioners of all counties, as provided by law. The number of insane in the homes and jails is approximately correct, we believe, but the report of the insane in private homes is incomplete and unsatisfactory.

*In 1903 (ninety-six counties reporting) there were:

|---|---|
| Insane in the county homes | 192 |
| Insane in county jails | 28 |
| Idiots, imbeciles and epileptics | 64 |
| Total mentally unsound in homes and jails | 284 |
| Outside insane in 34 counties | 180 |
| Grand total | 464 |

In 1904 (eighty-six counties reporting):

|---|---|
| Insane in the county homes | 169 |
| Insane in the county jails | 18 |
| Total | 187 |
| Outside insane, 27 counties report as follows: Eleven say "None," and 16 report | 65 |
| Grand total | 252 |

|---|---|
| *December 1, 1905, ninety-two counties reported insane in jail | 46 |
| Eighty-four counties report insane in the Homes | 159 |
| Total | 205 |
| Feeble-minded in the Homes | 428 |
| Total mentally defective in jails and Homes | 633 |

Insane died in jail, 9.

It was estimated in 1903 that there were five hundred insane not in either State or county institutions; this, added to the number reported as mentally unsound in the homes and jails, would approximate eight hundred not receiving hospital care. The actual number in jail is not large at any stated period, but many pass through its dark portals; the stigma of the common jail added to this saddest of afflictions! Our Constitution says that "beneficent provision for the poor, the unfortunate and the orphan" is "one of the first duties of a civilized and Christian State." With estimates from eight hundred to one thousand insane not provided for, and a yearly increase of thirty-six, is it not the imperative and obvious duty of North Carolina to increase her accommodations for this unfortunate class?

"The claims of the insane concern the best interests of the tax-payer no less than the philanthropist. To decline to meet them does not change the reality, but only the form, of the burden. The support of the insane cannot be reasoned away. They are here, and if not cared for by the State it must be done by the county or the individual. But both these last forms of expenditure have no hopeful feature of cure except by rare accident, while in the hands of the State, through her curative hospitals, the sufferer is in the majority of instances restored to sanity and to the ranks of productive tax-payers."

If the State takes upon herself the adequate care of her insane, what should be done in the present condition of affairs? This must be left to the wisdom of your honorable body; but the Board respectfully calls your attention to the accompanying report of the directorate of the hospitals for the white insane and to the report of Dr. J. F. Miller, superintendent of the colored insane.

If the exchequer of the State will not permit the relief of the insane of both races, it is recommended that the increase in accommodation be made for the whites only at this time. Insanity is increasing in the negro race, and undoubtedly there is need for more room at the Goldsboro Hospital, but heretofore more whites than negroes have been excluded from hospital care in proportion to the insane of each race.

THE DANGEROUS INSANE DEPARTMENT.

The dangerous insane should be cared for in a separate and suitable institution and not within prison walls; but the violent and criminal exercise a detrimental influence over the quiet patients. It would be a backward step on the part of the State to return this class to the hospitals. It is the part of wisdom to let them remain where they are (for they are as comfortable as the patients of the other hospitals) until proper provision can be made for them as a class. This is very much to be desired, after the insane now receiving no treatment whatever are adequately provided for.

THE PRISON AS A HOSPITAL CONDEMNED.

The proposition to change the State's Prison to a hospital for male patients is condemned on the ground that it would be neither humane nor economical. The prison has only a small garden and there is not an acre of available land except at exorbitant figures, that in the vicinity of the prison having been laid off in town lots. The change would necessitate the removal of all interior walls, a herculean and costly task, as they are supposed to have been built with the expectation of making them impregnable.

On the other hand, the cottage plan now advocated by alienists has materially decreased the cost of providing accommodation for the insane. The tendency is to plain, inexpensive, substantial cottages with sufficient land to allow an agricultural life for the inmates.

To quote an expert in the treatment of the insane: "No enlightened State or country ever thinks of establishing public hospitals or asylums for the insane except where farming land can be procured. In New York a hospital was to be built, and the first requirement was 1,000 acres of land. In the same State a large, well-equipped hospital at Auburn for the criminal insane was abandoned because there was no farming land in the vicinity, and one established at Matteawan at great expense, for no other reason than that land could be had.

"The effort now among the most advanced thinkers is to go still further in this direction by the establishment of farming colonies, where the patients can be more profitably and agreeably employed and made more self-sustaining.

"It would be a blunder—one that would take years to correct—to deprive our male patients of this the best of all remedies to restore them or to make them happy or contented. It would be a return to the days before Pinel—to imprisonment, to hopeless days of despair and pain."

Alienists agree that to profitably employ patients there should be an acre of land to each.

TUBERCULOSIS IN THE STATE INSTITUTIONS.

Wards or separate buildings for tuberculosis patients are urgently needed in the three hospitals for the insane, but the greatest need is at Goldsboro, as the disease is increasing among the negro race. In 1903, 28 per cent. of the deaths at that institution were due to consumption. The usual percentage of deaths from this disease in hospitals for the insane is 23. We are glad to report that at the State's Prison and at the Soldiers' Home provision has been made for the separation of this class from other inmates. At Goldsboro a ward has been arranged for females, but there is no provision for the tuberculous males.

We respectfully call your attention to the resolution passed by the State Medical Society, advising the isolation of tuberculous persons in the "State hospitals, penitentiary and, as far as practicable, in the county jails."

You are also respectfully referred to the recommendations of the State Board of Health.

The brightest feature of this subject is the fine record of our hospitals, which continues to be maintained from year to year. The results of these institutions, as compared with reports from other States and countries, are such as to justify our pride in them and to commend the recommendations of their directors and superintendents to the well-merited confidence of the people and of the members of the General Assembly of the State.

After careful investigation of the needs of the insane by the Board, and in full accord with the spirit of unselfish altruism of the gentlemen presenting these needs, the Board of Public Charities endorses the following report of the directors of the two hospitals for the white insane, and begs your earnest consideration of the recommendations contained therein:

To the Boards of Directors of the Hospitals at Morganton and Raleigh:

The undersigned committee, appointed by your respective bodies, beg leave to report the following:

We believe a certain and well-defined policy should be adopted by the State either to provide adequately for its insane citizens or decline to do so in unqualified terms. If the latter policy is followed, the authorities of the different counties knowing that they cannot depend on the State will provide for their insane the best they can, and the insane will have some care that is now denied to many. Under the present plan the counties wait for the State to build and the State does not, and thus the insane are left uncared for.

There is no need to discuss the humane or economical side of the question, for we assume that all are agreed that the public should undertake to provide amply for all the insane, especially those whose friends are unable to care for them.

It is well known that North Carolina has not erected enough buildings to house all her white insane, but it is not certain how many are in their homes, in jails and almshouses or roaming the country at large.

The U. S. Census for 1900 does not enumerate the insane except those in State and private hospitals, and the Census of 1890 was so notoriously and glaringly inaccurate in the enumeration of the insane that not the slightest credence is given it. The enumerations of previous years are out of date and may be as worthless as that of 1890, but a study of the Census of 1880 is interesting; the white population was 867,242, the insane 1,591, one insane person to every 545 inhabitants; the negro insane was one to every 1,215.

We must, therefore, rely upon the carefully prepared statistics of other countries and States. In the more thickly populated countries there are slightly more than three insane persons to every 1,000 of population. Probably insanity is not so prevalent amongst our citizens, but we believe that two to 1,000 of white people in North Carolina are insane. The large number of applications on file in the offices of the two hospitals for white insane and the many letters of inquiry would seem to prove this number to be correct, but to be well within limit we will base our calculations on one insane person to 600 of white inhabitants.

North Carolina, by the census of 1900, had 1,263,603 white inhabitants—779,049 in the Western Hospital District, and 484,554 in the Eastern. On the basis of one insane person to 600 inhabitants, we had in the State in 1900, 2,106 insane—1,298 in the Western District and 808 in the Eastern. The Western District increased in population during decade 1890-1900, 148,269, or 14,827 per annum. The Eastern District, 66,143, or 6,614 per annum. At the same ratio the population in the Western District for the past five years has increased 74,135, the insane 123; in the Eastern the increase of population for five years has been 33,070, the insane 55. If these estimates are correct there are in the Western District 1,421 insane persons, in the Eastern 863, or a total of 2,284 in the State.

The Morganton Hospital has in round numbers beds for 1,000 patients, the one in Raleigh beds for 400. These estimates show the need for an increase of 421 beds at Morganton, 463 at Raleigh, and also that in the Western District that there is one patient cared for to every 853 of inhabitants, and in the Eastern, one to every 1,294. It appears from the foregoing the Eastern District needs room for more. To equalize the two districts there should be at Morganton 129 patients from the East. The yearly increase of the white insane in North Carolina is about 36.

In accordance with the agreement of the two Boards 67 women were received from the East.

On 1st of December there were 67 patients in the Hospital at Morganton from the East and 7 in the Raleigh Hospital from the West. It is plain that sending patients so far is expensive, and everything else being equal the Raleigh Hospital needs enlargement more than the one at Morganton. It is our opinion that in consideration of the large number of insane outside of the walls of the hospitals who are in need and the difficulty and expense of providing for so many at once, that dotards, paralytics, idiots, imbeciles and epileptics for the present be excluded or accommodations prepared for them in other places.

Employment is the best remedy for insanity, and farming is the best and most remunerative form of labor. It is estimated that there should be an acre of land to every patient under treatment. The Hospital at Raleigh has felt greatly the need for land, and this need cannot but grow greater as time goes on. We respectfully urge that this matter cannot be too strongly insisted on to the Legislature by your respective boards. Sufficiency of land is the one great means of reducing the cost of maintenance; it is not only a curative measure, but an economical one.

It is absolutely necessary to make more room for the insane at Raleigh. The cost of their maintenance will be materially decreased by the purchase of more land and a cheaper water supply. They now pay about $2,000 per annum for water and the rent of land, which represents the interest on a capital of $40,000 at 5 per cent.

We again ask that attention be drawn to the large amount of tuberculosis in our midst, which we are helpless to combat without sufficient accommodation for the tuberculous patients.

There is a great demand upon the resources of the State for every purpose. We, for this reason, recommend that at present you ask for accommodation for the insane on the basis of one bed in the hospitals for every 750 of population. This would require about 150 more beds at Morganton and 350 at Raleigh. This makes no allowance for the yearly increase, and will not, in our judgment, supply the demand, but by excluding the classes we think should be excluded, it may care for the curable, violent and troublesome cases. The beds at Morganton should be limited to men because of the excess of the accommodation for women, 600 to 400 men; the beds at Raleigh to be equally divided between the sexes.

The colonization of patients at Morganton has proved so efficient we recommend this be tried at Raleigh and increased at Morganton. If this be done more land will also be needed at Morganton. For obvious reasons it is better to have land adjoining the present holdings, but this is not essential. Land more than two or three miles away can be utilized.

We respectfully call your attention to an effort that may be made to change the State Prison into a hospital for the insane. We believe that this would be harmful to the State's best interests, and we know that it is not and cannot be made suitable for the innocent insane.

The laws governing hospitals and the general subject of insanity could be amended in some particulars with advantage.

If the Legislature of 1905 should determine to provide to any large extent for the insane it would be the part of wisdom to appoint a competent commission to examine this great question in all its aspects before large amounts of money be spent. The best thought of this and all other countries should be studied and the wisest course adopted. There is a disposition to break away from the old plan of large, expensive structures to smaller, simpler, cheaper and we believe more efficient ones.

We feel that we have a great State and we are proud of it, and we cannot but earnestly hope that this subject of caring for its insane so long neglected may be systematically taken up and treated in a business-like way. If, after discussion, the General Assembly believes the State cannot afford to erect any more buildings, then it should so declare. If, on the other hand, it thinks that our people can further and adequately provide for them then this should be dealt with in a plain business-like way.

Respectfully submitted,

STATE HOSPITAL AT MORGANTON, N. C.

(Inspected October 5th by the Board of Public Charities, W. A. Blair, chairman, and found in excellent condition).

P. L. MURPHY, M. D., Supt. MORGANTON, N. C.

The most important addition made to the hospital was the erection of the colony building without expense to the State, being built by the labor of the patients and out of the proceeds of the farm. It will accommodate twenty-five men and will be ready for occupancy by the first of February. Some additional apparatus bought for the medical department; also a telephone exchange and a sterilizing apparatus.

The cost of the colony building will be between four thousand and five thousand dollars; other improvements, $1,000.

The following is a table of movement of population:

| | Males. | Females. | Total. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Remaining November 30, 1903 | 372 | 518 | 890 |
| Admitted during the year ending November 30, 1904 | 83 | 194 | 277 |
| Total number treated | 455 | 712 | 1,167 |
| Discharged, recovered | 36 | 58 | 94 |
| Discharged, improved | 3 | 10 | 13 |
| Discharged, not improved | 6 | 6 | 12 |
| Discharged, not insane | 1 | 0 | 1 |
| Died | 22 | 23 | 45 |
| Total removed | 68 | 97 | 165 |
| Remaining November 30, 1904 | 387 | 615 | 1,002 |

The percentage of mortality was 3.8; the percentage of recovery, 33.8.

There were 67 patients from the Eastern District; on probation, 42; pay patients, 23 in whole and 7 in part.

Applications now on file, 83—about 75 for want of room and 8 not eligible.

About 75 per cent. of the population are employed. The men work on the farm, in barn, shops, etc., and in the dining-rooms. The women work in the laundry, sewing, etc. They also bottom chairs with cane.

One suicide, which has been reported to the Board. No epidemic. The condition of health is good.

The annual appropriation is $125,000. No indebtedness. Receipts, $131,949.88; disbursements, $131,947.67; balance, $2.21. The receipts were in part unexpended balance from the year 1903.

The per capita cost per annum is about $145.

The estimated value of farm, garden and dairy products is $21,000. The general condition is good.

It would be better to have separate buildings for tubercular patients. New boilers for the institution will cost $6,000, and are urgently needed to replace those now in use, which are worn out. An amusement hall is required. The chapel, which has been used for that purpose ever since the hospital was built, can no longer be used.

The hospital needs room for 150 men, and if the colony plan, as heretofore adopted, be used, more land will be required.

P. L. MURPHY, M. D.,
Superintendent.

STATE HOSPITAL AT RALEIGH.

(Inspected October 5, 1903, by the Board of Public Charities, Dr. Charles Duffy, chairman, and found in a satisfactory condition).

JAMES MCKEE, M. D., Supt. RALEIGH, N. C.

The improvements made during the biennial period of 1903-'04 have been the connection of the hospital with the Wake Water Company and adding a 150-horse-power boiler and covering the same with a temporary house. Cost of water, $5,000. Approximate cost of boiler-house and connections, $4,500. The water supply has been increased and is better and purer.

The following is a table of the movement of population for the year ending November 30, 1904:

| | Males. | Females. | Total. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Remaining November 30, 1903 | 205 | 230 | 435 |
| Admitted during the year ending November 30, 1904 | 79 | 108 | 187 |
| Total under treatment | 284 | 338 | 622 |
| Discharged, recovered | 82 | 39 | 121 |
| Discharged, improved | 5 | 7 | 12 |
| Discharged, not improved | 0 | 0 | 0 |
| Died | 15 | 14 | 29 |
| Total removed | 102 | 60 | 162 |
| Remaining November 30, 1904 | 202 | 180 | 382 |

The percentage of mortality upon the whole number in charge was 4½.

The percentage of cures upon admission was 64.

Number of patients from the Western District, 7; on probation, 4; pay patients, 17. Number of applications refused for want of room, 72; for other reasons, 69; total, 141.

The health of the institution has been unusually good. The only deaths were due to old age and organic diseases. The patients are encouraged to work and are employed in farming, laundry, cleaning and sewing.

The annual appropriation is $71,500, and a special appropriation of $5,000 for water supply.

Receipts from pay patients, appropriations and other sources, $81,246.20; expenditures, $81,152.69. The contract for connecting the hospital with the city gas company amounts to $1,000, and claims to the amount of $406.45. This makes the indebtedness $1,406.45.

Average cost per capita of appropriation, $159 per annum, or $13 per month. Eighteen nurses of each sex are employed. The aggregate value of pay of officers, employees, etc., is $22,764.87; monthly average, $1,897.07¼.

The hospital has been leasing land, which exemplifies the fact that more land is needed. The tuberculous should have a separate and distinct building. We need building capacity for 463 patients and equipment incident thereto.

JAMES MCKEE, M. D.,
Superintendent.

STATE HOSPITAL AT GOLDSBORO.

(Special report of inspection by Dr. Charles Duffy and E. L. Haughton, Commissioner. Inspected July 6th and found in excellent condition).

J. F. MILLER, M. D., Supt. GOLDSBORO, N. C.

The State Hospital at Goldsboro was inspected July 6th by Charles Duffy, chairman, and Commissioner E. L. Haughton. Everything found in good condition. One patient, a female, in the tuberculosis ward; other patients (male) in the general hospital with tuberculosis, but nowhere to keep them separate from other patients, as there are not quarters for both sexes in this improvised tuberculosis ward.

A very handsome and serviceable cold-storage plant has been completed, and is in operation, at a cost of $3,485.

A building now in course of construction will have bakery and kitchen on the first floor, a store-room for females and dining-room on the second floor, and a store-room for males and an assembly-room on the third floor. This is a substantial and useful building and will be completed at a cost of about $5,000. These buildings are being built out of the earnings of the hospital, such as come from the sale of surplus crops, bricks made on the premises, and work largely done by the inmates, without cost to the State, not a dime of the appropriation having been used for this purpose. All crops used for the support and maintenance of the hospital are in most thrifty condition, many now yielding all necessary vegetables and fruits required for the feeding of the inmates.

The hospital cares for over 550 patients, some of whom are home on probation.

The management of this hospital is to be commended from various standpoints, and especially for many useful additions and improvements due to the ingenuity and assiduity of the superintendent and his assistants.

STATE HOSPITAL AT GOLDSBORO, N. C.

J. F. MILLER, M. D., Supt. GOLDSBORO, N. C.

During the biennial period of 1903-'04 a room with waterworks, properly heated and lighted, has been provided for the accommodation of tuberculous female patients. This room is the second story of a dining-room for the outside employees and is connected with our main building for female patients by a bridge constructed chiefly of iron and wire. We have reconstructed, enlarged and practically made new our kitchen and bakery. We have erected a smoke-stack of brick 105 feet high, which will serve the purpose of three iron smoke-stacks, two of which were so damaged by long use that they were unfit for service.

Our front steps and walks to the center building have been made twice as wide as they were previously.

We have installed a cold-storage and ice manufacturing plant without a special appropriation by the Legislature and without using money appropriated for the support of the population, but from money saved as net proceeds from brick-making and from trucking. Lastly, the construction of a tenement-house for employees, consisting of four rooms. The aggregate cost of these several improvements is $12,575.

| | Males. | Females. | Total. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Number on the roll November 30, 1903 | 213 | 294 | 507 |
| Admitted during the year 1904 | 49 | 74 | 123 |
| Whole number treated | 262 | 368 | 630 |
| Discharged as restored | 23 | 22 | 45 |
| Discharged as improved | 3 | 5 | 8 |
| Discharged as unimproved | 0 | 1 | 1 |
| Died | 16 | 31 | 47 |
| Whole number discharged | 42 | 59 | 101 |
| Number on the roll November 30, 1904 | 220 | 309 | 529 |
| Daily general average of population | | | 535.15 |
| Percentage of cures | | | 36.58 |
| Percentage of deaths | | | 7.46 |
| On probation | | | 17 |

The number of applications refused for want of room is 43; that number is now on file. I have reason to believe that there is a large number of insane colored people uncared for by the State who ought to be cared for in a hospital for the insane.

We continue to give employment to all our patients who are capable of being employed, viz., about 60 per cent. of the males and 50 per cent. of females.

Fifty-eight thousand dollars is the annual appropriation for this institution. There is an indebtedness of $200, but there is sufficient cotton on hand to more than pay this amount.

The general condition of our farm lands is good, their productive capacity increasing slightly every year. Our population is of the laboring class, and we emphasize the cultivation of our lands to give employment to as many of our patients as we can.

I approve the colony plan for the quiet and laboring patients of the white population. Nothing would be gained by the so-called colony plan in caring for the colored insane of this State, as our style and character of building could not be cheapened thereby.

We have arranged a suitable room for our female tuberculous patients, but we greatly need a building for our male tuberculous patients. We need a special appropriation of $40,000 for erecting and furnishing a building for female patients, for purchasing and placing in position one 80-horse-power boiler and for erecting and furnishing a small building for the care of the tuberculous. We have acreage sufficient for 100 more patients.

I think insanity is increasing in the negro race pari passu with the white race. The increase has been large the past two decades.

Respectfully submitted,

J. F. MILLER,
Superintendent.

The improvements at this institution for the biennial period of 1903-'04 have been the installation of a heating plant and changes in the plumbing, at a cost of $2,356.36.

Percentage of mortality upon the whole number in charge during the two years, 9 per cent.

The wards only accommodate 49 comfortably, and patients have been declined for lack of room. There is only a small garden in connection with the penitentiary in which the patients can be employed, except on small domestic jobs. The amount of land is inadequate for work or recreation. It would be better for the patients to be in a separate institution.

The annual appropriation is $5,000, and there is no indebtedness. The per capita cost of maintenance is $102. There is no provision for religious services.

JAMES R. ROGERS, M. D.

(Report of the committee to inspect the Dangerous Insane Department).

The dangerous insane department was inspected by Charles Duffy, chairman, and Commissioner W. F. Craig, accompanied by the secretary, on July 6th.

The department was found in a very satisfactory condition. Sanitary arrangements and general management good. There were 44 patients present and accommodations for five more. Only two patients were in the wards. Forty-two were outside, picking blackberries, preparing food for dinner or merely sitting in the fresh air. This is mentioned in order to emphasize the urgent need of sufficient acreage in connection with such institutions; to give employment for mind and body in the open air is conceded to be the best curative means for the disordered brain. This is not the place for the insane. The mentally ill should not be subjected to the stigma of the penitentiary.

Much of the time these patients are harmless and tractable, capable of doing good work.

Convenient fire-escapes are provided, but if the dangerous insane are to continue inmates of the penitentiary building the committee would advise the substitution of iron stairways for the wooden ones now in use, as a proper precaution in case of fire. The ceilings are of plaster and are dropping in portions and should be replaced by some more substantial material.

The new heating apparatus has proved most successful. The quarters are neat, clean and comfortable, comparing well with those in the other State hospitals.

NORTH CAROLINA SCHOOL FOR THE DEAF AND BLIND.

(Inspected April 6th, by Commissioner W. F. Craig and the Secretary. Found in satisfactory condition).

JOHN E. RAY, Principal. RALEIGH, N. C.

White Department.

There have been no changes or improvements added since the last report. The institution will accommodate comfortably 125 of each sex.

The following is a table of movement of population for the year ending November 30, 1904:

| | Boys. | Girls. | Total. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Number on the roll November 30, 1903..... | 76 | 76 | 152 |
| Admitted during the year 1904..... | 25 | 27 | 52 |

| Discharged for any cause..... | 5 | 11 | 16 |
| Remaining on the roll November 30, 1904..... | 84 | 73 | 157 |

Average daily attendance, 155. No applications are on file and none have been refused for lack of room. Two declined because feeble-minded.

There has been no epidemic or serious accident. The health of the institution has been good.

The appropriation for last year was $60,000 for both the white and colored departments. No outstanding indebtedness. The per capita cost of maintenance per annum was about $175. Domestic arrangements unchanged. The literary, industrial and artistic courses remain the same. For recreation, a gymnasium, swings, etc., are provided. Services daily in the chapel, and on Sunday the pupils attend the city churches.

The appropriation asked for will be the same as last year for maintenance. I estimate that there are 150 blind white children of school age who refuse to attend.

The pressing need of the institution is an infirmary for the isolation of infectious and contagious diseases. It is only through a merciful providence that the children have been protected. Twice within the last few years we have had cases of scarlet fever and once a case of diphtheria. Nothing but a kind providence and the strictest care prevented an epidemic and kept us from fearful consequences. It is estimated that it will cost $2,500 to put in proper condition for isolation and sanitary treatment of our students five rooms in the top story of the central part of the building. These rooms are entirely separate from other parts of the building, having only a connecting staircase. A separate building large enough to meet our demands and constructed in a thoroughly sanitary manner would cost from $5,000 to $10,000, depending upon the size of building and number of rooms.

Colored Department.

No changes have occurred at this department since the last report.

The following is a table of the movement of population for the year ending November 30, 1904:

Daily average attendance, 168. No applications on file; none refused for lack of room; five declined because of feeble-mindedness.

There was an epidemic of measles, but the general health is good. There is no infirmary for the isolation of contagious and infectious diseases. The finances are not separate from the white department, but there is one appropriation for both. The per capita cost per annum is $175.

There has been no change in the domestic arrangement or the courses taught. I would recommend dairying for deaf boys. The pupils walk and play for recreation. They have daily services in the chapel. There are fifty colored blind and deaf not now in school.

NORTH CAROLINA SCHOOL FOR DEAF AND DUMB.

(Inspected October 5th, by the Board of Public Charities, Mr. W. A. Blair, chairman. Found in excellent condition).

E. McK. GOODWIN, Principal. MORGANTON, N. C.

The improvements made since last report have been the completion of the renovation of an old brick house for superintendent's residence, and the erection of one cottage for employee, with general improvement of farm lands. The improvements to residence and cottage were made at a cost of $3,700.

The following is a table of movement of population for the year ending November 30, 1904:

| | Boys. | Girls. | Total. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Number on the rolls November 30, 1903..... | 125 | 115 | 240 |

| Died ..... | ... | ... | 0 |
| Number on the roll November 30, 1904..... | ... | ... | 241 |
| Average daily attendance..... | ... | ... | 238 |

Can accommodate comfortably 140 boys and 130 girls; total, 270.

Applications on file, 38; none have been refused for lack of room; 8 have been declined because feeble-minded. No epidemic except measles, and no serious accident. The health of the pupils is good.

The appropriation is $42,500 annually for support and $5,000 for debt.

There is no indebtedness. Earnings, $7,219.84.

The per capita upon appropriation is $175, but some of the amount was expended for improvement and general betterment, and the actual consumption is about $160 per annum.

The boys are taught carpentry, printing, typesetting, shoemaking, farming and gardening; the girls receive instruction in sewing, dress-making, cooking, laundry and general domestic work. We expect to introduce primary handicraft for the small boys.

We teach speech to more than fifty per cent. of all who enter, and while the speech acquired is not perfect nor natural, it is intelligible and useful and places the deaf person more nearly on a footing with his hearing companions, whether it be social or business. Both departments cover the public school course of the State. It is gratifying to know that many of our former boys have obtained positions where they are making independent livings—doing as well as their hearing brothers.

There are daily Scripture lessons and services in the chapel; also Sunday-school every Sunday.

For recreation the boys have athletic associations and contests with other schools in games. The entire school has a party or play night once a month, under the direction of the teachers.

I estimate that there are 400 to 450 white children eligible to this school, with only 241 present. Many have refused to come to whom I have offered admission. If all of those who are eligible should present themselves our plant would have to be nearly doubled.

I have recommended in my former reports that a compulsory attendance law be enacted in order to reach the class of parents who refuse to send their children to school.

Our grounds are crude, no attention having been paid them thus far as to ornamentation. Macadamized roadways, graded walks, etc., are needed to put the institution on a par with the others of the State.

The school has striven to keep abreast with the best methods, and it is gratifying to be classed with the best schools of America to-day.

We will need $47,500 for maintenance and $5,000 for machinery and improvements.

A School for the Feeble-minded Needed.

It has become apparent to every one who has investigated the matter that the State ought to provide for her feeble-minded children. Many of that class apply to this school for admission, but under the law we cannot admit them, even if they are deaf and dumb in addition to their feeble-minded condition. The State has provided well for most of her unfortunates (and they are worthy of all that they get); then why not provide for one of the most unfortunate classes—a class which has not contributed to its affliction, but who suffer through the weakness and sin of others? There are in all probability more than six hundred children of this class. Many of them could be benefited and even educated in the primary sense, and the condition of all could be ameliorated. A large number of these children become inmates of the "county homes" and are charges upon the communities for life. While some of them might be made self-supporting, many would not. We cannot estimate human souls in dollars and cents. Nothing marks a Christian Commonwealth more than her provision for afflicted ones.

RALEIGH, N. C.

During the biennial period of 1903-'04 the dining-room was remodeled and enlarged and repairs made to other buildings, at a cost of $2,400. A neat cottage for tuberculous patients has also been provided.

There has been no change in the domestic arrangement or government of the institution.

The appropriation per annum was $13,000 for maintenance and $1,200 for repairs and improvements. The institution has lived within the appropriation and has no indebtedness.

Religious services are held in the chapel every Sunday by the pastors of the city churches. Gardens and stock good. The grounds have been much improved; heating arrangements and water supply satisfactory. Owing to the large number of applications on file and the increasing number of invalided veterans, there is need of additional aid from the State.

OXFORD ORPHAN ASYLUM.

(Visited by the Secretary on July 25th, and found in excellent condition).

W. J. HICKS, Supt. OXFORD, N. C.

The improvements have been the construction of a cold-storage room out of the materials of the old wood-working shop; largely of the same material, a barn for feed and stock. The apartment for the superintendent in the main building was completed early in the year and the former residence of the superintendent was converted into a hospital. The house in the rear of the hospital has been removed to a more convenient location and connected with the hospital by a glass-enclosed, sunny, well-ventilated hall. This connecting hall makes an admirable play-ground for the convalescent children. The change in the building gives a suitable ward for the isolation of contagious diseases. Hospital facilities have been greatly improved. Small houses have been placed over the two fire hydrants and in these the hose is kept ready for instant use. The farmer's house, the hospital and the woodwork of the main building have been repaired and painted. These, with some minor improvements, have cost, including the value of labor and materials furnished by several of the industrial departments, about $3,000.

The fiscal year has been changed from November 30th to October 31st.

| | Girls. | Boys. | Total. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Went to their own people | 9 | 13 | 22 |
| To approved homes | 3 | 9 | 12 |

| Died | ... | 1 | 1 |
| | 16 | 36 | 52 |

Three girls under the age of discharge are at schools in the State, but are on the roll and are considered under the care and control of the institution.

Two girls entered the State Normal and Industrial College last October. This opportunity was opened to them through the generosity of the Masons, out of the proceeds of the Mocksville Masonic picnic. One girl will graduate from the Normal next June. Two girls were sent to the Oxford Seminary and are defraying expenses by their work. The conditions under which these girls are placed are most favorable. One boy who last year became a student of Trinity Park School will finish the course at that institution this term and hopes to enter college soon. Another boy who has been at work in a printing office has been given the opportunity to enter the Trinity School. They defray their expenses largely by their labor.

The institution can now comfortably care for 145 girls and 145 boys; total, 290. Ninety-two applications have been made to the orphanage for admission; 79 were approved; 9 disapproved. The latter, after careful inquiry, were decided to be ineligible. These applications are referred to the executive committee. When approved they are placed on file, and this year, after certificates of successful vaccination were received, the children were admitted without much delay.

Only one death, from diphtheria, three weeks after admission. No other case. Several cases of pneumonia in the early spring, and one case of fever in the summer, but all made good recoveries. One little boy, seven years old, has tuberculosis, and is cared for apart from the other children at the hospital. The general health of the children has been remarkably good, I am grateful to say.

Our institution is primarily a home for destitute, homeless children, and we are careful to admit only such as are really destitute. It is only just to the children and to the world that we give them an English education and as far as possible industrial training. The school has eight grades, and the course is similar to that of the graded schools of the larger towns of the State.

The girls are trained in household duties, in the cottages, kitchen, dining-rooms, laundry, sewing-room and hospital. The boys get practical experience on farm, in dairy, shoe-shop, woodworking shop, printing office, and the Oxford furniture factory. During the school term each child is in school half of each school day. This requires an afternoon and morning period.

Prayers are held daily in the chapel before breakfast, and at night in each cottage family. Sunday-school every Sunday morning in the chapel, and all except the very young children attend service in the various churches of Oxford. Sunday afternoon services are held in the chapel by ministers of Oxford and vicinity. Meetings for Bible study twice a month.

Taking into consideration our inventories, which are necessarily rather inaccurate, the per capita cost of maintaining each child for the eleven months was about $44.75, and of maintenance and education, without deducting singing-class receipts, approximately, $57.08, above the earnings of the institution.

| | |
|---|---|
| Net expended, maintenance account (average 248 children) | $12,461.39 |
| Net maintenance and school accounts | 15,460.60 |
| Repairs and improvement account, less $28.34 cash sales, etc., | 1,065.88 |
| | $16,526.48 |

We consider the child-placing of the institution a most important work. The investigation of homes offered is as thorough as we can make it. The investigation culminates in the application being referred to the local lodge for inquiry and action. Twelve children have been placed in approved homes, and we have had 250 applications for boys and girls to enter homes or go to positions.

After children are sent to homes, the local Masonic lodges having jurisdiction in the matter, exercise a supervision, and we have a right to reclaim the children whenever it is found that they are not properly cared for and educated.

It is hoped that very soon a field worker will be engaged for the orphanage, and will perform a valuable service, especially in this work of placing and supervising the children in homes. We rejoice that the children in the public schools of the State are becoming more and more interested in contributing to and working for the homeless boys and girls of North Carolina.

The end, the aim of all the activities of the Oxford Orphan Asylum is the inculcation of truth, the enlargement of lives, the building of strong character, the salvation of souls.

A large part of our duty as instructors of the young is by precept and example to teach them that we are "here to serve, not simply to be served."

THE COLORED ORPHAN ASYLUM.

R. SHEPARD, Supt. OXFORD, N. C.

General repairs, new cow-shed and cementing the basement, at a cost of $202.20, were the improvements for the year 1904.

The following is a statement of movement of population for the year ending November 30, 1904:

| | Boys. | Girls. | Total. |
|---|---|---|---|

| Remaining November 30, 1904..... | 45 | 57 | 102 |
| Whole number cared for during the year 1904.. | ... | ... | 118 |

We have on file 55 applications declined for want of room; 10 for other reasons. No epidemic or serious accident.

The girls do all the work of the asylum under the oversight of their matron, cooking, washing, ironing, cleaning, and are instructed in plain sewing and dress-making. The boys do all sorts of farm work, care for the stock and saw and split wood. Even the very little children have their detail of service to render daily. Our great desire is to open industrial shops where the boys can learn trades and become more useful.

There is a primary, intermediate and grammar department; the primary covering three years, the others two years.

Every morning the entire family assembles for prayer and the study of God's word, when the children memorize a verse of Scripture and repeat it at the dinner table.

The matrons in the different homes hold prayer service with the children before they retire; a Sabbath-school and prayer-meeting twice a week constitute the public religious services; but one great dependence is the silent influence of the Christian character of our workers.

The Grand Lodge of Freemasons, several churches, conventions and associations contribute annually. We send out agents every year. We raised on the farm 14 bales of cotton, 400 bushels of sweet potatoes, 250 gallons of molasses, 40 bushels of wheat, a large crop of corn not yet husked, with a bountiful supply of vegetables.

There are hundreds of orphan children in our State who are sadly in need of being under the jurisdiction of competent persons who will train them to be good citizens—otherwise they will be a curse to themselves and to the country generally. We have on file a number of this class whom we have not been able to receive for lack of means for support. We do not lack accommodation so much as house and school furnishings and a larger appropriation for their maintenance. Our great need at present is wood supply. All the fuel used has to be hauled seven or eight miles, and this is expensive.

The institution is governed by a board of directors. We have petitioned the Governor to appoint some members of the board (white) to represent the State.

THE STATE'S PRISON.

(Special report of inspection of the State's Prison, July 6th, by Commissioner W. F. Craig and the Secretary).

The State's Prison was carefully inspected on July 6th by Commissioner W. F. Craig and the Secretary. The general condition and management were found satisfactory. The cells were neat and clean, with a fresh coat of whitewash. Each contains a cot with comfortable bed, a chair and a bucket of water. Prisoners are required to bathe regularly and look neat and clean. The doors of the dark cells used for punishment of refractory convicts were open, and we were informed that corporal punishment is seldom administered. Present, 107 convicts; 15 of these women. The men were occupied in brickmaking and the domestic work of the institution. The women were employed in laundry and sewing department. The other women were at the Halifax farm.

The building for women is inside the quadrangular enclosure, and they are not permitted to go beyond a very small space in front of their building. The management have shown their humanity by planting a large plot of flowers in front of this structure.

It is the opinion of penologists that female prisoners should be confined in an entirely separate institution from the male prisoners.

Two children were transferred to relatives a week ago. They entered the prison as infants with their mothers. There is present one child, born in the penitentiary soon after the mother's incarceration.

The management is to be commended for their care in regard to the tuberculous cases. Wards have been set apart in the infirmary for this class. There were five patients in the colored male department. Bright, sunny rooms are used for this purpose.

*Under a former régime the room designated for a chapel was converted into a shirt factory. This is no longer in operation. The Sunday-school and other religious services are held in the dining-room. We believe the idea of reformation as embodied in the Constitution for "the purpose of preventing crime" should be more prominent, and that as an aid to this a chapel should be sacredly set apart for the orderly worship of God.

Also that a night school should be established and all prisoners be required to learn to read and write.

*Since the above was written the authorities of the Prison have refitted the chapel and the prisoners now have a comfortable and commodious room for religious exercises.

Each prisoner discharged should take with him a moral lesson well learned and an honest calling by which he can maintain himself without temptation to break the law.

THE STATE'S PRISON.

(Inspected July 6th, by Commissioner W. F. Craig and the Secretary).

J. S. MANN, Supt. RALEIGH, N. C.

There have been no changes in the central prison, except repairs to plumbing and sewerage, which have been thoroughly overhauled. The prisoners' quarters at both camps at the State farm have been well repaired and a cement floor laid at Camp No. 1. All barns, cribs, etc., have been put in order, and in some instances rebuilt. A dwelling has been erected for the physician stationed on the farm.

The following is the table of movement of population for the year ending December 31, 1904:

|---|---|
| Remaining in the State's Prison January 1, 1904 | 706 |
| Admitted during the year | 168 |
| Total number of convicts confined | 874 |
| Died | 23 |
| Discharged during the year | 137 |
| Remaining December 31, 1904 | 666 |
| Escapes | 21 |
| Killed | 3 |

Two were killed while attempting to escape, and one was killed by a police officer in an endeavor to arrest him after having escaped.

The above statistics cover the number committed directly to the State's Prison; comparatively few of this number remain in the central prison, but are transferred to the various camps and to the State farm. The population varies so constantly at the camps and the number and location of camps also vary, so replies are based on the general statistics of the prison.

The health of the institution is very satisfactory, when it is taken into consideration that many prisoners are sent here from the counties because they are physically too weak or constitutionally unfit for work on the public roads.

We have a ward for the white tuberculous and one for the colored, and they are kept separate and distinct from the general hospital. We have had no epidemic of any kind.

We keep an accurate record of the cases of corporal punishment.

There is no chapel, but religious services are held in the dining-room. Neither is there a prison chaplain, though ministers of the various denominations are paid a very small sum for preaching to the convicts, both at the central prison and at the farm.

We have no library or night school. Of the prisoners received during the past two years, 182 can read and write, 14 can read, and 154 are illiterates.

The system of reward is to diminish a sentence three days in the month on good behavior, and the prisoner receives as commutation money 10 cents for each day of good time made.

I have had no practical experience with the parole system or the indeterminate sentence, but have been very favorably impressed by the arguments of those who have had experience with these reform measures.

I am in favor of the establishment by the State of a reformatory for youthful criminals.

The number of prisoners received during the years 1903-'04 under 20 years of age, 99; under 16 were 18; from 18 to 20 years of age, 82; from 20 to 30, 145; from 30 to 40, 49; from 40 to 50, 31; from 50 to 60, 18; 60 to 70, 6; 70 to 80, 2. In reply to the question in regard to the dangerous insane, I would respectfully refer you to the report of this institution for 1901-'02; I have not changed my views as expressed therein:

"I cannot think this the proper place for the confinement of these unfortunate people. Are these people too dangerous to be cared for among the patients of other hospitals? If so, let them be cared for in a separate building; or, if need be, in a separate and distinct institution, but let it be outside prison walls."

The annual account of the pay-roll is estimated at $40,000. The officers and employees are entirely satisfactory. The prison is not only self-supporting, but has a large balance on hand.

| Receipts for eleven months, to December 1, 1904 | 154,433.10 |

CROWELL SANATORIUM, CHARLOTTE, N. C.

(Private; licensed by the Board).
(Inspected by the County Visitors in September).

DR. S. M. CROWELL, Medical Director. CHARLOTTE, N. C.

This is a private sanatorium for the treatment of alcoholic, drug and nervous diseases. No insane are treated. The institution was opened July 1, 1903, in the building formerly occupied by the Charlotte Private Hospital. By January 1, 1904, the patronage of the sanatorium was such as to demand better accommodations, and a modern three-story brick building with slate roof was secured on West Third street, in a quiet yet accessible part of the city. It is heated by steam, also furnished with open grates, and is as nearly fire-proof as is possible to make one of this order. There are no wards. All rooms are single or en suite. Fourteen rooms furnished with electricity accommodate from fourteen to twenty patients, as the rooms are large and patients often prefer a room-mate. S. M. Crowell, M. D., is superintendent and medical director, and R. H. Bradford, M. D., assistant resident physician, both being in the sanatorium day and night with the patients. Mr. John A. McCall is superintendent of nurses and attendants.

The sanatorium is equipped with modern hydro- and electro-therapeutic apparatus for facilitating the treatment of these cases. Since the opening of the institution about seventy-five cases have been cured, the great majority being whiskey, opium and cocaine addictions. The prevailing nervous disease treated has been alcoholic neuritis. Every case has been cured and not a single death has occurred in the sanatorium.

November 30, 1904, there were ten patients in the institution. Charges covering all expenses range from $130 to $200, the amount depending upon the disease, the length of time in the sanatorium, etc., the simple whiskey cases remaining in the sanatorium from two to four weeks, and the nervous cases anywhere from four to eight weeks. We have a flattering number of cases from other States.

Respectfully submitted,

S. M. CROWELL, M. D.

BROADOAKS SANATORIUM, MORGANTON, N. C.

(Private; licensed by the Board).
(Inspected by the Board of Charities, W. A. Blair, chairman, October 6, 1904. Found in satisfactory condition).

DR. ISAAC M. TAYLOR, Proprietor. MORGANTON, N. C.

By way of improvement, one and one-eighth acres of land adjoining the tract has been added to the hospital grounds.

An addition approximating 60 by 20 feet has been made to the main building, giving a handsome dining-room, a commodious kitchen, serving-room and store-room and eleven rooms for patients. Also a wide stairway, making access to the second floor easy and a fourth way of escape in case of emergency. Three new bath-rooms, and the plumbing is being repaired and brought up to present sanitary standards. The whole house is having a hot-water heating plant installed. There is a steam laundry with modern equipment. The private water supply has been abandoned, and the water used comes from the Morganton Water-works Company. Additions and improvements cost about $4,000.

The capacity of the sanatorium has been raised from 23 to 35, and a much more efficient service can be given under new conditions.

| | Men. | Women. | Total. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Remaining November 30, 1903 | 8 | 3 | 11 |
| Admitted during the year 1904 | 43 | 18 | 61 |

| Recovered | 9 | 5 | 14 |
| Total removed | 43 | 14 | 57 |
| Remaining November 30, 1904 | 8 | 7 | 15 |

Daily average, 16; capacity, 35.

Percentage of deaths, 4. No epidemic, no serious sickness. One accidental burn of serious character.

Three men and three women are employed in actual attendance upon the patients, besides a housekeeper and a dining-room attendant, who share in the care of the patients a part of the time. A male and a female nurse are on duty every day and all night.

Of the population this year there have been: insane patients, 38; alcoholic and drug addictions, 21; other nervous conditions, including old age, 13—47 from North Carolina, the remainder from seven other States. The charges are based on a minimum charge of $15 per week to $35 for best rooms or most troublesome cases. Three patients were declined, but others writing for information were told of our inability to receive them. The sanatorium is open to epileptics, paralytics and imbeciles, but in admitting these classes we exercise care to select only such as are suited to conditions here. We also receive cases of neurasthenia and other nervous invalids.

Respectfully,

ISAAC M. TAYLOR, M. D.

COUNTY PENAL AND CHARITABLE INSTITUTIONS.

The homes and jails show gradual improvement, but this is slow, and is usually after years of effort upon the part of the men and women who feel that caring for the weak and helpless is a part of the Divine command. Mecklenburg has erected a very handsome home at a cost of $15,000. Gaston and Harnett have new homes. Anson's home, when completed, will cost $12,000. Lenoir has established a home for the first time. Henderson, Gates and Caldwell have improved. Washington and Brunswick are building new jails; Bertie, Jones and Robeson have recently completed theirs. Wilkes and Caldwell have been improved. Eighty-six counties have reported, eleven unheard from. Outdoor relief has been given to the amount of $70,450 in 61 counties. Five have no system of outdoor relief, and 10 report relief but do not give the amount; 21 have not replied to the question. Reporting, 76. The total amount will be over $100,000, entirely outside of the large expense of the homes. Eighty children are in county homes—three-fourths defective or abnormal, many are infants.

There are 30 county convict camps. Reports from 16. In regard to county institutions, quoting a former report of the Board: "This is the weakest portion, of necessity, in our general administration, committed as it is to ninety-seven distinct bodies of commissioners, who, however patriotic and desirous of the welfare of the people, are burdened with numerous trusts; and in many cases have never given attention to the work involved in the efficient management of the county institutions."

In other States there are agents of the Board of Charities who make personal inspections of all jails and homes. This is in addition to the voluntary visitors. Having a regular agent to do this work, insures a greater uniformity in management and advance along all lines of efficiency. Such an agent would be an expense to the State, but would insure a more economical management and save the counties large sums eventually.

Of the noble band of men and women who have served the State as visitors in the counties, no praise is too high. They render a most efficient service, and to them is due the great advance in the county reform work during the last decade. Through physical discomfort often they have given of their time and strength. To them are due the heartfelt thanks of the Board. Nothing can take the place of the county visitor, with his knowledge of local conditions and his influence. The county boards number 360 individuals—270 men and 90 women.

During the year Dr. Charles Duffy and Mr. Wesley N. Jones, faithful and efficient members for many years, resigned, and Mr. Carey J. Hunter, of Raleigh, and Col. A. C. McAlister, of Asheboro, were appointed to fill the vacancies on the Board. Thanks are due officials of the institutions, the State officers and the Governor for courtesies and sympathy in the Board's earnest endeavor to reach the high ideal set by the Constitution.

ST. LEO'S HOSPITAL, GREENSBORO.

THE SISTERS OF CHARITY. GREENSBORO, N. C.

The ground was broken for this fine hospital on January 29, 1904, and the building is expected to be ready for occupancy by July 1, 1905. It is erected under the auspices of the Roman Catholic Church, and is in charge of the Sisters of Charity. It will cost when completed approximately $125,000. The building is faced with red and black pressed brick, laid in Flemish band effect, with black mortar, trimmings of gray granite and buff Indiana limestone. The roof is of slate. The building is approached by a circular driveway, passing beneath the granite front steps, which will form a porte-cochere. The main building will be 128 by 546 feet, four stories, with twenty-one private rooms, besides the Sisters' refectory, dormitory, infirmary, recreation-room and chapel; also the nurses' class-rooms, dormitories, refectory and recreation-room; likewise the quarters for male and female servants, pharmacy, diet kitchens, toilets, parlor and office.

There is an electric elevator from the basement to the fourth floor, and sun porches on each side of the building, together with a sun porch separating main and ward buildings. If desired, rooms can be obtained en suite with private baths. The ward building is 57 by 50 feet, three stories. Six wards of seven beds each and three private rooms. On each floor there is a separate diet kitchen, toilet, dressing-room, linen and clothes-room.

The operating pavilion is a separate building, connected with the main building by brick and glass passage-way, and contains etherizing room, sterilizing room, surgeon's scrub-room, emergency operating room and main operating room. This building will have tile floors throughout, with tile wainscoting six feet high in both operating rooms. All of the fittings are of the latest improvements known to modern science; all the tile of the latest improved sanitary hospital tile. At the south end of the main building and to the rear is the kitchen, laundry and power-house. The kitchen and laundry rooms are fitted with the latest improved machinery. The power-house will be fitted up with a battery of boilers of 60-horse-power each, and a complete system for steam heating and electricity generation.

Throughout the entire building there is a complete system of ventilation, each room being connected with the main ventilator by an individual duct. The buildings are also fitted for a complete system of gas and electricity, with push-buttons and private telephones. The plumbing will be the very best that science can devise. All diet kitchens are provided with dumb-waiters and all toilets fitted with tile floors and marble finish, as is also the first floor of the main building.

When completed and thrown open to the public, this will be an institution of which Greensboro, as well as the entire South, should feel proud.

WAKE.

The prison is unchanged as to buildings, etc. Water in the cells. Sufficient amount of very plain food. Two meals a day; no warm drink. The jail is cleansed by scalding and disinfectants. Only small basins or foot-tubs. Bathing is not required. Sewerage. Not free of vermin. Regular religious services. Now in charge: 3 white males, 5 colored males, 1 colored female; total, 9. During 6 months there were confined: 67 whites, 195 colored; total, 262. No deaths. The needs of our jail are so well known that I deem it unnecessary to repeat them. I am hoping that it will be increased to twice its present size, with reception rooms to newcomers, where they can be thoroughly cleansed before assigning them to cells; a bath and a place for exercise.

I. C. BLAIR,
For the Committee.

Received June 28, 1904.

Remarks.—Federal prisoners are only in jail a short time, owing to the fact that Federal officers are careful not to bring them in until the cases can be heard, which fact accounts for the prison not being so crowded at Federal Court as formerly.

I. C. BLAIR,
J. A. MILLS.

Received December 28, 1904.

*INSANE IN HOMES AND JAILS.

Sixty Commissioners' reports, supplemented by twenty-one Visitors' reports, give eighty-one counties with Homes reporting as follows:

Forty-five of these counties give no insane in the Homes.

Thirty-six counties report 143 insane in the Homes.

Commissioners report in 22 counties 81 insane in private families.

Fifty-four Visitors' reports give the number of epileptic and idiotic in their Homes, 32 reporting "none," and 22 giving 54.

Fifty-nine Commissioners' reports, supplemented with Visitors' reports, give 75 jails reporting as follows:

Fifty-four report "no insane" in jail at the time of report.

Twenty-three counties report 26 in jail.

The question of the outside insane was hardly touched, very few counties making any attempt to obtain the information. So that there are still left 11 counties not reporting the insane in the Homes and 22 not giving the number in the jails, and practically all the insane in private homes. The number reported was:

| | |
|---|---|
| In Homes | 143 |
| In jails | 26 |
| Outside | 81 |
| Idiots | 54 |
| | 304 |

An insane man died in the Buncombe jail and a white insane woman starved herself to death in the McDowell prison. These incomplete statistics are published merely to indicate the condition of the insane and the need of further provision for them.

*Additional reports were received after the publication of statistics, pages 286 to 305. Five counties have no Homes.

QUARTERLY REPORT—JANUARY TO APRIL, 1904.

BOARD OF PUBLIC CHARITIES,
THE CAPITOL, RALEIGH, N. C., April 5, 1904.

Dr. Charles Duffy, Chairman, and Messrs. William A. Blair, E. L. Haughton and W. F. Craig, Commissioners.

GENTLEMEN:—I have the honor to present the following report of the general work of the office for the quarter ending April 1, 1904. During the month of January his Excellency, Governor Charles B. Aycock, acceded to the request of the Board for an office in the Capitol building, and designated a room to be used for that purpose. The papers and valuable books of the Board were removed thereto and were systematically arranged. On February 9th the office was opened to the public, the hours being from 10 to 2 P. M. Blanks for the spring inspections have been mailed and twenty counties have already reported. Efforts have been made to get a boy into a Reformatory and another into the Deaf and Dumb Institution. The work in the counties continues without abatement. Much of the time has been occupied with additional work upon the annual report. A paper on the jails for "Charities," one for Mr. M. J. Scanlon of the National Conference Committee, copying Poor Laws for Mr. Koren, expert in vital statistics; copying laws in regard to the establishment of the Board of Charities for Dr. William Drewry of Virginia for the legislative committee of that State; personal visits to the county jail and police station of the city have been made. Other items will be found in the diary, which is kept regularly and from which monthly statements are made to the chairman of the Board.

Very respectfully,

DAISY DENSON,
Secretary.

QUARTERLY REPORT—APRIL TO JULY, 1904.

Dr. Charles Duffy, Chairman, Commissioners W. L. Blair, Edgar L. Haughton and W. F. Craig, of the Board of Public Charities.

GENTLEMEN:—I have the honor to present the following report of the work of the office during the quarter ending July 1, 1904. Pursuant to the instructions of the Board, the annual report was presented to Governor Charles B. Aycock, and by him sent to the State Printer, with an order for its publication. According to further instructions, inquiries were made in regard to State representation in the management of the Colored Orphan Asylum at Oxford. His Excellency, Governor Aycock, says there is no State representative and he will be pleased to transmit the Board's recommendation in respect thereto to the next General Assembly.

The North Carolina Soldiers' Home and the white department of the School for the Blind were inspected on April 6th by Commissioner W. F. Craig and the Secretary, and found in a satisfactory condition. The grounds at the Soldiers' Home have been greatly improved in appearance. A separate cottage for consumptives has been erected. It is well and economically managed. Fifty applications on file for want of room.

At the Blind Institution our attention was called to the necessity for an infirmary. At a limited expense a portion of the main building could be utilized. This is recommended by the attending physician. On June 25th the Oxford Orphanage for white children was visited by the Secretary and found in excellent condition. Two hundred and fifty children are cared for, the youngest, not quite six, was born in the State Hospital at Raleigh soon after her mother was received there, and was cared for at that institution until sent to the Orphanage. I found a class of seven girls competing for a scholarship at the Greensboro Normal School. I was told that the ambition of the girls is to teach. There is only one scholarship. The work of the girls is chiefly domestic. Four young ladies cook for all the children and teachers. At the A. and M. College there is one scholarship for the Orphanage, which means only tuition. A young man from the Orphanage is now attending the college, who pays his board by shoemaking.

The State could well afford to give other scholarships at these two colleges to the Orphanage.

It was thought that a complete line of the directors' reports of the various institutions and also photographs of buildings, interiors, etc., should be filed in the office. A number of these have been secured.

Papers were prepared for the National Conference of Charities, for Mr. Hardin of Guilford College, articles for paper on condition of Wake jail, letters to Judge Lindsey in regard to the Juvenile Court, and to the North Carolina Bar Association on the same subject.

A visit from the Rev. C. S. Blackwell of the Virginia State Conference, and the preparation of data for him.

Endeavors have been made to assist Mr. Koren, United States statistical expert of Census Bureau, to obtain statistics of the criminal and pauper population. This census report is under special act of Congress, and will give an exact census of these classes for the year 1904. In connection with this, I would call your attention to a recommendation of report for the year 1896, p. 60, which recommends record books, etc. Records are not kept by all the counties. A uniform book is needed.

An attempt to get a patient in at Morganton failed; cause, ineligibility. Application was made for a veteran to enter the Home.

Reports of counties received up to date, 51; convict camps, 9. The counties complained of last year are still unsatisfactory. Judge Walter Neal has forced Ashe to give her poor better care. The grand juries have recommended improvements in several. The main building of the Burke Home has been burned. It is proposed to change the location to a farm nearer the town.

The number of Visitors is increasing. There are 87 women and 263 men aiding in the work.

The County Home, work-house and jail of Wake have been inspected by the local Board of Visitors, accompanied by the Secretary. The work-house is a fair one and the Home excellent. A committee from the City Charities Association have also visited the Home and pronounce it comfortable and well managed. The jail is adversely criticised. From 700 to 800 persons pass through its portals annually. From eight to eighty confined at the same time, it is subject to overcrowding. Better ventilation, heating, bathing, bedding and exercise are needed. A committee of citizens has been organized, with your Secretary as chairman, with the intention of accomplishing decided reforms. They ask for an annex for women, the present room so used to be utilized for bath-rooms; for better ventilation, heating and bedding. Two hundred and fifty names of representative citizens were signed to a petition and transmitted to the Board of Commissioners, with forcible speeches by Mr. N. B. Broughton and Mr. A. A. Thompson. A committee was appointed by this Board to visit the jail and make recommendations.

The grand jury of New Hanover reported the jail of that county. A special investigation was held. While the conditions were true, there were mitigating circumstances and the necessary changes have been made.

The larger towns have outgrown their jail buildings and overcrowding is frequent. It is customary in small towns to use the jails as lock-ups or police stations; this is to be criticised.

The following opinions are quoted from leading philanthropic journals:

"Crime is largely the result of social errors and social injustice."

"It may never be possible to do without penal institutions; it is entirely possible to diminish the number of their inmates."

"The crimes of men have their origin in the vagrancy of childhood."

"Under a Juvenile Court law the State stands as parent of juvenile delinquents—to help them and not to hurt them."

The King's Daughters will again ask the Legislature for a Reformatory.

A Juvenile Court law would guarantee the private trial of children and prevent their incarceration in the jails. It has saved the States where operating many thousand dollars by the prevention of crime and saving the expense of the usual court proceedings. Two notable acts of influential bodies have been the passing of a resolution by the Medical Convention advising the proper isolation and care of tuberculous persons in the State hospitals, penitentiary, and as far as practicable in the jails, and the plank in the Democratic platform promises increased care of the indigent insane. The Governor also warmly advocates the cause of the insane, deaf and dumb and blind and the infirm soldier.

The spirit of altruism is aroused. The time is ripe for the crystallization of the scattered strength of these influences for good into a force which may move mountains. In other fields co-operation is shown to be all-powerful. Why not organize our philanthropists (as has been successfully done in other States) into a State Conference of Charities, meeting annually to discuss these vital questions, forwarding all movements for the benefit of the weak and unfortunate, learning each other's experience and educating the masses to see these questions aright?

Very respectfully, DAISY DENSON,
Secretary.

QUARTERLY REPORT, FROM JULY 1 TO OCTOBER 1, 1904.

Mr. W. A. Blair, Acting Chairman, and Commissioners E. L. Haughton, W. F. Craig, Carey J. Hunter, A. C. McAlister, of the Board of Charities.

GENTLEMEN:—I have the honor to make the following report of the work under the supervision of the Board for the quarter ending the 1st of October, 1904:

The committees appointed by the Board at the July meeting for the inspection of the institutions, namely, the State Hospital at Goldsboro, the Dangerous Insane Department and the Penitentiary, have made written reports which are herewith presented. Acting under instructions of the Board, the Secretary has obtained an estimate of the probable cost of erecting an infirmary at the Institution for the Blind, as per recommendation of the committee of inspection of that institution.

Before offering any subject for discussion, the Secretary will state briefly the general work of the office and the condition of the County Homes and jails.

Papers have been written by request for Mr. Gitterman of Washington, D. C., on the laws of North Carolina relating to minors; Mr. Koren of the Vital Statistics Department, Washington, on the institutions of our State; a revised list of the Board for the Annual Report of the Proceedings of the National Conference of Charities and Correction; by request, a tabulated statement of the population of all the State institutions, from 1896-1903; a letter to the daily papers on the proposed Juvenile Court law; a sketch of the Board for a hand-book which is being prepared by the Secretary of State for the use of the Legislature; a letter to Dr. Drewry of Petersburg, giving statistics of the insane by request.

A number of individual cases have appealed to the Board for assistance in getting admission to the various institutions. This has necessitated much correspondence, but owing to the want of room—which is the reply from them all—these applications are seldom successful. However, the Secretary always makes the attempt. One deaf and dumb boy, two insane persons, two consumptives and five orphans have applied. One prisoner has been put in communication with his mother.

As per instructions, the Secretary asked a report from the President of the Children's Home Society as to the disposition of children and the supervision of the finances. Mr. Osborn replied with a full statement and a copy of the by-laws of the Society.

The Sanatorium of Charlotte was, upon investigation by the local Board, found to be treating alcoholics and nervous patients without having complied with the law and obtaining a license from the Board of Charities. The Superintendent expressed perfect willingness for a thorough inspection of the institution and has asked for a license, saying that he did not know that it was required. It is probable that there are others operating in the State who have not applied.

A letter was received from one of the directors of the Colored Orphanage which shows considerable friction among the directors of that institution. It is wholly private, the State not being represented on the Board. The Board of Public Charities has several times suggested that the State should be represented where the institution receives five-sixths of its support from the State. The letter was transmitted to the Governor, and he will act in the matter.

Blanks were mailed to all Boards of County Commissioners for the reports of the defective classes, and Visitors' blanks for the inspections of the Homes, jails and convict camps. With these, letters were written to the Visitors. Visitors' reports have been received from 69 counties and 21 camps. Commissioners' reports, so far received, 37. Combining the two reports, 82 different counties have reported. Nine new Visitors have been added during the quarter. (See accompanying list). Mecklenburg has completed a $15,000 Home and will build a Reformatory for her boys. Anson is erecting a brick Home at a cost of $12,000. Burke has completed a new building, to replace one recently burned. Lenoir is building a Home for the first time. The Home of Brunswick is not yet completed. Caldwell, Gaston, Gates, and Henderson reported improved. Dare has improved in management, but the Home is bad as to building. In jails Dare and Davie are at the bottom of the list. Washington and Brunswick are building. Wilkes reported improved. A letter of complaint was sent to Caldwell and a special inspection was made in New Hanover. Detailed accounts of the counties are herewith presented.

By the request of Mr. Blair, and through the courtesy of the Council of State, a typewriter has been placed in the office of the Board, which materially aids in the dispatch of business.

Dr. Charles Duffy of New Bern, member of the Board since its organization in 1889, and Chairman since 1891, has resigned on account of press of professional work. He desired the Secretary to express his regrets at severing the tie which has bound the Board in brotherly love through their unselfish devotion to the welfare of the helpless classes of the State. Governor Charles B. Aycock appointed Mr. Carey J. Hunter of Raleigh and Mr. A. C. McAlister of Asheboro, to fill the vacancies caused by the resignations of Mr. W. N. Jones and Dr. Duffy.

According to the rule of the Board, the senior member presides in the absence or the disability of the Chairman. Since the resignation of Dr. Duffy in July, Mr. W. A. Blair, senior member, has served as Chairman.

The subjects presented for discussion and upon which the Secretary asks instruction are:

Shall legislation be asked in favor of the establishment of a Reformatory, if so, in what way shall this be done most effectively?

The discussion of the Juvenile Court law.

The prevention of the retention of children in the Homes to their detriment.

The recommendation of an infirmary for the Blind Institution.

The increased accommodations for the insane.

The isolation of tuberculous cases.

Thanking the Chairman for his interest in the routine work of the office, and the assistance given the Secretary when frequently called upon by her for help,

Respectfully submitted,

DAISY DENSON,
Secretary.

QUARTERLY REPORT FROM OCTOBER 1 TO JANUARY 1, 1905.

Mr. W. A. Blair, chairman, and Commissioners E. L. Haughton, W. F. Craig, Carey J. Hunter and A. C. McAlister of the Board of Public Charities.

GENTLEMEN:—I have the honor to present the following statement of the work of the office for the quarter ending January 1, 1905. This is brief for the reason that the time has been devoted to the compilation of the annual report presented herewith.

All counties not replying to the circulars sent out by the Board in regard to defectives were again notified of their negligence.

A notice was published in the paper of the meeting at Morganton and the inspections of the institutions located in that place.

Inquiries were mailed to all orphanages, private hospitals, and to each State institution. Upon these replies and the personal inspections the annual report of the Board is based. On November 22d the committee appointed by the Board to attend the conference of the directorate of the two hospitals for the white insane, by invitation of the directorate were present at that conference. Very earnest, thoughtful, unpartisan and dispassionate discussion of the needs of the white insane of the State ensued. The conclusions of that conference are presented to the Board for consideration.

The committee appointed to draw up and send to Dr. Charles Duffy appropriate resolutions of regret upon his resignation from the Board have acted and will present their report.

By order of the Board, Crowell Sanatorium, Charlotte, was licensed.

Papers have been written in regard to the institutions and the Board itself by request from persons in the State and from other States. Statistics of the children in the Homes and in child-saving institutions were compiled for Mr. Hilles of New York.

The Secretary desires to report a personal visit to the Soldiers' Home with the Johnston-Pettigrew Chapter of Daughters of the Confederacy, of which she is a member. They thoroughly inspected the Home, visiting all parts of it, and especially the sick. The cottage for tuberculous patients has been completed. It will accommodate eight. Everything was in beautiful order. One is struck with the number of very feeble aged men. If North Carolina is ever to pay her debt of honor, now is the time. On Christmas day the tree arranged for by the Children's Chapter was not held, because one more old veteran had crossed over the river on that holy morning. There have been efforts made to help the son of a veteran and several orphans.

A number of reports of other States have been received and duly acknowledged.

The time has been fully occupied with obtaining data for the annual report, much of the time outside of office hours having been so filled.

Very respectfully, DAISY DENSON,
Secretary.

COPY OF REPORT TO THE NATIONAL CONFERENCE OF CHARITIES AND CORRECTION, FROM NORTH CAROLINA, AT PORTLAND, MAINE, JUNE, 1904.

The beneficent results of the educational campaign waged by his Excellency, Governor Charles B. Aycock, during his gubernatorial term of four years, are perceptible through all strata of society. The good effect upon the future development of the State is incalculable. A broad-minded and charitable man of a truly religious temperament, he has inculcated the highest moral lessons by his eloquent educational addresses. He has been heard with enthusiasm by the people from the Tennessee border to the Atlantic Ocean. He is in warm sympathy with all efforts for the uplifting of the weak, and for the proper care of the unfortunate wards of the State.

Never in the history of North Carolina has there been such co-operation, combination, organization along all lines, especially in commercial, educational and philanthropic associations. Rural deliveries, the "Society for the Betterment of School-houses," the organization of many bodies, are the factors in the awakening interest in our fellows. Public opinion, more potent than written law, is favorably inclined to advanced legislation in regard to the dependent, defective and criminal classes.

As the Legislature assembles biennially, there has been no session since the last report to the Conference. Two laws passed in 1903 have but recently gone into effect and deserve mention here. The first is known as the "Watts Law." It makes the manufacture or sale of liquors, except in incorporated towns, unlawful; and upon the petition of one-third of the registered voters of a town an election can be held to decide whether dispensaries or saloons will be allowed. The former is practical prohibition in the rural districts, and through the indefatigable labor of the Anti-Saloon League high license, special county laws and dispensaries have greatly diminished drunkenness in the towns. The number of arrests has materially decreased and a decided check upon crime is to be expected. The second was the creation of a Board of Examiners of Trained Nurses, these to be elected by the Medical Society and the Nurses' Association. After a rigid examination a license is issued to the successful applicant, which entitles said nurse to the use of R. N. (Registered Nurse) after her name. This bill originated with the trained nurses holding diplomas, and was intended to prevent nursing as a vocation by the untrained. This was defeated by the following amendment: "Nothing in this act shall in any manner whatever curtail or abridge the privilege of any person to pursue the vocation of a nurse, whether trained or untrained, registered or not registered."

One hundred and seven cases of abandonment were reported by the Attorney-General as being in the courts during 1901-1902. The law makes it a misdemeanor, punishable by imprisonment, to abandon wife or children "without providing adequate support"; it is also a misdemeanor to wilfully fail to provide support while living with wife and children, when it can be proved that the husband "neglects to apply himself to some honest calling."

The State Board of Charities recommends the establishment of a Reform School, the passage of a Juvenile Court law and probation. They emphasize the need of State care for the feeble-minded and epileptic and the necessity for further provision for the insane. These recommendations will be brought to the attention of the next Assembly. The King's Daughters have accepted the gift of fifty acres as a site for a Reform School. They will ask the State for an appropriation for its support. A concerted effort of many organizations will be made for the establishment of such an institution.

A fight against tuberculosis has been inaugurated in the city of Raleigh. An ordinance has been passed requiring physicians to report such cases to the Board of Health. Printed regulations for care and disinfection will be distributed to patients. In indigent cases disinfection will be made by the sanitary officer at the expense of the city. Action has been taken to isolate the tuberculous in several of the State institutions. At the Soldiers' Home a cottage has been built for their care. At the Goldsboro Hospital for the Colored Insane a small brick building has been utilized as a ward and solarium.

Freedom unwisely bestowed and ignorantly made use of, degenerates into license. The wholesome restraints of his ante-bellum life removed, the negro has become the victim of insanity and tuberculosis. Dr. Miller, Superintendent of the Goldsboro Hospital, says that there is an undoubted increase of insanity in the race. He does not hesitate to declare that "insanity and tuberculosis were rare diseases among the negroes of the South prior to emancipation." That institution cares for 507 and is now refusing applicants for want of room. Twenty-eight per cent. of the deaths last year were due to tuberculosis.

The State institutions are well managed by their respective boards of directors. Improvements have been made in all. Present on December 1, 1903, 2,915 persons, as follows: Insane, 1,851; deaf and dumb (white), 238; blind (white), 190; the colored blind, deaf and dumb, 185; orphans, white, 254; colored, 99; soldiers, 98. Total number during the year, 3,349. Annual appropriations amount to $390,000. Special for liquidating indebtedness, $33,766.95; special for improvements, $8,500; total for biennial term, $822,266.95. No private charitable institutions are subsidized with the exception of $10,000 annually to the Oxford Orphanage for whites, and $5,000 to the colored. These institutions are inspected by the Board of Charities. A $100,000 building for women and a $6,000 cottage for men have been completed and occupied at the Morganton Hospital. These buildings accommodate 270. Dr. Murphy says that "the happy results of the colony have been far beyond the most sanguine expectation; men hitherto in profound melancholia occupy themselves and are correspondingly happier." The Raleigh Hospital has been connected with the city water-works, thus providing an abundant supply of pure water. A heating apparatus installed in the Department of the Dangerous Insane, remodeling of an old residence, concrete floor and machinery in the laundry of the Deaf and Dumb School, erection of covered way between buildings, etc., at the Blind Institution, and at the Soldiers' Home the remodeling of the dining-hall and beautifying of the grounds. The larger boys at the Deaf and Dumb School have an athletic association and have ball contests with other schools. Typewriting has been added to the curriculum of the blind.

The population of the State's Prison is steadily decreasing. Number remaining December 1, 1903, 714. This decrease is the result of the detention of criminals in the several counties where they have been convicted, and where their labor is utilized in the improvement of the public roads. There are twenty-five convict camps and neighboring counties can send their convicts to near-by camps. Prisoners from counties not maintaining camps, life, long-term men, the women and the weak are sent to the Central Prison. These are again winnowed, the strong sent out on railroad building contracts, some to the State farm at Halifax; those remaining make brick and shoes, and the women serve in laundry and sewing-room. The prison officials exercise no power over the county camps. But all convicts sent out on contract work from the penitentiary when in these camps are in the sole care and under the exclusive supervision of State officers. The State's Prison is self-supporting, has recently paid $61,000 of bonded debt and at the end of the fiscal year had a comfortable balance on hand.

There is no classification of prisoners in the county camps or jails. Felons, misdemeanants, vagrants, the man who fails to pay a fine, and alas! sometimes the insane and children are often confined indiscriminately.

A number of new jails have been erected; but what is true of other States is true of North Carolina, namely, the jail system needs revolutionizing; they are most emphatically "schools of crime."

The only classification is the separation of the sexes and of the races. The law of the State requires the former, and a higher law—the preservation of race integrity and purity—dictates the latter. Of the 714 criminals, 567 are negroes. Farm work is the natural life of the negro, and he is content with his task if the sun but shine upon him. The race question enters into, hampers and complicates experiments in philanthropic work in the South. Totally different, what is good and proper for the one race is often manifestly wrong for the other. At best the negro is but a tractable child and weak, needing care, and above all, control. The indeterminate sentence and parole, encouraging, bracing to the white delinquent, would probably meet with far less success with that unstable race.

In the Homes for the Aged and Infirm 1,640 were maintained at a per annum cost of $95,884.64; receiving outdoor relief, 4,153; cost, $89,724.66; total expenditure for the poor, $185,609.30. This does not include keepers' or physicians' salaries.

Of the private institutions, Broadoaks Sanatorium, Morganton, is licensed by the Board of Charities. Dr. Isaac M. Taylor, formerly assistant physician at the Morganton Hospital, is the superintendent. This institution for nervous and mental diseases has made many improvements, and is growing in popularity and patronage. A number of patients are received from other States. The picturesque mountain scenery and unsurpassed climate conduce no little to the restoration of the invalid.

Twenty-one private and municipal hospitals and sanitariums have made voluntary reports to the Board. Twelve of these, some with municipal aid, care for the sick and injured poor. A $10,000 addition to the James Walker Memorial Hospital at Wilmington, and the construction of a $100,000 building in Greensboro, under the auspices of the Roman Catholics, are the most extensive improvements, while all are increasing their equipment. Private benevolence supports near a thousand children in the orphanages, exclusive of those receiving State aid. Present in all, December 1, 1903, 1,171. Three industrial buildings have been erected at Oxford, handsome brick structures at the Methodist and Baptist Orphanages, and all are alive and progressive. The Christian Church of North Carolina has decided to establish an Orphans' Home in this State. The North Carolina Children's Home Society was incorporated on September 10, 1903; Mr. William B. Streeter, late of Indiana, superintendent. It has begun operations with bright prospects and bids fair to be a useful institution.

Charity is organizing on a practical basis in our cities. In Raleigh, Wilmington, Durham and Goldsboro the Associated Charities investigate and relieve cases of destitution. The Raleigh Association, organized June, 1903, has been very successful. One happy augury is the interest aroused in the local county institutions. We have no large cities, no crowded tenements. Our towns abound in beautiful trees and flowers, and the poorest have access to shady woods and lanes.

The office of the Board of Public Charities has been installed in the Capitol. The meetings are held quarterly. It is possible that a State Conference of Charities may soon be organized. The hand is on the plough and there must be no backward turning.

Annual maintenance fund for the years 1905-'06..... 415,500.00

Annual increase in maintenance fund.....$ 25,500.00

We are glad to note that a $75,000 annual increase was made in the Pension Fund; also the repairs and improvements to be made at the several State institutions during the next biennial period. But it is a source of deep regret that the outside insane must remain unprovided for.

The appropriations of $40,000 to the Raleigh institution and $25,000 to the Hospital for the Colored at Goldsboro do not provide for the equipment of the building at Raleigh or maintenance of any new patients at either. The appropriation for the additional building for the white insane is made annually and the building will not be completed until 1906. When finished and ready for occupancy these buildings will accommodate, with crowding, 100 additional patients at Raleigh and 120 at Goldsboro. This will probably accommodate all the colored insane, but the whites will not be provided for.

*The estimated yearly increase of the white insane is 36; that of the colored about 15 to 20; total about 53. For twenty years past the State has scarcely more than provided for this increase. It is estimated that there are in North Carolina about 3,000 insane (including both races). Of these 2,000 are in the hospitals; the remainder are in county jails, Homes for the Aged and Infirm and in private homes. It is needless to dwell upon the necessity of remedial care in the early stages of the disease. To neglect these cases until they become chronic is to the hurt of the taxpayer in the end. He pays for the maintenance of the insane in the Homes and jails and for a lifetime in many instances, in which proper remedial treatment for a few months would have returned the victim to the community to continue a taxpayer himself. It was earnestly hoped that provision might be made for 500 additional white patients and the pressure lightened for admission to the hospitals for this helpless and afflicted class.

The increase in the maintenance fund of $25,500 is for the support of the additional patients received at Morganton during the biennial period just closed and for a few additional inmates at the Soldiers' Home, also to meet the great increase in food stuffs, etc.

Six important bills bearing upon charitable and penal subjects were introduced during the last session of the Legislature. Two became laws. The "Conditional Pardon" and the "Vagrant" law.

The directors of the Penitentiary recommended that a reformatory for white boys be established and suggested that $50,000 of the surplus earnings of the convicts be used to establish such an institution. Senator A. M. Scales of Guilford introduced a bill for the establishment of reformatories or industrial schools for both races. This bill carried the appropriation suggested. It passed the Senate with only two dissenting votes. It was referred to the Educational Committee of the House and favorably reported. Came up on the floor of the House and was re-referred to the Committee on Penal Institutions and was killed in committee. If the Scales bill had been enacted into law North Carolina would have been placed in the front rank of the States who care properly for delinquent children. It is now our disgrace that children are incarcerated in the Penitentiary, and placed in the jails with murderers and thieves and the dissolute as associates. Besides establishing institutions for the care of such children as could not be otherwise dealt with, this law embodied the best features of the Juvenile Court Law. It gave larger jurisdiction to the judges and prohibited the incarceration of children in the jails. Placing children who have committed offenses under the charge of volunteer probation officers would prevent the remanding to jail and save the State jail expenses and that of trials. Without a dollar of appropriation it would have had a far-reaching effect in regard to the saving of the children.

There are three great needs in our State. First and most urgent, adequate provision for the white insane; secondly, laws preventing the incarceration of children in the Penitentiary, county convict camps and jails with the hardened and dissolute adult offenders, and provision for their reformation; thirdly, the establishment of an institution for epileptic and feeble-minded children.
